We understand that the fusionists' society, who have been occupying the city hall on Sundays for past four months, has obtained an injunction from the court against the closing of the doors, as was done last Sunday. Mayor Moses says the reason the doors were closed at that time was for the purpose of bringing the matter properly before the court for a decision upon the validity of the lease obtained by them from the past fusion government, and find out if a city government have a right to lease its hall, building, furnace, settees, stairs, etc., for a year, at a nominal price much less than one-half the actual running expenses, saying nothing about the cost of keeping the same in repair, insurance, and interest on the money invested, to a set of men to the exclusion of all other citizens, simply because they are of the same political party as the government, thus virtually using the money paid as taxes by the people, as a whole, for the purpose of sustaining and supporting religious services for the benefit of that society; and although he does not deny the necessity of their receiving religious instruction, he thinks they should receive support from private charities rather than from the city, as members of other denominations have rights as well as they. The hearing upon the injunction will probably be held in a short time. — Biddeford Times, April 24th.

Auction Sales.

ELEGANT CITY RESIDENCE

—AND—

Nine Acres of Land,

AT AUCTION.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell at Public Auction on

Saturday, May 1, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.,

The new French Roof Cottage DWELLING HOUSE and BARN connected with the same, upon the corner of Creek Street and Boyd Road, and facing Woodbury Street in Portsmouth, N. H., near the Woodbury mansion, with nine acres of CHOICE LAND where the same stands, on which is an excellent ORCHARD of forty pear, peach, and quince trees, and one hundred and forty apple trees of choice varieties.

The house is nearly new, having been erected in 1877; is thoroughly finished inside; contains nine good sized rooms, and very high-studded; a nice cellar and dairy, and rain-water cisterns of brick, with one hundred and forty barrels capacity. The house is heated by a furnace, and in all respects is a comfortable and convenient residence for anybody. There is a good well of water upon the premises, and a carriage-house and shed, connecting the house and barn.

The situation commands a fine view of the city and vicinity, and the grounds afford a fine opportunity for improvement and adornment according to the taste of the owner. In addition to the gardens and orchards, the land will produce from twelve to fifteen tons of hay; and to any one desiring a comfortable and pleasant home in close proximity to the city this affords a rare opportunity.

Also at the same time will be sold one new two-horse dump-cart, two-horse wagon, two-horse mowing machine, one express wagon, one carriage, harnesses, and a large amount of small TOOLS, including forks, shovels, plows, etc.; also about two hundred gallons cider, and part of the household furniture; also one valuable DRIVING HORSE, acknowledged to be one of the best in the city.

The premises can be seen at any time after the 27th, upon application to C. B. MASON.

☞ Sale Positive.

Dated at Portsmouth, April 19, 1880.

AUCTION.

FRANK HOLMES' FINE

Dwelling House, Stable & Land,

WILL BE SOLD AT

AUCTION, Without Reserve,

On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,

AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all now and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction

IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the 28th day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equi-distant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is a fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon other side of Stimson street containing 35, 640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SER. GRANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. F. MATHES & CO., 48 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEWIS of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

Saturday, May 8th, at 12 o'clock, noon,

THE TWO BRICK STORES,

Formerly leased and occupied by CHAS. ROBINSON & SON. These buildings have Basement Stores in the rear, where is a wharf privilege. The buildings can be fitted for dwellings or for manufacturing purposes. A liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage, if desired. The estate is owned by a resident in a distant city, and is sold on that account, and the opportunity to invest in premises which can be made to pay so good investment upon the outlay is one not often seen. The Afghan War.

A despatch from Cabul to London reports that while a considerable force of British troops, under the command of Gen. Stewart, was marching on Ghuzni, they suddenly encountered a body of about 15,000 tribemen and 3,000 swordsmen, the latter belonging to the communities of religious fanatics so common in the central and southern portions of Afghanistan. The English were totally surprised, having no information of so large a body of the enemy in that neighborhood. A battle ensued, the fanatical swordsmen rushing upon the British with great impetuosity and without apparent regard for their own lives. At first Gen. Stewart's command was completely outflanked, and fears were entertained of the repetition in Afghanistan of the Isandula catastrophe in Zululand. But, after an hour's warm fighting, modern military science began to tell, and the Afghans were finally defeated and dispersed, leaving a thousand of their number dead upon the field. The British loss is reported at seventeen killed and one hundred and fifteen wounded. It is believed that Gen. Stewart will meet with no further serious opposition before reaching Ghuzni, where he is expected to arrive within a day or two. A Bombay correspondent, after giving a description of the battle, says: "All further resistance in this part of Afghanistan may be considered as at an end."

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

Infallibly Cures.

CUTICURA, assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, is certainly believed to be the only positive and Specific Remedy for the cure of Salt Rheum or Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter, Pushes, Chin Warble, Psoriasis, Pemphigus, Impetigo, Leprosy, Lichen, Prurigo, Itch, Ground Itch, Barber's Itch, Jackson's Itch, Rough and Cracked Skins, and all Vermkin and Scaly Eruptions and Irritations of the Skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, Dry, Thin, and Falling Hair, Premature Baldness, and all Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations of the Scalp; Scrofulous Ulcers, Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Boils, Felons, Inflammation; Rheumatism and Affections of the Muscles and Joints; Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Croup, and Hoarseness. In all cases of Blood and Skin Humors, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT should be taken, internally until some time after a cure is effected.

SKIN DISEASES.

A severe case of five years' duration entirely cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—For the benefit of the world I wish to make this statement: I have been afflicted with a skin disease for about five years, and have tried almost everything that I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, and concluded to try them.

I certify that I only used them about six weeks until I was entirely well, but before I commenced using them, my face, breast, and back were almost a solid scab, and often scratched the blood from my body. I am now entirely well and think your CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best for skin diseases that ever was brought before the public.

Very gratefully yours, F. M. FOX.

CADDO, IND. TER., Feb. 21, 1879.

SALT RHEUM.

Helpless for eight years—Unable to walk. Got about on hands and knees. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For eight years I suffered with this Salt Rheum; I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was not able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I was not able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies, but one had the least effect. The doctors told my friends my disease was incurable. I saw everything that came along. I saw your advertisement and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first box of CUTICURA brought the Humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, and I improved perfectly well. All I can say is, I think you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter a fraud, let them come or come and see me and find out for themselves.

Yours truly, WILL MCDONALD.

1519 BUTTERFIELD ST.,

CHICAGO, ILL., March 4, 1879.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, premature decay, the errors of youth, or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred and fifteen, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by physicians of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French vellum, only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 8 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. I. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNIT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; R. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. E. HOLCOMB, M. D.; N. R. LYNCH, M. D., and M. R. O'CONNELL, M. D., faculty of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery; also the faculty of the American University of Philadelphia; also Hon. P. A. BISSELL, M.D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address, INGRAHAM & PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&w&sinow30

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It cures Kidney Weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in childhood and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

—A boy can imagine almost everything; he can lug an old shot-gun about all day without firing at a living thing and be under the impression that he's having a howling good time. But all attempts to induce a boy to imagine that he's killing Indians, when he is sawing wood, have proved futile.—Brooklyn Union-Argus.

MESSRS. F. W. KINSMAN & CO.,—Gents.: I have sold your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam over my counter for nine years, and I must say that during an experience of twenty-six years in the retail drug business I have never sold anything for coughs, colds, etc., that has given such universal satisfaction as your Adamson's Botanic Balsam. I recommend it above all others.

Yours truly, S. CHICHESTER,

—"You get up all kinds of bricks here, don't you?" inquired a man at one of our leading brickyards. "Yes, about all. What do you want?" The man edged toward the front of the yard as he replied, "Cambrics would do," and then cambrics at his head in every direction as he took to flight.

—"Humph!" said a young gentleman at a play with a young lady, "I could play the lover better than that myself." "I would like to see you try," was the reply.

"OH HOW MY BACK ACHES!"—How often we hear it said. Well may the victim complain, for the kidneys are suffering; and when that is the case there is always danger—great danger. Kidney diseases, if let run, too often end fatally. There is, however, a sure cure for them. Hunt's Remedy is a medicine that does not fail to cure kidney, bladder, liver and urinary complaints. Even Bright's disease, the terror of physicians, is cured by Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Try it, and cure your backache before it terminates in something worse. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

DELIGHTFULLY REFRESHING, SAFE, AND SURE.—No single contribution to the medicinal preparations deserving to be called such has met with so decided and substantial a welcome as Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the "delicious." It is one of those remedies that invite confidence at the start, and in every instance successfully retain it to the last. As a specific for summer or winter complaints, as an elegantly flavored stimulant and tonic for weak and debilitated systems, no single remedy heretofore compounded approaches it in simplicity and power. Sanford has many imitators, but no equals.

—Under a recent enactment British tars can only be given twenty-five lashes on the bare back. How they expect to keep their patriotism up to the fighting point on this slim allowance is a wonder over this way.—Detroit Free Press.

From the easy expectoration, increased respiratory power of the lungs, and the removal of irritations, manifest from cessation of cough and other alarming symptoms, after using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is clear that the formation of tuberculous matter is not only stopped, but that already deposited is being carried away.

—Spring poetry and dandelions are in the market. They both come under the head of greens.

Don't Get the Chills.

If you are subject to the ague you must be sure to keep your liver, bowels and kidneys in good free condition. When so, you will be safe from all attacks. The remedy to use is Kidney-Wort. It is the best preventative of all malarial diseases that you can take. See large advertisement.

—A man with a heart can never refuse the kiss of a child. And a man without a heart never gets a chance to refuse.

Nature's Sluice-way.

The kidneys are nature's sluice-way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or slime and purify the whole system.

News and Notes.

Almon Meeker has been arrested at Duxbury, Vt., for poisoning his cousin, a young girl, with strychnine. Meeker and his mother concluded to get rid of the girl "because she was so cross," so they bought the poison in Waterbury, Vt., on the 23d inst., gave it to the girl in sweetened water on the way home, and when she died, which was in a few minutes, buried her in a swamp. Meeker has confessed, and pointed out where the corpse was buried.

A general strike is threatened among the 60,000 miners employed in the Lehigh, Wyoming and Lackawanna districts in Pennsylvania.

Patrick White, arrested and bound over at Bangor, Me., is the first victim of the new Maine tramp law.

Thursday last a child of Rufus Lamson of Portland, Me., died of scarlet fever. Friday Mrs. Lamson died, and Mr. Lamson and three other children are confined to their beds with the same terrible disease.

The Canadian government has issued an order which prohibits the importation or introduction into the provinces of neat cattle and swine from the United States.

Congressmen are so indignant over the refusal of England to recognize the justice of the claims of the Gloucester fishermen who were maltreated in Fortune bay, Newfoundland, that it may lead to a speedy abrogation of the fishery treaty, which is believed to be more favorable to the Canadian fishermen than our own, and all hope of securing favorable action on a reciprocity treaty with Canada seems to be abandoned.

The Sunday law in Louisville, Ky., is being enforced so rigidly that it will soon become a dead letter, for it will affect all classes so unpleasantly as to create a demand for its repeal or non observance. Saturday night at twelve o'clock the police went the grand rounds and took the names of everybody found at work after midnight, including the editors, reporters, compositors and pressmen of morning newspapers, newsboys, hackmen and saloon keepers.

At Harrisburg, Pa., Monday, Wm. H. Kemble, Emil J. Petroff, Charles B. Salter, Jessie B. Crawford and Wm. F. Rumberger were sentenced for bribery in connection with the passage of a bill through the legislature. In passing sentence the judge said: "This species of crime has become too common in the legislature, and the law must be enforced, whether the criminal is a millionaire or a beggar." Kemble and Rumberger made a few remarks denying their guilt, after which the court imposed a sentence on each of the convicts of $1000 fine and one year's imprisonment, with solitary and separate confinement at hard labor in the eastern penitentiary. Much astonishment was expressed at the severity of the sentence.

Mr. S. S. Casey, well known as one of the Jubilee singers, a tall, powerful and educated negro, applied last week for a position on the Hartford, Conn., police force, and was refused. The only democratic commissioner voted in his favor, and the two republicans voted against him.

John Dyer, a notorious desperado, appeared in Saybrook, Ill., Sunday, whereupon an alarm was given and one hundred and fifty citizens turned out to hunt him. He was followed into the woods, and refusing to halt, was shot a number of times and captured. He may survive.

R. D. Bucklin and wife of Rutland, Vt., have lost, by sudden and fatal accident, three children. Of those who survive one has lost an eye, one is critically sick occasioned by a fall, one broke his leg in two places above the knee, and the same was twice broken afterwards, and their other two have barely recovered from protracted sickness.

Two years ago David Leach, a rag picker, died in Jersey City, leaving $12,000 to Queen Victoria. Leach had relatives in Ohio, Brooklyn and Ireland. They contested the will, and the $12,000 is to be divided between six of them by order of the orphan's court.

Charles Karon, aged thirteen years, threw a stone at a brakeman on a Hudson river freight train near Sixty-ninth street, New York, Saturday night, and was shot in the neck, probably fatally, by the brakeman. The latter can not be be found.

A Bangor, Me., woman, named Mrs. Whalen, fell down stairs Monday, and died from the effects of her injuries late in the afternoon. She had been drinking freely several days, and nearly set the house on fire Sunday night.

The English government has made no grant for representation at the fishery exhibition at Berlin, and much of the space allotted to England has been taken up by Americans. Two hundred and fifty tons of piscatorial material has already arrived from America.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles W. Drury, of Bath, thirteen years old, was standing in a swing on the 26th inst., when his feet slipped, and his neck struck the bottom of the swing with such force as to kill him instantly, his neck being broken.

The city government of Concord has authorized a city loan of $50,000 for municipal uses.

During the progress of the Foster murder trial at Keene, Monday, at recess Sheriff Rice and Detective Sargent got into a dispute concerning the testimony of a witness; Rice pulled Sargent's whiskers, and Sargent took Rice by the throat, but mutual friends interfered and stopped what promised to be a very lively row.

The third annual grove meeting, under the management of the New Hampshire Unitarian Association, will be held at Weirs, lake Winnepisaukee, beginning Sunday, August 1st, and ending Sunday, August 8th, 1880. A large number of eloquent and earnest laymen and ministers, from far and near, are expected to take part in the services. In addition to the meetings for preaching and conference, provision has been made for three essays on timely subjects of religious and scientific interest. Excursion tickets at reduced rates, an average of about half fare, and good from July 31st to August 31st, will be issued by the principal railroads. Fractional rates will be given on the lake steamers, and between the grove and the various hotels.

Charles Perrault, of Manchester, was fatally crushed on Monday by the caving in of a baker's oven he was engaged in cleaning out.

The case of George L. Wentworth vs. Eben S. Nowell and son, and John Wentworth, all of Salmon Falls, for assault, on trial in the police court of Dover for several days, ended Monday in the discharge of the elder Nowell and Wentworth, and the placing of young Nowell under $300 bonds for his appearance before the supreme court.

A house and outbuildings at Rollinsford, owned by E. D. T. Rollins, took fire Sunday evening and were destroyed; loss $1000; insured. The premises were vacant, the last tenants, a French family, having been warned out a few days before. Cause of fire unknown, but supposed incendiary.

Political.

There is a strong under-current in Maine in favor of re-nominating Joseph L. Smith for governor, and making him the candidate for the solid phalanx of democrats and greenbackers. His present official term does not seem to wear upon him, and although he firmly refuses to run again, he has hosts of friends who are determined that he shall. It is argued in his favor that he has made a good governor, so far, that the republicans have used up all their ammunition in attacking him, that his official course since "the war" has made him stronger with the masses, and that when his barrel was last headed up it was more than three-quarters full. We give this information for what it is worth.—Boston Post.

Naval Gazette.

Surgeon Walter K. Scofield has been ordered to the Pensacola as fleet surgeon of the Pacific station. Lieutenant Charles T. Hutchins from the Washington navy yard to the coast survey office. Medical Director Lewis J. Williams from the New York naval laboratory, and placed on waiting orders. Medical Director Samuel F. Coues to the naval laboratory at New York. Surgeon Henry C. Nelson from the Pensacola, home.

Pending the action of congress on the treaty of Washington, it is thought that United States men-of-war—probably the Vandalia and Alliance, now at Hampton Roads—will be sent to Canadian waters to protect the American fishermen against a recurrence of the Fortune bay outrages.

New Publications.

"The True Story of the Exodus of Israel," which will be published in a few days by Messrs. Lee & Shepard, Boston, is an abridgement by Mr. F. H. Underwood of the original work "Egypt under the Pharaohs," by Dr. Brugsch, who spent thirty years exploring the antiquities of that country. It is an earnest, thoughtful, and scholarly work, aiming to set forth the results of carefully conducted researches which have led to the development of the true theory in regard to the location of the Israelites during their bondage to the Egyptians; the route chosen by them when they escaped and commenced their journey toward the Holy Land, as well as the source of most of their system of religious belief, including its peculiar laws and ceremonies. The same firm will also publish immediately "The Wonderful Adventures of Tartarin of Tarascon," from the French of Alphonse Daudet, translated by Robert Sedgwick Minot. This humorous story is in quite a different vein from "The Kings in Exile" by the same author, recently published, but many will consider it even more interesting and entertaining.

We have received from Arthur P. Schmidt, Boston, The Pirates of Penzance medley by E. Doroney, also Litolff's Musical World, containing the following pieces of music: Hunting Piece, Hungarian Dance, The Beautiful Dreamer, and Fresh Green.

Andrews' Bazar for May is richly laden with facts, hints and items about dress that will make it heartily welcomed by the ladies. This enterprising journal has a just celebrity for its unique and practical designs in ladies' fashions. In addition to the department devoted to the toilet, the literary features of this number are fine. "Poille's May-Day," the children's story, breathes the air of the woods, and will be read by the older members of the family with interest. The Bazar is published at the exceedingly low price of $1 per annum, and every subscriber is presented free with fifty cents' worth of paper patterns. W. R. Andrews, publisher, Tribune building, New York.

AROUND HOME.

The Concord railroad station at Greenland is to be remodelled throughout, in such a manner as to make it one of the most convenient stations on the line of the road.

The operetta of Cinderella was presented at Fraternity hall, Newburyport, Tuesday evening, by a music class. Miss Helen L. Chesley of this city read the story to the audience.

Schooner Mary S. Hontvet started on a trip to the banks, Tuesday, but her main boom was carried away when she was passing through the narrows by the jibing of her mainsail, and she brought up below.

Shore codfish, which have been very scarce of late, struck into Ipswich bay the latter part of last week, the schooner Lucy Devlin, of Swampscott, having caught about 30,000 lbs. of nice fish in two days.

Mr. C. H. Marston, of No. 21 Market street, being about to remove his place of business, offers his entire stock of dry and fancy goods at greatly reduced rates until the 15th of May, in order to cut his stock down to the lowest possible limit.

The schooner E. M. Buehler, Capt. Malloy, has been chartered by C. L. Brown to load ice for Baltimore at $1.25 a ton; she will take 800 tons. The Unison, Matthews master, is to load ice for New York; she will take about 200 tons.

Samuel Mason started from Newington on Sunday afternoon in a small rowboat, companied by a boy, to pull to Dover neck, but when near Merrill's ferry the boat capsized, and both persons would have been drowned had not assistance been rendered from the shore.

The republican club of Stratham has organized as follows: President, Josiah B. Wiggin; secretary, Levi Barker; chairman of executive committee, Josiah T. Smart. The delegates to the state convention are Josiah B. Wiggin and Freeman H. Burleigh—both for Blaine.

There are in Stratham four church edifices, but only one settled minister—Rev. Mr. Peabody of the Congregational church. The Calvinistic Baptist church has its pulpit supplied by Rev. Mr. Hooper of Exeter. The Christian and Freewill Baptist churches have neither regular clergyman nor supply.

Four shares in the Eastern railroad were sold at the brokers' board in Boston, Tuesday, at $35.25 each, and fifty shares at $35 each. Two shares of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway sold at $30 each. The earnings of the latter road for March, 1879, were $9,169; for March, 1880, $17,882—an increase of $8,713, or about ninety-five per cent.

In the police court at Exeter, Monday, Robert B. Stott and Walter J. Thurston of Newmarket were up for assaulting one Moody of Newmarket, who was on his way home on foot from court, where he had been testifying in liquor cases. Stott was fined $15 and costs, and Thurston $10 and costs, from which they both appealed. They were subsequently arrested for contempt of court, and the hearing adjourned to Monday next, to give the defendants an opportunity to procure evidence.

Maggie Mitchell as "Little Barefoot," on Thursday evening, May 6th, we presume will draw a large audience to Music hall, as she is a universal favorite, and the tickets are placed at popular prices—admission seventy-five and fifty cents, with no extra charge for reserved seats. It would be a waste of time and space for us to commend Maggie Mitchell; almost everybody has seen her, and all who have seen her admire her. The play is one of the most pleasing ones in which she appears, and has not been performed in this city, that we remember of, for many years.

LANGDON COLONY, NO. 15, U. O. P. F.

On Tuesday evening, April 27th, a colony of the Pilgrim Fathers, to be known as Langdon Colony, No. 15, United Order of the Pilgrim Fathers, was instituted in this city by Supreme Governor Horace A. Wadsworth, of Lawrence, Mass. The following were elected officers:

Ex-Governor, Rolla C. Grant;
Governor, Marcus M. Collis;
Lieut.-Gov., Samuel W. Moses, Jr.;
Secretary, Charles S. Dodge;
Collector, Oliver H. Ham;
Treasurer, James Jarvis;
Chaplain, Mrs. Evelyn Grant;
Sergeant-at-Arms, James Sanborn;
Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. Josephine Collis;
Finance Committee, John P. Sweetser, Lewis E. Staples, S. W. Moses, Jr.

The exemplication of the work was conducted by Sup. Gov. Wadsworth, (editor of the Lawrence Eagle,) assisted by the new officers. The order is secret and beneficiary, $2000 being paid at death.

POLICE COURT.

Arvilla Palmer was arraigned Monday on a charge of breaking and entering a dwelling at Newington, and the case was continued to Tuesday, when he was bound over in $100 for his appearance at the next term of the supreme court.

George W. T. Brown was tried Tuesday afternoon on a complaint for assaulting an officer, and was held in $100 for a higher court.

MEMORIAL DAY.

By a general order from the headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic, Dep't of New Hampshire, dated April 24th, it is announced that the general order from the national headquarters specifying that "Saturday the 29th of May shall be observed as Memorial day" is rescinded so far as this state is concerned, and throughout the department of New Hampshire the memorial observances will be held on Monday, May 31st.

Any post that has made arrangements for memorial exercises on either the 29th or 30th, is at liberty to carry out such arrangements, if desired, on the date fixed upon.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

Case Bartlett vs. town of Epping was continued Tuesday.

J. C. Carr and George Hayes, of Portsmouth, were excused from serving as jurors.

THE PORT ADMIRAL.

All the papers, in noting the death of Admiral Thatcher, have stated that he was port admiral at Portsmouth from 1867 to 1871. Perhaps he was, but it was not this Portsmouth, but must have been the Virginia yard.—Miller's Weekly.

Except as a matter of historical inaccuracy, we might not attempt to correct this comment of our contemporary. Several years ago, when the navy abounded in rear admirals, Admiral Thatcher was port admiral, stationed in this city. The duties of port admiral were perhaps copied from the English system. They had the supervisory command of ships afloat, arriving at or about departing from the port. While the commandant of the station lived at the navy yard, the port admiral resided in town, and was an officer whose duties were distinct from those of the commandant.

Admiral Thatcher was retired after forty-five years' service. Having entered the service in 1823, he became entitled to be retired (under the act of December, 1861) in 1868. In May that year he was placed upon the retired list. He was for some time port admiral at this station, lived at the Kearsarge house, and had very many friends in Portsmouth. His home was in Winchester, Mass., where he owned an estate. He frequently after his detachment returned to Portsmouth, and quite often enjoyed the dinners of the Federal fire society, of which he was a member. Commander Arthur R. Yates was aid to the admiral while he was on duty here. At that time port admirals were on duty in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Norfolk and San Francisco. This position has not been filled for several years at either of the above stations.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Ichabod Cole of Eliot is in Washington on a business visit of a few weeks' duration.

The York Man'g Co. has declared a dividend of five per cent, payable on the first of May.

Kennebunk expects to have a new shoe factory put up this season, and also a woollen mill.

There is a prospect of an Orthodox church being soon built at Eliot, in place of the one recently burned.

Rev. A. E. Boynton, late of Kittery, having received and accepted a call from the Strafford Bow Lake (N. H.) church to become their pastor, has entered upon his labors in this new field under encouraging circumstances. May the Lord bless, through much prayer and Christian effort, pastor and people in this new relationship.

Rev. R. H. Kimball has been returned to South Eliot for the second year by the conference, and receives a hearty reception from the members of his church and congregation.

The brick yards of Biddeford and Saco are being worked this season to a greater extent than ever before. Not less than 2,300,000 bricks will be turned out, most of them for home consumption.

The engagements of rooms at the Marshall house and other sea-side places of summer entertainment at York, for the coming season, indicate a large influx of visitors at this attractive place of summer sojourn.

The schools in Eliot are to open on Monday, May 3d; at Eliot neck Mr. J. L. Wilkins and Miss Jennie Frink are to teach. The new schoolhouse in district three, in place of the one burned last fall, is completed.

Mr. Sylvester Raitt of Eliot last season raised 585 barrels of winter apples on his farm near Eliot depot; he also made one hundred barrels of cider, for vinegar, and picked pickling-cucumbers enough to make 140 barrels of pickles.

Mr. Samuel Clark of Eliot recently cut down a red oak tree which measured seven feet and ten inches in diameter at the butt, and yielded eight cords of merchantable wood. Mr. Clark has a flock of fifty sheep, which have this season produced seventy lambs.

Foxes are still reported plenty at Kittery point and York. One old gray fox has of late made numerous raids on the poultry yards in those sections, Sunday seeming to be a sort of feast day with him. On a recent Sunday morning he visited two yards, destroying fifteen fowls. A man started to shoot him, but did not succeed, owing to the failure of the gun to go off when it was snapped; the reason the gun did not go off was because it was not loaded; the fox was loaded, and he went off accordingly. A woman who found this fox in her poultry yard tried to drive him out with woman's natural weapon, the broomstick, but he would not go until he had finished his breakfast, when he trotted leisurely off.

Auction Sales.

ELEGANT CITY RESIDENCE
AND
Nine Acres of Land,
AT AUCTION.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell at Public Auction on

Saturday, May 1, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.,

The new French Roof Cottage DWELLING HOUSE and BARN connected with the same, upon the corner of Creek Street and Boyd Road, and facing Woodbury Street in Portsmouth, N. H., near the Woodbury mansion, with nine acres of CHOICE LAND where the same stands, on which is an excellent ORCHARD of forty pear, peach, and quince trees, and one hundred and forty apple trees of choice varieties.

The house is nearly new, having been erected in 1877; is thoroughly finished inside; contains nine good-sized rooms, and very high-studded; a nice cellar and dairy, and rainwater cistern of brick, with one hundred and forty barrels capacity. The house is heated by a furnace, and in all respects is a comfortable and convenient residence for anybody. There is a good well of water upon the premises, and a carriage-house and shed, connecting the house and barn.

The situation commands a fine view of the city and vicinity, and the grounds afford a fine opportunity for improvement and adornment according to the taste of the owner. In addition to the gardens and orchards, the land will produce from twelve to fifteen tons of hay; and to any one desiring a comfortable and pleasant home in close proximity to the city this affords a rare opportunity.

Also at the same time will be sold one new two-horse dump-cart, two-horse wagon, two-horse mowing machine, one express wagon, one carriage, harnesses, and a large amount of small TOOLS, including forks, scythes, ploughs, etc.; also about two hundred gallons cider, and part of the household furniture; also one valuable DRIVING HORSE, acknowledged to be one of the best in the city.

The premises can be seen at any time after the 27th, upon application to L. B. MASON.

☞ Sale Positive.

Dated at Portsmouth, April 19, 1880.

AUCTION.

FRANK HOLMES' FINE
Dwelling House, Stable & Land,
WILL BE SOLD AT
AUCTION, Without Reserve,
On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,
AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.
On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all new and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction
IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JAMES KNOWLTON RICE, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the fifth day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard Village, and about equi-distant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Stimson street containing 35,640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, grass, stable furniture, pole double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DERLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

MISTAKES AND PREJUDICE

Of Religious and Temperance Journals.

Some good Religious and Temperance journals are making the mistake of declining to advertise a most valuable anti-intoxicating medicine, simply because it is called "Bitters," while the same journals are making a greater mistake by advertising some drunken whiskey stuff, or nostrum, because it has some nice, fancy deceptive name, ending with "ine," "tine," printed on its label, when the bottle is filled with destruction, drunkenness and death. If these good journals would take the trouble to ascertain how many overworked clergymen have had their lost nerve-force, brain-waste and flagging energies restored by the use of Hop Bitters, enabling them to perform their arduous pastoral duties and preach the good sermons that they would have been totally unable to do but for this valuable medicine, and did these journals but know of the host of good Christian Temperance women who rely on them for their family medicine, and how many invalid homes they could make happy and what glad tidings they would send to every neighborhood by publishing the merits of Hop Bitters, they would advertise them without money and without price. And did these journals but know how many have been and may be saved from forming intemperate habits by doctors prescribing Hop Bitters, instead of beer, where the use of hops are needed, (there being more actual hop strength in one bottle of Hop Bitters than in a barrel of beer, without any of the intoxicating or evil effects of beer,) they would lay aside their fear and prejudice against the word "bitters."

The President and Manager of Hop Bitters Mfg. Co. is a veteran Temperance advocate and worker of forty-eight years' service; every man in the company is an active Temperance worker, and the Company spends thousands of dollars annually in Temperance and Christian work.

What the Religious Press Says.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18, 1878.

Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—We do not allow anything in the line of Bitters to enter our paper that contains alcohol, but we are satisfied that your Bitters are free from that ingredient. We feel responsible for the good or bad that may be done to the families of our subscribers that are affected by our advertisements. Therefore our discrimination in your favor, and we trust that our very low rates will meet your approval and that we may hear from you.

"THE LIVING CHURCH."

Not a Beverage.

"They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, that is, more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them."—Rochester Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

We are not in the habit of making editorial mention of patent medicines, but in case of Hop Bitters, feel free to do so, because their merits deserve to be known.—New York Independent.

Sirs—I have taken Hop Bitters and recommend them to others, as I found them very beneficial.

MRS. J. W. TULLER,

A Medicine, Not a Drink.

HIGH AUTHORITY

Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters.

GREEN B. RAUM,
U. S. Com'r Internal Rev.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4, 1879.

Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W., of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful case. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York; in fact, all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum. I honestly believe his card would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of Hop Bitters. J. A. W.

Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by Hop Bitters; that we had pooh-ed at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents—Good Templars.

MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1880.

Having used Hop Bitters, the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc., I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine, and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters.

Respectfully,
REV. MES. J. H. ELLEGOOD.

Milk as Poultry Food.

We have been trying milk as poultry food during the winter and can confidently recommend it to villagers and farmers who keep one or more cows for family use. Where butter is made and skim milk is plenty, it is a very valuable addition to the fare of the poultry yard. One main difference between winter and spring laying is owing to the absence of animal food in winter. The milk supplies this, and is devoured with eagerness. The skim and buttermilk may be poured into the feeding trough, and kept constantly by the fowls, or it may be mixed with scalded meal of various grains. Indian meal is a good ration once a day, but it should be varied with oat or rye meal, and with whole grain of wheat, buckwheat or barley. In a warm room with a good southern exposure, and plenty of light, there is no difficulty in getting plenty of eggs from early pullets, and this is the time when eggs are of great market value. Later in the season, when the broods come off, milk, which will then be more abundant, will be an excellent feed for chickens, turkeys, and all kinds of young poultry, and will give quite as good return as when fed to pigs. —American Agriculturist for April.

Iron for Pear Trees.

Mr. G. A. Hubbard of New Haven, Conn., writes the Scientific American that it is conjectured that New Haven county has a larger supply of choice pear trees than any other county in the United States. Some fine varieties, notably the Flemish Beauty and White Doyenne, are generally failures. They set well with blossoms, but the young fruit cracks, prematurely ripens, and drops off. Mr. Hubbard thinks the general success of the pear in that locality is due to the fact that the sandy soil contains a proportion of iron which he has come to believe is a necessary element in pear culture. He thinks the quanity there, however, is insufficient for the needs of the two varieties named. He bases this conclusion mainly on the fact that a Flemish tree fertilized annually from the sweepings of a smith's shop, in which there is a large quantity of filing and bits of iron, gives a good yield of most excellent fruit. He suggests to pear growers everywhere the propriety of procuring iron filings or drillings, and mixing with the soil about their trees. He would mix with wood ashes in moderate amount.

Fashionable Fancies.

A novelty in summer curtains has colored stripes.

The floral parasol has superseded the bell for weddings.

The serviceable flannel gowns will be much worn this summer.

A fashion for dressing up chairs is coming into favor as a means of utilizing bric-a-brac.

Tidies have ceased to be called such, and are chair-backs, a name which they merit by their size.

Fans of transparent crimped muslin, with ivory handles, look as if made for fairies to carry moonlight nights.

Spanish lace mantles with a point to be thrown over the head, will be much used at watering places this season.

A fabric called "tissu damasquine" is among the new materials; it consists of lines crossing each other in many directions.

It is still the fashion to have all portions of the toilet to match. The bonnets have trimmings matching in color and design the trimmings of the dress.

Fashionable ladies have their chemises, night dresses, small petticoats, etc., made of foulard and trimmed with plaited and ruched Valenciennes lace and insertions.

One of the New York dry goods firms has recently displayed a gown embroidered with moss rose buds, in which real moss was used to make the calyx of each flower.

Butterfly head-dresses of terry velvet, softened by lace, are the prettiest things for ladies who do not want to indulge in elaborate hair dressing, but wish to look pretty.

Squares of silk India mull, stamped on the edge with a line of colored flowers, and finished with a plaiting of Languedoc lace, are among the newest designs for neck wear.

Hats for midsummer wear at watering places are of sheer white muslin, shirred in the required shape, and trimmed with clusters of flowers. Deep fichus of the same material will be worn with them.

All kinds of foulard are to be worn this spring and summer. Although this goods is always more or less fashionable, it is full ten years since it has been in general use as it is to be this year.

Gathering, which has been so long in vogue, takes a new lease of favor for the approaching season, as collars, tabliers, flounces and entire sleeves are made of these finely drawn gathers. A wide turned-over gathered collar of silk rivals the Directoire collar as a trimming for the bodies of dresses.

—The slang expression "The proper caper," was probably invented by a mutton-head.

—A short Italian prayer which is not without wisdom:—"I pray that I may never be married. But if I marry I pray that I may not be deceived. But if I am deceived I pray that I may not know of it. But if I know it I pray that I may be able to laugh at the whole affair."

The re-organization of the Maine militia will be completed in about a week. Several new companies have been formed. There will be two regiments of 450 men each—one east and one west of the Kennebec; also a battery of 150 men, in three sections,—one in Lewiston, one in Portland, and one in Bangor. The companies have been weeded of unsoldierly and unprincipled men. The new militia of Maine will compare favorably with that of any other state in the Union. —Kennebec Star.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

Infallibly Cures.

CUTICURA, assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, is earnestly believed to be the only positive specific Remedy for the cure of Salt Rheum or Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter, Pimples, Chin Wheik, Psoriasis, Pemphigus, Impetigo, Leprosy, Lichen, Prurigo, Itch, Ground Itch, Barber's Itch, Jackson's Itch, Scaldhead, and Crusted Skins, and all Vesicular and Scaly Eruptions and Irritations of the Skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, Dry, Thin, and Falling Hair, Baldness, and all Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations of the Scalp; Scrofulous Ulcers, Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Itching Piles, Pain and Inflammation; Rheumatism and Affections of the Muscles and Joints; Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Croup, and Hoarseness; in all cases of Blood and Skin Humors, the CUTICURA REMEDIES should be taken internally, until some time after a cure is effected.

SKIN DISEASES.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—For the benefit of the world I wish to make this statement: I have been afflicted with a skin disease for about five years, and have tried almost everything that I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, and concluded to try them.

I commenced to improve from about six weeks until I was entirely well, but before I commenced using them, my face, breast, and back were almost a solid sore, and I often scratched the blood from my body. I am now entirely well and think your CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best for skin diseases that ever were brought before the public.

Very gratefully yours, F. M. FOX.
CADDO, IND. TER., Feb. 21, 1879.

SALT RHEUM.

Helpless for eight years—Unable to walk. Got about on hands and knees. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For seven years I suffered from Salt Rheum; I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was now able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. I so despairingly tried everything that came along. I saw your advertisement and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first box of CUTICURA brought the Humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, until now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I thank you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter is fraud, let them write for some and see me and find out for themselves.

Yours truly, WILL MCDONALD.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and despondent coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weakness of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, emaciated, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the secretions, gives vigor and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous weakness and debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

The Captain's Joke.

A great many years ago, before the introduction of steam navigation into the waters of Long island sound, Captain Thayer, who will be remembered as one of the pioneer captains in steamboat travel, commanded a sloop in the waters of Taunton river. One morning, being at the landing in Berkley, and having occasion to cross to the other side, he entered a barn or shed where the boat's oars were kept with which he was to cross. While there a hen came cackling off her nest, having laid an egg. Being a practical joker, it occurred to him to operate a little upon the superstitious fears of the inhabitants of that benighted town. He accordingly picked up the warm egg, and wrote on its susceptible shell with his pencil, "Woe to the town of Berkely," and replacing the egg, left the barn.

In due time the nest was cleared of its eggs, and the one bearing the inscription discovered. The wonderful news was at once "telegraphed" from house to house through the town, and before night hundreds had journeyed to the spot to see it for themselves. Consternation was depicted on every countenance in view of the impending calamity which they were certain the phenomenon denoted.

It finally occurred to them to ask counsel of their pastor in this their hour of terror. Pastor A—— was accordingly sent for, and, arriving, the cause of alarm was made known to him, backed up by an exhibition of the egg. The parson examined it attentively, after which he laid it down, and for many minutes seemed lost in reflection. His parishioners thought they saw in this fresh cause for alarm, and one and another would ejaculate, in hoarse whispers, "The Lord wrote it! the Lord wrote it!" At length the old man arose, as if to address them, and, stretching to his full height exclaimed, "If the Lord wrote it, that he didn't know how to spell Berkley!" and, bidding them good-day, walked off.

Their eyes were opened, and they saw in it at once the trick of some mischievous wag, but it was not until some time afterward they found out the author, to whom they ever afterward owed a grudge.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; revenue stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

—Sunday school teacher—"My dear children, can any of you tell why Abraham did not sacrifice his son Isaac, as he intended to? Which of you can give the correct answer?" Finally the son of a wealthy butcher says: "I know; because he wasn't fat enough."

Treating the Wrong Disease.

Many times women call upon their family physicians, one with dyspepsia, another with palpitation, another with trouble of the breast, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent doctors, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all symptoms caused by some uterine disorder; and while they are thus only able perhaps to palliate for a time, they are ignorant of the cause, and encourage their practice until large bills are made, when the suffering patients are no better in the end, but probably worse for the delay, treatment, and other complications made, and which a proper medicine directed to the cause would have entirely removed, thereby instituting health and comfort instead of prolonged misery.

Your Favorite Prescription is working almost like a miracle on me. I am better already than I have been for over two years. LORINDA E. ST. CLAIR.

YORKVILLE, TORONTO, ONT., March 18, 1879.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

Dear Sir—I write you about a most remarkable cure of a lady friend of mine, Mrs. Ruthorn. Since her marriage thirteen years ago, she has suffered greatly from uterine disease which caused sterility. She tried the most eminent physicians of this part of the country, who told her she would have to undergo an operation with the knife. Being afraid of this, she was induced by reading your Medical Adviser to take your Favorite Prescription and Pellets. She used three bottles, as a result she entirely recovered her health and is the happy mother of a healthy babe. Very truly yours,

MRS. JOHN MCELROY.

—The Parisian tells of a woman who found out a way to prevent wrinkles. She squeezed out the juice from the bulbs of several white lilies until she had obtained about seventy grammes of liquid, to which she added an equal quantity of the best honey and thirty-five grammes of pure white melted wax. These substances, being well mixed, formed a pomade, with which she delicately rubbed her face night and morning.

News and Jokes.

Eratus Brooks, of the New York Express, says that in forty years of journalistic experience in that city, he has seen the birth and death of one hundred and twenty-five daily newspapers. But three are now in existence that were published in 1837.

Fred McIntosh, a young man twenty-six years of age, employed in the watch factory of Howard & Co., of Boston, fell through a hatch way in the fourth story to the basement, on Tuesday forenoon, and was instantly killed.

At the superior court held at Portland, Me., on the 27th inst., Albert Burbank received $2685 against the Bethel steam mill company for damages to his property by a fire which caught from their burning mill.

Judge Barnard on Tuesday granted a stay of proceeding in the case of Meett, the convicted murderer, who was to be hung Friday at Poughkeepsie, New York.

W. P. Gillespie of Cincinnati, while dying recently, confessed the murder of J. Jamison ten years ago. It was never known how Jamison died.

By a collision of freight trains at Waynesboro', Va., on the night of the 26th inst., a locomotive and fifteen cars were wrecked, a fireman killed and an engineer fatally injured.

Abram Hendrix, in a family quarrel, shot his brother-in-law, one Bates, and H. Stoneham, dead, at Quada, Ill., on the 26th inst. Hendrix surrendered himself to the authorities.

It is stated that Congressman Rice will report to the house foreign committee, recommending the adoption of a resolution that the provincial governments have, by hostile legislation and by violence, prevented American fishermen from reaping the benefits of the treaty of Washington, and that great losses have followed; for these reasons the president is called upon to take measures to obtain indemnity for those fishermen who have suffered, and to abrogate the fishery sections of the treaty of Washington at the earliest practicable day.

Mayor Kalloch of San Francisco has made a statement in which he says that he knew nothing about the murder of De Young until the news was brought to him at his residence. He greatly deplores the act of his son.

The boiler of the Torrent shingle mill at Savannah, Ga., exploded on the 27th inst., killing Lewis N. Torrent, superintendent, and George Hughes, engineer. Eight other persons in the mill escaped with more or less injury. The building was consumed.

The case of Cumberland county, Me., vs. Ex-Treasurer Pennell, was opened at Lewiston April 27th. The county sues for $11,000 unaccounted for. The defence claims that this amount was robbed from him.

Fifty years ago Commodore Patterson, commander of the naval forces of the United States in Louisiana, led an expedition against Jean Lafitte, the chief of Barataria island, attacked the 500 men found there, and captured the seven small vessels which were drawn up in fighting array. It had been thought in New Orleans that Lafitte was a freebooter and pirate, and many sensational stories of his adventures have been published. The Picayune has discovered among the dusty records of the United States district court an account of the libel proceedings brought by Daniel T. Patterson and George T. Ross, the commanders of the naval and military forces of the United States, containing evidence that Lafitte made his captures under the Carthagenian flag and, was in communication with Carthagena.

The first prize at the international fishery exhibition at Berlin consists of an aquarium, which has been ordered by the German Emperor, and will be presented by him. It consists of a large glass globe, supported by three naiads, the space between the figures being filled with flowers, the stand on which the whole rests being of hammered iron. Dolphins and sea plants wrought in copper are intertwined in the work, which was designed by Professor Von Miller, and is pronounced to be a beautiful piece of art.

A joint committee of the eclectic and historical societies of Little Rock, Ark., is discussing the proper pronunciation of the name of the state, with intent to discover whether it should be Arkan-saw or Arkan-sas. The members thus far seem in favor of the former method, modifying the sound of the last syllable, however, so that the "a" shall be sounded like the "a" in father, the final "saw" being considered too broad. No authenticated method of pronunciation has ever yet been established.

The builder of the Madison Square garden walls in New York declares the roof gave way because of overbeating of the timbers by gas. Vanderbilt, who claims the wall was built with all due care, is inclined to accept this view. The most completely ruined painting was "The Wreckers," by Luminais, owned by George C. Leavitt, and valued at $10,000. The large canvas of Bierstadt, "Kings river canyon, with Mount Bremer in the distance," the largest painting on exhibition, escaped harm. It is valued at $20,000. It is thought fully three-quarters of the pictures will be found unhurt. The Herald estimates the loss to the pictures at $25,000. The Sun repeats the story that Col. Tileston, one of the victims, dined with a party on the previous Saturday, and became very excited when he discovered that the unlucky number of thirteen guests were at the table.

The Boston Post says: The treasurer of the Dexter, Me., savings bank announces that that institution "is now in a very prosperous condition," and asks if it is not reasonable to expect that "with the recovery of the missing funds," etc., etc., all will be well. Perhaps so; but it is doubtful if "all will be well" with the officers of the Dexter saving bank when the cloven-footed chap asks them to walk into his parlor in the sultry by-and-by. That is, those of them who have been obtrusively impudent in their anxiety to slander the dead cashier.

What promises to be very serious litigation has been opened by the formal bringing of a suit by the Nashua & Lowell railroad against the Boston & Lowell corporation. The bill in equity, filed by F. A. Brooks, Esq., as attorney, is for the recovery of certain balances due to the former corporation, at the termination of the partnership traffic contract, which expired by limitation October 1st, 1878. Under that contract the Nashua & Lowell road was to receive thirty-one per cent of the net earnings of both roads; it is now claimed by that company that they failed to get this thirty-one per cent by the sum of $200,000 and upwards. An additional claim of $30,000 or more is also made in the bill, on the ground that a much larger portion of steel rails was laid on the Boston & Lowell road than was legally allowed by the contract. There are also other matters in dispute involving large amounts, and making the total amount in litigation over $250,000. The bill is made returnable June 1st, but a hearing is unlikely to be reached till September.

A census of the Society of Friends shows that it has 88,000 members, of whom 66,850 are in the United States and Canada, 14,725 in England, 3,948 in Scotland, and 3,500 in other countries.

Solon Chase thinks the greenbackers of Maine have enough to do to harmonize their own party without disorganizing themselves by trying to promote peace and harmony in the democratic party. There are several thousands less of them to harmonize than there was a year ago.

New Hampshire Items.

A house at the corner of School and Green streets, Concord, owned by Henry P. Rolfe and occupied by two families, was badly damaged by fire, April 27th. Loss, $1000; insured.

Dr. Dam, of Suncook, well known as a liquor prosecutor, made a violent assault, Saturday, April 24th, on Otis S. Eastman, editor of the Suncook Journal. The Journal commented on Dam's conduct in the temperance movement, and on his testimony in a recent liquor case, which enraged the doctor, who met Eastman on the street and at once assaulted him. The editor was rolled in the dirt and somewhat bruised, while the doctor got a bloody nose. Dam threatens another whipping if his name is ever mentioned again in the paper.

It is said that Geo. O. Hall of Grantham, who was intimate with Miss Lucy M. Green, who recently took poison and died, has been bailed out of the county prison at Newport by the father of the deceased.

Lucien Kent, who died recently in Chester, bequeathed $600 to the ministerial fund of the Congregational society, and $200 to the Baptist church in that place.

Elias Howe lived in what is now ward eight in Nashua when he invented and perfected his sewing machine, and the woman who did his washing still lives, and remembers that he was so poor as not to have a third shirt.

Mrs. Harrison Preston, of Auburn, forty years old, hung herself in the cellar of her house on the 27th inst. Cause, hereditary insanity.

The Burned Child and the Fire.

The Hour tells a story of one of Chicago's wealthy and liberal citizens which conveys its own moral. He belonged to no religious sect, but was always ready to give largely to the carrying out of spiritual schemes requiring money. Not long ago, however, he happened to have a business transaction with one of the deacons of a certain Presbyterian church, and the deacon got quite six-to-four the best of him. A few days afterward the pastor of this same church called on the merchant for a subscription toward his schools, but to his surprise the usually amiable capitalist pushed the subscription book aside, with the abrupt remark: "Played out." "Dear me," said the surprised parson, "I really counted on you, Mr. K.; you have always been so liberal that I was in hopes you would head the subscription list!" "I am done," said the merchant; "I have changed my mind—I don't think half the people go to h—ll that ought to!"

An Ambassador's Wife.

The wife of the Chinese Embassador at Paris appeared at the recent ball in the Elysee unveiled. She tottered about the rooms on her little feet—a quaint, small woman, with her hair plastered down to the sides of her whitewashed face. Her husband consented to her appearance after a desperate struggle against his prejudices, for a Chinaman who knows that his wife is gazed upon unveiled is held to be dishonored. "It was funny," says a correspondent, "to see him trying to look the other way, so as not to incur the disgrace involved in the knowledge of her presence. One corner of an almond eye was fixed on vacancy, the other was watching the wife to see that she did not stumble as she walked about the rooms. The result must have been far more reassuring than the Embassador expected. Nothing happened. China was not scandalized. Europe was not convulsed. The sight of the Chinese beauty was a little disappointing. She was very handsome, or the reverse, according to your way of looking at it. I have heard the most contradictory verdicts from different people. Her olive skin was covered with powder laid on as thickly as if it were a clown's face at pantomime time. She toddled about the rooms for a short time on her poor mutilated feet, and then went home no doubt to dream of what the sun and moon and the morning stars would say the next day of this awful innovation of all the Confucian proprieties."

What a Single Cent Did.

A singular financial transction occurred in an office a day or two since. By some means or other it happened that the office boy owed one of the clerks three cents, the clerk owed the cashier two cents, and the cashier owed the office boy two cents. One day last week, the office boy, having a cent in his pocket, concluded to diminish his debt, and handed it over to the clerk, who, in turn, paid half of his debt by giving it to the cashier. The latter hand it backed to the boys, saying that he only owed him one cent. The office boy again passed the cent the clerk, who passed it to the cashier, who passed it back to the boy, and the boy discharged the entire debt by handing it to the clerk, thereby squaring all accounts. Thus it may be seen how great is the benefit to be derived from a single cent if only expended judiciously.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Ben. C. Scribner, formerly John Morrissey's partner, the oldest "sport" in America, died in New York recently. He came from Delaware as a boy, and had his boots stolen from him. He made and lost many fortunes. In 1860 he was $17,000 in debt; in 1862 he was worth $150,000. He left $200,000. When asked to have a minister see him, he replied: "I have been my own counseller through life, and I will be my own minister in death. I have wronged no one—man, woman or child." An hour later he was dead.

—One of the queerest and most novel tricks ever performed by burglars was the clock-work dodge for burglary that was operated in Belgium, and in Paris. Jewellers were the victims. A man would go into a jeweller's store, buy some expensive things, pay for them, and take them away. He would return the next day, and, saying that he was afraid to trust them to the keeping of his servants, would ask permission to leave them temporarily in their box in the jeweller's safe. That being accorded he would return a third time, make more purchases, put them also in the box and take out some article. In doing so he would set in motion a concealed clock-work in the box, which, at a given hour of the night, would strike a hammer upon a cap, fire a mass of dynamite in the box, and with the explosion rend the safe. Of course the burglars would have their preparations made to be on hand when that occurred.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely safe in destroying worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

AROUND HOME.

Joseph Chapman, Esq., has bought the farm of the late Ephraim Packer in Greenland, and removed thither.

Hon. John J. Bell of Exeter has purchased the Low mansion on Factory hill, in that town, and will occupy it as a residence.

The Granite State Base Ball Club are to have an assembly at Mechanics hall this evening, which will be the last one given by them this season.

Rev. Joseph Kidder, of Manchester, will deliver a temperance lecture under the auspices of the Portsmouth Reform Club at Universalist church on Sunday evening.

At the republican caucus in ward three, held on the evening of the 28th inst., Charles W. Taylor and Wm. Sladen were elected as delegates to the republican state convention.

At the annual meeting of the South Parish, held this week, the following gentlemen were elected wardens: Wm. H. Sise, Wm. W. Cotton, John W. Parsons, John Laighton, John P. Norton.

George A. Stewart of Newmarket, thirty-eight years old, married, and father of one boy eight years old, was found dead in an outhouse in Dover on the morning of the 26th inst., having died from hemorrhage of the lungs.

Collector Howard has gone west upon a bridal tour. Sheriff Kent goes with him to perform escort duty. Postmaster Peirce is in Washington. The federal officers are somewhat scarce at this time, but they will gather in season for the state convention.

Mr. J. E. Dixon, who left this city in March last for the far west, has decided to settle in St. Paul, Minn., and has sent for his wife to join him there. Mr. Dixon visited parts of Illinois and of Colorado with a view to settling, but the climates did not agree with him.

The Congregational church in Hampton is claimed to be the oldest religious organization in this state. That town was settled in 1638 by emigrants from Lynn, Mass., who one or two years before leaving that place formed a church, and took their pastor along with them to Hampton.

The horse and coupe owned by Mr. Jeff. C. Rowe went overboard off of Dixon's wharf, Wednesday afternoon of this week, the animal having taken fright at something while Mr. Rowe was waiting for a passenger. Mr. Rowe in attempting to stop the horse was knocked down, had the stump of his right arm (the arm he lost at the Revere railroad accident) broken, and his face and left knee bruised. The team was quickly rescued by the men on the wharf.

The president and directors of the Security Safe Deposit Co., of Boston, sent us a polite invitation to examine their new reading room and exchange, connected with their great vaults in the Equitable building; but they ought to know that editors have no occasion for safes,—they have nothing to deposit. Nor will publishers have much left if the Massachusetts congressmen do not consent to have the duty on wood pulp taken off. The invitation was well meant, but it only seems as a reminder to us that editors wish to enlighten the world, and have no time to lay up treasure upon earth.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

In case of Bartlett vs. town of Epping the evidence was concluded on Wednesday, and the arguments by the counsel were made.

POLICE COURT.

Thomas C. Spillette of Boston, a traveling peddler, over seventy years of age, was before the police court April 28th, having been arrested the previous evening for committing an indecent assault on a little girl. He was let off on paying costs, on condition that he leave the city immediately.

I. O. O. F.

The Rockingham Mutual Relief Association will meet at Odd Fellows hall, Friday evening, April 30th, at 7 1-2 o'clock, to take final action on the amendments to the by-laws.

E. M. BROWN, President.

Votes to be Remembered.

When the army appropriation bill was pending in the senate, there were several propositions voted down by the democratic majority which it will be well to remember. The bill came to the senate with the house "rider," which provides that no money appropriated shall be paid for the subsistence, equipment and compensation of any part of the army to keep peace at the polls within any state except called for by the legislatures or executives of states, to protect them against domestic violence. The motion to strike out the section was lost by a strict party vote. Mr. Blaine offered a further amendment, making it a felony for any private individual to be at the polls on an election day with arms. The democratic senators raised the point that the proposition was not germane, and the Vice President sustained the point. Senator Edmunds then presented the following amendment, which was rejected by a strict party vote:

"Nor shall this section be held to apply to any case in which the employment of the military power of the United States is authorized by the Constitution and laws made in pursuance there."

Senator Kirkwood (rep.) then presented the following amendment:

Provided, further, That nothing in this provision shall be construed so as to prevent the use of troops when necessary to enforce the lawful execution of any law of the United States by the executive thereof in any state or territory against forcible or violent resistance thereto, or to prevent the use of troops when necessary to protect the property of the United States, or to protect any civil officer of the United States when engaged in the lawful performance of his official duty against forcible or violent attack or resistance, although application for such use of troops shall not be made by the legislature or executive of said state.

And this amendment, which simply declares that no construction of the "rider" shall take from the President the authority to use troops to overcome resistance to federal officers in the discharge of their duty, was rejected by the votes of every democratic senator present and voting. Mr. Edmunds then presented the following amendment, which was also rejected:

"Nor shall this section be held to apply to any case in which the military power of the United States may be employed pursuant to sections 1889, 5298, 5299 of the Revised Statutes, or either of said sections."

The above sections authorize the President to use the militia or land and naval forces to enforce the civil rights act and suppress insurrection. Upon the rejection of the above amendment, Senator Edmunds offered the following, as he said, "to leave no possible loophole for criticism or evasion about this business:"

"Nor shall this section apply to any case in which the President of the United States has, under the Constitution and existing laws made in pursuance thereof, the power to employ the military force in the faithful execution thereof."

The above was rejected by the solid democratic vote. Mr. Edmunds then said: I have one more amendment for the same purpose, and then I shall have done, and its rejection will leave the majority in the position of a person indicted at the bar of the public opinion, where no demurrer will allow him to escape.

Add the following: "Nor shall this section be held to apply to any case in which, under the Constitution of the United States, the President may employ the military of the government in the faithful execution of the laws."

This amendment was rejected by the same vote. And yet there are those who insist that the democratic Congress has changed its policy since the extra session, and will not undertake to deprive the President of his constitutional power. One fails to find any evidence to sustain such assertion in the above votes.—Boston Journal.

Mrs. Custer's Criticism.

It seems that the widow of General Custer is not satisfied with the statue of her husband erected at the West Point military academy by Wilson McDonald, and in a letter protesting against the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for a statue in Washington by McDonald, says that McDonald, in erecting the West Point statue, did not consult her or any friends of her late husband. Mrs. Custer does not object to the statue in Washington, but protests against employing Mr. McDonald as the sculptor. Commenting on the Custer monument at West Point, Mrs. Custer says in a letter to Representative Daggett of Nevada: "The statue could not be worse than it is. The face is of a man of sixty, and the dress so unmilitary that his brother officers shudder in looking at it. He is represented with full-dress coat and top boots, that only belong to undress uniform. The whole costume is incongruous and incorrect. Then, he is armed, like a desperado, in both hands, while some of the General's best charges were made with no fire-arms about him. I realize that I am the last one on earth to be satisfied with any representation of my husband. Nothing could portray to me in any form, my idea of him. But his friends in civic life, his comrades in the army, and artists, all have but one story to tell—that the statue is a failure as a likeness, as the representation of a soldier and as a work of art. You know what intense individuality General Custer had. His quick movements, his active step, his riding, the very way he wore his clothes, were so totally unlike any one else, he could not fail to be well represented if a man of genius once tried to represent him. It seems as if I could not endure the thought of this wretched statue being repeated, and I hope that your voice may influence those upon whom the decision rests."

April Fooling in Italy.

The custom of making April fools is kept up by the Italians with greater energy than by any other people. The newspapers are hoaxed freely. Some Roman journals announced that Lieut. Bove, of the Nordenskjold expedition was going to address a meeting on the advisability of an expedition to the south pole, at the Roman university, admission free. The porter had hard work to persuade the hundreds of people who wanted to gain admittance that it was a sell.

A mandolin concert was advertised for the evening, and parties of confiding tourists and natives made their way to the Coliseum to find only silence and darkness. Another tale was that of a respectable citizen of Mondovi, who was attacked by four ruffians while returning home, wrapped in a large cloak, and hurried off to the Foundling hospital, where his captors forced him into the wheel, made of course only for infants, rang the bell, and scandalized the Sisters of Charity very much by introducing a man into the convent precincts. The paper which inserted this item of news was very indignant when it found it had been hoaxed, and put the matter into the hands of the public prosecutor.

As the Aurora, the pet organ of the Vatican, was going to press, an official-looking note was delivered, desiring the insertion of the names of sundry promotions among prelates, of a change of nuncios and appointments of bishops. The document was drawn up on official paper, and signed and sealed apparently by the usual authority. When the newspaper arrived in the Vatican, there was great wrath. His Holiness sent for the editor, and rated him soundly.

Chased by a Waterspout.

William M. Hallock, who not long ago was a passenger on a steamship of the Pacific Mail company, tells of an exciting experience while the ship was off the coast of Gautemala. A waterspout of tremendous power suddenly appeared near the ship. In the midst of the consternation the captain ordered his course reversed, and soon the ship was driving along, with the waterspout in hot pursuit. Its crest was hidden in a dark mass of cloud, its base seemed to operate like an immense revolving colander, while the entire external periphery formed a cushion of foam, over which the sea bird screamed, occasionally seizing upon the dead fish which came within reach. The spout itself formed a sort of spiral cylinder, streaked with opaque parallel lines through its whole length from the sea upward. These lines were evidently ascending columns of water, for afterward, when the upper and lower sections became detached, the accumulated volume of water overhead immediately began its descent within the body of the spout, as though it had been the valve of an immense syringe. Perhaps the most singular thing of all was the serpentine form assumed by the section nearest the clouds, which moved off at first almost horizontally, and then turned up itself in a perfect coil, so that for a moment, when the end of the aqueous rope switched around squarely to the eye of the observer, drawing a portion, it resembled a ball of ink. When the spout was in its finest condition lightning several times flew through the penumbra in zigzag courses, making a spectacle not only terrible in the manifestation of power, but sublime and beautiful.—Philadelphia Press.

A Bad Day for Alligators.

Monday proved to be a field-day with the alligators. They came out in large numbers to bask in the warm sunlight after the rain. Fatal recreation! Everybody on board were so shooting them. Even the scullion left his dishpan to take a shot. And it seemed hard to miss them. The champion slayer was an old hunter from the Granite State. Whenever he raised his rifle, death was in the air, and its sharp report was the crack of doom for some cousin of the crocodile. The 'gatorslayer expended his last cartridge in the evening; but not until he had scored his sixty-fifth alligator. We have killed upward of two hundred altogether. Their vitality is remarkable. I chopped off the head of one a few minutes after it had been shot. Several minutes after the head was entirely severed from the body, I thrust an oar at it. The jaws opened and snapped to again like a huge steel trap, driving the teeth three-fourths of an inch into the hard oak, and splitting an oar-handle. Even twenty minutes later, that 'gatorhead would not have been a safe toy for children.—Orlando (Fla.) Reporter.

—A Colorado girl, only eighteen years old, on the death of her father took charge of his family and farm, and now manages her mother and brothers, and also her sisters, her cousins and her ranch.

—A Lancaster young lady playfully threw her arm around the waist of a lady friend, and a pair of scissors hanging thereon severed an artery in her arm and she nearly bled to death. The accident should teach young ladies that throwing arms around the female waist is a dangerous piece of business that should be performed solely by the male sex. The latter are strong and brave, and don't mind having an artery severed now and then for the good of the cause.

ELEGANT CITY RESIDENCE
—AND—
Nine Acres of Land,
AT AUCTION.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell at Public Auction on Saturday, May 1, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.,

The new French Roof Cottage DWELLING HOUSE and BARN connected with the same, upon the corner of Creek Street and Boyd Road, and facing Woodbury Street in Portsmouth, N. H., near the Woodbury mansion, with nine acres of CHOICE LAND where the same stands, on which is an excellent ORCHARD of forty pear, peach, and quince trees, and one hundred and forty apple trees of the best varieties.

The house is nearly new, having been erected in 1877; is thoroughly finished inside; contains nine good-sized rooms, and very high-standed; a nice cellar and dairy, and rain-water cistern of brick, with one hundred and forty barrels capacity. The house is heated by a furnace, and in all respects is a comfortable and convenient residence for anybody. There is a good well of water upon the premises, and a carriage-house and shed, connecting the house and barn.

The situation commands a fine view of the city and vicinity, and the grounds afford a fine opportunity for improvement and adornment according to the taste of the owner. In addition to the gardens and orchards, the land will produce from twelve to fifteen tons of hay; and to any one desiring a comfortable and pleasant home in close proximity to the city this affords a rare opportunity.

Also at the same time will be sold one new two-horse dump-cart, two-horse wagon, two-horse mowing machine, one express wagon, one carriage, harnesses, and a large quantity of small TOOLS, including forks, shovels, plows, etc.; also about two hundred gallons cider, and part of the household furniture; also one fine close DRIVING HORSE, acknowledged to be one of the best in the city.

The premises can be seen at any time after the 27th, upon application to C. B. MASON.

AUCTION.
FRANK HOLMES' FINE
Dwelling House, Stable & Land,
WILL BE SOLD AT
AUCTION, Without Reserve,
On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,
AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.,
On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all new and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction
IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the 5th day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equidistant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The orchard, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 83 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land on the other side of Stinson street containing 35,640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagons, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. F. MATHES & CO., 48 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEWIS of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

WILLIAM O. CHAPMAN, Auctioneer.

Stores on Bow Street,
AT AUCTION.

WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION on the premises at No. 14 Bow street, on Saturday, May 8th, at 12 o'clock, noon,

THE TWO BRICK STORES,

Formerly leased and occupied by CHAS. ROBINSON & SON. These buildings have Basement stores in the rear, where is a wharf privilege. The buildings can be fitted for tenants or for manufacturing purposes. A liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage, if desired. The estate is owned by a resident in a distant city, and is sold on that account, and the opportunity to secure premises which can be made to pay so good a investment upon the spot is one not often seen. Further particulars of WM. H. HACKETT, Attyy for the heirs of GEO. JAFFREY, ESQ., or of H. F. WENDELL, Auctioneer.

Circumstantial Evidence.

About forty years ago an English gentleman was tried and convicted upon circumstantial evidence of the murder of his niece. She was heard to exclaim: "Don't kill me!" and that instant a pistol or fowling-piece was fired off. Upon these circumstances the gentleman was convicted and executed. Near twelve months after, the niece, who had eloped, arrived in England, and hearing of the affair, elucidated the whole transaction. It appeared that she had formed an attachment for a person of whom her uncle disapproved. When walking in the fields, he was earnestly dissuading her from the connection, when she replied that she was resolved to have him, or it would be her death, and therefore said: "Don't kill me, uncle—don't kill me!" At the moment she uttered these words a fowling-piece was discharged by a sportsman in a neighboring field. The same night she eloped from her uncle's house, and the combination of suspicious circumstances occasioned his ignominious death.

—A remarkable feature in the history of William Smoak, of Charleston S. C., is that he has lived to see his youngest and thirteenth child a grandmother. He has just entered his ninety-seventh year, has 104 grandchildren, 391 great-grandchildren and seventy great-great-grandchildren.

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

Infallibly Cures.

CUTICURA, secured by CUTICURA SOAP, is earnestly believed to be the only positive Specific Remedy for the cure of Salt Rheum or Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter, Pushes, Chin Whelk, Psoriasis, Pemphigus, Impetigo, Leprosy, Lichen, Prurigo, Itch, Ground Itch, Barber's Itch, Jackson's Itch, Rough and Cracked Skins, and all Vesicular and Scaly Eruptions and Irritations of the Skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, Dry, Thin, and Falling Hair, Premature Baldness, and all Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations of the Scalp; Scrofulous Ulcers, Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Itching Piles, Pain and Inflammation; Rheumatism and Affections of the Muscles and Joints; Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Croup, and Hoarseness. In all cases of Blood and Skin Humors, the CUTICURA REMEDIES should be taken internally until some time after a cure is effected.

SKIN DISEASES.

A severe case of five years' duration entirely cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—For the benefit of the world I wish to make this statement: I have been afflicted with a skin disease for about five years, and have tried almost every thing that I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, and concluded to try them.

I certify that I only used them about six weeks until I was entirely well, but before I commenced using them, my face, breast, and back were almost a solid scab, and I often scratched the blood from my body. I am now entirely well and think your CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best for skin diseases that ever was brought before the public.

Very gratefully yours, F. M. FOX.
CADDO, IND. TER., Feb. 21, 1879.

SALT RHEUM.

Helpless for eight years—Unable to walk. Got about on hands and knees. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have been afflicted with a wonderful case of Salt Rheum. For seventeen years I suffered with Salt Rheum; I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was not able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. So my parents tried everything that came along. I saw your advertisement and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first box of CUTICURA brought the Humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, until now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I thank you most heartily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter a fraud, let them write or come and see me and find out for themselves.

Yours truly, WILL McDONALD.
1315 BUTTERFIELD ST.,
CHICAGO, ILL., March 4, 1879.

CUTICURA SOAP,

Medicinal and Toilet.

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the Skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, and for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents, three cakes, 75 cents.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE; or SELF-PRESERVATION, which points out the causes of Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or excessive indulgence in business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published, it is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, rather one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh HOP, and warranted pure. Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics" and "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For nervous debility, sick headache, constipation, indigestion and liver, kidney, bladder and digestive troubles, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvelous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to nervousness. They are the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, restores the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and debilitation of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the menial and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. GRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26th.

There is a good deal of misapprehension throughout the country as to the stand of the house committee on ways and means on the subject of tariff revision. The committee believes in a thorough revision, and will no doubt report favorably Senator Eaton's resolution for the appointment by Mr. Hayes, to be confirmed by the senate, of nine gentlemen as a commission to inquire into necessary changes. The committee, however, refuses to take hasty action upon propositions for partial changes. It will report probably in favor of dropping the duty on certain materials entering into the manufacture of printing paper, and perhaps on a few other articles.

The Massachusetts press association is here on a short visit. There are a hundred and over in the party, including the ladies. They are "doing" the city in the most approved style. While enjoying the beauties of the city, they are not forgotten by the climate. They got wet at Mount Vernon, and yesterday at Arlington they received another ducking. They visit the President to-night, and go to Richmond to-morrow night; and again reaching Washington Thursday morning, leaving for home Friday morning. They are much pleased with the city, and we hope when they return home they will give our city a good "puff."

Second Auditor E. B. French, the last of the bureau officers appointed by President Lincoln, died in this city Saturday. He left congress in 1861, and was immediately appointed to the office he held at the time of his death. He was extremely popular with all who had business with his bureau.

Secretary Ramsey denies that he is displeased with General Schofield because of his action in the Whittaker cortrage case. The general perhaps has not displeased Secretary Ramsey, but he certainly displeased a large number of intelligent people by his hasty and undue justification of the cadets at West Point. He has thrown as many obstacles as he could to prevent a fair and just investigation of the case, and, in fact, acts as though the government, as represented by Mr. Townsend, had no right to interfere with his despotic sway at the military academy. There is no doubt in many minds whether the best thing would not be to abolish this monarchy at West Point.

The army appropriation bill recently passed by the house and senate will reach the President to-day. He will not veto it, as some republicans had hoped, especially the Grant men.

Ever since the political cauldron has been boiling Speaker Randall has made a trip east nearly every Saturday. Some say he goes to New York to talk over the situation with Tilden. I wonder if he really does? KNOX.

Don't Get the Chills.

If you are subject to the ague you must be sure to keep your liver, bowels and kidneys in good free condition. When so, you will be safe from all attacks. The remedy to use is Kidney-Wort. It is the best preventative of all malarial diseases that you can take. See large advertisement.

Nature's Sluice-way.

The kidneys are nature's sluice-way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or slime and purify the whole system.

FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1880.

Conventions.

Quite a number of state conventions were held April 28th, by both parties.

The delegates elected by the republican convention of South Carolina received instructions to vote as a unit for Ulysses S. Grant for president.

In the Ohio republican convention the delegates at large were instructed to vote for John Sherman, and the district delegates were requested to do so. Of the forty district delegates chosen, eight are said to be for Blaine.

The democratic convention of Connecticut chose Tilden men as delegates, but did not instruct them.

In the democratic convention of Pennsylvania a compromise was effected between Samuel J. Randall and Coffee-Pot Wallace, which resulted in a love-feast and formal burying of the hatchet. The convention adjourned to the 29th without proceeding to the election of delegates.

The Arkansas republican convention met at seven o'clock in the evening, April 28th, and adjourned at three o'clock next morning; the delegates were instructed to vote for Grant.

The California republican convention met April 29th, eighty per cent of its members being for Blaine.

The San Francisco Murder.

The coroner's jury in the De Young murder case returned a verdict April 28th. The evidence offered was the same as that heretofore published, with the addition of the testimony of one John Clemetshaw, alias Watson, who swore that at the time of the shooting he was looking through a window of the Chronicle counting room and saw Kalloch and De Young facing each other, the latter leaning against the counter. Directly De Young straightened himself, drew a pistol from his overcoat pocket, and fired at Kalloch. The latter then drew and began firing, when De Young ran. The remainder of Clemetshaw's evidence was in accordance with other testimony. The jury evidently considered Clemetshaw a liar, for they brought in a verdict charging Kalloch with murder. De Young's pistol was found with every chamber loaded, after the murder.

News and Notes.

James Cooke, the well known clown, died in New York on Wednesday, April 28th, of pneumonia.

The steamer Baltimore, at New York April 29th from Bremen, brought 1200 passengers.

J. J. Hoover, who killed a saloon keeper named Bennett, at Fair Play, Colorado, in April, 1878, was taken from jail by a mob on the 28th inst., and hanged.

The only money involved in the murder of the little girl Alice Meaker, at Waterbury, Vt., was $50, which was paid by the town to the Meakers for taking care of the child. The motive for the crime still remains a mystery, but the stories of brutality on the part of the old woman toward little Alice, as told by the neighbors, seem to substantiate the theory that she was put out of the way as the best means of getting the girl off their hands. A black spot about the size of a man's hand on the girl's hip seems conclusive evidence of a terrible beating from some cruel hand. The uncle, Almon Meaker, who confessed the poisoning, and his mother, are safely confined.

August Deedick, a German boy but twelve years old, has been arrested for setting fire to the card room of Tinkham & Farwell's mill at Burrillville, R. I., where he was employed. He confesses the crime, which he has committed twice, and says he set the fires in order that he might get out to play.

Two New York detectives caught a thief at Bridgeport, Conn., who had stolen $1,500 from a friend's trunk in the metropolis, but the jovial thief got them so drunk that he had no trouble in running away.

Ex-Postmaster McArthur of Chicago was convicted in the United States circuit court at Chicago, April 28th, of embezzling $50,000 from the government. The penalty prescribed by the law under which he was convicted is "a fine of not more than double the amount embezzled, and imprisonment for not less than six months, nor more than ten years." The court gave him time to apply for pardon, and fixing his bail at $8,000, set June 1st as the day of sentence.

Among the remarkable family gatherings of late was that on Saturday, April 24th, at the old homestead of Horatio Kibbe at Ellington, Conn., when ninety children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren sat down together to celebrate the 90th birthday of Mrs. Valerous Kibbe who was born in Ellington, the daughter of Allerton Cushman and so a direct descendant of Thomas Cushman and Mary Allerton of Mayflower and Pilgrim fame. She is a woman of strong characters and retains her mental and physical vigor to a large degree.

A Middletown, Conn., young woman, whose intended deserted her on the evening of their proposed marriage, has sworn out three warrants against him for fornication, a fourth for larceny and a fifth for breach of promise.

At a recent meeting of the board of selectmen of Brockton, Mass., it was almost unanimously decided that no liquor licenses should be granted the coming year. It is proposed to establish a town agency on the old-time plan, placing the entire sale in the hands of the agent. No liquor will be allowed to be drank on the premises, and the proceeds of the sales will go into the town's treasury. The decision of the board is a surprise, as it was generally supposed at the late election that a majority of the board were license men.

The resumption of diplomatic relations between France and Mexico seems settled. France and Mexico will simultaneously nominate representatives at their respective capitals.

A bottle has been picked up at the junction of the rivers Weaver and Mersey, England, containing a paper inscribed, "H. M. S. Atalanta, 16th of March. Fearful hurricane. Dismasted. Going down fast. Off the Lizard." It is not certain whether it was set adrift from the missing training-ship, or is the production of some stupid fool who thinks himself a funny fellow.

Twenty-six thousand weavers, employed in one hundred and eighteen mills in the Blackburn district, England, have given notice of an intention to strike a fortnight hence unless wages are advanced in the same proportion as was recently conceded to the spinners and card-room hands.

A despatch from Cabul, Afghanistan, to London, says: Native messengers report an engagement at Hydabad on the 25th of April between Gen. Ross and mixed tribesmen. The enemy were defeated with the loss of 1,200. The British loss is unknown.

New Hampshire Items.

The dead body of Alfred A. Eastman of Meredith, about forty years old, was found at daylight, April 29th, in a field just outside the village. It is supposed he committed suicide the night before, as about eleven o'clock the report of a gun was heard. Disappointment in love was the cause.

The Concord Patriot says: "The most disgraceful occurrence on record has been transpiring at the spring term of court holden in Ossipee during the past week. Several of the grand jury got drunk, and when sent for were engaged in pumping rum out of one another. In the jury room were several empty bottles, and other evidence of a like nature. Judge Smith discharged or sent the whole lot home, and ordered another grand jury to be drawn."

Mrs. Rebecca Cilley of Gonic, an aged lady, fell while crossing a floor a few days since, and broke one of her wrists and her left hip.

Three French Canadian families in Great Falls have only forty-three children for the census enumerator to make a due record, in June.

Will A. Baker, the victim of Lindsay, the would-be murderer and suicide of Lynn, Mass., is now at his home at Peterboro', and has nearly recovered.

Lauretson Potter, aged seventy years, was killed at Chester, April 27th, by a log which rolled over upon him.

The Connecticut river lumber company have started their drive of sixty millions of lumber from Pittsburg, with a force of 700 men. The logs are commencing to arrive at Van Dykes & Merrill's boom, where they are to be sorted.

The semi-annual meeting of the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, was held at Concord, April 28th. There was a large attendance from various parts of the state, and the reports made indicate that the order is in a flourishing condition.

S. B. Wheeler, proprietor and conductor of the Merrimac Journal at Franklin Falls, has bought the Leader, a daily and weekly, of Bloomington, Ill. He enters immediately upon its charge. The Leader will favor Mr. Blaine for the presidency.

The one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of the town of Northfield will be appropriately observed June 19th at the Hannaford Grove, which is near the railway station. It is intended to make this gathering a very hospitable and interesting one.

The Manchester & Keene railroad, which was hastily built in 1878, and for a short time was operated by the Nashua & Lowell road, but which has been unused since March, 1879, is to be put into the hands of a receiver, who will complete it and put it into operation for the benefit of all concerned.

DELIGHTFULLY REFRESHING, SAFE, AND SURE.—No single contribution to the medicinal preparations deserving to be called such has met with so decided and substantial a welcome as Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the "delicious." It is one of those remedies that invite confidence at the start, and in every instance successfully retain it to the last. As a specific for summer or winter complaints, as an elegantly flavored stimulant and tonic for weak and debilitated systems, no single remedy heretofore compounded approaches it in simplicity and power. Sanford has many imitators, but no equals.

From the easy expectoration, increased respiratory power of the lungs, and the removal of irritations, manifest from cessation of cough and other alarming symptoms, after using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is clear that the formation of tuberculous matter is not only stopped, but that already deposited is being carried away.

— "If you grasp a rattlesnake firmly about the neck he can not strike you," says a western paper. "To be perfectly safe," remarks the Elmira Free Press, "it will be well to let the hired man do the grasping."

Hie, lads and lassies! hie away!
Nor brook a single hour's delay,
If you would carry in your mouth
White teeth, and odors of the South,
Haste, haste, and buy a single font

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. t,th&f

See a Woman!

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for Ladies and invalids.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. D&WLJan81

AROUND HOME.

Eastern railroad stock sold at $83 a share in Boston, April 29th.

The republican caucus in ward four will be held in the ward room this evening at 7:30 o'clock, sharp.

Mr. Thomas H. Odion has completed the overhauling and refitting of his yacht, and she will be put overboard in about two weeks.

Mr. Meshach T. Muchmore on Thursday last commenced repairing the railing of Liberty bridge, by direction of the mayor and aldermen.

The old Thomas Shaw house, on the corner of Water and Gates streets, is being put in thorough repair under the superintendence of Dr. Curtis, its owner.

Newichewannock Tribe, No. 4, I. O. R. M., have removed from their old quarters to Knights of Pythias hall, where the next council fire will be kindled.

The mayor and Alderman Sanborn on Thursday last inspected the salt-water reservoir near Liberty bridge. They found at least five feet of water in the reservoir at low tide.

Schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Garland, left this port Friday morning, April 23d, with a load of brick for Boston, and arrived back on Thursday, the 29th, with a cargo of salt for Mr. John Dixon.

At the annual meeting of the South Parish, held this week, the following gentlemen were elected wardens: Wm. H. Sise, Wm. W. Cotton, John W. Parsons, John Laighton, John P. Hart.

At a monthly meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Brewing company it was voted to increase the wages of the employes of the company ten per cent, the same to take effect from April 1st.

Capt. Malloy, of the schooner E. M. Buchler, this week shew us an odd-looking piece of silver money which he procured from a black merchant in Panama. It is of almost exactly the same weight as an American dollar, was evidently made with the hammer, and is said by experts to be a Roman coin of very ancient date.

Mr. Wm. Stover was knocked down and had his back badly wrenched, April 27th, while working in the hold of the barkentine Geo. W. Sweeney at Concord railroad wharf, by the falling of a coal tub. He was taken to his home in a team, and is doing well. It was a narrow escape from a serious and possibly fatal accident.

Herring are reported to have struck in at the Shoals. Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell's crew were busily engaged in catching them, Wednesday of this week. Mr. Elvin Newton, who has his headquarters on Lunging island, caught seven or eight barrels of herring that day, and in the evening brought in 2100 lbs. of cod. There is now plenty of bait.

The schooner Dreadnaught, of New Haven, which was bumped in Vineyard sound by the United States steamer Tallapoosa, has had a gang of men at work on her this week, under direction of Mr. D. Littlefield, putting in new planking on her starboard quarter, hardening up the fastenings of her quarter and stern, and calking her decks aft. She takes ice to a southern port for Cyrus L. Brown.

An odd accident happened on the 28th inst. to Michael Leehe, a man employed on the excavation of the factory yard at Dover. He was assisting to unload a heavy stone when it suddenly fell, striking a plank on which Leehe was standing, and Leehe was sent up in the air a distance of twelve feet, revolving twice and falling heavily on the drag. His head and chest were badly bruised, and he was injured internally. No bones were broken, but he lies in a critical condition.

The schooner Una went on the railway at Kittery, Wednesday afternoon of this week, to have her bottom cleaned. She was put in thorough repair about eight months ago.

Mr. Josiah Grover has just finished painting the old Haven mansion on High street, and will commence painting the house next north of it, where Daniel Webster once lived, as soon as repairs now being made are completed.

Capt. Wm. Lester, master of ship Gov. Goodwin, who expected is to arrive at his home in Stratham some time in May, owns a fine farm of forty-nine acres in that town, ten miles from this city and four from Exeter. The farm is carried on under the superintendence of Mr. Luther Fernald, an experienced farmer who was many years on the Col. Peirce farm, Greenland. Capt. Lester has some very nice live stock on his place; all the hay cut is fed out on the farm, thus securing a generous return to the soil of the ingredients taken from it in the shape of crops.

Grain and grass crops promise well throughout Greenland and Stratham, with favoring weather, they having started well, and very little winter-killing of grass having occurred last winter; the number of blossom-buds on the apple trees also indicates a probable large yield of that fruit. Stratham's specialty in the crop line is cabbage, of which immense quantities are raised, the Portsmouth market absorbing most of the yield; this spring John Emery has set out between 5000 and 10,000 plants, Jenness Brown 5000, William Wiggin 15,000 (and has 30,000 more in his greenhouse,) and other farmers from 1000 to 3000 plants each. In consequence of the continue low price of pork, the farmers in this vicinity some years ago very generally ceased raising pork for the market, contenting themselves with a pig or two each for their own private barrels; but this spring they purchased largely of shotes. Large quantities of "brewery grains" are hauled from this city to Stratham by teams; the farmers report these grains as good for fattening cattle and hogs, but not for feeding to milch cows, as the milk is strongly flavored by such food.

"LITTLE BAREFOOT."

As friends greet each other on the street a question often heard is, "Are you going to see Maggie Mitchell?" and the enthusiastic assent almost always given is a strong indication of an overflowing house at Music hall, Thursday evening, May 6th. The appearance of this favorite actress in a role so famous is a treat such as our theatre-goers have not enjoyed for some time. Miss Mitchell comes to Portsmouth after one of the most brilliant seasons on record. Everywhere crowded houses greeted her, and in New York she was the observed of all observers. A very fine company supports this eminent actress, headed by the well known actor, Wm. Harris, who as Wm. Peace has achieved a decided success. Those who desire to secure good seats should not delay a moment after tickets are placed on sale, for one of the largest houses of the season will greet New England's favorite actress. Sale of tickets opens to-morrow at eight o'clock. Be on hand.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, April 29th:

Henry H. Ham asked permission to use two rooms in rear of store occupied by him in city building. Refered to committee on city land and buildings to report.

Mr. Frost asked leave to encumber Deer street, for purpose of removing building. Granted.

It was voted not to appoint a liquor agent.

Petition for a new pump at Christian Shore was not acted upon, as Mayor Sise had previously ordered one to be placed there.

Committee on claims reported recommending that the bill of Dr. R. C. Grant, for services at the station house, be paid.

The appropriation bill as received from the common council was read, and referred to committee on bills on second reading.

The subject of extra compensation asked for by the board of assessors was brought forward. Alderman Laighton moved that the matter be indefinitely postponed, on which the yeas and nays were called, and the motion did not prevail by a vote of six to three, Aldermen Shannon, Noyes, Barri, Hodgdon, Hall and Mugridge voting in the negative, Aldermen Laighton, Sanborn and Hazel in the affirmative.

On Alderman Hall's motion to pay them fifteen dollars for extra services the motion did not prevail by a vote of seven to two, Aldermen Shannon, Noyes, Barri, Hodgdon, Laighton, Sanborn and Hazel voting in the negative, Aldermen Hall and Mugridge in the affirmative.

The vote was then taken on the original motion offered by Alderman Shannon, that the assessors be allowed the amount asked for by them, twenty-five dollars each, upon which the yeas and nays were called, and the motion prevailed, Aldermen Shannon, Noyes, Barri, Hodgdon and Mugridge voting in the affirmative, Aldermen Laighton, Hall, Sanborn and Hazel in the negative.

Alderman Mugridge called attention of the board to the bad condition of the water used by the scholars in the Haven school house for drinking purposes. Refered to committee on school houses.

Adjourned.

I. O. O. F.

The Rockingham Mutual Relief Association will meet at Odd Fellows hall, Friday evening, April 30th, at 7 1-2 o'clock, to take final action on the amendments to the by-laws.

E. M. BROWN, President.

Naval Gazette.

Lieutenant Albert G. Berry and Master Landon P. Jouett are ordered to the Passaic at Washington; Master Archer C. Baker to the hydrographic office; Ensigns Alexander Sharp and John A. Sherman to the Pensacola, at Mare island; Chief Engineer John B. Carpenter to the Colorado, at New York; Boatswain Francis A. Dran to the Boston navy yard; Ensigns Wm. R. A. Rooney and Francis A. Sherman from the Passaic to the Pensacola; Midshipman Frank R. Heath from the Washington navy yard to the Pensacola; Chief Engineer Chas. E. De Valin from the Colorado and placed on waiting orders; and Boatswain Alexander Mack from the Boston navy yard to the naval station at New London.

Lieut. Wm. Walsh is detached from the Onward, at Callao, and ordered home; Lieut. Joseph F. Merry is ordered to the Onward as executive officer.

The United States ship Constellation will be ready to sail from Ireland about the 10th of May.

The Powhatan left Hampton Roads April 29th for exercise with great guns and torpedoes in Chesapeake bay.

The Monocacy sailed from Shanghai March 4th for Winchon.

Information from the navy department at Washington confirms the report that by direction of the secretary of the navy, the United States steamer Adams has established a coaling station at Galifilo Dulce on the Pacific side of Costa Rica, and the United States steamer Kearsarge has established another station on Sheppard's island in Chiriqui lagoon on the Atlantic side. The sites of these stations belong to the United States, having been acquired under Lincoln's administration from a grant made to the Chiriqui improvement company.

The board appointed to examine the unfinished monitors Terror, Amphitrite and Miantonomah, reported to the secretary of the navy that it is to the interest of the government to finish the vessels, but not according to existing plans.

—When a man's feelings are "all riled up" it is important that he should restrain them.

Auction Sales.

ELEGANT CITY RESIDENCE
—AND—
Nine Acres of Land,
AT AUCTION.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell at Public Auction on

Saturday, May 1, at 10 1-2 o'clock, A. M.,

The new French Roof Cottage DWELLING HOUSE and BARN connected with the same, upon the corner of Creek Street and Boyd Road, and facing Woodbury Street in Portsmouth, N. H., near the Woodbury mansion, with nine acres of CHOICE LAND where the same stands, on which is an excellent ORCHARD of forty pear, peach, and quince trees, and one hundred and forty apple trees of choice varieties.

The house is nearly new, having been erected in 1877; is thoroughly finished inside; contains nine good sized rooms, and very high-studded; a nice cellar and dairy, and rain-water cistern of brick, with one hundred and forty barrels capacity. The house is heated by a furnace, and in all respects is a comfortable and convenient residence for any body. There is a good well of water upon the premises, and a carriage-house and shed, connecting the house and barn.

The situation commands a fine view of the city and vicinity, and the grounds afford a fine opportunity for improvement and adornment according to the taste of the owner. In addition to the gardens and orchards, the land will produce from twelve to fifteen tons of hay; and to any one desiring a comfortable and pleasant home in close proximity to the city this affords a rare opportunity.

Also at the same time will be sold one new two-horse dump-cart, two-horse wagon, two-horse mowing machine, one cheese wagon, one carriage, harnesses, and a large amount of small TOOLS, including forks, shovels, plows, etc.; also about two hundred gallons cider, and part of the household furniture; also one valuable DRIVING HORSE, acknowledged to be one of the best in the city.

The premises can be seen at any time after the 27th, upon application to C. P. MASON.

AUCTION.
FRANK HOLMES' FINE
Dwelling House, Stable & Land,
WILL BE SOLD AT
AUCTION, Without Reserve,
On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,
AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.
On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all new and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction
IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the fifth day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equidistant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet on the premises, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Stinson street containing 35,640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. F. MATHES & CO., 48 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEWIS of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

Stores on Bow Street,
AT AUCTION.

WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION on the premises at No. 14 Bow street, on Saturday, May 8th, at 12 o'clock, noon,

THE TWO BRICK STORES,

Formerly leased and occupied by CHAS. ROBINSON & SON. These buildings have Basement Stores in the rear, where is a wharf privilege. The buildings can be fitted for tenants or for manufacturing purposes. A liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage, if desired. The estate is owned by a resident in a distant city, and is sold on that account, and the opportunity to secure a bargain which can be made to pay so good investment upon the outlay is one not often seen. Newspaper Lying.

Some people have an idea that newspapers will lie. Others are so wise that they will only believe a newspaper report when they think it would be easier for the paper to tell the truth than to tell a lie. Others think it the evidence of flashing wit to receive with a derisive laugh evidence the authority for which comes from "the papers." To such an extent has this thoughtless judgment of the press been carried, that much of its sphere of usefulness has been circumscribed. It is true there must be some occasion for this widespread impression—"there must be some fire where there is so much smoke;" yet how many men can show a record for correctness, accuracy and truthfulness, that will at once compare with the average newspaper? The editor gathers his news from a thousand sources,—from acquaintances and strangers, from letters and papers. He sifts and culls, hunts and details, and endeavors to get "the straight" of every story he publishes, for it goes to the world over his own name, and he knows that in a great measure he will be held responsible. The private individual bears a piece of gossip, listens carelessly, tells it to another with equal carelessness, and if called upon for details, in nine cases out of ten cannot give enough of them to make an intelligent item for a paper. "Writing makes an exact man," says Lord Bacon; the newspaper verifies the truth of the statement. Let anyone who doubts this, sit down and write some bit of gossip, with the purpose of having it printed over his own name, and he will see in a moment how little he knows about a matter he thought himself familiar with. And he will then wonder, not that the newspaper should contain occasional inaccuracies and misstatements, but that it contains so few. And his wonder will wonderfully increase when he remembers that the editor has to depend for much of what he publishes on the common run of mankind.—Ex.

—One of the longest fights ever conducted in the New Jersey courts has just ended. In 1865 Mrs. Rachel Van Houton died at Paterson, leaving an estate worth $5,000,000. In addition to one-half of this estate she left her daughter a legacy of $5,000. It was claimed by the executor of the will that this legacy had been paid to the daughter during the life of the testatrix, and after a contest lasting nearly fifteen years the case has been so decided.

—During the flush times of 1869 Ozias Bailey was one of the richest men in Kansas. He didn't know what to do with his surplus money, and so put it in St. Louis & San Francisco railroad stock. The stock was then selling at $3 a share. When the hard times followed Bailey lost every dollar of his money in one way or the other. His fortune was at the ebb, and he only continued to hold his railroad stock as so much worthless paper. Recently, upon the consolidation of the St. Louis & San Francisco with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, he sold it for a round million.

Cuticura

THE GREAT SKIN CURE,

Infallibly Cures.

CUTICURA, assisted by CUTICURA SOAP, is earnestly believed to be the only positive Specific Remedy for the cure of Salt Rheum or Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter, Pushes, Chin Whelk, Psoriasis, Pemphigus, Impetigo, Leprosy, Lichen, Prurigo, Itch, Ground Itch, Barber's Itch, Jackson's Itch, Rough and Cracked Skins, and all Vesicular and Scaly Eruptions and Irritations of the Skin; Scald Head, Dandruff, Dry, Thin, and Falling Hair, Premature Baldness, and all Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations of the Scalp; Scrofulous Ulcers, Sores, and Discharging Wounds; Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Scalds, Burns, Itching Piles, Pain and Inflammation; Rheumatism and Affections of the Muscles and Joints; Sore Throat, Diphtheria, Croup, and Hoarseness. In all cases of Blood and Skin Humors, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT should be taken internally until some time after a cure is effected.

SKIN DISEASES.

A severe case of five years' duration entirely cured.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—For the benefit of the world I wish to make this statement: I have been afflicted with a skin disease for about five years, and have tried almost everything that I could hear of, without any relief whatever, until I saw your CUTICURA REMEDIES advertised, and concluded to try them.

I certify that I only used them about six weeks until I was entirely well, but before I commenced using them, my face, breast, and back were almost a solid scab, and I often scratched the blood from my body. I am now entirely well and think your CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best for skin diseases that ever was brought before the public.

Very gratefully yours, F. M. FOX.

CADDO, IND. TER., Feb. 21, 1879.

SALT RHEUM.

Helpless for eight years—Unable to walk. Got about on hands and knees. A wonderful cure.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have had a most wonderful cure of Salt Rheum. For eight years I suffered with the disease. I had it on my head, face, neck, arms, and legs. I was not able to walk, only on my hands and knees, for one year. I have not been able to help myself for eight years. I tried hundreds of remedies; not one had the least effect. The doctors said my case was incurable. My friends tried everything that came along. I saw your advertisement and concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. The first box of CUTICURA brought the Humor to the surface of my skin. It would drop off as it came out, and now I am entirely well. All I can say is, I think you most heavily for my cure. Any person who thinks this letter a fraud, let them write or come and see me and find out for themselves.

Yours truly, WILL McDONALD.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

HUNT'S REMEDY

THE GREATEST

KIDNEY AND LIVER MEDICINE

EVER KNOWN.

HUNT'S REMEDY has saved from lingering disease and death hundreds who have been given up by physicians to die.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures all Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urinary Organs, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, and Incontinence and Retention of Urine.

HUNT'S REMEDY encourages sleep, creates an appetite, forces up the system, and renewed health is the result.

HUNT'S REMEDY cures Pain in the Side, Back, or Loins, General Debility, Female Diseases, Disturbed Sleep, Loss of Appetite, Bright's Disease, and all Complaints of the Uro-Genital Organs.

HUNT'S REMEDY quickly induces the Liver to healthy action, removing the causes that produce Bilious Headache, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Piles, &c.

By the use of HUNT'S REMEDY the Stomach and Bowels will speedily regain their strength, and the Blood will be perfectly purified.

HUNT'S REMEDY is purely vegetable, and meets a want never before furnished to the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it.

HUNT'S REMEDY is compounded expressly for the above diseases, and has never been known to fail.

One trial will convince you. For Sale by all Druggists. Send for Pamphlet to

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood effectually, gives a healthy appetite, improves the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of scrofulous humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, and which bears any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

OFF THE COASTS OF SLEEP.

BY DORA H. GOODALE.

A land I know, afar, yet near,
Remote and dim, yet close and clear—
A broad, rich realm, by man untamed,
Our very own, yet all unclaimed.
Out from life's jar and fret
It shines, in tranquil borders set;
Upon its shores earth's burdens fall,
And fancy takes the reign o'er all.

Dark closed the day; the twilight chill
In deeper gloom wrapped rale and hill;
The angry winds howled loud and hoarse,
And shook the walls with savage force;
The air with snow and sleet was piled,
For winter's fury gathered wild.
Spent with his wrath, I stole away
To greet a brighter, kindlier day.

Oh, soft upon that distant coast
The flashing waters leaped and tossed;
The white sails filled with halcyon air;
Green were the woods hung pictured there,
Strange fruitage there the sun doth kiss;
Lapt in those zephyrs rife with bliss,
Its subtle wine my pulses stirred,
Like rythmic music faintly heard.

On sunny slopes thick set with bloom
The senses thrill with strange perfume;
More vivid, yet more frail, those flowers
Than any blown in mortal bowers;
They nod, they bend, they glow, they move,
They mock human strife and love,
As all things in those far-off skies
Do gayly mock our earthly eyes.

Freed from all trouble, pain and care,
Our hearts burst into blossoms there;
Tongue's are unloosed; the poet's fire
Burns in each breast with new desire;
On wondrous harmonies of song
The golden hours are borne along,
Till soul and sense, transfused, seem one,
In new-made forms of life begun.

—Lippincott's Magazine.

—While Mrs. Scott-Siddons was recently reading to a large audience at Columbia, S. C., a number of young people were flirting, laughing and talking in a private box. She turned toward them and said that she would retire until they were through. Two young men who were in the box afterward called upon her and demanded an apology, but they went away unsatisfied.

Treating the Wrong Disease.

Many times women call upon their family physicians, one with dyspepsia, another with palpitation, another with trouble of the breast, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent doctors, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all symptoms caused by some uterine disorder; and while they are thus only able perhaps to palliate for a time, they are ignorant of the cause, and encourage their practice until large bills are made, when the suffering patients are no better in the end, but probably worse for the delay of treatment, and other complications made, and which a proper medicine directed to the cause would have entirely removed, thereby instituting health and comfort instead of prolonged misery.

Your Favorite Prescription is working almost like a miracle on me. I am better already than I have been for over two years. LORINDA E. SP. CLARK.

YORKVILLE, TORONTO, ONT., } March 18, 1879.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

Dear Sir—I write you about a most remarkable cure of a lady friend of mine, Mrs. Ruthorn. Since her marriage thirteen years ago, she has suffered greatly from uterine disease which caused sterility. She tried the most eminent physicians of this part of the country, who told her she would have to undergo an operation with the knife. Being afraid of this, she was induced by reading your Medical Adviser to take your Favorite Prescription and Pellets. She used three bottles, as a result she entirely recovered her health and is the happy mother of a healthy babe. Very truly yours,

MRS. JOHN MCELROY.

—London World:—"I guess you're full of facts," said a fashionable American beauty to a young English lady. The latter blushed vividly, and was about to repudiate the imputation indignantly, when it was explained to her that her interlocutor merely intended the compliment to her sprightliness and vivacity.

Our Best Reward.

WINSTON, FORSYTHE CO., N. C., } March 15, 1880.

To the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.:

GENTS—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtue of your Bitters.

Very respectfully,

REV. H. FEREBEE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 11, 1880.

Hop Bitters Co.: Please accept our grateful acknowledgment for the Hop Bitters you were so kind to donate and which were such a benefit to us.

Yours very gratefully,

Conventions.

The delegates from South Carolina to the national convention, who were instructed for Grant, are all for Blaine as their second choice. The California convention resolved to cordially support the nominees of the national convention, whoever they may be, but instructed their delegates to "vote as a unit, first, last and all the time, for James G. Blaine."

The greenbackers of Indiana held their state convention April 29th; about three hundred delegates were present, and Rev. Gilbert de la Matyr addressed the convention. A full state ticket was nominated, and the following delegates at large to the national greenback convention at Chicago were elected: Mrs. Dr. Mary L. Thomas, James Buchanan, Col. John B. McElroy and J. J. Allen. District electors and members of the state central committee were announced, and the convention adjourned.

The democratic convention of Pennsylvania completed its work April 29th, and adjourned. An attempt to instruct the delegates to the national convention to vote as a unit was defeated, which was a victory for the Randall faction. The Tilden men claim that the delegation will stand forty for the great cipherer to eighteen for Hancock; Coffee-Pot Wallace claims thirty-eight against Tilden to twenty for him; other parties say the delegation will stand about nineteen each for Tilden and Hancock, with the other twenty roosting on the fence.

Masonic Banquet at Washington, D. C.

From a full account in the Washington Herald we collate the following:

Columbia Commandry, No. 2, Washington, D. C., on Friday evening, April 24th, held a special conclave and conferred the Order of the Red Cross upon thirteen companions; after which Sir James E. Waugh, P. E. C., in behalf of a large number of the individual members, presented to Sir M. M. Parker, E. C., (a native of Vermont,) a handsome and costly jewel, composed of Maltese cross, Knight's helmet and bust, and Passion cross, radiant, all made of pure gold and studded with diamonds, the whole forming a fine emblematic decoration.

The presentation was made in the most flattering terms of fraternal affection, which echoed the sentiments of all present. Sir Knight Parker's reply was eloquent and appropriate, and evinced his high appreciation of the honor conferred.

After this pleasing ceremony the Sir Knights with their visitors repaired to the main hall, where a splendid banquet had been prepared. The tables extended the length and breadth of the hall, one in centre froming a passion cross, to which the guests, numbering upwards of two hundred, sat down. Many toasts were given and reponses made; Sir N. G. Ordway, of Mount Horeb Commandry of Concord, N. H., ably responded to a toast complimentary to Templar Masonry in New Hampshire; and Sir Thomas L. Tullock, (a son of Portsmouth,) to a sentiment relative to "Free Masonry and its sublime tenets."

News and Notes.

I. M. Kalloch, the slayer of Charles De Young, had a hearing in the police court at San Francisco on the afternoon of the 29th ult., and was held without bail to answer to a charge of murder. Kalloch has published a card in which he defends Clementshaw, the alleged perjurer who testified in his favor at the coroner's inquest.

At Fortress Monroe, April 29th, Lieuts. Clark and Murray, of the 1st. U. S. Artillery, were married to two daughters of the late Gen. De Russey, U. S. A. The secretary of war and Gens. Sherman and Hancock were present.

The Virginia supreme court of appeals on the 29th ult. rendered a decision declaring that the provision of the act of 1879, known as the "McCulloch bill," excepting state obligations from taxation, was not unconstitutional, but valid, and that the state was bound to receive coupons attached to bonds issued under said act, at their face value, in payment of taxes and other demands of the state. Another point decided was that the law making said coupons receivable for taxes and other dues of the state, was constitutional and valid.

One Spence, a policeman at Sherman, Texas, while intoxicated killed an inoffensive stranger in a restaurant at Denison; he was tried for the crime, the evidence showing the murder to have been the brutal and unprovoked act of a drunken ruffian, and the jury rendering a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree the prisoner was sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years.

Wm. Gaston and Thomas Wright of Kansas City, Mo., had a fight Tuesday night, April 27th, and the latter's divorced wife, who was living with Gaston, and Gaston himself, were badly beaten. Next morning Gaston hunted up Wright, and shot and killed him.

James Holmes, John Kelly and John Hennessy were arrested at Hudson, N. Y., April 28th, for passing counterfeit standard and trade dollars. Two hundred dollars were found upon them. They hail from New York. The counterfeits are excellent.

A private letter to a business house in St. Louis, Mo., dated Las Vegas, New Mexico, April 26th, says it is reported there that Joseph Brown, ex-mayor of St. Louis, and a party of St. Louisans, were murdered by Indians at or near White Oats, Staunton county, N. M., on the 25th of April.

On the 29th ult., Abe Coakley and Peter Luther were arrested in Philadelphia, charged with complicity in the famous Manhattan bank robbery in New York.

In the superior court of New York, April 29th, five Chinamen filed declarations announcing their intention to become citizens of the United States.

Charles Westley Haymers was hanged at Winnemucca, Cal., on the 27th ult., for the murder of T. K. West at Paradise, about a year ago.

Berkshire, Vt., boasts of a female town clerk. An attempt was made to defeat her re-election at the late March meeting on the ground that she could not constitutionally hold the office, but, after a somewhat exciting ballot, she was triumphantly re-elected by a majority of eleven.

Among the wood-choppers in a lot near Richford, Vt., is a Mrs. Josephine Farrand, a young married woman aged twenty years, who accompanies her husband and brother to the woods, and puts up a cord a day, besides doing her housework.

Kyron Morey of Charlton, Mass., aged fifty-five years, who has been sick and melancholy for some years, hanged himself in his barn a day or two ago.

In the United States court at Portland, Me., last Thursday, proceedings came to a stand for lack of money to pay jurors, until counsel agreed to advance money so that cases might go on.

About a year ago Mr. James Wight, president of the Knox county, Me., Fish and Game association, received a cage containing one hundred and twenty-five European migratory quail, which he let loose near Chickwaukee lake. After breeding they went south, and have lately returned and been seen and heard by people residing near the lake.

The British naval store-ship Wye, which was sent in search of the missing training-ship Atalanta, arrived at Plymouth, Eng., April 28th, after searching the neighborhood of Vigo bay, Spain, where portions of an unknown wrecked vessel recently came ashore, and reported that nothing new relating to the fate of the missing ship was discovered. The bottle picked up at the junction of rivers Weaver and Mersey, containing a paper purporting to be a message from the Atalanta, is undoubtedly a discreditable hoax by some heartless ass.

HONOR FROM EUROPE. It is conceded on all sides that Dr. Ayer's Pills are above comparison with other medicines. Uniting the best elements known to the chemist they are particularly effective against the numerous stomachic disorders for which they are recommended as a cure. These pills are so mild, yet searching, that they are often prescribed by doctors who otherwise do not favor patent medicines. Indeed, with the fruits of Dr. Ayer's genius in the shape of Pills, Sarsaparilla, Ague Cure and Cherry Pectoral, one might with impunity travel through the interior of Africa.—Amsterdam Nieuws van den Dag.

The Old Amount of Cream Tartar

Will not raise the old amount of flour. Why is it? How often this question is asked of the grocer! The most complete answer to this inquiry that we have seen, comes from the Health Inspector of the New York Board of Health. After samples of cream tartar purchased in various parts of that city had, been subjected to analysis, he found, in all cases, that article to be adulterated with terra alba to such an extent, in some instances, that the cream tartar was really terra alba with a little cream tartar added. The Inspector further stated that, when baking powders are put up in packages ready for use, the honest and skillful manufacturer experiences no difficulty, in the first place, in securing pure material, and secondly, in mixing them in the proper proportions. Hence, the Inspector recommends the use of a good, reliable brand of baking powder in preference to the cream of tartar as now found in the stores.

The manufacturers of the well-known brand called the "Royal Baking Powder," are said to import their own Cream Tartar direct from the Wine Districts of France, expressly for this powder, and always tested by an experienced chemist. This company are the largest users of cream tartar in the world, and in these days of adulteration and fraud, it is most gratifying to know of one article of food that we can get pure, namely, the Royal Baking Powder.

Naval Gazette.

It is announced from Washington that Secretary Thompson has directed the Alliance, now lying at the Norfolk navy yard, to proceed to the Newfoundland fishing banks and guard the interests of our fishermen. The Alliance is a third-rate, carries six guns, and is one of the six vessels on the North Atlantic station. It will not probably be necessary to send more than one vessel. Two vessels have gone from the same station to the isthmus, the Tennessee, flagship, and the Kearsarge. If another vessel should be needed, the Galena, one of the best vessels in the navy, which has been entirely refitted, will soon be ready for service.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all causes of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in Children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

AROUND HOME.

A son of Mr. John Mitchell, of Bridge reet, had an arm broken on the 26th t. by falling from the roof of a barn.

Two young men in Dover a few days go stole a pass-book of the Strafford vings bank, and by false representaons at the bank succeeded in securing 181, with which they cleared out of e city. They will probably be called answer to charges of theft and forery.

The schooner Una came off the marine ilway at Kittery last Thursday afterpon about four o'clock, and while atmpting to beat down river was headed f by a flaw of wind while between the oering piers and the dry dock at the ivy yard, and coming into collision with e latter broke her main boom; she was wed to Portsmouth by the steamer mes Sampson. She procured another om, and went out on a fishing trip iday.

A somewhat vigorous legal-suasion ampaign is being carried on in Dover ainst the liquor sellers, the police makg searches nearly every day on comaints made by Mr. Wm. Hurd and hers. In nearly every case liquors and pplements of sale have been found and ized, and the accused persons adjudged obably guilty by the police magistrate, d on appeal held for trial in the sueme court. On Wednesday, April 28th, ichael Sheehan pleaded guilty to a arge of keeping liquor for sale, and as assessed $59.04, fine and costs.

At noon to-day, on the premises, essrs. Morse & Ilsley will sell by auction, without reserve, one of the best and ost desirable suburban residences put on the market for many months,—the sidence of Mr. Clarence B. Mason, on e corner of Creek street and Boyd road. he house is new, well finished and conenient, and the lot contains nine acres. so, at the same time and place, will be ld a very superior horse; also wagons, rts, farming tools, etc. For particurs see advertisement in another column. his sale offers a rare opportunity to proe a complete and handsome home.

The Dover Democrat says: "The ining fever has struck Dover. It is not uncommon sight to see farmers and borers prospecting on ledges, etc., in is vicinity. E. C. Berry on Sixth street ok the notion of examining the ledge his premises a few days ago. He got me of the ore examined by an old Brazilian miner in this city, who states it ntains some gold and lead. We should t wonder if Berry should at once sink a aft, after forming a joint stock company work the mine. That's the way they in the mining regions, and with no tter prospect of success than there is the Sixth street bonanza mine."

On Friday afternoon a horrible deed as committed in Rochester, near the rmington line, by a man by the name Bennett. The circumstances as we arn them from a gentleman who arred on the late evening train, are that nnett had a disturbance with his wife, d pushed her out of the house. She erward tried to push the door open to e in, and when in the act of so doing r son, a man about twenty-seven years age, arrived on the spot and requested s mother to move; he then pushed the or open, and on entering the father ruck at him with a large carving knife, tting his son in the lower part of the owels. The cut was so severe as to allow his intestines to protrude. The oundrel was arrested and lodged in jail. he physician says there is no possible ance of the young man living.

WOULDN'T DISCUSS.

We are requested to publish the folwing letter, which it will be seen is r was) a challenge to Elder Waite to ublicly discuss the question as to whether or not spiritualism is of the devil. This challenge was sent to Mr. Waite before he made his so-called expose of spiritualism in Dover and this city, but no notice was taken of it by him.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., April 1st, 1880.

Rev. A. A. Waite—Dear Sir: I understand you are preparing to "Expose Spiritualism." Now if you are an honest man, and love the truth, and have the good of humanity at heart, I ask you to meet me in Portsmouth or Dover, and honestly and earnestly discuss the following questions:

1*st, Resolved*, That Spiritualism is a truth, and can be sustained by the Bible (King James' version) and by facts.

I understand you admit some of the phenomena to be true, but ascribe them to the devil; consequently to be fair with you, I propose—

2*d, Resolved*, That Spiritualism is of the devil, and consequently is a great evil.

I will affirm in the first, and you in the latter question. We shall have ten cents admission to pay expenses, and after all hall rent and other expenses are paid, the remainder shall be divided equally between the speakers to pay their personal expenses. You shall choose one man, I will choose one, and they two shall choose a third, who shall be chairman; and said committee shall have the handling of funds, and shall see each has fair and proper treatment in all the arrangements. The discussion shall be conducted under parliamentary rules.

If you are honest and sincere, you will do this before pretending to "expose;" if you are a hypocrite and pretender, you may go on with your expose, as I do not care to meet such a person. But I am honest, and hope you are; and light and knowledge is what I am after. Consequently, if you know enough of Spiritualism to expose it, and you are honest, you will impart at least some of your knowledge to me. Yours for truth,

PALEMON C. MILLS.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

Case Bartlett vs. town of Epping was given to the jury on Wednesday evening, the 28th ult. They were out until late on Thursday evening, without coming to an agreement.

In Schlesenger & Co. vs. George K. Caswell, action to recover $340 for liquors purchased by defendant of plaintiffs, the jury gave a verdict for the full amount claimed, with interest, in all amounting to $381.34. Smith for pliff.; Mellows and Eastman for deft.

John Doyle vs. Levi G. Towle, an action to recover for labor and services rendered, was next put on trial. John Hatch for pliff.; Stickney and Leavitt for deft.

MAGGIE MITCHELL.

The appearance of this piquant and fascinating actress in Music hall, Thursday evening next, will be the sensation of the season, as the mere announcement created a decided sensation. The play in which she is announced to appear, "Little Barefoot," is one which wherever presented finds hosts of admirers, abounding as it does in interesting situations, humorous bits, touches of pathos, and charming home scenes. As "Little Barefoot," Miss Mitchell rises to the height of genius, and thrills the hearts of her listeners by the force of her impersonation. This actress never travels with a poor company, and her support in "Little Barefoot" is of a high order of excellence throughout. The role of "Wm. Peace" is assumed in a masterly manner by Wm. Harris. Tickets are sure to go with a rush. Procure yours at once. Sale opens this morning at eight o'clock, at Preston's drug store.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Prayer and conference meeting at nine o'clock Sunday morning.

Bethel service at 4:15 Sunday afternoon. Seafaring men especially invited. Meeting free. Anniversary of Bow mission and bethel—appropriate exercises.

Mr. Joseph Kidder, of Manchester, will deliver a temperance lecture in the Universalist church Sunday evening, under the auspices of the reform club; President French will preside; lecture at 7:30. Mr. Kidder is an able speaker, and the lecture will be a good one.

JOSEPH C. SOMERBY.

On the afternoon of April 2d Mr. Joseph C. Somerby, sixty-nine years of age, residing in Roxbury, Mass., left his home to visit a son who lived in Dorchester. The next day, as nothing had been heard from him, his friends became anxious as to his whereabouts, and a diligent search was made, as it was feared that he might have fallen into the water, as he was subject to fits of mental abstraction. The search was continued for a week or more, but without success. On Wednesday evening, April 28th, the body of a man answering his description was found in the Sutcket river, near the town of Bridgewater, Mass., which was on Thursday identified by the sons of Mr. Somerby as that of their father. The deceased was a native of this city, a son of the late John Somerby; he served an apprenticeship with the late Samuel Dockum, at the upholstering business, and was afterward in business here; was at that time a prominent member of the Middle street Baptist church, having been baptized by Rev. Dr. Stowe, and sang in the choir at that church before the introduction of the organ. He has a sister (Mrs. Oliver Frye) now living in this city; another, Mrs. Joseph Walker, in Salem, Mass., and a brother, John Somerby, formerly foreman of the Eastern railroad car shop at Salem. Sherburne Somerby, of Exeter, formerly of this city, was another brother. Deceased has not resided in Portsmouth for about twenty-five years.

—The many good qualities possessed by a narrow-minded man, like the ten commandments engraved on a threecent piece, may be all there, but it requires a powerful magnifying glass to detect them readily.

—The famous island No. 10 in the Mississippi river, which was three miles long, and which during the war contained two or three fertile plantations, and on which the rebels placed three thousand men and erected earthworks to obstruct the passage of the federal gunboats, has been entirely swept away by the river, and the present island is only a sand bank overgrown with cotton-wood and willows. The land on the shore where the rebels had their batteries has also been washed away.

Auction Sales.

ELEGANT CITY RESIDENCE
—AND—
Nine Acres of Land,
AT AUCTION.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell at Public Auction on

Saturday, May 1, at 10 1 2 o'clock, A. M.,

The new French Roof Cottage DWELLING HOUSE and BARN connected with the same, upon the corner of Creek Street and Boyd Road, and facing Woodbury Street in Portsmouth, N. H., near the Woodbury mansion, with nine acres of CHOICE LAND where the same is laid, on which is an excellent ORCHARD of forty pear, peach, and quince trees, and one hundred and forty apple trees of choice varieties.

The house is nearly new, having been erected in 1877; is thoroughly finished inside; contains nine good sized rooms, and very high attended; a nice cellar and dairy, and rain-water cistern of brick, with one hundred and forty barrels capacity. The house is heated by a furnace, and in all respects is a comfortable and convenient residence for anybody. There is a good well of water upon the premises, and a carriage-house and shed, connecting the house and barn.

The situation commands a fine view of the city and vicinity, and the grounds afford a fine opportunity for improvement and adornment according to the taste of the owner. In addition to the gardens and orchards, the land will produce from twelve to fifteen tons of hay; and to any one desiring a comfortable and pleasant home in close proximity to the city this affords a rare opportunity.

Also at the same time will be sold one new two-horse dump-cart, two-horse wagon, two-horse mowing machine, one express wagon, one carriage, harnesses, and a large amount of small TOOLS, including forks, shovels, plows, etc.; also about two hundred gallons cider, and part of the household furniture; also one valuable DRIVING HORSE, acknowledged to be one of the best in the city.

The premises can be seen at any time after the 27th, upon application to C. N. MASON.

☞ Sale Positive.

Dated at Portsmouth, April 19, 1880.

AUCTION.
FRANK HOLMES' FINE
Dwelling House, Stable & Land,
WILL BE SOLD AT
AUCTION, Without Reserve,
On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,
AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.
On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all new and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, and here is a rare chance.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction
IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the fifth day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equidistant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bathroom and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet, or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Simson street containing 35,640 square feet.

Liberal terms as to payment can be found upon above pieces of real estate.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, platoi coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. F. MATTHES & CO., 48 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEWIS of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

MISTAKES AND PREJUDICE

Of Religious and Temperance Journals.

Some good Religious and Temperance journals are making the mistake of declining to advertise a most valuable antiintoxicating medicine, simply because it is called "Bitters," while the same journals are making a greater mistake by advertising some drunken whiskey stuff, or nostrum, because it has some nice, fancy deceptive name, ending with "ine," "ine," printed on its label, when the bottle is filled with destruction, drunkenness and death. If these good journals would take the trouble to ascertain how many overworked clergymen have had their lost nerve-force, brain-waste and flagging energies restored by the use of Hop Bitters, enabling them to perform their arduous pastoral duties and preach the good sermons that they would have been totally unable to do but for this valuable medicine, and did these journals but know of the host of good Christian Temperance women who rely on them for their family medicine, and how many invalid homes they could make happy and what glad tidings they would send to every neighborhood by publishing the merits of Hop Bitters, they would advertise them without money and without price. And did these journals but know how many have been and may be saved from forming intemperate habits by doctors prescribing Hop Bitters, instead of beer, where the use of hops are needed, (there being more actual hop strength in one bottle of Hop Bitters than in a barrel of beer, without any of the intoxicating or evil effects of beer,) they would lay aside their fear and prejudice against the word "bitters."

The President and Manager of Hop Bitters Mfg. Co. Is a veteran Temperance advocate and worker of forty-eight years' service; every man in the company is an active Temperance worker, and the Company spends thousands of dollars annually in Temperance and Christian work.

What the Religious Press Says.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18, 1878.

Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—We do not allow anything in the line of Bitters to enter our pages that contains alcohol, but we are satisfied that your Bitters are free from that ingredient. We feel responsible for the good or bad that may be done to the families of our subscribers that are affected by our advertisements. Therefore our discrimination in your favor, and we trust that our very low rates will meet your approval and that we may hear from you.

"THE LIVING CHURCH."

Not a Beverage.

"They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, that is, more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them."—Rochester Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

We are not in the habit of making editorial mention of patent medicines, but in case of Hop Bitters, feel free to do so, because their merits deserve to be known.—New York Independent.

Sirs—I have taken Hop Bitters and recommend them to others, as I found them very beneficial.

MRS. J. W. TULLER,
Sec'y Women's Christian Temperance Union.

A Medicine, Not a Drink.

HIGH AUTHORITY

Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold, for use, except to persons desirous of obtaining medicinal bitters.

GREEN B. RAUM,
U. S. Com'r Internal Rev.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4, 1879.

Dear Sir—Why don't you get a certificate from Col. W. H. W., of Baltimore, showing how he cured himself of drunkenness by the help of Hop Bitters. His is a wonderful case. He is well known in Rochester, N. Y., by all the drinking people there. He is known in this city, Cincinnati, New Orleans, New York; in fact, all over the country, as he has spent thousands of dollars for rum. I honestly believe his card would be worth thousands of dollars to you in this city and Baltimore alone, and make thousands of sober men by inducing the use of your Bitters. J. A. W.

Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by Hop Bitters, that we had pooh-ed at two years before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer one day old, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents—Good Templars.

MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1880.

Having used Hop Bitters, the noted remedy for debility, nervousness, indigestion, etc., I have no hesitation in saying that it is indeed an excellent medicine, and recommend it to any one as a truly tonic bitters.

Respectfully,
REV. MES. J. H. ELLCOCD.

Deputy Sheriff Johnson of Littleton arrested George M. Aldrich of Lyman, April 27th, on an indictment for perjury found against him at the last term of court. The perjury is alledged to have been committed in the trial last December of his highway damage suit against the town of Monroe, before Hon. Charles P. Sanborn of Concord as referee. The referee found for the plaintiff in the sum of $600, and the question is now before the supreme court on the defendant's appeal.

The officers of the Dexter, Me., savings bank have made a report to the depositors, in which they say that the bank is solvent. They further declare that the report of a "competent expert," who examined the late treasurer's books, "shows conclusively that the late treasurer used your funds, that is, the funds of the bank, for the purpose of procuring and carrying the very large amount of life insurance, and for paying for his late homestead and other property," and they assure the depositors that "every honest endeavor will be used to recover this amount and restore it to the depositors—the rightful owners."

Capt. J. R. Blen, aged eighty-seven years, and Miss M. C. Johnson, aged sixty-five, were married at Stillwater, Me., on the 24th ult. Capt. Blen secured his title in the war of 1812, and as he led his blushing bride to the altar showed by his elastic step and martial bearing that the vigor of youth still held possession of his eighty-seven years, for "his eye was not dim nor his natural force abated." Capt. Blen thinks of removing to Texas and settling on his bounty land of one hundred and sixty acres, and believes as he improves his land, he will in a few years be able to gather around his fireside sons and daughters.

Marcus Richardson of Bangor, Me., will be one hundred years old October 31st. He took his first degree in Masonry in Milford in 1803, becoming a member of Montgomery lodge. He is claimed by his friends to be the oldest Mason now living.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; revenue stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot, dry, the blood fevered, the system torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with a skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became sore, lids inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, one then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and am testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a early cure.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros' Publications,

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my skin is considered wonderful. My cure has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE,
DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the old home by the sea, "it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prepares weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the preparations, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla upon the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, Trustees.

BEAUTIFUL SKIRT.

O, skirt! beautiful skirt!
Jerked thro' the dust and dragged thro' the dirt!
Once you were white
As the mantle of snow;
As the leaves of the lily
When spring zephyrs blow;
Stiff to the touch and fair to the eye,
Neat to the gaze of each passer by;
Now tattered and spattered—
O, piteous wrong!
Beautiful skirt—they made you too long.

—A sailor, after having drank to excess in a low saloon, had quarrelled with the landlord and beaten him severely with a bottle snatched from the bar. As the case admitted of no legal defense, the sailor's lawyer, putting in a plea of guilty, addressed himself to the court in order to secure as light a sentence as possible. He urged that the prisoner had acted under the influence of liquor—and very poor liquor at that. "But, sir," said the court, not inclined to view the appeal with favor, "we are to consider the aggravated character of the offense. Your client admits he assaulted this man with a bottle." "Yes, your honor," interposed the witty lawyer, "we admitted all that; but I beg you to remember that this man first assaulted my client with its contents." The court smiled at this unexpected point, and Jack got the benefit of a light sentence.

Don't Get the Chills.

If you are subject to the ague you must be sure to keep your liver, bowels and kidneys in good free condition. When so, you will be safe from all attacks. The remedy to use is Kidney-Wort. It is the best preventative of all malarial diseases that you can take. See large advertisement.

—She was a woman of Bloomington, Ind. Her husband was a mechanical genius with a hankering after a perpetual-motion machine, and her son was a live boy with a taste for hunting rats. The son one day set a steel trap in the cellar and went away to borrow a rat dog. The woman went into the cellar with a requisition for rations, and her searching gaze fell on the trap. "Oh, dear," she sighed. "John Henry has made another perpetual-motion machine," and prompted by womanly curiosity she picked it up by the trigger to see how the old thing worked. She saw. With hideous howls she climbed the cellar stairs like a whirlwind and went wailing through the house and fled into the street, waking the echoes with disconsolate shrieks, while the neighbors shouted "Fire!" and thronged into her house and began pitching out the furniture. Order once more reigns in Bloomington, but that woman has posted a placard on the doors notifying all to whom these presents may come greeting that hereafter it is to be all perpetual-motion machine or all rat trap about that house, she doesn't care a cent which, but she isn't going to have the thing mixed any more.

Sacramental Wine.

Speer's Port Grape Wine is a pure, unintoxicating wine, made from the finest native grown Port Grapes. It is especially adapted for the use of Christian churches, and guaranteed to retain its grateful flavor and essential qualities unimpaired for any period. Much used by invalids. The principal churches in New York and Brooklyn have adopted its use.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer

—A man living in Montreal obtained two young seals, and after feeding them about a year they became very tame and would go into his house and stay an hour or two by the fire, and then go out and take a swim in the St. Lawrence, returning again to the house and striking their flippers against it to gain entrance. Finally he decided to send them off, and hire Jerome to a steamboat pilot to carry forty or fifty miles down the river, which was done, but the next morning the seals made their appearance again as usual.

From the easy expectoration, increased respiratory power of the lungs, and the removal of irritations, manifest from cessation of cough and other alarming symptoms, after using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, it is clear that the formation of tuberculous matter is not only stopped, but that already deposited is being carried away.

Aristocratic Institutions.

A saying is credited to no less a personage than George Washington, that no man is fit to command, unless he previously learns to obey. Judging from that standpoint, what can be expected from West Point graduates?

In the case of the colored cadet, Whittaker, what nonsense it is to allege that he cut off his own ears! Has it come to this pass, that the United States government must ask boys who shall be appointed to West Point or Annapolis?

Why should a republican government support such aristocratic institutions? But if a naval or a military school is to be maintained at the public expense, what shall hinder the appointment of Mongolians, Africans, native Americans (Indians) or persons of any other race, as well as those of Anglo Saxon descent?

If a boy desires to become a sailor, let him "go to sea." If he wishes to learn about military matters, let him go to a private military school. There are a plenty of opportunities for both.

Hon. John S. Wells was elected—so near as the writer recollects—to the United States senate from New Hampshire in 1852. One of the first of his acts was to offer a resolution in opposition to the maintainance of the military institution at West Point, as being anti-republican. He was derided at the time, but there are many now who believe that Mr. Wells was in the right.

Not many years since the rooms of a trader at Annapolis were broken into, and nice wearing apparel stolen by the midshipmen; but the offences were generally condoned. Away with such useless, but expensive institutions!

VIATOR.

British Shipping.

By an official return relating to English merchant shipping, lately issued, the number of sailing vessels employed, both in the home and foreign trade, has diminished from 19,090 in 1860, to 16,449 in 1879, the tonnage being 3,852,245 in the first year, to 3,918,676 in the last. The height of prosperity for England's merchant fleet was in 1865, since which year there has been a marked falling off. On the other hand, the number of steamers has augmented from 929 in 1860, to 3580 last year, and the tonnage from 399,491 to 2,331,157. This increase of about six fold in the tonnage of the steamers means more than a similar increase of sailing vessels would imply, for the effective power of the steamer as a carrier may be three or four times that of the sailing vessel, as the former will make three or four voyages to one of the other.

News and Notes.

At the cabinet meeting, Friday, the President tendered Postmaster General Key the vacant United States judgeship for the eastern and middle districts of Tennessee, which was accepted. Nothing was said as to who would fill the vacancy in the cabinet.

Catherine Driscoll of Malden, Mass., charged with the murder of Mary Credon on the 15th ult., was held by the district court in that town on Friday to await the action of the grand jury, and committed to jail.

William Hemphill Jones, the clerk of the congressional committee on ways and means, died in Washington on April 30th. He was for many years a prominent democratic politician in Delaware, and was the officer at New Orleans to whom Gen. Dix sent the famous dispatch: "If any man attempts to pull down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." He was a native of Delaware, first mayor of Wilmington, a member of the state legislature, and for twenty-five years deputy first comptroller of the treasury. Mr. Jones was a valuable man in the committee room, owing to his long life of public service. His death was caused by a severe cold contracted while attending the funeral of his brother, James Hemphill Jones, at Charlestown, Mass., navy yard.

The publishing firm of Houghton, Osgood & Co. of Boston was dissolved on Saturday. Mr. Houghton, Mr. Mifflin and Mr. Valentine of New York have formed a new firm, under the style of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., to continue the publishing business, and the Messrs. Osgood and Col. Ammon of Chicago have associated themselves as the Heliotype Printing Company, the style of which indicates the business.

John C. Loring, a dry goods dealer in Boston, who has been engaged in business on Tremont row for the past twenty-five years, has been indicted by the grand jury of the city and county of New York, for fraudulently obtaining dry goods from Bates, Breed and Cooley, of New York, to the amount of $1,443. Mr. Loring left Boston in the early part of February, and nothing definite is known of his whereabouts.

Major General Samuel P. Heintzelman, U. S. A., retired, died in Washington on Saturday morning, May 1st. He was a native of Penn-sylvania, and was 76 years old. He graduated from West Point, July 12th, 1826, and was appointed captain and assistant quarter-master July 7, 1838, and was promoted through the several grades to major-general, which commission he received in May, 1866, and was placed on the retired list in Feb. 1869. He was abrave and meritorious officer, and has several times been mentioned for gallantry in battle.

Raymond, the man who was shot in Portland, Me., last winter, by a Mr. Moulton, whose hostler he was, for being found at Moulton's house after having been forbidden there, was married on Saturday, April 24th, to Miss Etradia Griffin of Portland. He says that Raymond is not his real name, and that he has been concealing it. He gave his name to the city clerk as Abraham T. Salter, when he procured his marriage license. Miss Griffin is the daughter of the gentleman to whose house "Raymond" was taken after he was shot. The couple have started for the west.

The property known as the Bay state print works, at Fall river, Mass., with a capacity for five printing machines, comprising eleven acres of land and a large number of buildings, was sold at public auction Wednesday, April 28th, by order of the trustees of the American print works, to D. A. Brayton of that city, for $37,000. Mr. Brayton is the owner and successful manager of the Arnold print works of North Adams, Mass. The works have not been operated for some years. The works were considered very cheap by good judges at $50,000.

Winslow, the forger, figuring conspicuously in Buenos Ayres, under the name of Daniel Warren Lowe, has been expelled from the American church there, deprived of his Sunday school class, and cut by resident Americans. They have found out his real name and his crimes in Boston; yet he is the same man as before. He had married the young daughter of his landlady, Mrs. Clark, and presumably, the women deserve sympathy. There are yet other countries where there is no extradition treaty with the United States.

Chicago packed last year 5,100,000 hogs, being an increase of ten per cent over 1878, and seventy-five per cent over 1877. Over 10,000 men are employed.

The senate of the Dominion of Canada has defeated the bill to legalize marriage with a deceased wife's sister, which the commons had passed by a hundred majority.

European princesses are running wild. Custom has prescribed that they shall only marry suitors of royal blood, but Cupid's bow is sometimes more powerful than sceptres. King Karl of Wurtemburg graciously permits the betrothal of the Princess Pauline to a young Breslau physician, on condition that she abandons her title and becomes simply Fraulin von Kirchbach. The marriage of Princess Frederika of Hanover, grand-daughter of George III., to her father's private secretary, a no-account German baron, took place under the patronage of the Queen at Windsor Castle, on Saturday, but the Prince of Wales absented himself from the wedding to show his disapproval.

During a concert in the Circo de Rivas, Madrid, on the 5th of April, a madman, with an axe in his hand, forced his way through the adjoining gardens and into the theatre. He killed, with four blows on the head, a doorkeeper who resisted his entry on the stage, mounted thereon, barricaded himself with tables and chairs and, branishing his axe, dared anybody to approach him. The police drew their swords, but he wounded two of them who went within his reach, and defied the soldiers who were finally sent for. Eventually the officer, fearing he would make an onslaught on the audience, ordered one of his men to shoot him. He fell dead.

New Hampshire Items.

The young man who was so shockingly cut last week by his drunken father at Farmington, as previously reported, was named Samuel W. Canney, and not Bennett as first stated; he died Friday afternoon. On Saturday, Canney was arraigned before Justice J. C. Varney of Farmington. He waived an examination, and was bound over to the supreme court, in September. He was taken to Dover, and lodged in jail.

A fire in Grant's hotel at Great Falls, Friday evening last, caused a loss of about $4000, principally from water. The fire took place from a defective chimney, and was confined to the roof.

The carpenter shop and blacksmith shop belonging to John Flagg of Concord were burned Friday morning. Loss, $800; insurance $500.

A farm house in Rindge, owned by Dr. Geddes of Winchenden, Mass., and occupied by a French family, was burned last Thursday. Loss $2000; partially insured.

Political.

The Bangor Commercial mentions Superintendent Tucker, of the Maine Central railroad, as the possible fusion nominee for governor of Maine.

Ex-Councillor Parker of the Garcelon (Me.) council received $75 for traveling 375 miles between November 22d and November 24th. He was present at Augusta both these days, and the intervening day, when he must have done all his travelling, was Sunday!

A house and shed in Kennebunkport, owned by John Tarbox, were burned on the 1st inst., with a large part of their contents; loss $1,500; insured.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and gives rest, health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the Best and Surest Remedy in the world, in all causes of Dysentery and Diarrhoea in Children, whether it arises from teething or from any other causes. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle. 3

AROUND HOME.

The schooner Forest Maid on Thursday last took into Newburyport a fare of 30,000 lbs. of cod, taken in Ipswich bay. On the same day the schooner Sea Breeze arrived at Gloucester with a fare of 35,000 lbs. of split cod, also taken in the bay.

Schooner Odell, which arrived in the lower harbor last Thursday with a cargo for Dover, and three other schooners for the same destination which arrived later, were all in the harbor on Saturday, awaiting a chance to go up the river. The tides have been running low, and there was not water enough in the Cocheco to enable them to reach Dover.

The schooner Fair Wind, Woodward master, bound from Hoboken to Dover with a cargo of coal, had her foremast head carried away below the eyes of the rigging, and her maintopmast broken, in Vineyard sound on the 28th ult., and put into Vineyard Haven to make temporary repairs. The Free Wind is a small vessel, and is owned in Ellsworth, Me.

On Saturday last Mr. Jos. P. Morse, of Morse & Ilsley, auctioneers and real estate and insurance agents, sold the residence of Clarence B. Mason, corner of Creek street and Boyd road, and two acres of land fronting on Creek street, for $3275. Mr. George Bilbruck being the purchaser. The remainder of the lot, amounting to about seven acres, fronting on Boyd road, was bid off by Nicholas G. Mason at $150 an acre. H. R. Stoddard purchased a fine driving horse for $210. The carriages, farm vehicles and tools, and other articles, brought good prices.

The schooner yacht Wm. H. Russell, which has been hauled in on the beach at the foundry wharf at the south end all winter, was hauled to the end of the wharf last week. During the winter she has received a thorough overhauling; has had new ceiling and several new timbers put in, house lengthened to afford a cookroom, cabin refitted, and planking renewed wherever found defective. She has also been furnished with a second copper water-tank, and is now in perfect condition for the accommodation of summer excursion parties, except that her sails are not yet bent, which will be done about the 20th inst. Capt. Charles S. Drown will sail her this year, as before.

Mr. Henry C. Rich was found dead in his chamber at Ring's island, Salisbury, on the evening of the 30th ult., probably from apoplexy. He formerly resided in this city, and was at one time employed in the riggers' gang on the navy yard. He was a brother of Lieut. Robert E. Rich, now of this city. Both brothers were in the Union service during the rebellion, Robert in the army and Henry in the navy, and they each lost a leg on the same day, Robert losing his at the battle of Antietum, and Henry losing his in an action in which the gunboat Susquehanna was engaged, he being one of her crew. Deceased has for some years been engaged in fishing. He leaves a widow and four children.

PORTSMOUTH SHOE FACTORY.

A meeting of the directors of the Portsmouth Shoe Factory was held in the counting room of the State street manufactory, Friday afternoon of last week, to hear the report of the committee authorized to purchase the "Sagamore lot" of land from the Eastern railroad. The committee reported that a clear title to this land could not be obtained for many months, and recommended the purchase of a lot on Islington street, belonging to Mr. Justin V. Hanscom. The recommendation was unanimously agreed to, and the land has already been bought. This lot is admirably situated, and better adapted for the purpose intended than the Sagamore lot; it contains about 30,000 square feet, having a frontage of one hundred and eighty feet on Islington street, and a depth of about one hundred and seventy feet.

The delay in securing a lot has been vexatious, but will not materially alter the arrangements or plans of the directors in the new factory to be at once erected, Messrs. Jones, Mendum and Potter being chosen a committee to proceed with the work.

Mr. W. A. Whitcomb has been elected treasurer of the consolidated company, and is fast bringing matters into business shape. The directors have found in Mr. Whitcomb a man for the place, thoroughly understanding all the intricacies of the business, of extensive acquaintance among the leading dealers of the country, and possessing the confidence of the trading public.

With Mr. Whitcomb for manager, Mr. Knights for superintendent, and our "solid men" for backers, the shoe business of Portsmouth is bound to succeed.

MARY ANDERSON.

On Wednesday evening next the people of this city will have an opportunity of listening to the well known and celebrated actress, Mary Anderson. She has appeared here before, and those who were fortunate to be present then will avail themselves of the opportunity again; and others who desire to hear her will do well to secure seats at an early date. She is to appear as "Evadne," one of her strongest characters, concerning which the New York Times says:

Those persons who desire to see Miss Anderson at her best should not fail to witness her performance in "Evadne," which was produced last night for the first time this season at the Fifth avenue theatre. It might almost be said that Nature, who is strangely beneficent in some of her gifts, shaped Miss Anderson as a living embodiment of the dramatist's idea.

"LITTLE BAREFOOT."

Music hall should be thronged next Thursday evening—and probably will be, —with an audience eager to extend the heartiest of welcomes to Maggie Mitchell. The play announced is one which, in the title role, affords this charming actress full scope for her rare emotional powers, and as she depicts the changing scenes in Little Barefoot's life,—scenes now grave, now gay,—she electrifies her hearers by the force and fire of her acting. The present season has been one rich in triumphs for this popular favorite; not even the piquant little Lotta has drawn the houses that Miss Mitchell has. And her support is in every way worthy of her, as there is not a poor actor or actress in the company. Procure your tickets before it is too late.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The members of the several committees on Memorial day observances are requested to meet at the Common Council room, this evening, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

In case Doyle vs. Towle the jury returned a verdict for the pltf., increasing the amount found by the auditor.

Eliza A. Smith vs. town of Kensington, a highway case, was opened Friday, and a view of the premises taken by the jury. Trial to proceed to-day.

PRESIDENTIAL PREFERENCES.

Lieut. Thoms H. Walker, of Newmarket, who was last week engaged in very successfully canvassing this city for subscriptions for Headley's finely illustrated "Life and travels of Gen. Grant," incidentally made a canvass of all the voters whom he talked with, regarding their preferences for presidential candidates. Two hundred and forty-nine republicans specified their first choice as follows:

Hayes	17
Washburn	26
Edmunds	28
Sherman	40
Grant	58
Blaine	80

Of the democrats interviewed, the preferences expressed by two hundred and thirty-one are given in the following table:

Greeley	1
Eaton	3
Seymour	15
Thurman	21
Bayard	33
Tilden	67
Hancock	81

From this canvass it appears that with the voters of this city Blaine and Hancock are the favorites, with Grant and Tilden close up as second choice, and Sherman and Bayard a good third.

PREPARATORY SERMON.

Rev. Mr. McGinley, at the Congregational chapel on Friday evening, preached an extemporary sermon, preparatory to the communion, on "The sympathy of Christ," taking his text from Hebrews 4:14. We give a condensed report of his sermon:

This is one of the consoling passages of scripture, in which we are encouraged to come to the throne of grace. Our Saviour has borne what we have borne, and we can come feeling he has full sympathy with us in all our needs and wants. Every want finds a supply in the gospel of Christ. One of the great wants of the human heart is sympathy. The religion of the world has failed to reach the heart. God has implanted special truths to all religion; even to the heathen who have no bible, prophet or revelation He has implanted some truths. Confucius has almost the same truth as Christ has in his golden rule. All the great religions of the world have had some fundamental truths which the gospel possesses, but they have none of the sympathy which our gospel has. The materialistic religion of "God in nature" has no such sympathy and fellowship as ours. We feel conscious of guilt and the need of pardon, a heartfelt need of sympathy. Christ came and suffered for us. He bore all the trials and temptations which we are called to bear. He has not forgotten to know what it is to be poor, to be tempted, snubbed and sneered at, and the troubles of our lives are all familiar to him. He has the same nature now as he had while in this world, so he still sympathizes with us. Christ has learned by experience that he was permitted to be the captain of our salvation through suffering. By this experience he was fitted to be our Saviour in this world, and our judge in the other world. It is a great consolation to know that in all our trials and sorrows that Christ can sympathize with us. We are apt to think that we can look after the small things of life ourselves, and only go to God with the greater; but could we reverse it, it would be better for us, for when anything great arises we arouse ourselves and rise above it, even boldly face danger and death with fortitude; but the little, trifling vexations of life are what we need help in, for if the little daily things of life are taken care of, God will help us more easily in the greater. It is not the great man or reformer that has the most influence, but the quietness of a pure and holy life. The Christian who in a revival shouts the loudest has not the influence of the humble Christian who steadily moves forward in duty at all times. Our joy and comfort is in Christ having the same care and sympathy now as when on earth, and it never will pass away. He knows just how to help us. We are apt to tell God how to do it, and say, "Oh, God! help me this and that way, and grant me this and that desire." How much better it would be to say, "Oh, God! thou knowest that which is best for me and have all power to accomplish it, so do that which is best, and thy will be done." The trouble is we try to direct God how to answer our prayers. We have our preconceived notions how he should answer our prayers. He does that which is best, and puts no burdens on our backs which we are unable to bear. All we have to do is to obey, and all will be right. No two Christians have the same experience, any more than you can find two faces alike. Each one has his own. Our Saviour has perfect sympathy with us, and in our daily trials and troubles he has infinite resources to meet our wants. He can attend to all our wants, as well as one. Let our trust be in him as our Saviour from sin and the trials of life.

Responsibilities of Heredity.

Son and heir (suddenly dissatisfied with his stature, his personal appearance and the quality of his intellect)—"Aw—what on earth evah could have induced you two people to mawry?"

Sir Wobert and Lady Mawiah—"The old old stohwy, my dear boy! We fell in love with one anothah—aw—aw."

Son and heir—Aw—well—you're both such awfully good old deaws that I forgive you. But you weally should have had bettah taste, you know, and each have fallen in love with a different kind of person altogethah, and given a fellah a chance! You see, it's all owin' to your joint interfeawance in my affaaws that I'm under five foot one, and can't say boh to a goose, and—a—justly pass for being the gweatest guy in the whole county—aw! Just look at me, confound it!"

They look at him, and then at each other—and haven't a word to say.—London Punch.

—Some one inquires: "Where have all the ladies belts gone?" Gone to waist, long ago."

—Wives are wanted in Leadville, and the duties are quite light. Nothing but to cook the dinner, wash the dishes and dress gunshot wounds.

—A bad little Milwaukee boy, having been expelled from school, returned in girl's clothes, and the imposture was not discovered for several months.

—Levenia Victoria Smith, a young lady residing on King street, has just completed a panel for a door. She took the panel out of the door and painted a long-legged crane standing upon it in three days. During the progress of the work the draft, coming through the hole where the panel should have been, caused her three sisters to catch the pneumonia. One is already dead, and the others hope to be. On putting the panel back Levenia discovered that it was painted on the wrong side. The picture is much admired by people who pass the house.—Carson City Appeal.

AUCTION.

FRANK HOLMES' FINE

Dwelling House, Stable & Land,

WILL BE SOLD AT

AUCTION, Without Reserve,

On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,

AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all new and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction

IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the 5th day of May next, at half past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equidistant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Stimson street containing 35,040 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. F. MATHES & CO., 43 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEWIS of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

THE TWO BRICK STORES,

Formerly leased and occupied by CHAS. ROBINSON & SON. These buildings have Basement Stores in the rear, where is a wharf privilege. The buildings can be fitted for trade or for manufacturing purposes. A liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage, if desired. The estate is owned by a resident in a distant city, and is sold on that account, and the opportunity to secure premises which can be made to pay so good investment upon the outlay is one not often seen. How to Kill Witchgrass.

If one has large fields of witchgrass to kill, the best crop to grow is Indian corn. The land should be ploughed but a few days before the last of May. As soon as the corn is up it should be hoed, without ploughing, with a very sharp hand hoe, or a sharp wheel hoe, cutting the tops of the grass off about an inch below the surface, being careful not to dig any of the ends above ground; hoeing in the same way should be continued once a week until the first of July, being careful at each hoeing to pick all of the grass out of the hills. By the first of July the vigor of the grass will begin to wane, and the next hoeing may be delayed until the last of the month, at which time it makes but little growth, and if the top be cut off an inch below the surface at this time it is pretty sure death to the root; before it can send a shoot to the surface the weather is so hot it becomes decomposed. To make a sure thing of it, it is best to go over the ground again in about a week and cut off whatever spires may have been overlooked, or by chance may have sprouted. If care is taken to keep all of the roots under ground for a week or ten days during the last of July and the first of August, the work of destruction will be complete; and the next spring when the ground is ploughed, if the roots were very thick, it will have the appearance of peat, but will decompose more readily. As we have rid many pieces of land of witchgrass in this way, we assert what we have proved to be true by practical tests. —N. E. Farmer.

A Lucky Minstrel.

Cal. Wagner, "Happy Cal," of minstrel fame, has a romance in his life's history, and a sad one. In the little village where he was born lived a beautiful girl, the daughter of poor but honest parents." Cal loved her, and when fortune smiled upon him he sent her to be educated, and lavished on her such trinkets as girls love and wealth can buy. They were engaged; but the tempter came in the guise of a young New Yorker, who told her tales of his fabulous wealth, and poured into her inexperienced ear the sweet nothings which a society fop commits to memory as a parrot learns to talk. It turned her head; she forgot the loyal lover who had bought her a place in the world with the price of unremitting toil and trial, and, ungrateful wretch that she was, she penned a short note to him, and eloped with the New Yorker, only to find that he was a one-horse clerk in a dry goods store—moneyless and brainless. The minstrel man bore the shock with astonishing fortitude, but his jokes lost their zest and his jollity became artificial.

—The pin is mightier than the sward. You can sit on the sward with impunity.

—"See here, John, is your sweetheart a factory girl?" "Yes, William, satisfactory."

Nature's Sluice-way.

The kidneys are nature's sluice-way to wash out the debris of our constantly changing bodies. If they do not work properly the trouble is felt everywhere. Then be wise and as soon as you see signs of disorder get a package of Kidney-Wort and take it faithfully. It will clean the sluice-way of sand, gravel or slime and purify the whole system.

—A parlor carpet in Springfield, Mass., that was taken up last week for the first time in twenty-five years, was found only a little the worse for wear. It was put down in 1854 by a bride whose husband was then seventy years old, she herself having seen over half a century, and both parties are still living.

—The indestructible artificial flowers now imported retain form and color in spite of rain, snow, or heat. The first use of the material of which they are made was in the stems, which are so flexible, and their popularity gave rise to the flowers.

"OH HOW MY BACK ACHES!"—How often we hear it said. Well may the victim complain, for the kidneys are suffering; and when that is the case there is always danger—great danger. Kidney diseases, if let run, too often end fatally. There is, however, a sure cure for them. Hunt's Remedy is a medicine that does not fail to cure kidney, bladder, liver and urinary complaints. Even Bright's disease, the terror of physicians, is cured by Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Try it, and cure your backache before it terminates in something worse. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cents.

Just come into Connecticut and watch the turning lathes as they pare down the birdseye maple into shape; the self-counting and packing machine that puts up the wooden spice for foreign markets, and then you'll know all about "How nutmegs grow."—New Haven Register.

DELIGHTFULLY REFRESHING, SAFE, AND SURE.—No single contribution to the medicinal preparations deserving to be called such has met with so decided and substantial a welcome as Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the "delicious." It is one of those remedies that invite confidence at the start, and in every instance successfully retain it to the last. As a specific for summer or winter complaints, as an elegantly flavored stimulant and tonic for weak and debilitated systems, no single remedy heretofore compounded approaches it in simplicity and power. Sanford has many imitators, but no equals.

—A Philadelphia man, says the Chronicle-Herald, has taken out a patent for keeping the yard free from visiting cats. His plan is to fill them with nitro-glycerine by concealing it in their food, and the moment they attempt to scale the fence the explosion that takes place leaves nothing of the cat but a few hairs.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin Diseases, Eczema, Tetter, Ringworm, Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood fever-ish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also saw of eminent men, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became sore, lids inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, without a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two boxes of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect they have had in my case, in eight days being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper's Bros' Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body, Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 11, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. GRIGGS, Esq.—Dear Sir, I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, / JOSEPH WOODS, } Trustees.

Daily Chronicle.

A Newfoundland Story.

The New York Herald tells a wonderful story which outrivals some of the famous tales of "Barnacle Bill." It will be recollected that this year the Newfoundland whaling steamers missed the seals, but that the latter by hundreds of thousands set in upon the southern shore of the islands and were slaughtered in great numbers. On the 4th ult., whilst the people were on shore engaged in killing seals, the wind parted the ice from the shore, and fully two hundred and fifty people "were driven off like so many helpless waifs out into the broad Atlantic." Of course, boats and steamers went at fast as possible to pick up the sufferers, who became separated as the ice broke up. The "Leopard" picked up forty or fifty, and landed them at Cape Spear. One of the floes grounded at Logy bay, and others at other points, and those on them got off. The small boats brought off a few men whom they picked up; but hundreds of families are still mourning absent ones. However, by the evening of the 6th a great many had returned to their homes, and the absolute loss of life though not given would seem to be comparatively small, though the account says that "so far, and even with what reliable information has been received it is impossible to fix even approximately the number of the victims of one the greatest disasters of this kind that has ever occurred on the coast of Newfoundland." Several men were found frozen to death; and the Herald prints a graphic description of the sufferings of John Hogan, the sole survivor of a crew of five men, who escaped from the death which overtook his four companions. The catch of seals in the little harbors and bays on the eastern and southern coast was about one hundred thousand, and would realize $250,000. It is to be hoped that the story of the disaster, of which no telegraphic report was received, is largely exaggerated, if not a pure product of the fancy.

Some Experience with Potatoes.

There is scarcely any crop which shows so much variation in price from one year to another as the potato. We sometimes succeed very well in raising two or three good crops, and we think we have the trade well learned; then some variation in the season upsets all our calculations. We had no sooner got so that we could manage the potato bugs without much difficulty, when the warm wet weather brought on the rot. People have, we think, since the appearance of the bugs, planted potatoes on better land than formerly.

In regard to seed there is a difference of opinion as to the economy of planting large or small tubers. A farmer who formerly lived in this vicinity, on getting out his potatoes for planting, was asked by his hired man if he was going to plant those little things. "Yeth," he answered with his peculiar lisp, "they aint good for anything elth." He said that their being small was like the Irishman's horse that was blind—not their fault but their misfortune. They were the younger members of a large large family in straitened circumstances, and, like some others, might show a brilliant record.

Not willing to have all this lost on us, we concluded to plant some. A neighbor, a year previous, had manured an acre of land heavily and then planted to early potatoes, and at the proper time had set cabbage between the rows. Both crops did well, the ten bushels of marketable potatoes averaged one dollar per bushel and the cabbage sold in the market for $1.50. This was high farming, with which one could compete with the west. Easy to make the boys stick to the farm that raised such crops as this.

Being anxious to follow the example of one so successful, we plowed under a heavy coat of manure on a piece of ground that was already good. Then with a plow we made furrows four feet apart. In these drills a good quantity of tobacco stocks were spread, and uncut Dover potatoes, about the size of hen's eggs, were dropped and covered. After coming up they grew so luxuriantly that they soon covered the ground and left no room for cabbage. When dug they yielded at the rate of a trifle over 400 bushels per acre of almost without exception, so far as size was concerned, marketable potatoes. After being put in the cellar, so many of them turned black and decayed that they did not prove profitable except for feeding. We learned from this that it was possible to raise a large crop from small potatoes planted at a good distance apart.

From observation and experience in cultivating this crop, we have come to the following conclusions: That when early potatoes are wanted it is better to use large seed, cut so that there shall be two or three eyes on a piece; that the size of the seed makes less difference with late crops; that potatoes planted before they have sprouted and before the land has become warm throw up a less number of stalks than those planted later in the season; that planting in rows two and one-half feet apart, with the hills three feet apart, so arranged as to allow a horse to pass with a cultivator each way, is as near as is profitable; that it is a paying investment to put a tablespoonful of ashes and plaster in each hill when planted; that potatoes after a time run out, as it is called, and need to be replaced by new and for the time hardier varieties; and that it is safer to plant on moderately dry and rich ground.—New England Homestead.

Murder and Mob Law.

The German societies of Paterson, N. J., on Sunday morning last went up to the top of Garrett mountain to greet the rising sun, as is usual with them on the first Sunday in May. A party of young men, among them Joseph Van Houton, attempted to cross the lands of William Dalzell, a farmer owning property on the mountain top, and were forbidden to trespass. They persisted, and young Van Houton was shot dead by Dalzell, who discharged a gun heavily loaded with buckshot, point blank into his abdomen. The party then pursued Dalzell to his house, where the police were powerless to protect him. They fired the barn and house, and when he came forth, seized him, and were about to hang him to a tree, when more police arrived, and took him and his son from the crowd, and into the house of John Ferguson, and later into the house of one McGuckins, both which houses were assailed by the mob, and entirely wrecked. The murderer was finally, after nine hours, smuggled away from the mob in the carriage of a Catholic priest named McNulty, who had just addressed the crowd. Every police officer on the force was more or less injured with stones; Wm. Jones, a special officer, had his skull fractured. Mary Sharon had her nose broken and an eye put out by a blow from a stone, and other persons were more or less hurt. Dalzell was much injured. The Paterson light guard was under arms all day, and the whole 4th regiment was under arms at Jersey City. The mob numbered about 8,000.

A Sad Case.

A young woman was detected in the act of appropriating eleven pairs of gloves at the store of D. G. Alden, on Water street, Boston, Saturday morning, and was given into the custody of the police. At the station she gave the name of Mary Jane Moulton, of Milford, Mass., but it was found that her real name was Morgan. Two large bags were found on her person. Her husband was telegraphed to, and on his arrival he visited his wife in her cell, but she failed to recognize him, and a physician was called, who pronounced her insane. She was removed to the city hospital, where she became violent, and the physicians were of the opinion that she would not recover her reason. Mr. Morgan is a jeweller at Milford, and states that his wife went to Boston intending to go to Concord, N. H. They had been married twelve years, during which time she had proved one of the purest and best of women. For several years she had been identified with educational matters throughout the state, and for some time has taught a kindergarten school in Milford, among her pupils being her own boys. She moved in some of the best circles in Boston, and two years ago went to Europe with one of Dr. Tourjee's excursions. She could not have wanted the gloves, her husband said, for any purpose, as she had at least a dozen pairs at home, and, therefore, her act alone was due to a deranged mind, the result of an overtaxed brain.

News and Notes.

The delegates from Maine to Chicago will leave Portland by a special train, passing through this city, and from Boston proceed by Boston & Albany railroad on a special excursion train. Tickets with hotel coupons, from all points in Maine to Chicago and return, will be furnished to delegates on application.

The fishing schooner Lizzie Thompson of Newburyport, on Friday of last week took into New York one hundred barrels of fresh mackerel.

Two seamen, named Coleman and McGrath, arrived at Halifax last week from Sable island, after a terrible experience. They were two of the crew of fishing schooner Proctor Brothers, of Gloucester, Mass., and were setting their trawls off the coast of Newfoundland on the 17th ult., when a storm arose, and they were driven to sea. They were five days in the dory without food or water, and when nearly dead were drifted ashore at Sable island; on landing they were too weak to stand, and were carried on the shoulders of the islanders. In addition to his other sufferings, McGrath had his feet badly frozen. Both men were taken to the hospital at Halifax, on arrival.

Hon. William Wirt Warren died at his residence in Brighton, Mass., Sunday evening. He was a member of the forty-fourth congress.

Louisa Matthes, of Jersey City, was arrested early last week for causing the death, by criminal malpractice, of a Mrs. Bercheim, but was discharged for lack of evidence. On Thursday she attended an auction sale of Mrs. Bercheim's effects, and while standing on top of the storm-house over the front door it fell, and she struck upon a picket fence, one of the pickets penetrating her body and inflicting a fatal wound. Several other persons who also fell with the storm-house, were unhurt.

The nuptials of Florence Davenport, daughter of the late E. L. Davenport, and Harold C. Tiers, a broker of Philadelphia, were solemnized Saturday afternoon at Philadelphia in the Roman Catholic church of St. John the Evangelist. Among those present were Mrs. E. L. Davenport and three of her children. Miss Davenport was brought up in the Episcopal church, and professed Catholicism only two days ago.

Mr. Otis Mills, advertised to make a reply to Col. Robert G. Ingersoll's lecture on "What shall I do to be saved?" found an audience of less than seventy-five persons awaiting him at the Boston theatre last Sunday evening.

The notorious Sam Hayes, now in prison at Thomaston, Me., for the murder of Policeman Robbins of Rockland, was recently detected in an attempt to escape. He had a file, with which he had begun to cut the bars of his cell, and further search brought to light a large knife, a revolver and a club secreted in his bedding.

The members of the Massachusetts Press association who recently visited Washington and Richmond, returned to Boston from the former city on Saturday morning.

The total receipts at the Boston custom house during the month of April, in payment of customs dues, amounted to $2,273,357.21, which is a gain of $844,998.68 as compared with the corresponding month of last year.

A valuable horse and harness, worth $300, were stolen by a tramp Saturday night from D. Y. Todd of Rowley, Mass. The property was found at Newburyport and returned.

There are six cases of smallpox in the Fall River, Mass., hospital. The disease was spread among the French Canadians in the eastern section of the city by a family which lately came from Canada. The authorities are actively handling the cases.

John Howe of Perkins Landing, Vt., aged twenty-one years, who has been missing for ten days, is supposed to have drowned himself in the lake, as a hat belonging to him has been found on the shore. Disappointment in love is supposed to be the cause.

By the explosion of a fireworks manufactory near Paris, Saturday afternoon, twenty persons are reported killed or dangerously hurt.

Mrs. Nellie Stokes, nineteen years old and very beautiful, was fatally shot Saturday night by Edward Kennedy, because she refused to marry him—she having a husband now living. Kennedy then shot himself, but only inflicted a slight wound. He shot himself seriously once before, on the 16th of April, because Mrs. Stokes refused to listen to his proposals, and once before that made another abortive attempt at self-destruction. The murderer was jailed. He is a native of Maine.

New Hampshire Items.

A human skeleton was found on the branch railroad between Concord and Wolfeboro', near the latter place, buried a few feet under ground, by men who were digging to lay a siding on Monday. The skeleton was doubled up when found and must have belonged to a person nearly six feet high.

John Kneeland of Westport was run over by the cars near Keene, Saturday night, and instantly killed. He had evidently been drinking, and laid down on the track. He was twenty-five years old, and single.

Capt. Martin Beckwith, of Lempster, celebrated his 100th birthday on the 28th of April. There were no public exercises, but many people from Lempster and neighboring towns called and congratulated him. Capt. Beckwith lives in the same house into which his parents moved when he was three months old. It was the first centennial celebration ever held in the town.

Within a month seven members of the family of Olney P. Butler of Lyndeborough, have been prostrated by diphtheria. Four have died, and Mr. Butler, at last accounts, was not expected to live.

New Publications.

The Granite Monthly for April is a very interesting number of this "New Hampshire magazine, devoted to literature, history and state progress." The frontispiece is a portrait of Joseph E. Worcester, LL.D., accompanied by a sketch of his life and literary labors. "Mr. Webster abroad" is a transcript of part of a diary kept by Mrs. J. W. Paige, a sister-in-law of Daniel Webster, who accompanied him and his family on a trip through Europe. Other articles are "Legal rights of married women in New Hampshire," "Memorial and anecdotes of Gen. Stark," historical sketch of Newport, N. H., with illustrations, "Major Frank," and three poems, viz.: "The yellow leaf and sere," "Kancamagus' war-song," and "Charlotte Bront." J. N. McClintock, Concord, conductor; $1.50 a year, single number fifteen cents.

Brentano's Monthly for April is received, from Brentano's Literary Emporium, No. 39 Union square, New York city. This number fully maintains the reputation previously achieved by this publication, of being the best sporting magazine published in this country or any other. The frontispiece is a picture of James Gordon Bennett's famous yacht Henrietta, which won the ocean race from America to England in the winter of 1866; and the number contains the usual full and complete information regarding sporting events of all kinds in this country and Europe—always excepting the brutal prize-fight, which it entirely ignores. Single number, thirty-five cents; $4 per year.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

AROUND HOME.

The flooring of the Eastern railroad station is being relaid.

The annual meeting of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire will be held in the Elm street ward room in this city to-day.

At the republican caucus in ward four, held on Friday evening of last week, William H. Rollins and John O. Ayers were chosen delegates to the state convention.

Cushing's grove at Dover point, with land adjoining, in all about twenty-six acres, has been bought by the Catholic society of Dover and is to be made into a cemetery.

Mr. Robert Spiller, the business manager and treasurer of the Mary Anderson company, is at the Rochingham. Mr. Spiller's early arrival was to correct the mistake that had been made in the prices, which has been advisedly done to suit everybody.

At three o'clock this afternoon, on the premises, Messrs. Morse & Ilsley will sell by auction, without reserve, the fine dwelling, stable and land of Frank Holmes, at Greenland—a rare chance for some one to secure a beautiful country residence. See adv't.

Two seamen, named James Green and William Jackson, belonging to the schooner A. H. Waite, who had deserted their vessel, were captured in Greenland on Monday by Officer Abbott, and taken on board the schooner, when they concluded to turn to, and accordingly went to work.

At the adjourned parish meeting of the South Parish, held Monday afternoon, the appropriations were passed. The sum fixed for the pastor's salary was the same as that of last year; the sum appropriated for music indicated an intention to try congregational singing for the present year.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad will be held in the common council room on Wednesday, May 12th, to see what action shall be taken to raise the sum of $11,200 awarded to the Eastern railroad by the referees, and what action shall be taken toward reducing the capital stock to $769,000, in accordance with the decision of the referees.

Naval Constructor Frank L. Fernald, U. S. N., passed through this city on Monday, on his return from a visit to Eliot, Me. Constructor Fernald is at present stationed at Chester, Pa., as inspector of the iron-clads in course of construction by John Roach under contract for the United States navy—an important responsibility, which could hardly be intrusted to a more competent and suitable man.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Samuel Lamprey commences a dancing school for young ladies, masters and misses, in Mechanics' hall, to continue Wednesday and Saturday afternoons for a period of twelve lessons; terms, $5 for the course. Mr. Lamprey needs no commendation from us, as he is acknowledged to be the best teacher of dancing the city has had for many years, if indeed it ever had a better.

Mary Anderson and her entire company will arrive Wednesday morning by special train. The star and company occupy and travel in Miss Anderson's own Pullman car, the "Leavenworth."

Portsmouth Grange, P. of H., and Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T., of this city, have voted to exchange evenings; so this week and hereafter the Grange meets Thursday evening, and the Good Templars on Wednesday evening.

The Rockingham County Temperance Association will hold its fourth monthly meeting at the Methodist church in Candia on Thursday morning and afternoon, May 6th. Reduced fare on the railroad—two cents a mile. All persons interested in the cause are invited to attend.

William H. Canney, who killed his son in Farmington last week, was born in this city, and is sixty-three years old. He had lived in Farmington about a year, having previously carried on a small farm in Rochester. He claims to have acted in self defence, and says the deceased was ill-tempered and quarrelsome, and given to drink, and that he was drunk on cider at the time of the homicide. The neighbors of the family in Farmington say the elder Canney has had the reputation of being a quarrelsome and dangerous man, while the son was a peaceable man who was never before known to have any serious trouble with anybody.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The meeting of the several committees on Memorial day observances, Monday evening, was fully attended, nearly all being present. Remarks being made by several of the gentlemen present, and more enthusiasm was displayed than on any previous year.

The recommendation of the commander in chief of the G. A. R. that the ministry be invited to deliver appropriate discourses on the Sabbath proceeding Memorial day, was referred to the committee on invitations.

Arthur W. Walker was added to the finance committee.

It was voted that the committees meet on each Monday evening until Memorial day.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, May 3d; Batchelder, J.

William LeClair and John Crowley, for drunkenness, were each ordered to pay $9.90, fine and costs, and will work their assessment out at the county farm.

Two other young men, whose names we for this once refrain from publishing, received a similar sentence for the same offence, and paid up.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

On account of "May day" the Band of Hope service on Saturday afternoon was not so well attended as usual. One hundred and sixty names are now borne on the roll. On Tuesday, the 11th inst., the ladies will give the children a nice entertainment and lunch at the mission hall.

The gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, was in charge of Mrs. Smart. Remarks were made by several ladies and gentlemen, among the latter being Mr. David Howcroft of Dover. Miss Lizzie Ham gave a beautiful recitation, entitled "Six pleas for temperance."

On Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, the first anniversary of the Bow mission and bethel was held, in the hall, Mr. James Janvrin in the chair. Eloquent remarks were made by Mr. Stephen W. Clarke, theme "Drift wood;" Deacon John S. Rand, "Our seamen;" Mr. Chas. W. Gardner, "The children;" Mr. D. H. Montgomery, "Our young men;" Mrs. Hooper, "The gospel temperance work;" Mr. Janvrin, "Woman's place in our work." Mr. Joseph Kidder, of Manchester, also made some remarks, and the service was interesting throughout. Mr. John Hague presided at the organ.

In place of the regular reform club meeting, Sunday evening, Mr. Joseph Kidder delivered an excellent lecture in the Universalist church, which was kindly granted by the wardens for the purpose. Mr. Kidder is an able speaker on this subject, and we can hardly doubt that the benefit of the lecture and service will be seen and felt; the social drinking customs of society were especially deprecated as a great hindrance to the progress of the temperance cause; and the speaker urged the necessity of the union and hearty co-operation of all temperance people in the work of the cause, if any lasting good is to be accomplished.

Services were also held at the almshouse and the city jail on Sunday. L.

MARY ANDERSON.

On Wednesday night this great actress, whose appearance here last spring was signalized as one of the dramatic triumphs ever known in Portsmouth, will appear as "Evadne, or the statue," in Richard Lalor Shiels' great play of that name. This simple announcement alone should pack Music hall to its capacity.

"Evadne" is considered Miss Anderson's masterpiece, and for it she has had the palm accorded her by the leading journals of Boston, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, as being without a peer.

It is not necessary to speak of Miss Anderson at length; her fame has preceded her, and she is regarded by very many as the greatest exponent of the pure and wholesome dramas that tend to make the stage one of the best and most fitting teachers of the lessons of life. Miss Anderson is supported by Mr. Milnes Levick and a fine dramatic company.

A wise change has been made in the prices, placing reserved seats at seventy-five cents and one dollar; general admission, fifty cents.

Be on time, and consult the diagrams at Preston's.

MAGGIE MITCHELL.

Those who intend seeing Maggie Mitchell, in her aristic impersonation of "Little Barefoot," should lose no time in securing their seats at Preston's drug store, as tickets are going rapidly. Wherever Miss Mitchell has appeared this season packed houses have greeted her, and the inscription "Standing room only" has sent many away disappointed. To avoid the chance of such a disappointment we advise all who intend to go, to get their tickets at once. This favorite actress, with an excellent support, is an attraction not often offered to our amusement goers.

A VETERAN PREACHER.

Sixty-six years ago last Saturday, Moses How preached a sermon in Dracut, Mass., the first one in his life, but he was not ordained as clergyman until 1816. Sunday afternoon last, at the Dracut Centre church, he preached from the same text as on the first occasion, viz.: Malachi iv., 11. Notwithstanding his great age he preached an hour and a quarter with much freshness and vigor. He was born in Haverhill in August, 1789; was settled as pastor in Salem, Mass., twice, in this city twice, at New Bedford, and then as missionary to the Seamen's bethel in the latter place. Up to the end of 1876 he had preached 8,200 sermons, baptized 725 persons, attended 2,500 funerals, and officiated at 1,920 marriages. Since 1876, though not settled, he has preached 721 times.

A TRIBUTE.

A cloud of deep gloom and sorrow fell upon the hearts of all, when it was known that the angel of death had taken to her home the lovely spirit of the beloved Mrs. Young. She was not of earth, but of Heaven; her heart was full of gentleness and love. Her disinterested unselfishness, her devotion to those near and dear to her, her gentle attention and consideration for those who needed sympathy, her high moral and religious character won for her the love, respect and admiration of all who knew her. It is a rare privilege to meet with such a pure spirit, and feel that she was your friend. Although her voice is hushed, she still speaketh. We should not mourn; her spirit is at rest; she is a bright star in her heavenly home. But we will deeply sympathize with him whose devotion and care, in health or in sickness, in happiness or in sorrow, never wearied, never changed. S.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Rev. Mr. Bowdish, of Kittery, on Sunday afternoon last baptised five persons.

The new line of telegraph has reached as far east as Eliot with its poles. It seems to be in no haste to begin business.

Benjamin Spencer, aged sixty-five years, an inmate of the town farm of South Berwick, who had been missing for several days, was found dead on the 2d inst. in the woods, two miles from the farm. It is supposed he died in a-fit, as he was subject to them.

The Eastern railroad managers are putting in a long side track at Conway junction to facilitate the passage of White mountain trains. The company is also to have a large water tank built at this point, supplied from a well whence water for the engines upon the Portland division will be supplied, the tank being filled by a pump operated by a windmill; this will do away with the watering station at South Berwick.

Mr. Joseph Weare of Cape Neddick, for many years postmaster of that village, will start for Chicago in about three weeks to visit a son in that city, and will probably extend his trip to Nebraska, being absent five or six weeks. He will be accompanied to Chicago by a son-in-law who travels for the spool-cotton manufacturing company of Willimantic, Conn., and will remain in Chicago until after the holding of the republican national convention.

The state valuation commission of Maine has tabulated the statistics received from the town assessors, and the total valuation is made out to be about $228,000,000, a gain of $4,000,000 since the valuation of 1870. Only seven out of the sixteen counties in the state show an increase in valuation. Penobscot, Waldo, Washington and York counties show a diminished valuation, the latter having decreased about $900,000 since 1870. Of the cities, Portland has increased in valuation about $900,000, and Saco over $1,300,000; while Biddeford has decreased about $600,000. The number of polls in York county is now greater by nearly 1700 than in 1870. The shipping owned in York county amounts to 9525 tons, valued at $204,112; the live stock owned in the county is as follows: horses 4711, oxen 4598, cows 13,234, young cattle 9305, sheep 10,078, swine 4275. The total value of York county is set at $21,526,744.

Auction Sales.

AUCTION.

FRANK HOLMES' FINE

Dwelling House, Stable & Land,

WILL BE SOLD AT

AUCTION, Without Reserve,

On TUESDAY, May 4th, 1880,

AT 3 O'CLOCK, P. M.

On the Premises.

THE HOUSE is a frame two-story with ELL and STABLES, all now and in good order. House contains NINE ROOMS. There are two acres of good LAND with a good APPLE and PEAR ORCHARD—two WELLS and one LIVING SPRING on the premises, which are situated on the main road leading from Greenland Parade to Union Mills, and at the corner of Haines lane. The sale will be positive. A part of the purchase money can stand on a mortgage if desired. One hundred dollars will be required to be paid on the purchase to bind the sale. There are other two acres of LAND adjoining that can be purchased if wanted. This is one of the pleasantest places in Greenland, where taxes are low.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the 26th day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equi-distant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty each fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Stinson street containing 35,640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of SERGEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery, convenient to the railway station, churches, schools, public library, etc., is seldom to be found.

For further particulars enquire of N. E. MATHES & CO., 48 Market street, Portsmouth, or JOSIAH W. LEW S of Kittery. The house can be seen at any time upon application.

Stores on Bow Street, AT AUCTION.

WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION on the premises at No. 14 Bow street, on Saturday, May 8th, at 12 o'clock, noon,

THE TWO BRICK STORES,

Formerly leased and occupied by CHAS. ROBINSON & SON. These buildings have Basement Stores in the rear, where is a water privilege. The buildings can be fitted for tenants or for manufacturing purposes. A liberal portion of the purchase money can remain on mortgage, if desired. The estate is owned by a resident in a distant city, and is sold on that account, and the opportunity to secure premises which can be made to pay so good investment upon the outlay is one not often seen. That Boy's Hair.

A Michigan doctor has written a book upon the human hair, in which he presents these views: "Hairs do not, as a rule, penetrate the scalp perpendicularly but at an angle. When the angle of the different hairs is the same it is possible to give to it the easy sweeps and curves which we generally see it take, but if they are by some freak of nature misplaced, we have the rebellious 'frizzletops' that are not susceptible of the influence of the brush and comb. Many a poor mother has half worried her life out trying to train her Johnny's rebellious locks into better ways, believing it was Johnny's perverseness of manners that induced such dilapidated looking headgear, when it was really none of Johnny's fault at all, but simply a freak of nature in misplacing the radiating centres of his 'hirsute covering.' Sometimes fowls suffer from a contrariwise placing of the feathers—they run the wrong way. The author's father had a hen whose legfeathers ran up toward the body, those on the body and neck toward the head. This gave her a perpetual 'out-of-sorts' look, and she could never fly. The erection of the hair of animals during anger or of human beings in fright, is caused by a change in the skin and the angle at which the hair enters the head or body."

Treating the Wrong Disease.

Many times women call upon their family physicians, one with dyspepsia, another with palpitation, another with trouble of the breast, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent doctors, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all symptoms caused by some uterine disorder; and while they are thus only able perhaps to palliate for a time, they are ignorant of the cause, and encourage their practice until large bills are made, when the suffering patients are no better in the end, but probably worse for the delay, treatment, and other complications made, and which a proper medicine directed to the cause would have entirely removed, thereby instituting health and comfort instead of prolonged misery.

SHADE, ATHENS CO., OHIO.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Your Favorite Prescription is working almost like a miracle on me. I am better already than I have been for over two years. LORINDA E. ST. CLAIR.

YORKVILLE, TORONTO, ONT., March 18, 1879.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

Dear Sir—I write you about a most remarkable cure of a lady friend of mine, Mrs. Ruthorn. Since her marriage thirteen years ago, she has suffered greatly from uterine disease which caused sterility. She tried the most eminent physicians of this part of the country, who told her she would have to undergo an operation with the knife. Being afraid of this, she was induced by reading your Medical Adviser to take your Favorite Prescription and Pellets. She used three bottles, as a result she entirely recovered her health and is the happy mother of a healthy babe. Very truly yours,

MRS. JOHN MCELROY.

— The interesting old Flemish city of Bruges, which in the height of its prosperity had a population of 200,000 souls, has, since the sanguinary persecutions under Philip II., been gradually declining in wealth and numbers, so that at present it does not possess one-fourth the population it had three centuries ago. The population of the city, which in 1869 numbered 47,621, fell to 44,950 in 1877. The lethargy of the inhabitants is attributed to the numberless convents and the richly endowed benevolent institutions, which, by perpetually supplying the wants of large numbers of the inhabitants without any exertion on their part, have tended to deprive them of their energy and spirit of independence which are indispensable to success in commercial life.

Our Best Reward.

WINSTON, FORSYTHE CO., N. C., March 15, 1880.

To the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.:

GENTS—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtue of your Bitters.

Very respectfully,

REV. H. FERREE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 11, 1880.

Hop Bitters Co.: Please accept our grateful acknowledgment for the Hop Bitters you were so kind to donate and which were such a benefit to us.

Yours very gratefully,

Old Ladies of Home of the Friendless.

—The coming summer hat for women is to be of straw. It will be knocked in in front, jammed in on the back, shoved in on each side and kicked in on top. Then the rim will be jammed up all around to make the whole harmonious. It will be trimmed with strips of sheet tin, turkey wings, old fruit cans and debris generally. It is an economical kind of hat, as it can be made by taking a boy's old straw hat, running a wheelbarrow over it a few times and sitching on whatever comes handy.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION, Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. I. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. S. GAUNTT, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; E. R. KLINE, M. D.; J. R. HOLCOMB, M. D.; S. R. LYNCH, M. D., and M. R. O'CONNELL, M. D., faculty of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery; also the faculty of the American University of Philadelphia; also Hon. F. A. HINSELL, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The author may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. dm&th &eotnov80

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

SHAKERS'
SARSAPARILLA
A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of excessive weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary tumors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called "Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

Daily Chronicle.

A PAIR OF SLIPPERS.

She made a pretty picture sitting there in the sunset glory that was streaming in through the stained-glass window, filling the hall with its warm, rosy light. Little Edna Welden, with her slight, graceful form, small, queenly head, crowned with its smooth braids of chesnut hair, a soft fringe falling over the low, broad, white forehead, a dreamy look in the big, gray eyes, her dainty chin upheld in one rosy palm, sat there thinking how happy she was—how happy she had been since invited to the great house, that had been the home of the Stanleys from time immemorial, to help Mrs. Stanley and Hugh, her only son, from feeling lonely.

Handsome Hugh! tall, broad-shouldered young giant that he was, a very prince among men!—he it was who planned the walks and drives—taught shy Edna to ride the brown pony. So kind he was!—winning all hearts with his sunny, genial ways. Edna did not try to analyze her feelings in regard to Hugh; she only know that she was filled with a strange happiness, such as she had never felt before; never thinking how it would end, because each hour was so full. The pretty dimples came and went around the sweet mouth, whose scarlet lips were the only hint of color in the otherwise colorless face.

I think one reason Miss Varens disliked Edna was just because of those same dimples. At any rate, coming down the hall with slow, stately step, she felt she would give a great deal if, by some witchery, they could be transferred to her own glowing cheeks. She had noticed, with growing uneasiness, Hugh's evident liking for little Edna, and thought it time to interfere; not that she even dreamed of Hugh's falling in love with this little country girl; and I think if you had hinted at the bare possibility of Hugh Stanley marrying her, her look of scorn would have struck you as something very fine; for with Claudia Varens blood was supreme; and hadn't she and Hugh the same blue blood? Her proud mother always asserted that the Varens and the Stanleys ought to be united through these two, the last of each race; though Mrs. Stanley had never uttered so much as one word on this subject, but said quietly that Hugh would make his own choice. But Miss Varens had no idea of waiting much longer. It was time for action. They were both nearing the age of thirty, and—well, by the time Claudia had reached Edna's side, she had come to the conclusion that it was her duty to give her a hint of how matters stood.

She gave the quiet figure a quick tap on the shoulder.

It brought Edna to her feet with a start; but she sat down again when she saw who was near, and a faint color showed itself in her cheeks.

"I believe you were asleep, Miss Welden," said Claudia.

"Oh, no—not asleep, Miss Varens; but dreaming, wide awake."

"I have been looking for you, Mrs. Stanley thought—that is—in short I am" (Claudia was actually getting confused) "in search of some one to do some fancy work for me. You are quite skillful at that sort of thing, I believe, and I wish you to work a pair of slippers for me. They are intended as a present for Hugh," continued Miss Varens, more distinctly, "and I wish very much to have them done in time. Here," putting a banknote into Edna's hand, "you had better see about getting the materials right away—and perhaps I had better pay you for your trouble and be through with it."

She had given Edna no time to refuse, even if she had wished, and as she was skillful at embroidery she could do the work easily.

"I cannot take pay for doing a favor, Miss Varens, but I will do the work and have it done in time."

"Oh, well, as you will. I am in the habit of paying for services rendered me." The supercilious tone of Mrs. Stanley's rich guest made Edna's blood tingle, but she made no sign. "Hugh is peculiar," Miss Varens went on, in a dreamy way. "His mother used to fear for him; so she and mamma settled things for their own satisfaction. I think it would kill his mother if Hugh should make a mesalliance; but she has no need to fear him now!" she said, in a meaning tone. "Dear Hugh! I hope I am worthy, and I think I can make him happy."

Poor Edna! an iron hand seemed clutching her heart; the little hands clinched each other on her lap, and Claudia's keen eyes saw a grayish pallor steal over the oval face; but she had no pity—not she. If she had a mind to make a fool of herself, why she must bear her own folly—and she kept on in that musical voice.

"And you had not heard of it? Indeed! how strange! but then perhaps they thought best not to mention it."

"Excuse me, Miss Varens; I think I will go to the village this evening for the materials for the slippers." Edna's voice was quite steady now; she should never know—this proud, heartless woman—how this hurt her. "Please tell Mrs. Stanley I am going for a walk;" and Edna hastily left her seat in the window, leaving Miss Claudia quite elated at her success.

"Cool, upon my word! I did not know the minx was so proud! Well, I think she has got a lesson she won't forget. I am glad it is settled about the slippers. Hugh shall have them, of course. He will think I made them (men are such fools!) and he will be flattered, and propose. I only hope the ninny (meaning Edna) won't tell Mrs. Stanley what I have said."

They were very pretty indeed, the slippers Hugh Stanley held in his hand one

On the Right Tack at Last.

The "Williams bill," introduced in the United States senate on the 3d inst., to provide for an ocean mail service between the United States and certain foreign ports and for other purposes, authorizes the postmaster-general within six months after the passage of the bill, or sooner if practicable, to contract for carrying the mails from such ports on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts of the United States to such foreign ports as he may deem proper. The postmaster general is required to advertise within eighty days from the passage of the act in all the principal cities along the coast for proposals, etc., and shall contract with the lowest bidders for a term of ten years. The annual rate of compensation shall not exceed $20 per mile for the usual travelled distance one way. The vessels employed shall be iron screw steamships owned and built by Americans in American shipyards, of American material, and officered and manned by American crews. The bill provides for a rigid inspection of the mail service annually by a competent naval officer detailed for the purpose. Vessels employed under this bill, and all other iron steamships of American build and ownership engaged in foreign commerce, shall be entitled to draw their supplies necessary for the voyages out of bond and free of duty, and are relieved of all dues and taxation and port charges, except the tonnage tax now imposed by law. Ships and vessels of foreign powers shall be liable to the liabilities and restrictions in United States ports, as American vessels are subjected to in foreign ports. The bill also provides for paying a bounty of $25,000 during five years from the passage of the act to any American shipowner for each iron or steel screw steamship of over 3,000 tons tonnage, built and owned in the United States and fitted for freight, mail and passenger service.

News and Notes.

Martha Jones, a colored woman, and no doubt insane, set fire to her house, bolted the doors to prevent rescue, and with her five children was burned to death, at Christianburg, Va., on the 3d inst.

On Monday the mother of Alice Meeker, the little girl recently murdered at Waterbury, Vt., with George Germaine of Burlington, whom she married six weeks ago, went to Waterbury to get possession of an eight-years-old boy, Henry, brother of Alice. The Meekers seemed reluctant to give the boy up; and the poormaster of Charlotte, who let the two children (Henry and the murdered girl) to Horace Meeker last year, has written a letter ordering the boy not to be given to the mother. Mrs. Germaine has engaged counsel, and will bring the matter into court if the boy is not restored to her.

The excitement over the murder of Vanhouten by Dalzell at Paterson, N. J., Sunday, has subsided. Dalzell is safe in Newark jail. His son Robert, implicated in the murder, is in Paterson jail.

Samuel McDonald, a young man who has been in the county jail at Bangor, Me., awaiting sentence for highway robbery, escaped from the wash room Monday, by knocking a hole in the roof. There is no clue to his whereabouts yet.

A telegram from Panama says that the Chilian navy bombarded Callao, April 22d, causing heavy damage on shore, and nearly destroying the Peruvian corvette Union in the port.

On Saturday two men were found hanging to a tree near the line of Denton county, Texas, supposed to have been horse thieves.

D. B. Bosworth of Berlin, Vt., committed suicide on Monday, by hanging himself in his barn. He had made two unsuccessful attempts before, one about fourteen months ago, which caused him to be taken to the insane asylum, from whence he was lately discharged. He has been under surveillance, but eluded his watchers and committed the deed. When found life was extinct. Financial troubles were the cause of his insanity.

Bold operations by burglars are reported at Bridgewater, Mass. Nine houses were entered in the same night, all within a short distance of each other, and none knew until daylight that their domiciles had been entered. Entrance was effected in nearly every case by turning the key in the lock. No malicious mischief was committed. The whole party sat down to lunch in the kitchen of one house, helping themselves to pies and cake, and even put down a pan of milk for the cat. As usual after a robbery, the inhabitants are taking every precaution to guard against other night marauders. Burglar alarms and watch dogs are at a premium.

John Landrevil's son, five years of age, was drowned in Sugar river at Claremont on the 3d inst., by falling into the river while playing on the bank.

is the bane of nearly every American woman. From it usually arises those disorders that so surely undermine their health and strength. Every woman owes it to her family to use that celebrated medicine, Kidney-Wort. It is the sure remedy for constipation, and for all disorders of the kidneys and liver. Try it now.

—These days no one is safe from the charge of plagiarism. Brown went to church last Sunday—a thing unusual—and upon being asked his opinion of the clergyman, said, "Oh, his sermon was very good; but the prayer beginning with 'Our Father,' I think he stole entire. I know I have heard something that it was strangely like."

BEWARE. The proprietors of Sanford's Jamaica Ginger regret to be obliged to caution the public against imitations and worthless "extracts" and "essences," which are said to be as good as Sanford's. Care must be exercised in purchasing to avoid deception.

—Little four-year-old Gussie has a papa with a fine beard and mustache. The other day he had his mustache taken off, and when he came home in the evening she met him as usual, but as soon as she saw his altered looks she ran crying to her mother, and with real grief exclaimed: "Oh dear! what shall I do; I don't know my papa!"

A LIFE IN DANGER. This is the fact concerning every man, woman and child who has in the body the seeds of Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary diseases, from which may spring Bright's disease of the kidneys. Such a prospect is simply terrible; and it is the duty of every one to be rid of the danger at once. To do this, infallibly, use Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—Answer to correspondent: "No. The utensil you saw on the Pingry girl's head at church yesterday was not her mother's best saucepan. It was a gypsy hat. We believed with you in the saucepan theory, but have to-day been credibly informed to the contrary, and desire to share our enlightenment with you."

Fire by Wood Friction.

The savage process of producing fire by the friction of wood, so often described in books of travel, but seldom seen in this country, is performed by Farini's Zulus at the Westminster (Eng.) aquarium. Some straw being laid on the ground as a bed, two sticks were placed on it a few inches apart, to form a support for the third stick, which was laid across them, having a deep notch cut in to receive the blunt point of the drilling-stick; this was twirled like a chocolate muller between the palms of the hands, and when the twirler's hands reached the bottom they were either dexterously shifted to the top again, or another of the Africans squatting around took on and relieved the first. A spark was got in the charred dust in about five minutes, and was received with shouts and leaps of delight by the fire-makers, one of whom, carefully shielding it in a handful of the straw, soon fanned it into a flame.—Nature.

—Jay Gould is about forty-five, and in 1857 was a tanner in northern Pennsylvania. He went into the brokerage business in New York in 1870. He now, with his associates, controls 8000 miles of railway, and there is no knowing where he will stop. He is small of stature, swarthy of complexion, quiet, self-possessed, without display or conceit. He has four children, the eldest a young man of nineteen, and generally spends his evenings with his family in his fine house on the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-seventh street. Chemical Purity of Speer's Wine for the Sick.

An old chemist now deceased made the following report.

Laboratory of James R. Chilton & Co., New York, March 11th.

We have recently made a careful analysis of the Sambuci Wine prerared by Mr. Alfred Speer, and do not hesitate in pronouncing it pure; and for medicinal uses it is superior to other wines.

Its principal effects upon the system are mildly stimulating, diuretic, sudorific and tonic. It will prove beneficial in affection of the kidneys and Chronic Diseases, with general debility of the Constitution.

Physicians may safely recommend it to their patients, in the place of the many doubtful mixtures too often sold as pure wine.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

The Circuit Court of the United States will begin its May term in this city on Saturday, the 8th inst., before Hon. John Lowell, judge of the first circuit. The grand jury will be organized on Saturday; the petit jury will report on Tuesday morning. Equity case Hayden vs. Great Falls Manufacturing Co., upon a patent, will be argued upon demurrer on Saturday.

EDWARD P. NOWELL.

Mr. Edward P. Nowell, formerly of this city, died in Defiance, Ohio, on Thursday, the 29th ult. He was at the time of his death travelling correspondent of the Chicago Commercial Advertiser, and had been connected with that paper for several years. In earlier years he was the editor of the American Odd Fellow, a magazine published in New York city. He was a writer of considerable prominence and had the respect and confidence of his associates, and will be sadly missed by all who knew him. He leaves a wife, a daughter of H. C. Barnes, Esq., of Portland, Me., and four children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. His age was forty-three years. His remains were brought to this city on Tuesday and interred in Harmony Grove cemetery.

MANCHESTER DELIGHTED.

The Manchester Daily Union of Tuesday last, speaking of Mary Anderson's performance of "Evadne" in that city Monday night, says:

Miss Anderson's appearance in Shiel's drama, "Evadne," last evening, was the theatrical event of the season and called out a large audience. The following is the cast:

Evadne.....Miss Mary Anderson
Collonna.....Mr. Milnes Levick
Ludovico.....Mr. Samuel K. Chester
Vicentio.....Mr. Atkins Lawrence
King.....Mr. John G. McDonald
Spalatro.....Mr. J. Walter Collier
Page.....Miss Laura Clancy
Olivia.....Miss Lizzie Creese

The play is one affording Miss Anderson fine scope for her dramatic talent and calling for an unusual exhibition of emotional acting. It is, perhaps, in many respects, the play in which the lady is seen at her best, and last evening she allowed no opportunity for a display of her genius to escape.

It is almost needless to consider at this time Miss Anderson as an actress. Her fame is so wide-spread and her genius has met with such universal recognition that any attempt at criticism would seem puerile. One who has not witnessed her performance of "Evadne" for over a year notes a great improvement in her method, and, if such a thing be possible, a greater naturalness in the assumption. It is upon this naturalness that Miss Anderson's success greatly depends. She is not the representation of any "school" or any "style;" she endeavors to "hold the mirror up to nature;" she follows no long-traveled dramatic highway,

"But dies an eagle flight, bold, and forth on, Leaving no track behind."

Miss Anderson pleased her audience last evening to the highest degree, and her rendition of the character of "Evadne" was marked throughout by careful study and a thorough appreciation of the requirements of the part.

There was scarcely a line she uttered that did not display to the audience her remarkable power of portraying passion, and she interpreted with rare skill the various shades of human feeling, for which the part affords such grand opportunities.

The passage between "Evadne" and "Vicentio" in the second act was finely given. In the last act, Miss Anderson was admirable, and her lines in defiance to the king held her audience spell-bound until at the close she was greeted with loud applause. The support afforded the star was exceptionally good. As "Collonna," the brother of "Evadne," Mr. Levick was fine, and he gave a grand impersonation of the man of honor. In his passages with "Evadne" he was particularly good, and was loudly applauded for his fine acting.

Mr. Lawrence as "Vicentio" was very fine, appearing at his best in the second act. Mr. Chester gave a finished performance of "Ludovico." He deserves praise, for his impersonation of the hypocritical and crafty courtier. The remainder of the cast was excellently sustained, even to the least important members. The performance as a whole was a remarkably fine one; the company is one of the best ever seen in our city.

Miss Anderson appears at Music hall to-night in "Evadne." No one should fail to see her. Prices 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.00. Seats at Preston's.

IN MEMORIAM.

Resolutions adopted April 30th by Newichewannock Tribe, No. 4, Improved Order of Red men:

Whereas, The messenger of death has for the second time invaded our ranks, and we have been called to mourn the sudden departure of our esteemed and worthy Brother Wm. M. Royce; therefore,

Resolved, That while in this sad dispensation we humbly recognize the hand of "Him who doeth all things well," we do unanimously express our sincere regard for the deceased as a friend and a brother and our admiration for his purity of character and upright life.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish his memory, and strive so to imitate the example he has left us that the principles of our order shall be exemplified in our lives, and beget a spirit of mutual trust and faithfulness that shall make our order a benefit and an aid beyond the common relations of life.

Resolved, That we tenderly sympathize with the widow and relatives of our deceased brother in their sad bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the bereaved widow and that they also be printed in the Portsmouth and Manchester papers, and also recorded upon the records of our Tribe.

ROCKINGHAM S. S. ASS'N.

The fifth annual session of the Rockingham County Sunday School association will be held in the first Congregational church at Exeter on Wednesday, May 19th. The order of exercises will be as follows:

Forenoon—At 1:30 o'clock, devotional exercises; brief essays on "The prominent difficulties—how met?" by Rev. J. A. Lowell, of Danville, and Geo. D. Dodge of Hampton Falls, followed by discussion; business meeting—appointment of committees; report of secretary; sermon by Rev. Wm. A. McGinley of this city; essays on "Teachers who do not teach," by Rev. T. B. Haines of North Hampton, and B. R. Jewell of South Hampton, followed by discussion; adjournment for dinner.

Afternoon—At 1:30 o'clock, prayer and praise service; business meeting,—reports of committees and election of officers; essay by Rev. Charles Packard of Windham, on "Home influence and training essential to the best results of Sabbath school instruction," followed by discussion; children's service—singing and recitations by the children of Exeter, followed by an address by Rev. C. B. Pitblado of this city; essays, "The Christlife the true aim of all Sabbath school instruction," by Rev. James Thurston of Epping and Rev. C. T. Melvin of Atkinson, followed by discussion; closing services.

The design of the convention is to promote the interests of Sunday school work in the county, and it is hoped that every school will be represented by the superintendent, two delegates as business representatives, and the pastor of the church; and all members of Sunday schools are invited. The people of Exeter will hospitably entertain all who attend the convention.

EASTERN RAILROAD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire was held in the ward room on Elm street, on Tuesday morning. Hon. Moody Currier of Manchester, president of the corporation, presided. The directors elected for the ensuing year were:

Moody Currier of Manchester, Dexter Richards of Newport, N. H., Francis Thompson of Boston, Edward L. Giddings of Boston, Edward A. Abbott of Boston, William H. Goodwin of Boston, and Frank A. Philbrick of Rye, N. H.

The treasurer reported that the corporation was free from all debt, and that there was a balance of $2188.31 to the credit of the profit and loss account.

At a meeting of the directors, held after the adjournment of the stockholders' meeting, Hon. Moody Currier was elected president, and William H. Hackett clerk.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Lamprey's juvenile dancing school commences this afternoon, in Mechanics' hall. See advertisement.

Maggie Mitchell at Music hall to-morrow evening, as "Little Barefoot." The tickets are largely taken, and if you wish a choice seat you had best secure it today at Preston's.

Col. Sise engine company, No. 2, has voted to parade on Memorial day. Kearsarge company, No. 3, and Moses H. Goodrich company, No. 4, have voted not to accept the committee's invitation to take part in the memorial exercises.

The Shoe Factory Co. have temporarily hired the second story of Mr. Greenleaf's carriage manufactory on State street, and will put a force of cutters in there, pending the building of the new factory, the bricks for which have arrived. The company have more orders than they can fill in their present limited quarters, their goods finding a ready sale.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Post, in a letter on the political preferences of the two great parties in New Hampshire as to the presidential candidates, works in the following puff for Ex-Congressman Jones: "As to the gubernatorial nomination, there is one man whose nomination it is believed would lead to a triumphant victory at the polls. I refer to Hon. Frank Jones, than whom there is no more popular man in New Hampshire. There are no influences at work to bring about his nomination, but if he will consent to allow the use of his name he will be the next democratic candidate for governor of New Hampshire, and subsequently elected."

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The farm house of Thomas Perkins, at Biddeford, was burned Sunday night at about ten o'clock. Loss $700.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, Talpey master, from Windsor, Nova Scotia, for Alexandria, Va., was reported off Cape Neddick harbor on the 3d inst.

The "Rice place" in Kittery, for some years past occupied by Serg't Jackson Durling, U. S. M. C., will be sold at auction to-day. Also, at same time and place, a large amount of valuable personal property. See advt.

Mr. Choate Burnham, the gentlemanly proprietor of the Burnham farm at Gerrish's island, Kittery, has been elected a delegate to the Chicago convention from the South Boston, Mass., district. Mr. Burnham was elected as an Edmunds delegate, but we opine that after a complimentary vote to that gentleman, he will be found very friendly to Senator Blaine.

Auction Sales.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction
IN KITTERY.

THE PREMISES known as the RICE PLACE, formerly occupied by JACKSON DURLING, Sergeant of U. S. Marine corps will be sold on the premises on WEDNESDAY, the 5th day of May next, at half-past twelve o'clock, P. M., sharp—subject to previous disposal at private sale.

The estate consists of land fronting on the road leading from Portsmouth Bridge to the Navy Yard village, and about equi-distant from the railroad station and the Navy Yard bridge; and it extends back upon the road leading to the site of the old Rice mansion. The present house is in fine order. It was built by the late JOHN RICE for his own occupancy, and contains fourteen large rooms, with painted walls, heated by furnace register in every room, bath-room and water closet, with hot water heated from the range. The house is situated upon the highest land in this part of Kittery, affording one of the finest views of the river to be had upon either bank of the Piscataqua. The outbuildings consist of large woodshed, store house and large barn, with cellar. The garden, which is extensive, has about forty excellent fruit trees in bearing order.

Adjoining is a lot of land 85 by 85 feet or thereabouts, fronting on the Ferry road, called the "Stephen Spinney" lot, and is to be sold separate from the above.

At the same time, will be sold either in lots or in one body, the land upon the other side of Stimson street containing 35,640 square feet.

After sale of the real estate will be sold sundry articles of personal property, consisting in part of a family horse, carriages, wagon, sleigh, express wagon, pung, stable furniture, pair double harnesses, single harness, robes, etc., with sundry articles of household furniture, fire-proof safe, plated coffee urn, and a variety of other articles.

The above sale is made by reason of Sergt. GEANT DURLING'S removal to another State. The opportunity to purchase a well-built house in one of the best situations in Kittery is excellent to the railway station, church, public library, etc., is seldom to be had.

WILLIAM O. CHAPMAN, Auctioneer.

Conclusion from first page.

morning, a week afterward; yes, lovely, he thought—a dark gray ground on which lay a tiny bunch of great, velvety pansies, looking so natural as if they had fallen there from a careless hand; but Hugh's face wore a perplexed look as he glanced from the slippers to a card he held in his other hand which bore the words: "Wear these for the worker's sake." At length a light broke over his face, and he gave vent to a low whistle, and exclaimed, as he pressed his lips to the silken pansies, "I have it! I knew there was some mischief afloat. We we will see, Miss Claudia!"

When the family met in the luxurious breakfast room, Hugh thanked Claudia for her kind remembrance of him, adding: "I shall be happy to wear them for the worker's sake."

Turning to exchange the compliments of the season with Edna, he surprised a swift blush receding from her brow. Her eyes fell beneath his penetrating glance, while Claudia, murmuring something about being very happy, blushed and smiled very prettily as she thanked him for the bracelets he had given her, thinking the while that her plans were working nicely. Not a throb of compassion did she feel for the white face opposite.

Edna had changed in the past week; her eyes had dark circles under them—the sweet, scarlet mouth a pitiful droop at the corners. She was very proud, and had told herself in that bitter hour he should never know she had cared for him—never; so she had forced herself to be gay, to laugh when she felt like weeping. But she could not hide the pale face and heavy eyes—though to Mrs. Stanley's kindly questions she smiled quickly and said she was well, only "her head ached a little," but oh! her heart ached a great deal.

She had given Hugh no chance for a word with her had he wished, but had avoided him persistently. Claudia was always at his side with her ever-ready gayety, of which he was secretly tired. "Oh, Hugh, you will please turn this music for me!" or if he planned a walk or drive she always found her place by his side, while Edna was beside his mother. Perhaps he knew the cause of Edna's sudden coldness; at any rate he resolved to bear it no longer.

As they were leaving the breakfast-room, Mrs. Stanley said:

"Edna, do you feel able to attend the party to-night? if not, I will stay at home with you?"

"Not for the world, my dear Mrs. Stanley; I am perfectly well. I will go."

"Yes, she would go, if she had to dance among plowshares. And so that night, [illegible] had searched the rooms vainly, [illegible] last turned into the conservatory, lower end, in the [illegible] at oleander, where a [illegible] filled in liquid music and the [illegible] with the fragrance of many [illegible] found her, his pale Edna. [illegible] of snowy, soft muslin, a [illegible] chrysanthemums in the belt of [illegible] that bound her slender waist, [illegible] in her hair. Hugh stood beside [illegible] she had time to rise. She would [illegible] left him instantly, but he caught [illegible] hand and made her sit down by his [illegible]. His first words dried the tears in [illegible] eyes, and made her cheeks burn with indignation.

"Edna, little Edna, why will you persist in making us both so unhappy? My shy little girl, you known I love you, and I want you for my own, my wife."

She tried to wrench her hands away, but he held her tight, so she only looked at him with her great eyes full of a righteous anger.

"How dare you, Hugh Stanley, say such words to me?" she said. "I wish Miss Varens were here that she might hear you! Oh, I know your false heart, sir—you, the betrothed husband of another—"

"Edna, stop! you know not what you say. Who has been telling you this wicked lie? Miss Varens is nothing to me, less than nothing, for since her wretched untruth about the slippers (Edna gave a start) she is beneath my contempt. You believe me, my darling? Look up here with your truthful eyes, and say you love me. My poor girl, how you have suffered!" as the sweet face was upturned to his gaze for a moment, then hid, blushing and happy, on his shoulder.

"But how—I don't understand—how did you know about—about the slippers!" faltered Edna, who could hardly believe her happiness was real.

"I saw you working them. I had been away all day, and, returning late at night, and seeing a light in the music-room, peeped in and saw you; also what your work was. Mother overheard the whole conversation between yourself and Miss Varens when she asked you to work the slippers, but would only give me a hint of it, and bade me wait. I did wait as long as I could bear to see you so—"

"But, Hugh," interrupted Edna, "I tried to hide it; and indeed, sir, I have not said I love you yet."

"Then tell me so this minute, you little witch! Ah, my own, as if you could hide anything from me!" and he kissed the sweet lips again and again; then said: "Let me take you to my mother."

"Oh, Hugh, I cannot! I—"

"She knows, my darling; and is very glad."

And Claudia? I think you would have pitied her had you seen her a half hour later creep out from behind the fountain where she had seen and heard the whole, and realized that she had lost all—everything—though she told her mother, with tears of vexation in her black eyes, "if it hadn't been for those hateful slippers I might have been Mrs. Hugh Stanley!" and she believes it to this day.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and it there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, taken internally, and the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Medicines, we know to take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease, against which remedies seemed only irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, painful, and length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then referred to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA, RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a early cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated of a kind that ever came under their expert care and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper & Bros' Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and decay, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the preparation, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 10, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant a genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

He Went As Freight.

Shortly after the collapse of the confederacy, an ex-soldier, who had spent all his pay in rioting and whiskey-drinking, found himself in Shreveport, La., strapped and busted, yet full of expedients. Desirous of reaching his home he inquired the fare, and to his dismay found it to be $15. Now that amount was as a million to Billy's sight. After casting about he bethought himself of a scheme. The steamer National was nearly ready to leave her berth when Billy made his appearance on the wharf and sang out:

"I say, captain, how much do you charge to carry a barrel of whiskey to New Orleans?"

"Two dollars," replied the captain.

"All right," replied Billy. "Send out a couple of your deck-hands and roll me aboard."

Captain Hamilton saw the joke, and sent out the mud clerk to take the marks, weight, etc., of the freight. Billy was invited to a seat at the cabin table by the captain, and travelled to New Orleans in style as a "barrel of whiskey," by which name he was afterwards known.—Southern paper.

—Darke county, Ohio, has gone for John Sherman. Does this make him the "Dark horse?"

—A little girl, attending a party, was asked by her mother how she enjoyed herself. "Oh," said she, "I am full of happiness. I couldn't be any happier unless I could grow."

—A few weeks ago, Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It" was performed for the first time in the theatre at Wilna, Russia. The play gave great satisfaction and the delighted audience began uttering loud cries for the author. The manager, in great embarrassment—for he knew no more of Shakespeare than the audience—at last came to the front, prepared to trust to luck for his excuse. Finally, after much preliminary verbiage, he regretfully announced that Mr. Shakspeare, the author of the piece in question, had been dead for nearly twenty-five years. Expressions of regret arose from the crowd, who, however, were quite satisfied with the explanation, and the manager retired, to congratulate himself upon his successful historical romancing.

The Physical Paradox.

It has been said that "the blood is the source of life." It is as truly the source of disease and death. No life, that is to say, no healthy tissue can be generated from impure blood, no organ of the body can normally perform its functions when supplied with impure blood. The fluid that should carry life and health to every part, carries only weakness and disease. Blood is the source of life, only when it is pure. If it has become diseased, it must be cleansed by proper medication, else every pulsation of the human heart sends a wave of disease through the system. To cleanse the blood of all impurities, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, the most effectual alterative, tonic, and cathartic remedies yet discovered. They are especially efficient in scrofulous diseases.

—Alden, of the New York Times, says that the man who wishes to break off the habit of smoking should postpone the lighting of his first cigar five minutes each day. In this way the hour for beginning to smoke will be gradually put off until after he has gone to bed and got to sleep.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—At an uptown theatre, the other evening, a man at the back of the audience muttered between acts that there was a large fire down town. Immediately ninety men hastily said to their ladies, "I will go out and see whether it is in the direction of our office." They all returned at the beginning of the next act, and reported, "No, it is in a different direction." One indiscreet young lady was heard to remark, "It must have been a fire in a clove factory."—New York Herald.

To the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.:

GENTS—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtue of your Bitters.

Very respectfully,
REV. H. FEREBEE.

THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1880.

New Hampshire Democratic Convention.

The democratic state convention of New Hampshire met in Concord on the 5th inst. John M. Shirley of Andover was chosen president, with a long list of vice presidents, among whom was Daniel Marcy of this city, who was also on the committee on resolutions.

The delegates at large chosen to the democratic convention were Harry Bingham, of Littleton, John H. George of Concord, Frank Jones of Portsmouth, and Martin V. B. Edgerly of Manchester. Alternates, Joseph Burroughs of Plymouth, John W. Morse of Bradford, John T. Cloutman of Farmington, and David H. Young of Manchester.

First district, George N. Porter of Exeter, Charles A. Busiell of Laconia; alternates, Lycoming Pitman of Conway, Stillson Hutchins of Laconia.

Second district, Alvah W. Sulloway of Franklin, T. B. Crowley of Nashua; alternates, Wm. S. Harrod of Concord, E. F. McQuesten of Nashua.

Third district, H. W. Parker of Claremont, Irving W. Drew of Lancaster; alternates, A. W. Rounsevel of Claremont, Thomas C. Gray of Whitefield.

Shocking Cruelty.

At Lawrence, Mass., on the 4th inst., a Mrs. Kennon, keeper of a boarding house, was arrested for horribly maltreating a girl named Etta Wood, twenty years old and belonging in Somerville, Mass. A woman passing the house on the 3d inst. was appealed to from a cellar window by the wretched girl, and notified the police, who next day entered the house, and in the cellar found the object of their search, cowering in the corner, cleaning pans. Her condition was horrible. She was clad in rags, and her folded sleeves exposed her arms covered with bruises, from which oozed streams of putrid matter, and from almost bottomless shoes her bruised and bleeding feet protruded. Behind the door the officers found a bed of filthy rags on which the girl said she slept. The girl was taken to the police station, where she was examined by the city physician, who found her body a mass of bruises and filth. Some benevolent ladies were summoned to the station, who removed her clothing, which comprised an apron, a dress of colored cotton and a skirt, all reeking with filth. The girl did not wear a single article of underclothing. She stated that she was obliged to rise from her filthy bed in the cellar at one o'clock in the morning, to go to work, and accuses Mrs. Kennon, who is a widow, of beating her with the meat-mallet and potato-masher. The discovery caused great excitement in Lawrence.

After Kalloch.

At a meeting of the board of supervisors of San Francisco, May 3d, the judiciary committee, who were instructed to take into consideration the utterances and addresses of Mayor Kalloch, and to report what, if any, incendiary language he has publicly used, and to report the proper action to be taken by the board, filed a long report, reviewing the history of the labor agitation and the part borne in it by Kalloch, finding that he encouraged the lawless and discontented element, advised them to parade the streets, and endeavored to keep them in such disposition and temperament as to commit an outbreak whenever it should suit his purposes; that he has impeached the honesty of the whole community, accused various branches of the city government of corruption and dereliction of duty, and, under the pretense of counselling the mob against violence, insidiously advised them to be in readiness for bloodshed and the overthrow of the authorities. They expressed the opinion that Kalloch is unscrupulous, unprincipled, and devoid of integrity and fidelity to public interests, and that the time has arrived for the people to express their condemnation of his acts. They recommended that prompt action be taken to vindicate the fair fame of the municipality by judicial inquiry into Kalloch's case. A motion to adopt the report was put by Mayor Kalloch, who announced that it was carried. The roll was called, resulting in an unanimous vote for its adoption. A resolution was then adopted authorizing the committee to cause judicial proceedings to be instituted against the mayor for his removal from office, and empowering them to employ counsel and prosecute the matter to a speedy termination. Throughout the readings of the report and resolution Kalloch appeared cool and unmoved.

News and Notes.

A woman named Sarah Estes, of Brewer, Me., was arraigned in Bangor on the 3d inst., on a charge of attempting to burn a house in that city, April 26th. The incendiary gained an entrance into the cellar by boring several holes in the outside door, so that the bolts could be drawn, but an alarm was sounded before the flames made much headway, and but little damage was done.

On Saturday, the 1st inst., the body of Miss Adeline F. Crosby, daughter of William L. Crosby, of Arrowsic, Me., was found in the Sasanoa river near Crosby's mills. She left home a few days previous to visit in another part of the town, and it is thought that in crossing a small stream she made a mis-step and fell into the water.

A serious accident occurred at the Pocasset Mill, at Fall River, Mass., just as it was shutting down Saturday afternoon. The crosshead of one of the large Corliss engines broke and the piston was driven with sufficient force to crack the cylinder head. The damage is probably not less than $1,500, besides the loss to be incurred by the suspension of half of the mill for at least two weeks in consequence.

The watering-carts of Portland, Me., are each drawn by four fine horses, and the facilities for filling the carts are of a novel and economic nature.

A desperate affray occurred in Wayne county, Ky., Thursday, April 29th. A man named Powell, who was a witness to the killing last fall of a man named Hutchinson by one Phillips, has been threatened by Phillips in order to keep him from testifying. Powell refused to leave the country, or to accept a bribe. Thursday night six or seven masked men attacked Powell's house and broke in the door with a rail, when Powell struck three down with an axe. Mrs. Powell was shot in the arm. The maskers retreated, but again returned, when Powell fired and killed the leader, who proved to be John W. Smith. The others ran off. Mrs. Powell pulled a handkerchief off the face of one of the men, and says it was Phillips. Powell obtained warrants for the arrest of the three men who were knocked down, and they are now in jail.

A dispatch from Denver, Col., says that Victoria's band of Apachos last week killed thirteen herders and drove off 100,000 sheep belonging to Felipe Chanz in New Mexico. A man named Wilson, and two miners, named Coomy and Chick, are also reported killed.

New Hampshire Items.

The Foster murder case closed at Keene on the 4th inst. with the argument of Attorney General Tappan, which occupied over five hours. The charge of Judge Bingham was brief, presenting simply the law as applicable to the case. The jury retired at five o'clock. At eight o'clock in the morning on the 5th the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. The jury all think Foster was murdered, but the evidence was not conclusive as to who committed the deed.

On motion of Mr. Rollins, the United States senate has passed a joint resolution authorizing the loan of tents, etc., to the state of New Hampshire, for a general muster to be held this fall.

Benjamin P. Cheney, Esq., of Boston, has paid into the treasury of Dartmouth college the sum of $50,000. Mr. Cheney is a native of New Hampshire.

Political.

The governor of Mississippi has selected Gully, the leader in the brutal massacre of the Chisolm family, as census commissioner for that state.

Judge Peters' decision in the county commissioner case at Portland, Me., of Prince against Skillings, finds the petitioner entitled to the office of commissioner, having been lawfully elected, and orders judgment entered in his behalf. The respondent appeals to the full bench. Prince was unquestionably elected by the people, but Skillings was "elected" by the pure and honest Garcelon and his astonishing council.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; revenue stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

A LIFE IN DANGER. This is the fact concerning every man, woman and child who has in the body the seeds of Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary diseases, from which may spring Bright's disease of the kidneys. Such a prospect is simply terrible; and it is the duty of every one to be rid of the danger at once. To do this, infallibly, use Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

President Hayes on the 4th inst. vetoed the "immediate deficiency bill," on the ground that an appropriation bill should not contain any legislation not relevant to the application or expenditure of the money thereby appropriated.

Mr. Andrew Sukeforth, a blacksmith on the Bisbee mine at Bisbihl, Me., four months ago had his shop blown to pieces by the explosion of powder. Fragments of iron were so imbedded in his flesh that the wounds did not heal, and after long suffering he died Sunday morning, the 2d inst.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. 4thu&f

AROUND HOME.

The Dover Democrat reports a "bicycleist" from this city perambulating the streets of Dover on the 3d inst.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley on Tuesday of this week sold at auction the fine place of Frank Holmes, in Greenland, the property being bid off for Boston purchasers, at $2625.

Miss Georgia Cayvan, who is well known here as a reader, has been engaged as a member of the Madison Square theatre company in New York for next season.

Mr. Editor: In the Times of April 29th it is said that a special police officer of this city arrested a man for being drunk, and on arriving at the station it would have been difficult to tell which to lock up had it not been for the officer's badge. If the Times would be so kind as to tell us who the officer was we would be much obliged, as there are other officers beside him. Let us know if the statement about him is true.

SPECIAL POLICE OFEICER.

The steamer Mystic was out on the river, on the 5th inst., "trying her new bow." It appears to be a success, as she tripped along much better than ever before, and some who saw the speed she attained hazarded the opinion that she will not take the back-wash from any of the boats on the Piscataqua. Whether she does so well as that or not, her speed is greatly increased and she looks finely.

The Dover Democrat says: "The biggest, most ignorant and contemptible ass in New Hampshire is the Concord correspondent of the Boston Post." The correspondent referred to is the one who says that Hon. Frank Jones is the most popular man in New Hampshire, and will be elected governor if nominated by the democrats,—but we do not think it was these statements that so stirred up our Dover contemporary's wrath.

"Evadne," as performed by Mary Anderson and her excellent supporting company at Music hall on Wednesday evening, was witnessed and greatly enjoyed by an audience much smaller than was deserved, and no doubt very considerably less in point of numbers than it would have been but for an unfortunate error as to the price of seats in the first announcement. As it was, the attendance was very good, and the play was received with marked favor, as indicated by the close attention and liberal applause bestowed.

A well known citizen of Portsmouth, while looking after the interests of the city—and incidentally after his own—near the old ferry way at the north end, a few days ago, stepped on a stone which turned over under his foot, and in endeavoring to save himself from a fall, fairly jumped overboard off the wharf, striking upon a half-barrel that was floating in the water; he was helped out by two men with considerable difficulty, the well known citizen's avoirdupois being something very decided. Gratitude from well known citizen.

The repairs upon the Greenland station of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad have commenced. The rooms used for tenement purposes will hereafter be devoted to depot uses. The unsavory and untidy stable has been removed from its former site next to the station building, and the shed has taken also a departure from its former spot of occupation. The roof of the depot will be raised. It is due to the patrons of the road in Greenland, and to those using this station, that it should be kept in a better manner than in times past, and it is to be hoped that after this renovation a new order of things will be seen.

Dr. Goodall is so well known professionally, and his skill is so widely in demand, that his friends will be glad to know of his decision to remove his office to his house, No. 36 Islington street. By this precaution he hopes to avoid the late frequent attacks of rheumatism, and to assure his patients of his services at all hours—on and after May 7th.

A delegation of the Knights of Pythias go from this city to Newmarket this evening, to exemplify the amplified third rank.

"LITTLE BAREFOOT."

This evening, at Music hall, "Little Barefoot" will be presented by Maggie Mitchell and an excellent supporting company. It would be useless to enter upon a eulogistic notice of Miss Mitchell's rare powers and finished acting, as all this is well known. But it is often the case that a "star" on a travelling engagement is very poorly supported; in this instance each character is ably sustained, thus insuring a perfect representation of the play. The sale of tickets for this evening has been large, but there are still good seats to be procured by calling at Preston's to-day. See adv't.

NEW RIVER STEAMBOAT.

Mr. Charles L. Duncan of Kittery has just completed, on Badger's island, a fine steam launch. Her dimensions are thirty-one feet extreme length over all, eight feet beam at water line, and three feet eight inches depth; and she will draw three feet six inches of water. Her keel, frame and planking are of the best of oak, the latter being one and one quarter inches in thickness; all fastenings are of galvanized iron. The boiler is three feet in diameter, and exclusive of ash-pan is four and one-half feet high; it is fitted with sixty tubes, two inches in diameter. The engine, which is of six horse-power, was designed and built by Mr. Duncan, with the assistance of his son, the efficient young engineer of the "James Sampson," who is a part owner of the new boat. The propeller is thirty-two inches in diameter and five feet pitch. It is expected that she will develope a speed of nine miles an hour. The launch will probably be launched next Tuesday.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Maine Second Adventist conference assembled at Biddeford on the 4th inst., the opening sermon being delivered by the president, Rev. S. K. Partridge. The session is to hold until Monday next.

The York Manufacturing Company of Saco are about to erect an immense cotton mill at Saco. Several buildings are now being taken down to prepare the way for the new mill, which, it is said, will be 600 feet in length, four or five stories in height, and built of brick and stone.

At the annual meeting of the Eliot & Kittery Mutual Fire Insurance company, held in Eliot on the 3d inst., the following-named gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing year: Warrington Paul, Joseph Langton, John Wentworth, Kittery; Joseph H. Moody, Josiah D. Bragdon, York; Timothy Dame, John D. Frost, Eliot. At a subsequent meeting of the directors, Alexander Junkins was chosen secretary, and Samuel Clark treasurer.

New Publications.

American Prose: With introductions and notes by the editor of "American poems." Boston; Houghton, Osgood & Co.; pp. 424. This is a collection prose writings of Nathaniel Hawthorne, Washington Irving, Longfellow, Whittier, Holmes, Lowell, Thoreau and Emerson, selected upon the principle which controlled the well-received "American poems" by the same editor. These are complete papers or stories taken with a view to render a fair showing of the several writers' characteristics. The object in thus reproducing in this form some of the higher forms of prose art as shown by our American authors, is mainly to cultivate a taste for the enduring elements of our literature. As a household book, as an incentive to the young persons to obtain the best in their reading and to delight the older readers by pleasant reminders, these selections will be of much value. The extracts, though familiar to every reader of the above-named writers, are fresh and entertaining. The work will serve to inculcate a refined taste, while it engages the attention of those perchance unfamiliar with some of the beautiful productions of these writers. It is an excellent companion for the traveller, as every page is replete with fascinating reading, pure, chaste and superior in style. The reproduction of those papers will be of no little service to those seeking profitable and enjoyable reading, and we unreservedly commend the volume to persons of all ages, more especially to those who have not before become intimately acquainted with these writers whose works adorn our American sphere of letters. For sale at the bookstores.

"Sister Dora: a biography by Margaret Lonsdale." This is a republication in this country by the Messrs. Roberts Brothers, of Boston, from the sixth English edition, of the life of Dorothy W. Pattison, an English lady, daughter of a rector in Yorkshire. Sister Dora was one of the heroines to whose memory the world cannot be sufficiently grateful. Her life was a constant labor of love expended in the care and nursing, in hospitals and elsewhere, of the sick and injured. Blessed with an unusually happy disposition, and a peculiar aptitude for her work, she shows by her record how much woman can accomplish as a ministering angel. To the idle or aimless young woman, if there are any such, the book commends itself. The story of the life of this devoted woman is told in a simple and unpretending manner, and yet is as fascinating as if not from real life. The book has been very largely read in England, and will doubtless be well appreciated in this country. As an illustration of the manner in which were exercised the rare gifts with which she was endowed, and of the results possible for one woman to achieve, it is a wonderful story; and it will be found to be among the most profitable and salutary reading in which the girl of the period may indulge. Cloth, $1.25.

An old chemist now deceased made the ollowing report.

Laboratory of James R. Chilton & Co., New York, March 11th.

We have recently made a careful analysis of the Sambucl Wine prerared by Mr. Alfred Speer, and do not hesitate in pronouncing it pure; and for medicinal uses it is superior to other wines.

Its principal effects upon the system are mildy stimulating, diuretic, sudorific and tonic. It will prove beneficial in affection of the kidneys and Chronic Diseases, with general debility of the Constitution.

JAMES R. CHILTON & Co., Analytical Chemists.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Don't be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Hair Restorer

IS PERFECTION.

A Noble Record: near Half a Century. Established 1832. Improved 1879.

The nature of the great improvement is in its wonderful life-properties to faded or failing hair, and MORE QUICKLY CHANGING GRAY OR WHITE HAIR to its natural youthful COLOR and BEAUTY.

IT IS NOT A DYE.

It requires only a few applications to restore gray hair to its youthful color and lustrous beauty, and induce luxuriant growth, and its occasional use is all that is needed to preserve it in its highest perfection and beauty. DANDRUFF is quickly and permanently removed.

Sold by all Druggists, $1.25 Per Bottle.

Fashionable Fancies.

Amber color is coming into fashion.

The fashionable bonnet is the small capote.

Ecru embroidered muslins are among the season's very stylish novelties.

The Russian blouse is very fashionable in Europe and has made its appearance here.

Handsome surtouts lined throughout with colored silk, are the leading fashionable novelty.

To have a finely painted fan and parasol is to be just now both æsthetic and fashionable.

Flowers in large clusters are taking the place of feathers for trimming both hats and bonnets.

Lace mantles are fichus or else Spanish shapes, with a point that may be thrown over the head.

The long waisted, tight fitting jacket, with deep basque, is a very favorite model for spring dresses.

White dresses are flounced to the waist with alternate flounces of Hamburg embroidery and plain material.

The much talked of Jersey bodice is now made to button, and is fitted with two darts, one on each side.

Fleur de the is a pretty cotton goods in pompadour figures, which is said to wash well, and is very effective when made up.

Scotch zephyr cloths, figured mummy cloths, and crape finished Yeddo goods, are the most fashionable of the imported so-called washing materials.

The indoor costume of Parisian ladies who indulge in such fashionable whims is of white flannel, with a jacket of plaid silk plush of every color of the rainbow.

Hats are more eccentric than ever, turned up in front or at the side, or even at the back, in which latter case they come down like a thatched roof over the brow.

A new collar and cuff of linen have been brought out, for wearing with tailor made dresses. The collar is straight and fastened at the back; the cuff is very shallow and intended to be tacked on the sleeve.

Canes, with scent bottles, are the latest French fancy for gentlemen. The knob of the stick represents the head of a Chinese or Japanese idol, and upon pressing a spring a sprinkling of perfumed liquid issues from this head.

Very odd-looking dressing jackets have appeared, made of the favorite pocket handkerchiefs; those in red with a gay Indian arabesque in yellow on them are very bright. The trimmings are coffee colored Languedoc lace, with bows of the handkerchiefs.

—When a Kentucky father tells a young man to keep away from his house or he will get hurt the young man believes in the warning as fully as if he had read it in the Bible.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Book & Job

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It purges out the poisons and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and cures the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, constitution and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. Briggs, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla extant in the market. My opinion is based mostly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of the medicines called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant or genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, } Trustees.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES. LAXATIVE & CATHARTIC FOR CONSTIPATION & BILIOUSNESS

THIS Fruit preparation is as pleasant to the taste as prunes prepared for the table, and embraces the best medicinal agents known for the relief and cure of Constipation, Piles, and such Bilious disorders as are felt by those who are costive. They cause efficient action of the bowels without the nausea or griping and admit of continued use without the necessary effects produced by cathartic pills, mineral waters, salts, senna, rhubarb and other drastic purgatives. The medication is entirely vegetable and healthful.

PRICE 50 Cts, PER JAR.

Recommended by leading Physicians who say "they should be always kept in the house."

All Druggists sell them.

Gazette Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4th.

For several weeks we have been going along in the supposition that both parties rested in the belief that the session would be a long one necessarily, and therefore they would make the best of it. But suddenly all seem to have waked up to the belief that the session may be cut off very shortly. The democrats seem to have been the first to make the discovery, and to have announced the fact. The republicans at a meeting last Saturday agreed not to offer any obstacles. In view of the conventions which will occupy the public attention all through June, both parties admit that unless the session is closed this month it will be impossible to get through before August, from the fact that very little could be done in the way of legislation after the convention season begins.

Of course each party, and each faction in each party, is advancing theories relative to the causes for this sudden disposition of members to go home. The republicans charge the democrats with fear that their leaders will commit political blunders if they stay here. The democrats charge the republicans with apprehensions of party discord touching political legislation. The Randall and Tilden men here are accused by other democrats of trying to avoid responsibility for the acts of southern members, such as unseating Kellogg, etc. The more radical democrats are accused of fearing defeat in their policy. The friends of Blaine are said by the friends of Grant to be fearful lest too much aggression on the part of the southern senators shall help the Grant-boom. The friends of Grant are said to be fearful that Blaine will gain too great popularity by further discussion in the senate. And so on through a long list. The result is that all these classes are supposed to be anxious to get away from Washington, in order to escape political breakers.

It will be pretty difficult to adjourn before June, when the national conventions begin, the public business is in such a backward condition. If all parties agree upon details, as they do upon the desired result, the end can be accomplished easily. We shall be able to judge by the work of the next few days whether this programme is really correct, and whether it is practicable. Of course very little besides the appropriation bills can be attended to during the coming month, if it is to be the last of the session, for they are unusually behind. KNOX.

—A lady living near Baltimore, who is very deaf, stopped a milkman as he was passing the house the other day, and asked him how much he charged for a quart of milk, and then put up her ear trumpet to catch the reply. The man drew a quart of milk and emptied it into the trumpet, and the result has been that he has to go three miles out of his way to keep out of sight of the lady's son, who sits on the front porch waiting for him to pass.

Habitive Costiveness

is the bane of nearly every American woman. From it usually arises those disorders that so surely undermine their health and strength. Every woman owes it to her family to use that celebrated medicine, Kidney-Wort. It is the sure remedy for constipation, and for all disorders of the kidneys and liver. Try it now.

—Vanderbilt has come to Europe "to have a good time." Poor fellow! What a dreadful thing it is to be so rich you can't have any fun at home.

—A clergyman in Massachusetts who exchanged pulpits with a brother clergyman last Sunday, was congratulated at the close of the service by a friend on the good attention given by his hearers. "Yes," was the reply, "there were only four asleep in the congregation."

From hundreds of reported cases where patients have increased in weight from five to forty pounds while using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, no doubts remain of its powerful action on the organs of nutrition.

—It is said that a coon can be caught by leaving whiskey in its vicinity, but the average hunter would rather drink the whiskey and take chances on the coon.

Write to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for names of ladies that have been restored to perfect health by the use of her Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for the most stubborn cases of female weakness.

—The expression as applied to actors and public speakers of "bringing down the house" originated with Sampson. He was the first on record.

FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1880.

Republican State Convention.

The republican state convention for the election of delegates to the national republican convention was held in Concord on the 6th inst., the attendance being very large. Hon. Aaron F. Stevens of Nashua was president of the convention, with one vice president from each county; the secretaries were A. W. Baker of Lebanon, C. C. Danforth of Concord, D. C. Gould of Manchester; sergeant-at-arms, John Underhill. H. B. Carter of Hampstead was chairman of the committee on resolutions, and Samuel A. Haley of Newmarket chairman of the committee on credentials.

Six hundred and three delegates were reported present. Col. H. A. Tuttle of Pittsfield, J. B. Straw of Manchester, C. H. Clough of Lebanon, E. G. Pierce, Jr., of Portsmouth, and M. R. Buxton of Nashua, were appointed a committee to collect the votes for delegates; and Messrs. Moore of Nashua, Seavey of Dover and Cheney of Lebanon were appointed a committee of three to assist the chair in counting votes. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes cast,	569
Necessary for a choice,	285
Scattering,	12
Phineas Adams had	165
Albert M. Shaw	170
Charles H. Sawyer	165
Charles J. Amidon	173
William E. Chandler	394
David H. Buffum	406
Ruel Durkee	389
Benjamin F. Prescott	405

and the four last named were declared elected.

On motion of Moses Humphrey of Concord, the following were selected by acclamation as alternates:

Benj. A. Kimball of Concord; John H. Broughton of Portsmouth; James A. Wood of Acworth; Augustus A. Woolson of Lisbon.

The delegates chosen are all for Blaine for president, but they were not "instructed" for anybody.

The first district convention met in Phenix hall; E. B. Philbrick of Rye presided, and George E. Lane of Exeter was secretary. A ballot for district delegates to the national convention resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes,	139
Necessary for a choice,	70
Oliver Wyatt had	8
Chas. H. Sawyer	39
James G. French	45
Joel Eastman	94
Chas. M. Murphy	91

and Messrs. Eastman and Murphy were declared elected.

Chas. B. Gafney of Rochester and Joel Eastman of Conway were chosen alternates.

The Rockingham county convention organized with S. A. Haley as chairman, and a committee was appointed to present a list of names as county members of the state central committee. The following were elected:

J. Horace Kent, Wm. E. Hadley, John H. Broughton, Portsmouth; Wm. B. Morrill, Geo. E. Lane, Exeter; Nathan B. Prescott, Derry; Samuel A. Morrison, Windham; Samuel A. Haley, Newmarket; Chas. F. Cate, Northwood; Benj. W. Hoyt, Epping; Wells C. Underhill, Auburn; Albert Little, Atkinson; E. A. J. Sawyer, Deerfield; Frank R. Drake, North Hampton; Warren Brown, Hampton Falls; Tilton French, East Kingston.

A Good Resolution.

The democrats of New Hampshire at their recent state convention managed to say nothing at all on matters of national interest, in four of the five resolutions which they adopted; but the remaining one is good enough to redeem the set from the imputation of being wishy-washy twaddle throughout. It is as follows:

We unite with our brethren throughout the land in asserting the sacred right of free election, the right of every citizen to cast his ballot uninfimidated by federal bayonets or any other instrumentality of force and fraud.

That is a good republican resolution, and hits hard at the wholesale system of murder and terrorism by which the strongly republican states of Mississippi, Louisiana and South Carolina were carried by the democrats, and at the tissue ballots, ballot-box stuffing and false counting by which the democrats in those states maintain their supremacy.

The Lawrence Cruelty Case.

Mrs. Jennie Kennon was before the police court at Lawrence, Mass., on the 5th inst., on two complaints charging her with abusing the weak-minded pauper girl, Etta Wood. Accused pleaded not guilty, and the examination lasted nine hours. The evidence of the girl and the physician who examined the injuries showed that the most revolting acts of cruelty had been perpetrated upon the girl. The court room was crowded, and the utmost feeling was manifested by the audience, who were frequently reprimanded by the court. Mrs. Kennon was held in $3,000 to answer both complaints at the next term of the superior court, and in default of bail she was taken to jail. For over an hour a large crowd was gathered around the police station, expecting the woman to be taken to jail by the usual route, but she was taken by the back streets and lodged in jail before the crowd was aware that she had been removed. They then gave vent to their feelings by jeers and outcries. Mrs. Kennon has one child, a boy eleven years old. Etta Wood, the victim, is being kindly cared for at the house of the city missionary of Lawrence.

News and Notes.

Boston had another disastrous fire on the 6th inst., the "Beebe block" on Winthrop square being partially burned. The building, a six-story one of granite, was damaged to the amount of forty or fifty thousand dollars; the stocks of the occupants were damaged $450,000 more, making a total loss of half a million. The total insurance on building and contents is $932,500.

A report from Portland, Oregon, says that about twenty fishing boats were capsized in a recent squall near Point Adams, Astoria, and twelve men were drowned.

Gen. Eckert, president of the American Union telegraph company, has received a dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., saying that an injunction prayed for by the Western Union telegraph company prohibiting the former from building telegraph lines on the railroads of that state has been denied, and that the contracts of the Western Union with the railroads for exclusive rights are void so far as the American Union company is concerned.

The dwelling of James Gage, of Enphemia township, near Chatham, Ont., was burned on the night of the 4th inst., and four of Mr. Gage's children, and a daughter of a neighbor named Wade, were burned to death.

Seven weeks ago Emma Escobal Choate, the fifteen-years-old daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Choate of Lynn, Mass., ran away with a variety company, at that time performing in that city. She was found in New York on the 4th inst. by the police, and finally agreed to return home with her mother.

Ex-Gov. Edward Clark, of Texas, died at his residence in Marshall, May 4th. He was elected lieutenant governor in 1860 on the Sam Houston ticket. When the secession convention assembled in 1861, Houston refused to take the oath required, or to recognize the confederate government; in consequence he was deposed, and Clark became governer. At the expiration of his term he entered the rebel army, and served as a colonel in the war.

The Boston & Maine railroad has voluntarily increased the pay of passenger-conductors, baggage-masters and brakemen to the same figures as before the cut-down of ten per cent in January, 1876. The increase dates from April 1st.

The king of Siam will not visit Europe nor this country at present, having abandoned his contemplated travels on account of ill health.

Schooner John Gerard, of Newburyport, has been sold to James Robinson, of Rockland, Me., where she will be engaged in the lime business, for $600. She was built at Essex in 1852, sailed from Gloucester for the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and in the great gale of that year was cast away with many others on Prince Edward island. With some five or six other wrecked vessels she was bought by her late owners, and all save one, which was lost with all on board, arrived safely at Newburyport. Some time during the war persons in Newburyport desiring to purchase the schooner, she was offered for $3,000, but the would-be buyers thinking $2,500 enough, the bargain fell through. That season she stocked $16,000 for her owners, and the next season cleared $14,000. She was probably the most profitable boat of her class ever owned in Newburyport, and has paid for herself over and over again.

A Humane Appeal.

This society has, for some years, been trying to break up a practice unheard of, so far as we are aware, in continental Europe; not practised in many parts of this country, cruel to the animals, and injurious to the meat, viz., "The bleeding of calves before they are killed." They are now bled in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont; somewhat, we fear, in Massachusetts, and sometimes they are bled several times before they are killed. They are then sent to Boston and other markets throughout the state. The veal brings a slightly higher price because of its unnatural whiteness, caused by the withdrawal of the blood while the poor creatures are still living. So long as butchers out of the state bleed, and buyers pay a higher price for such meat, many butchers here find it for their interest to deal in it, and urge this as a reason for doing so. The unwholesomeness of this meat is well established. There is no more reason why a calf should be bled than a lamb, or any other creature. This society has no control beyond Massachusetts, nor can it hope to detect, prove, and punish one case in a hundred occurring here. The only adequate remedy is the avoidance of this meat by buyers. And the society in behalf of these abused animals, which no humane person can see unmoved, most earnestly asks all who buy veal, to buy only that which they are well persuaded was not shot before killing, and so aid in abolishing this cruelty.

Queer "Religion."

Walnut Ridge, a wealthy Quaker settlement near Rushville, Indiana, has lately been greatly excited over a new religion which they call "white lightning" religion. The excitement became so great that the schools were dismissed, and people left their farms and places of business to participate in the meetings. The leaders pretended to have supernatural power, and held above ground the dead bodies of friends with attempts to revive them, until burial was compelled by the authorities. One of the leaders, named Pitts, married a woman imbued with the same faith, and their shameful treatment of a daughter of Pitts by his first wife so incensed his irreligious neighbors that they went to the house in a body, tarred and feathered Pitts, and then threatened to hang him if the religious frenzy was not checked.

—Never look a gift horse in the mouth, while the donor is present. After he is gone it is a duty. The proper study for a horseman is the horse.

—You don't find dime novels and fish-story papers in the rooms of Vermont boys. No, indeed! The tables are covered with hymn books and testaments and "The Pilgrim's Progress." They keep the other stuff hidden in the barn, where the old man won't find it.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

The Need of an Efficient Militia.

Of course the primary object to each state in sustaining its guard is the possession of a power by which its law may be enforced, social order maintained, and the safety and prosperity of the commonwealth assured against the sudden violence of popular factions. Mobs, riots, and insurrections have always, in every age and nation, at times defied government; and under a republican form, where the citizen enjoys the greatest liberty, they are the most frequent and dangerous. The terrible shock which the country received from the labor riots of 1877, which cost us doubtless over fifty millions of dollars by the complete paralysis of business in all departments of industry for the time they lasted, and the feeling of insecurity which followed, to say nothing of the millions actually destroyed, is too recent and too deeply impressed on our minds to require reference to historical incidents. At such a time the executive must have at his command a force capable of asserting and maintaining his authority instantly and unequivocally. The wisdom and statesmanship of New York in preparing for such a trial at her leisure were triumphantly approved by the result. Although the teeming slums of her metropolis were in ferment, and her great arteries of trade throbbing with excitement, she was able to take the insurrection by the throat, with no thought of crying to the President for help, and in three days, without the destruction of property, and with the loss of but a single life, to suppress an uprising which cost the people of Pennsylvania more than one hundred lives and five millions of property destroyed. For such an emergency the military force is essential; and that its action may be prompt and effectual, its organization should exist wherever the danger threatens, under the immediate command of the chief civil authority of the state. The city population of the country had already in 1870 increased to 20.9 per cent of the whole from the 3.9 per cent at which it stood in 1800.

In case of a foreign war, which almost always involves a nation suddenly, and generally unexpectedly, the national guard is now our only means of providing a temporary defense until an army can be enlisted, organized, and instructed. Our legislators seem to ignore the fact that railroads, steamships, telegraphs, and science have revolutionized modern warfare no less than they have manufactures, commerce, and civilization. There can be no more "thirty years' wars." The possibilities of rapid concentration, with the whole world for a base of supply, and the terribly destructive inventions of the last few years, have placed in the control of the nation which is best prepared to utilize them, which has officers and men trained, skilful, and disciplined, an almost invincible power, before which numbers and wealth and the ordinary elements of national strength may be swept away like chaff. There is no longer time now for gathering and organizing after the storm shall have burst upon our coasts: not even the Atlantic is broad enough to afford us opportunity to prepare successful resistance to a military power. If an efficient national guard was necessary in the time of Jefferson, or when the British ravaged our coasts, and thirty-four hundred of them destroyed our capital, it is a thousand times more so to-day, and the need grows more pressing each year.—Harper's Magazine.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

Fortify the System

And you are armed against disease. The finest tonic for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which renders digestion easy and complete, counteracts malaria, and keeps the bowels in healthy order, and so genial and beneficent are its effects, that the sick and the sickly invigorated and regulated by its use, feel as cheerfully buoyant from its effects.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy

THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

by causing free action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Billous pains and aches? Why Suffer Costiveness, Constipation? Why Suffer Piles and every disease of Kidneys? Why endure nervous or sick headaches? Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry vegetable compound and one package will make six quart bottles. Ask if you your Druggist. He will order it for you. Price, $1.00.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other external affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the application of hot water will then be the greatest, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is red and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poisons of Mercury have caused the taint in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with sale disease of the legs and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite cure was decided upon, for all of no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated and obstinate ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly endorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

E. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Burgess & Stout, Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scaly and Sore.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head, and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scaly and sores, and my suffering was great and severe.

I believe everything I ever heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for the use of a particle of salve has not shown me, and my skin is completely healthy. My case has been talked about a great deal among some of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DEXTER, MICH., Nov. 12, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without Griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to relieve Costiveness. REMOVE THE CAUSE of the Liver. For adults, two or three to a dose. Acts as a mild laxative or universal, when taken without medicine. For children half a prune taken at bedtime is a pleasant dose. The medication is entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

New Publications.

Odd or Even? is the name of Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney's last novel. Mrs. Whitney is to-day a welcome visitor, through her volumes, to many a fireside. As an eminent critic has remarked, Mrs. Whitney seems, of all writers, to best understand girls and portray their salient characteristics. In the writings of the authoress of the Gayworthys, there is seen so much of combined purity, tenderness, humor and noble thoughts, and withal so much of continued interest, not of the sensational and unhealthful type, but abounding in moral integrity, and with correct manner of portrayal, that a simple announcement of a new work is followed by a demand for the first edition almost as soon as it can be sent forth to the trade. The present volume is of five hundred and five pages. It is published by Houghton, Osgood & Co., of Boston, and for sale by all booksellers.

The British Quarterly Review for April, just published by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., No. 41 Barclay street, New York, treats of a great variety of subjects. Henry Larkin gives a theory regarding the origin of the earth and moon; conceiving the possibility of the earth having been thrown off the sun, he suggests that the moon may have been, in like manner, projected from the earth, and supposing that this theory were scientifically established, he is prepared to point out the spot whence it might have been upheaved. Alex. H. Japp gives an account of Winckelmann's life and works, his struggles with poverty, and his tragic death. Modern architecture is severely handled in an endeavor "to inform our readers of the nature and profession of an architect." A long article on English prisons is followed by a description of political parties in Russia, and of the nature and meaning of nihilism. There is also "examination of the nature and power of circumstantial evidence, and of the principles upon which its cogency depends," and a review of the political history of England for the past six years, besides the usual notices of new books.

The 23d number of the standard series published by I. K. Funk & Co., of New York, consists of a biographical sketch of Rowland Hill, the celebrated English clergyman fifty-seven years ago. The introduction is by W. C. H. Spurgeon. There are added anecdotes, pulpit sayings, sermons and addresses, forming a readable account of this eminent divine, and the whole is sold for the reasonable price of fifteen cents. Of class D, No. 13 contains eight chapters of "Knight's popular history of England." This is given without abridgement. It is to be completed in eight volumes, the second of which is just issued. The price of these volumes is thirty cents each. These publications are printed with good type upon clean paper, and from the low prices—at which the publishers are able to offered the books solely by reason of immense sales — are within reach of all desiring to enjoy the reading of standard literature at a cost which is within the means of nearly every person. The paper used by this firm since it began these publications ten weeks since, would measure eight hundred miles in length by three feet in width. We are glad that what has been known as "cheap literature" is by these publications in a fair way to be in a great measure supplanted by economical reading matter of the most valuable kind.

She Screamed.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons, when giving a reading at Louisville the other evening, went off the stage during an interval, and staid away so long that the audience began to wonder. A scream behind the scenes increased their wonderment, which was not abated until the lady reappeared and continued her recital. The scream proceeded from a hysterical young lady cousin of Mrs. Siddons, who is travelling with her, and who, upon being told that her cousin could not see her, said she would scream if they didn't let her into the dressing-room. So scream she did, and in she went.

—"He flies higher than he can roost," is the latest addition to the vocabulary of slang.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tjed —The reason that the average frontiersman is so anxious for a wife is that he realizes the necessity of having some one to put him to bed when he is drunk; and he is generally drunk.

Portsmouth Chronicle

SATURDAY, MAY 8, 1880.

The Democracy in Council.

Everything was particularly smooth in the preliminary proceedings of the democratic convention, save that the Pearson faction of course objected to Col. George being chosen a delegate. Young Mr. Pearson was ready to go to Cincinnati, but the democracy were not ready to send him. They belong to George and are not Pearson's, and would not go for the young aspirant. The young man then proffered his willingness to withdraw if Col. George would also withdraw. This magnanimous offer had to be declined, as George was far off towards the Occident, and no one had the authority thus to dispose of him.

In the convention on Wednesday some of the Nashua and Portsmouth delegates went against M. V. B. Edgerly of Manchester, and voted for Frank McKean, but Col. Edgerly was chosen. The Manchester men have set this down against the Portsmouth Bourbons, and Mr. Jones will have to make it all right before fall.

The Republican Convention.

Ex-Senator Patterson made an eloquent speech before the republican state convention. We think no man in the state could have done the thing better than the orator from Dartmouth. O. C. Moore's speech immediately following contained less of the ornate, but was full of sound reasoning, and concisely stated facts. The speeches aroused a degree of enthusiasm in the convention that argurs well for the result in November. It was the largest state convention ever held in the state, and such a fine-appearing body of men is seldom assembled in this or any other part of the country. Gen. Stevens presided very acceptably, and his speech was listened to with marked attention and heartily appreciated by the large audience both on the floor and in the gallery.

The Republican Resolutions.

Whereas, The republicans of New Hampshire, in state convention assembled, desire once more to attest their devotion to the cardinal principles of the party, and to place them upon record, that the whole world may see the very foundation of their belief and action, therefore

Resolved, That we are in favor—

I. Of a currency based upon gold, upon which the prosperity of the country, individually and collectively, largely depends.

II. Of one free and untrammelled ballot for every legal voter, north and south—free from intimidation or control of every sort—as was contemplated by the founders of our government.

III. Equal rights for every citizen, everywhere, and the securing of those rights, if absolutely necessary, by the strong arm of the general government, in accordance with the letter and the spirit of the constitutional amendments.

IV. Of such conduct of the civil service as shall result in giving to the country a thoroughly honest and efficient administration of every department of the government.

Resolved, That we arraign the democratic party for its recreancy to the principles of free government, amply attested by its adherence to the doctrine of state supremacy; its connivance at the nullification of the laws for the protection of the rights of the freedmen in the south; its attempt to count out, by fraud and force, the fairly and legally elected legislature of Maine; and its subserviency to the southern oligarchy now endeavoring to secure by legislative methods what it failed to achieve by a resort to arms in 1861—64.

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the present attitude of the administration upon all the great principles of the republican party, and most especially and emphatically of its conduct of the national finances, by that great financier, Hon. John Sherman of Ohio.

Resolved, That we congratulate Ulysses S. Grant, the most renowned and illustrious citizen of the republic, on his safe return from the tour of the world, and we fervently wish that the afternoon of his remarkable life may be made serene by exemption from strife, and happy in the respect and affection of a grateful country whose unity he did so much to preserve, and whose great destiny he did more than any of his compatriots to advance.

Resolved, That we are in favor of sending an uninstructed delegation to Chicago, it is our earnest belief that the man for the times, above all others, embodying every element of a triumphant candidate and a successful administration, is the Hon. James G. Blaine of Maine.

Resolved, That any unit rule which seeks to compel a delegate to vote for a candidate not his choice or the choice of his constituents is tyrannous and unrepublican, and we request our delegates to Chicago to so vote on all questions as to leave every delegate free to follow an unfettered and honest judgment.

Resolved, That our delegates to the Chicago convention are requested to call the attention of that body to the propriety of a change in the existing basis of delegate representation in future national republican conventions, to the end that hereafter the number of delegates from the different states may be determined by the actual republican vote cast therein at the last preceding state or national election.

Resolved, That the republicans of New Hampshire pledge themselves to give the nominee at Chicago their hearty and enthusiastic support, and a rousing majority at the polls next November.

News and Notes.

Thursday morning last, while Keeper McKelvey of the reformatory at Elmira, N. Y., is company with a first-grade prisoner, was attempting to punish an insubordinate convict named Edward Symonds, a New York burglar, the latter turned upon him with a long case knife, and struck him a sudden blow in the pit of the stomach. McKelvey reeled from the cell, and fell dead in the corridor. The murderer without resistance handed the bloody knife to the assistant keeper, and was locked up in the dark cell. The murdered man leaves a wife and three children. He was formerly from Detroit, and an old officer in the Michigan state prison.

Robert J. Burdette, the Burlington Hawkeye man, with his family, will summer at Rockland, Me.

Sarah Estes of Brewer, Me., charged with attempting to burn the house of Oscar S. Howard in Bangor, Me., has been committed in default of $3,000 bonds.

While Edward M. Norton and Mrs. Eliza Gaylord of Goshen, Conn., were crossing a bridge in the town of Torrington, Conn., the bridge suddenly gave way, letting the parties down into the stream, ten feet below. Mrs. Gaylord was very severely injured by one of the horses falling on her, breaking her leg and otherwise injuring her. Mr. Norton escaped severe injury.

A fire, caused by the explosion of oil works in Pennsylvania, on the 6th inst., destroyed an immense amount of property. Besides the machinery, etc., at many mills, an entire village of three hundred houses was swept away. The losses amount to over $300,000. Several lives were lost.

Political.

An anti-third-term convention of republicans was held at St. Louis on the 6th inst., and was numerously attended. A committee of one hundred was appointed to act for this faction in case Grant is nominated at Chicago.

The Delaware republican convention on the 6th inst. chose a solid Blaine delegation to Chicago.

The Wisconsin republican convention sent an uninstructed delegation to Chicago; the delegates are said to be nine for Washburn, seven for Blaine, three for Sherman and one for Grant.

Mississippi sends six Grant, six Sherman and four Blaine delegates to Chicago.

Maryland's delegation to the Chicago convention is solid for Blaine.

New Hampshire Items.

On the afternoon of May 6th Mrs. Calvin Beck of Hopkinton was found dead, sitting on the floor before the stove with her clothing nearly burned off. No one being in the house at the time of the burning it is not known just how she died, but it is believed that she died suddenly from some cause while attending to the fire, her clothing burning afterward. Her husband and brother-in-law were away at work at the time of the casualty.

Richard T. Booth has closed a two weeks' series of gospel temperance meetings at Newport. More than one thousand persons have signed the pledge.

The Physical Paradox.

It has been said that "the blood is the source of life." It is as truly the source of disease and death. No life, that is to say, no healthy tissue can be generated from impure blood, no organ of the body can normally perform its functions when supplied with impure blood. The fluid that should carry life and health to every part, carries only weakness and disease. Blood is the source of life, only when it is pure. If it has become diseased, it must be cleansed by proper medication, else every pulsation of the human heart sends a wave of disease through the system. To cleanse the blood of all impurities, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, the most effectual alterative, tonic, and cathartic remedies yet discovered. They are especially efficient in scrofulous diseases.

—Mr. Bronson Howard telegraphs the information that "The Danites" has been produced with marked success at the Sadler's Wells theatre, London. Mr. McKee Rankin and his company were received with enthusiasm.

A LIFE IN DANGER. This is the fact concerning every man, woman and child who has in the body the seeds of Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary diseases, from which may spring Bright's disease of the kidneys. Such a prospect is simply terrible; and it is the duty of every one to be rid of the danger at once. To do this, infallibly, use Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—The bobolink is said to be "drunken with song," when he wabbles on the limbs.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. 4

Naval Gazette.

The United States steamer Enterprise arrived at Hampton Roads on the 7th inst., from the European station, (last from Madeira, April 8th,) all well.

Norfolk, Va., advices of May 5th say "the repairs on the Tallapoosa were completed yesterday, and she was taken out of the dry dock. She will sail for Washington to-morrow. The Alliance has been supplied with the necessary outfit, and will sail from here on the 10th inst. for surveying work on the banks of Newfoundland. The Portsmouth will be placed in the dry dock to-day."

Commander R. S. McCook is detached from navigation duty at the New York navy yard and ordered to duty as assistant to the inspector of the fourteenth light-house district; Lieutenant Isaac Hazlitt from the hydrographic office, and granted six months' leave; Master Thomas S. Plunkett from the hydrographic office, and ordered to duty on board the Michigan, at Erie; Ensign John M. Bowyer from the Michigan, and placed on waiting orders; Passed Assistant Engineer Daniel P. McCartney from the Washington navy yard, and ordered to duty with the Dispatch.

AROUND HOME.

The first section of the coal pocket on the Concord railroad wharf was raised on Friday last.

Mr. Martin Garrity, agent for the sale in this city of Gahm's celebrated Milwaukee lager, now bottles it for family use, and will furnish it by the case or in quantities as desired.

On Monday forenoon, Mrs. John Rider, Pleasant street, made a misstep at her residence, and falling, broke her hip. A few days previous, Mrs. Grace Chase of Davenport, Iowa, formerly of this city, and a sister of Mrs. Rider, met with a similar accident at her home.—Journal, May 8th.

Mr. Warren Keen is putting new window lasts beds into the fishing schooner Mary E. Caswell, owned and sailed by Capt. Levi Downs; and she is also receiving a coat of paint. The little schooner has done very well since she commenced fishing last December, the vessel's share amounting to $400.

On Thursday last, at the brokers' board in Boston, 100 shares of Eastern railroad stock sold at $30 per share, and 175 shares at $29.50 each. On Friday, at the first call of the board, ten shares went at $30 and three shares at $29 each; at the second call, 350 shares changed hands at $28 per share.

Henry F. Wendell, Esq., auctioneer, will sell at twelve o'clock to-day the Jaffrey brick block on Bow street, for many years occupied as the corn and flour store of Messrs. Chas. Robinson & Son. The estate is owned by a lady in a distant city, and is to be sold without reserve. It would make a good tenement house, or could be fitted for other rental purposes, and with a moderate outlay for repairs would doubtless prove a remunerative investment.

The Exeter News-Letter of the 7th inst. says: "On Tuesday the schooner Horatio Nichols, which has for some time been ashore near Grant's point, was raised, and swung with the bow towards Portsmouth. The experiment of raising her with barrels failed, owing to the difficulty of securing a sufficient number, and a steam pump was procured from Boston, with which the water was pumped out rapidly enough to enable the schooner to be moved. It is impossible to tell at present how much injury has been sustained until after she has been put in the dry dock in Portsmouth."

On Friday evening of next week, at Music hall, the new play of "Mother and daughter" will be presented by a company specially organized by Mr. John Stetson for its performance. The cast includes Miss Marie Prescott, Miss Marie Wainwright, and Messrs. Louis James, L. J. Mestayer and Walter Lenox, all of whom are well and favorably known as performers of more than ordinary ability, with others whom we are assured are as good as those we have specified. Mr. Stetson's name is sufficient to guarantee a good entertainment, and he will personally superintend the production here of the new piece, which is to be brought out at the Globe theatre in Boston shortly.

The United States marshal for the district of New Hampshire has barely funds enough with which to pay the expense of bringing together the grand jurors of the circuit court, which commences its May term in this city to-day, and there will be but little with which to pay the petit jury. The law requires the jurors to be taken from different parts of the district from time to time, so that impartial trials can be had, and that the citizens of no part of the state shall be unduly burthened with jury service. Some of the jurors are to come from the western part of the state, and of course their travelling fees amount to quite a sum. The failure of congress to appropriate sufficient funds for this purpose, causes the business of the courts, as far as jury trials are concerned, to come to a standstill in nearly every state, to the great loss and inconvenience of suitors.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Mr. C. M. Cignoux, chairman and treasurer of finance committee on celebration of Memorial day, desires us to state that subscriptions may be handed to the following named gentlemen; Andrew P. Preston, Charles A. Sinclair, Henry H. Ham, Jr., William H. Smith, John H. Locke, James A. Waterhouse, Willard Young and C. M. Cignoux.

The special committee consisting of Col. Wm. H. Sise and Mr. Wm. E. Hodgdon on the part of the citizens, and Messrs. George E. Hodgdon, Robert E. Rich and Oliver M. Knight on the part of Storer Encampment, G. A. R., appointed to choose a chief marshal for Memorial day, have made a very judicious selection, having made choice of Dr. James R. May, who accepts the position.

HAVERLY'S COLORED MINSTRELS.

Haverly's Genuine Colored Minstrels will give an entertainment at Music hall, Monday evening. The Boston Globe says of this company and the entertainment they give: "The programme far exceeded even what the fame of the manager would lead one to expect. The end-men, ten in all, were almost numerous enough to form an entire minstrel troupe of the ordinary old-fashioned pattern, and the specialties were original, captivating, marvelous, and surpassingly ludicrous. Each feature of the programme merits especial mention, but the praise would be so uniform as to become tiresome. Of such an entertainment, the critic must content himself with saying that there was nothing to condemn and everything to approve."

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The trial of case Wm. P. Fogg and Mary A. C. Fogg, appellants, vs. Wm. P. Moulton, executor of J. G. Gould, involving the validity of a will of Mr. Gould's, occupied the court on Thursday. Marston and Eastman for plffs.; Wiggin for the executor.

The jurors not engaged in this case were discharged from further attendance, Thursday.

Fogg and al. vs. Moulton occupied the court all of Friday. This is the last jury case to be tried this term; equity business comes up in order on Monday. The evidence will be closed this week, and the case argued Monday.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

The United States circuit court comes in this morning.

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.

On Thursday evening last, while "Little Barefoot" was being performed at Music hall by Maggie Mitchell and her dramatic company, the attention of a portion of the audience was about equally divided between the performers on the stage and the performance of two well dressed young men who had seats near the extreme front of the right wing in the parquette. These young men were evidently from the country, and intent on astonishing the city people, which they did. At the end of each act the young men organized a procession for the door, presumably to see a man; and after awhile it was evident to the spectators that they not only saw him each time they went out, but also smelt his breath, and that his breath smelled of something considerably stronger than cold tea. The procession at last became so demoralized that one-half of it started for the door again in the middle of an act, but though the course steered was erratic in the extreme the door was safely passed; the other half for a few minutes hung over the back of a seat after the fashion of a wet shirt hanging on a fence, and then essayed to follow the zigzag course of the leading section, but a sudden sidewiscklurch of the building hopelessly entangled the rear of the procession in two rows of chairs, and there it stuck until extricated by a couple of benevolent gentlemen in blue coats and brass buttons. This was the result of young men from the abstemious state of Maine fancying they were able get away with the beverages of New Hampshire.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Children's temperance meeting at Bow mission hall this afternoon at three o'clock. Service in charge of Mrs. Hooper, president of Woman's League.

Rev. T. G. Wilder will preach at the Pearl street church.

The subject of Rev. Mr. McGinley's lecture Sunday evening will be "Our neighbor."

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The schooner Margie, Hoyt master, is being cleaned and painted at Frisbee's wharf, Kittery.

Mr. J. M. Robbins, contractor for the building of the railroad at Old Orchard beach, has a crew of twenty-five men at work grading, and will have fifty men at work very soon. He will commence to lay rails next week.

The "Charles C. Sawyer house" at Saco, owned by Joel Bean, was burned last Thursday night about twelve o'clock, with a large portion of its contents; cause, a defective chimney. Loss about $3500; insured $2800.

A Burlesquer in Trouble.

Miss Rachel Mullaly, known some years ago in this country under the stage name of Lisa Weber, and connected with various burlesque companies, has been having a hard time of it in England recently, all through an unlucky dragoon saddle that got mixed up with the baggage of her company. She was charged with stealing it, locked up over night, photographed, "measured," and subjected to various other indignities before the matter was explained. She brought suit against the owners of the railroad on which she was travelling when the mistake which caused all this trouble occurred, but her lacerated feelings were ultimately soothed by the payment of £25, and the apologies of the railway magnates.

PURITY OF FAMILY MEDICINES.

Among the many specifics introduced to the public for the cure of dyspepsia, indigestion, derangements of various kinds, and a general weakness of the human system, within a few years, decoctions of vegetable bitters have held a considerable place. Some of these have for a time had a considerable sale, but with doubtfully good effects and much injury. Such should never be taken into the human body. Often bitters have been made highly popular for a time by being largely charged with whisky and other spirits, thus ministering to a depraved appetite. In this way the medicinal purpose for which they were avowedly offered to the public has been missed, and sale to which they attained before their true character was thoroughly known has completely fallen away. The writer in his visit to Rochester has had the pleasure of meeting with "Hop Bitters," an entirely different compound from those alluded to. It is five years since their merits were brought before the public, and they have steadily increased in favor until they are, without question, the most popular and valuable medicine known. The exceeding intrinsic value of their leading components is in no way destroyed or lessened by the deleterious quality of any other ingredient. They contain, along with the purest hops, buchu, mandrake and dandelion, other medicines recognized as possessing the most effective curative properties. They are specially beneficial to clergymen, lawyers, literary men and all those subjected to the strain of mental labor. They cure almost every disease of the stomach, liver, kidneys and urinary organs. For nervousness and all its attendant ailments they are a never-failing remedy, giving tone to all the organs where formerly there was feebleness and an all-prevailing feeling of weakness. They have attained to an immense sale, which is the surest proof of their successfully meeting the wants of the people. We have seen letters from old established chemists testifying to this, and others from private individuals, stating that after they had had the services of the most distinguished medical men without any benefit, they had experienced perfect relief from their complaints by the use of these invaluable bitters. They discharge their curative powers without any of the evil effects of other bitters.—N. Y. Mercantile Review.

A Voice from the Press.

I take this opportunity to bear testimony to the efficacy of your "Hop Bitters." Expecting to find them nauseous and bitter and composed of bad whisky, we were agreeably surprised at their mild taste just like a cup of tea. A Mrs. Cresswell and a Mrs. Connor, friends, have likewise tried, and pronounce them the best medicine they have ever taken for building up strength and toning up the system. I was troubled with costiveness, headache and want of appetite. The two former ailments are gone, and the latter greatly improved. I have a yearly contract with a doctor to look after the health of myself and family, but I need him not now.

BAY CITY, Mich., Feb. 3, 1880.
HOP BITTERS COMPANY:

I think it my duty to send you a recommend for the benefit of any person wishing to know whether Hop Bitters are good or not. I know they are good for general debility and indigestion; strengthen the nervous system and make new life. I recommend my patients to use them. DR. A. PRATT,
Treater of Chronic Diseases.

MILTON, Del., Feb. 10, 1880.

Being induced by a neighbor to try Hop Bitters, I am well pleased with it as a tonic medicine, it having so much improved my feelings, and benefitted my system, which was very much out of tone, causing great feebleness.

MRS. JAMES BETTS.

HOP BITTERS CO.;

Gentlemen—Having been afflicted for a number of years with indigestive and general debility, by the advice of my doctor I used Hop Bitters, and must say they afforded me almost instant relief. I am glad to be able to testify in their behalf. THOS. G. KNOX.

Ludington, Mich., Feb. 2d, 1880.

I have sold Hop Bitters for four years, and there is no medicine that releases them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and many diseases incident to this malarial climate. H. T. ALEXANDER.

Paulding, Ohio. Jan. 2, 1880.
HOP BITTERS COMPANY:

I have used your Bitters, and must say they helped me materially.

JOHN FIELD, Infirmatory Director.

Ashburnham, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.

I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and throat would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed. I shall take two more; by that time I shall be well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made. Yours,
MRS. JULIA CUSHING.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 31, 1880.

I have used seven bottles of Hop Bitters, which have cured me of a severe chronic difficulty of the kidneys and have had a pleasant effect on my system.

RODNEY PEARSON.

Walhend, Kansas, Dec. 8, 1879.

I write to inform you what great relief I got from taking your Hop Bitters. I was suffering with neuralgia and dyspepsia, and a few bottles have entirely cured me, and I am truly thankful for so good a medicine. MRS. MATTIE COOPER.

MALT BITTERS
Malt Bitters Company
A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,
The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.
PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh HOP, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."
MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and depressed coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, digestive weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.
MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.
Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.

SHAKERS'
SARSAPARILLA
A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.
Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.
Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.
DIXI CROSBY, M. D.
LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.
N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,
CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.
This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.
Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.
In behalf of the Society,

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood fever-sh, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and lingering Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease, my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then discouraged, and said no cure, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all in vain.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being entirely cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper & Bros'. Publications.

CLIFFORD ST. AND WOODWARD AVE., DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 24, 18.9.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and a few of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood, corrects all sedentary derangements, restores the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of obstructions, weakness and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in favorably and permanently curing emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the preparation, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BIRGES, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based purely upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and purely upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, Trustees.

As Strange as Fiction.

All old Texans and the students of the history of Texas are familiar with the ill-starred Mier expedition, which left Texas in the fall of 1841 for the purpose of invading Mexico. The expedition started out under command of Gen. Somerville, and on the 19th of December, when in the vicinity of the Rio Grande, was ordered back. After the return of Gen. Somerville and a portion of the command, some 300 men who were left determined on hostile demonstrations, and elected William S. Fisher as commander. The expedition then advanced on the town of Mier, in Mexico. A detachment arriving there on the 21st, and demanding provisions, took the alcalde of the town with them as a hostage, and returned to where the main body was encamped to wait the arrival of the articles demanded. While the Texans remained in camp, Mier was occupied by Gen. Ampudia of the Mexican army, with 2,000 men. On the afternoon of the 25th of December the Texan forces started for the town and encountered the forces of Ampudia in its vicinity, and a fight ensued, in which the Mexicans were driven through the town, but still fighting. After several parleys, the representation of the overwhelming numbers opposed to them, and promises of generous terms, the Texans were induced to surrender. The prisoners were then started for the city of Mexico, a number being killed en route, and upon arriving at Salado, on the 25th of March, an order was received from Santa Anna, directing that every tenth man be shot. Accordingly one hundred and fifty-nine white and seventeen black beans, representing the number of Texans left, were placed in a box, the ones drawing the black beans being taken out and shot. In "Thrall's History of Texas" occurs the following paragraph: "First Ampudia and then Santa Anna took a fancy to a mere and named Hill, and young Hill's father and brother were released and the young man sent to college in Mexico. He adopted the profession of a mining engineer, and is still a citizen of Mexico." Mr. Hill, who has never been to Texas since the time he started on the expedition, left Vera Cruz some days since.

Chemical Purity of Speer's Wine for the Sick.

An old chemist now deceased made the ollowing report.

Laboratory of James R. Chilton & Co., New York, March 11th.

We have recently made a careful analysis of the Sambucus Wine prepared by Mr. Alfred Speer, and do not hesitate in pronouncing it pure; and for medicinal uses it is superior to other wines.

Its principal effects upon the system are mildly stimulating, diuretic, sudorific and tonic. It will prove beneficial in affection of the kidneys and Chronic Diseases, with general debility of the Constitution. Physicians may safely recommend it to their patients, in the place of the many doubtful mixtures too often sold as pure wine.

News and Notes.

During a thunder storm last Thursday afternoon Captain Elijah Doane and another man were off in the harbor at Provincetown, Mass., in a large sail boat, when lightning struck the mast, and, following it down, went through the boat's bottom, sinking her almost instantly. The crew took their dory and reached the shore in safety. What seemed strange, they did not feel the shock of the lightning, and hardly knew what the trouble was until they reached the shore, where the crowd who had been watching told them the boat had been struck by lightning.

Capt. Andrew McKenzie of Buffalo, N. Y., who confessed to killing a sailor named Thomas Russell on the barge Walton, on the 28th of last November, last week pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree, and was sentenced to Auburn prison for life.

A Montreal despatch says: "It is stated that the railways of the eastern states have had agents in this province stirring up cotton operatives to emigrate to the manufacturing districts of America, and that it is owing to their action that strikes have occurred."

James Boyle and John Galagher of Audenried, Pa., were instantly killed, Friday, by a fall of coal in the Honeybrook mine.

The Indianapolis Journal was sold on Friday by Martindale & Co. to Hon. John C. New, ex-treasurer of the United States, for $80,000.

The jury in the Bucholz case, at Bridgeport, Conn., last week, returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. The counsel for the state moved immediate sentence, and the counsel for the prisoner made a motion for a new trial to be heard on the 17th inst. Sentence reserved.

A man designated as "a well-known Boston mercant" was on a spree in Portland last week, and reports that he was there robbed of $500 in cash and several thousand dollars in bonds.

The Cuban patriots are again making an effort to rid themselves of Spanish tyranny, and there is great excitement at Madrid, where it is believed that this new out-break is in connection with three filibustering expeditions which it is alleged left the United States last month.

Gen. D. A. Morton, president of the National Liberal League, has been arrested at St. Louis charged with forging the name of Ex-Gov. John M. Palmer of Illinois to a check for $2,000 on a bank in Joplin, Mo., about a year ago, upon which he got the money. Several hundred dollars in money, jewelry of great value, said to belong to his wife, railroad passes on a large number of roads, dies, stamps, different kinds of pens, etc., were found on his person or among his effects. Morton was arrested at the instance of John B. Sargent, cashier of the bank upon which the forged check was drawn, who recognized him in a railroad office at St. Louis. Morton claims that it is a case of mistaken identity.

The trial of William McKinney for the murder of Alfred Smith ended at Mount Gilead, Ky., on the 7th inst. McKinney had seduced Annie Smith, and her father had driven her and McKinney from his residence, last Christmas. Smith subsequently stabbed McKinney, and the latter shot Smith. Annie was a witness to the killing, and has since been living with the accused. McKinney's counsel begged to the jury to let the prisoner, who is a mere boy, go free, and promised that if they did, he and Annie would marry. The jury gave the verdict not guilty, and immediately McKinney and the daughter of the murdered man stepped before the bench and were declared man and wife by the judge.

The body of a handsome woman, apparently about fifty-five years of age, and richly dressed, was found in one of the lakes in Central park, New York, on the 6th inst. She was robust in form, had gray hair and slender hands and feet, the latter being encased in small French kid boots. On her person was a magnificent gold watch studded with diamonds, while two glistening pendants, in which were several small diamonds, hung from her ears. Nothing upon the person could be found which would throw any light upon the identity of the body. Her cast of features indicated Jewish extraction. She was dressed in a black silk dress, with elaborate trimmings, and had blue woolen hose on. The body was conveyed to the Central park police station.

Charles F. Freeman, the Pocasset, Mass., child-murderer has been declared insane and ordered committed to the Dunvers asylum.

The disaster from fire among the oil regions of Pennsylvania is greater than at first reported, and the fires were still raging at the end of last week. About 800 oil wells had then been burned, together with hundreds of thousands of barrels of petroleum. The loss is very great, and falls on poor producers. Many men will be bankrupted, while others have lost the means of support. No definite estimate can be formed as to the actual loss, but it is counted by millions.

Mrs. Mary Anderson died of absolute starvation in a New York tenement house on the 6th inst. Her husband is a chair maker, and they have three children. Anderson has been out of work for a long time. Mrs. Anderson was taken sick about two months ago, and had neither proper medical treatment nor proper nourishment. The children are a good deal emaciated, and for a week have had nothing to eat except what little the other occupants of the house could spare for them.

On Friday last, in the United States senate, Mr. Thurman presented the credentials of Gen. Garfield, elected a senator from Ohio for six years from the 4th of March next.

Within the last five weeks no less than six steamers have been in collision with ice in the north Atlantic. Two of them were so badly injured that they were abandoned, and the other four reached port with their forward compartments full of water. It is evident that owing to a mild winter in the Arctic regions the ice had drifted down into the tracks of our transatlantic steamers earlier and in much greater quantities than usual. Fortunately the large passenger steamers have, so far, met with no accident, and, as a matter of course, unusual care will be taken during the present season to guard against the danger of collision with ice.

It's funny when you ask a man to advertise he generally declines with the statement that nobody will see it. But if you advertise some little caper of his in the news, gratis, he gets indignant over the certainty that everybody will see it. At least that's what a veteran newpaper man says.

A Rio Janeiro despatch of April 4th says: "The United States ships Shenandoah and Wachusett are in port at Montevideo, having recently returned from target practice and drill. The steam sloop Marion remains at the quarantine station at Flores island. No new cases of yellow fever are reported there, and those who were stricken are now convalescent and doing well. Cold weather is setting in, and with its advent no further fear of the contagion is entertained."

Capt. Chandler has reported his return home, having been detached from command of the Lackawanna; Lieut. Wm. S. Cowles, and Ensigns L. A. Case and Chas. W. Deering have reported their return home from the Asiatic squadron; all placed on waiting orders.

The President on Friday nominated Passed Asst. Engr. Walter D. Smith to be a chief engineer.

Capt. Earl English has been commissioned a commodore from March 25th; Comdr. Chas. C. Carpenter a captain, from March 25th; Lieut. Comdr. George H. Wadleigh a commander, from March 13th, and Lieut. Comdr. A. S. Crowninshield a commander, from March 25th.

Political.

Vice President Wheeler called Senator Bruce to the chair of the senate, Tuesday of last week, and he presided with great dignity and ability. In 1860 it would have been thought incredible if any one had predicted that in 1880 a colored man would ever preside over the United States senate.

Says the New York Tribune: "With the retirement of Postmaster General Key the last vestige of the present administration's well meant reconciliation policy disappears. He was put into the cabinet by the president in order that the south might see that the administration meant to treat all sections alike. He was a democrat of a conservative type, and his appointment by a republican president was an unprecedented and significant step. How did the south receive it? They denounced Judge Key as a 'rependant rebel,' and read him out of the democratic party with disgust. The storm which fell upon the judges's head when he admitted in a public speech that the war was a 'mistake' on the part of the south, is still well remembered."

New Hampshire Items.

Forest fires were raging in the vicinity of Oak hill, three miles east of Suncook, last week. Fanned by the gale Thursday they swept over fully three hundred acres of wood and sprout land, including that owned by Solomon Whitehouse, John H. Sullivan, Samuel B. Cofran, Geo. P. Morgan, Philip Stevens and Webster Manufacturing company. The loss cannot now be computed.

The debt of Hillsborough county has been reduced, during the past year, $25,439,44.

Benjamin A. Reid, of the firm of Fox, Reid & Co., of Nashua, slipped quietly away from that city on Saturday night, the 1st inst., with $200 in his pocket that he had borrowed of Mrs. Belle J. Wood, a lady who keeps a boarding house, by falsely pretending that he wanted the money for the use of the firm of which he he was a member.

The Professional Tramps.

Daniel O'Leary has sent from Chicago to the New York Clipper $500 as a forfeit in the challenge to match Pauchot and Faber, winners in the recent seventy-two hours' pedestrian match at Buffalo, against Albert and Hughes, winners in a similar match at Philadelphia, for $5,000 a side. On the 7th inst. articles were signed on behalf of Hart, the holder of the O'Leary six days' go-as-you-please champion belt, for the next race for that trophy, on a challenge by Charles E. Davies for an "unknown." Davies holds the record of W. B. Curtis of the Spirit of the Times to bind the challenge.

Pleading His Own Case.

A colored man pleaded his own case with marked success in Dallas, Texas, a short time ago. He was accused of a crime as grave as murder, and had been convicted. The judge denied the motion for a new trial, and asked the customary question. "Have you anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced?" The prisoner responded that he knew nothing he could say would influence the court, as all the forms of law had been observed, but he would like to say a few words to his colored friends. He started off slowly and deliberately, reviewing the testimony, showing the inconsistencies of witnesses' statements, and then carried away with the idea of the wrong done him, he burst forth in a strain of eloquence seldom heard. When he sat down the judge said: "Sam, I thought you guilty; I don't believe so now, and will set aside the judgment overruling your motion for a new trial, and give you another chance." The county attorney dismissed the case, and the prisoner walked out of the court a free man. He was a "common field band," the local paper says, "and uneducated."

Just So.

Nearly every newspaper man is bored by fellows who want to know why he don't make his paper more moral, more temperate, or more something else. This class of people want a newspaper to espouse their pet theories and abuse and insult everybody else, and yet they scarcely ever contribute a cent to sustain a paper or anything else. Let an editor be weak and silly enough to take their advice, and he would have to quit the publishing business or starve. In view of these facts, we hold to our own ideas, do and say what we wish to, and only hope to please by being fair and impartial. As advice can only be repaid by advice, we claim it not out of place to say to those chronic grumblers about the way newspapers are conducted, that if they would patronize the publications they might exert some influence in moulding their course, but so long as they continue to be "dead beats" they never can.—Exchange.

—The New York Tribune notes that there is no American author of established fame whose works so seldom come up in the auction room as those of Hawthorne. People who once possess them seem to keep them for life.

AROUND HOME.

The city book is now ready for distribution, and citizens can procure copies by calling on City Clerk Vaughan at the city rooms.

Schooner Dexter, Clark, from Hoboken with coal for Dover, which arrived at this port on the 5th inst., was towed up the river on Saturday by the tug Ann.

The name of Mr. Arthur W. Walker was inadvertently omitted from the list of persons authorized to receive subscriptions toward defraying the expenses of Memorial day.

All the military companies of the city will turn out on Tuesday afternoon, for "May training;" the Heavy Artillery, besides the regulation drill, will probably have a target shoot.

It is expected that the double track of the Boston & Maine railroad will be completed and in running order as far as Newmarket junction before the approaching summer travel begins.

The two brick stores on Bow street known as the Jaffrey block, with the wharf privilege in the rear, were sold at auction on Saturday by Mr. Henry F. Wendell for $1200, Mr. E. H. Winchester being the purchaser.

The fishing schooner W. H. Y. Hackett, of this port, McCormisky master, which got into some kind of a hobble at Beverly, Mass., about two weeks ago, arrived at Halifax, N. S., on the 4th inst., on her way to the banks of Newfoundland.

The Band of Hope have an entertainment under the charge of Mrs. Hooper, at Grange hall Tuesday evening, May 11th. Supper will be served at seven o'clock. Recitations and singing by the children, followed by addresses, etc. Admission ten cents, the receipts to be used for the benefit of this branch of the temperance work.

It is said that on Middle street, between Haymarket square and Austin street, a street gas-light is to be placed—a much needed improvement. The regrading of Haymarket square, and laying of new cross walks over the same, will be appreciated both by pedestrians and drivers of carriages.

White, Smith & Co., No. 516 Washington street, Boston, have issued the following pieces of music: "Love's Return," waltz, by A. E. Warren, and "Our Comrades sleep," new decoration hymn, solo and chorus, by N. B. Sargent. We have also received from W. W. Whitney, music publisher of Toledo, Ohio, a new dedication hymn entitled "Honor to our fallen Brave."

The new schooner B. Frank Nealley, the latest addition to the Dover Navigation Co.'s fleet, which arrived at this port last Thursday with a cargo of coal for the Cocheco Manu'g Co. of Dover, essayed to reach her destination on Friday, but was obliged to bring up at the narrows, below Dover, there not being water enough in the Cocheco to enable her to reach the wharf without lightening.

DROWNED.

Willie Goodwin, 13 years of age, son of Mr. Alfred Goodwin, was drowned on Sunday afternoon. He was out sailing on the river with three others, and was sailing in the eddy near Badger's island and when the sail jibed; young Goodwin who was sitting on the gunwale of the boat, was struck by the boom and knocked overboard. A young man by the name of Sam'l Jones, who was sailing the boat, immediately put her about and jumped into the water after him, but was unfortunately too late to save Goodwin.

COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

A retail dealer in liquor was brought before U. S. Commissioner Hackett on Saturday, charged with carrying on the trade in spirituous and malt liquors without payment of the required tax. The respondent pleaded guilty and made a permanent investment in the public funds of the amount of license, penalty, costs, etc.

HAVERLY'S COLORED MINSTREELS.

This evening, at Music hall, Haverly's Genuine Colored minstrels will give an entertainment. Of this company's performance the Baltimore American says:

The show is a unique one in every respect, not only because it is participated in by real negroes, but because it is somewhat of a departure from the old stereotyped minstrel performance. There is no attempt to burlesque this, that or the other; but what its performers try to do, and succeed in wonderfully, is to give a true idea of the ante-bellum plantation life, and one can readily imagine that a lot of experienced colored men are able to give true portraits of their past life with striking realism. The performance opened with a splendid programme of songs, solos and overtures, performed by the men while ranged around in a semi-circle, and the funny sayings of ten end men, notably McIntosh and Kersands, elicited roars of laughter. * * * The general opinion seemed to be that never before had such a perfect minstrel show been seen in Baltimore, and that the difference between the real negroes and the artificial ones was immensurable.

Tickets can be procured at Preston's to-day.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

The grand jurors were sworn on Saturday, and Edmund Stone of Swansey was appointed foreman; they retired to their room after a brief charge from the judge. The docket was then called.

In case of John R. Poor vs. the Hudson Insurance Co., an opinion was given by Judge Clark ordering judgment on the verdict for the plff. This was an action to recover upon a policy of insurance upon the Oceanic hotel. The policy was claimed by the defendants to have been cancelled at the time of the fire.

In case Sias vs. Roger Williams Ins. Co., the plaintiff's counsel filed a motion to remand the case to the state court, the motion being based upon a defect in the petition for removal to this court. Argued, and decision reserved. Copeland for plff.; Eastman for deft.

Hayden vs. Great Falls Manufacturing Co., question upon demurrer to a bill in equity, (patent,) was argued by Copeland for the company and John L. Roberts of Boston for the plaintiff, and submitted.

The grand jury returned three indictments against persons in Merrimack county for selling spirituous liquors without payment of the special tax. The jurors were then discharged.

On motion of Hon. Ossian Ray, United States attorney, the following-named gentlemen were admitted to practice in this court: John L. Spring of Lebanon, Alfred T. Batchelder of Keene, and Wallace Hackett of Portsmouth.

The court adjourned to Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, when jury trials will be in order.

The attendance of members of the bar was large. Lawyers were present from Boston, Machester, Concord, Dover, Keene, Lebanon, Franklin, Exeter, Farmington and Portsmouth.

DEPOT IMPROVEMENT.

The Eastern railroad has, owing to the large increase in through business, for some time had in contemplation the running of more trains to and from Boston and the termini of the various lines of road controlled by the corporation, and there can be no doubt that the increased accommodations will be appreciated by the public.

During the summer months, two through mountain trains will be run each way daily, (the summer time-table will go into effect June 28th,) leaving Boston at 8:30 o'clock A. M. and 12:30 P. M., and leaving Fabyan's at 10:10 A. M. and 1:46 P. M. The running time of these trains will be seven hours, which includes an allowance of thirty minutes for refreshments. The Bangor express, leaving Boston at 8:30 A. M., will go through to Portland in four hours; and the returning express train, leaving Portland at 6:00 P. M., will arrive in Boston at 10:10; these two trains will connect with the steamers for Mt. Desert, and Pullman parlor or sleeping cars will be run on all Fabyan's and Portland trains.

The extensive changes in the running time of trains necessitated different dining room arrangements along the line of the road, from the old style, and the construction of a dining-room at this station was decided upon. Early last winter the managers of the road purchased a large amount of real estate fronting on Deer street, and a large gang of workmen, under the superintendence of Mr. P. Wallace, master carpenter of the road and a skillful mechanic, went to work on the enlargement of the station buildings, which are now about completed; and the new arrangements will go into effect on the 17th inst. Mr. George W. Armstrong, who is in charge of restaurants on the Eastern and other roads as proprietor, has secured the services of Mr. W. K. Hill, formerly in charge of the restaurant in the Boston & Albany depot at Boston, to run the restaurant here, and the house formerly occupied by Mr. George Annable has been refitted in the best and most modern style by Mr. Hill, as a residence for himself and family. Under these experienced caterers it is hardly possible that the dining room should not be conducted to the entire satisfaction of the travelling public.

In the construction of the dining hall and adjacent rooms, every attention has been paid to the public comfort and convenience, while every foot of room has been utilized. The lunch room is sixty feet by forty, and has a double counter running nearly the whole length, which will afford room for a big crowd of people, and Mr. Hill has secured the services of a sufficient number of lady waiters. The lunch counter is made of black walnut and ash, with a polished black walnut top, and has constructed in it closets and drawers for containing the dishes and other material. A large ice chest, built by Mr. Charles W. Norton of this city for this restaurant, is similar to the one at the Rockingham house, and considered equal to anything to be found anywhere. The kitchen is large and convenient, and of course supplied with everything needful. The wash-room is fitted with six bowls, and all the usual accommodations of such a place. The dining room is thirty by twenty feet in size, handsomely carpeted, and capable of seating fifty persons at once. The new telegraph office, in charge of Mr. George Wallace as operator, is twenty feet square and handsomely fitted up; it is a great improvement on the old one, in which the noise of arriving and departing trains was very annoying to the operator when receiving messages, and was occupied on Tuesday of last week. A news stand will be placed in the dining hall, which will be in charge of Mr. Michael Leary of this city, who has sold the Sunday Herald for some time past, and will be supplied with all the principal daily and weekly newspapers and periodicals. A drive-way is being made from Deer street to the south side of the depot, which will be a great convenience to passengers.

The surroundings of the depot are being attended to; new fences are to be built, and the old rubbish of many years' standing removed; and other improvements are projected, which when completed will add much to the appearance of the locality.

The members of the general committee on Memorial day observances are requested to meet at the common council room this evening at eight o'clock.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The farm and buildings at Kennebunk depot, formerly occupied by Josiah Hill, deceased, were sold at auction on Wednesday afternoon of last week for $1,525, to Palmer Hill, a fireman on the Eastern railroad.

Daniel Morse, who with his family removed from Biddeford some months ago and settled in Topeka, Kansas, has been arrested at Topeka for murder, he having killed a saloon keepor named Casey in a fight; Morse's friends say he acted wholly in self-defence, and a petition in his behalf has been numerously signed in Biddeford. He is about fifty years old, and was formerly a member of the Eben Simpson steam fire engine company in Biddeford.

DIED.

MARSTON. In this city, May 8th, 1886, Mrs. Mary L. Marston, widow of Levi L. Marston, aged 65 years and 32 days.

Her widowed life was devoted to the welfare of her children, for whom no effort was ever spared, nor duty unfulfilled. Self-sacrificing by nature, she cheerfully and with the loving earnestness of a noble soul, took up any task where a comforting hand and sympathetic heart could be of benefit, eager to do good for the sake of it, and feeling repaid by the satisfaction which follows its performance. As much a companion as a mother, ready with advice and timely aid, her loss is irreparable, and her tender sympathy and presence will be sadly missed. She lived a life of perfect usefulness, and when in later years her faculties became impaired, her chief regret arose from inability to continue active in well doing. Mother and daughter were rarely separated during their lives, and such a close and clinging companionship could not be severed without lasting grief. Her last bequest, which seemed in the nature of a benediction, was a heavenly smile, that of a spirit passing from weariness, anxiety and trouble to perfect peace and rest. May the innumerable words of blessing which so readily came to her lips for expression, return in ten-fold harvest to the dear soul who so patiently and unmurmuringly withstood the illness that finally brought to those she devotedly loved bereavement and unspeakable sorrow, and for herself eternal rest. G.

FOSS. In Stratham, May 4th, Elizabeth Foss, widow of the late John Foss, formerly of Chicago, Ill., aged 98 and 8 months.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name; no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Off For "the States."

The exodus of skilled labor from Canada is still proceeding. Seventy carpenters left Ottawa for the United States the other day, and French Canadians are flocking to the other side of the line in multitudes. These men are not going, as it were, on speculation. They are taking their wives, families and household goods with them, and it is their evident intention to make homes for themselves under the banner of Brother Jonathan. Good workmen can always find steady employment in the United States, and should, by chance, any of these emigrants have to return, it will only be those who are so unskilled as to be next to useless. But it is not only skilled labor that is moving to the more prosperous cities of the Union. Many of our merchants and business men are following the example, their excuse being that they are only losing money in Canada. They feel that the great improvement manifested in all branches of trade in the United States will not extend to this country for some time, and meantime they claim they are only expending their capital, which might be used to better advantage on the other side. Canada is not only losing the best of her skilled labor; she is also losing many wealthy capitalists, and the exodus still continues. Where it will end is difficult to foretell, but it is a problem which is forcing itself upon the consideration of the people for solution.—Montreal Star.

Daniel McFarland.

Among the invalids who assemble regularly every morning in the little chapel at St. Vincent's hospital, to send thanks on high for earthly blessings, is Daniel McFarland, who shot Albert D. Richardson. He sits dozing in the large ward at the Sisters' hospital in this city, a pensioner upon the county, and quite unknown and forgotten. He was pointed out to a reporter recently, who picked his way in among the cots to the one where the fallen man sat, and said:

"Mr. McFarland?"

"He—es—ne? What?"

"This is Mr. Daniel McFarland, I believe?"

"Oh, my name. Yes, yes. Daniel McFarland. That is it."

You once lived in New York, Mr. McFarland?"

"Yes, sir, I recollect it. I did once live in New York."

"If my memory serves me correctly, you were once very wealthy in that city?"

"I was in quite comfortable circumstances at one time, sir."

"Do you hear often from your wealthy friends?"

"I hear from no one."

"Are you comfortable here?"

"A pauper on the county could not expect more."

"You are penniless?"

"Penniless and friendless, dying among strangers in a county slushouse, in the wilds of the Rocky mountains."—Leadville, Col., paper.

Habitive Costiveness

is the bane of nearly every American woman. From it usually arises those disorders that so surely undermine their health and strength. Every woman owes it to her family to use that celebrated medicine, Kidney-Wort. It is the sure remedy for constipation, and for all disorders of the kidneys and liver. Try it now.

—A schoolboy spelled d-e-c-i-m-a-l and pronounced it dismal. "What do you mean by calling that dismal?" exclaimed the teacher. "Cause it is," answered the boy. "It's dismal fractions. All fractions are dismal. There isn't a bit of fun in any of 'em."

Write to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for names of ladies that have been restored to perfect health by the use of her Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for the most stubborn cases of female weakness.

—Why is it when one man calls another a liar and a scoundrel, the insulted person almost invariably asks, "What do you mean, sir?" It would seem that such language would not require a map and a diagram to make it clear.

Equally adapted to the feeble or robust, male or female, are Malt Bitters.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or Pimples on the Skin, then the CUTICURA, applied by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the inveterate nature of the disease. If Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is dry and dry, the blood fevered, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing coats like ritulas, leaving me of use and situation to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, sores became so much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, that all else no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Yours truly, F. M. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper's Bros' Publishers.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT, and I am happy to say the disease is gone, and I have not had a sore since. My head was covered with scabs and sores. My face was fearful.

I had tried few things that I saw advertised in the East and West. My case was considered by my friends one year ago to be incurable, and I should not wonder if it should prove so, but I know that what I have done for myself has cured me, and I shall continue to use your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 15, 1879. MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Dr. Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. The untold miseries that result from indiscretion or early life may be alleviated and even cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or premature decay, are speedily relieved and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published, is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, for whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years' practice, and the only work of the author one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent free by mail, post-paid.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Book & Job

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

THE

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

The Subscriber respectfully solicits orders for all kinds of Printing, from a fine card to a large poster, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. The GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in those towns whence is published the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not lose sight of bear in mind.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley, Malt and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up and invigorate the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For all forms of wasting disease, dyspepsia, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and depressed cough, consumption, weakness of the lungs and kidneys, nervous prostration, debility, mental and physical debility, uncertain weakness of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful tonic and invigorant in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It purifies and gives vigor and generation of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and obliterating humors, and exerts the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers at Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I am to be familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. Gibbs, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Carbert's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the last twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based upon my own the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was in the first as well as in the best of all remedies called sarsaparilla, some of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, Trustees.

LAXATIVE AND CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without Griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics, called travellers' Compounds, and CATCH PILLS of the Liver. Four Prunes, one dose. They act as a mild laxative, one dose relieves the effect of cathartic medicines or mineral waters but without nausea or griping. Two half doses follow repeated cases. Acts like a charm. No prune taken at bedtime gets off healthily. The medication is entirely vegetable and harmless. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

Daily Chronicle.

The Tramp.

Should not the dictionaries revise their definition of the word tramp, now that legislation in so many of our states has made the person a criminal? Massachusetts, following her New England sisters, offers the tramp the advantages of her state work-house and houses of correction, but in such a compulsory way as to deprive the boon of the attraction which it might otherwise have for him; for the tramp is too sincere a lover of liberty to be grateful for any act which relieves him of it, even while inserting him those two prime necessaries of life—free board and lodging. The selection of a work-house as his place of confinement is a peculiar indignity to the tramp, whose existence is based on the avoidance of work. Whether his practice in this respect is the result of a thoughtful consideration of labor as the primal or consequential curse, or is based on an intuitive perception of the value of leisure, it is not now necessary to inquire. It is enough to emphasize the rigor of laws which not only assume the criminality of the tramp, but affix to it a punishment which is especially offensive to his sensibilities.—Atlantic Monthly.

They Would Elope.

They say "love laughs at locksmiths," and that one might add "at the dressmaker, too," we infer from the following tale from the south: The neighborhood of Elizabeth City, N. C., is in a state of great excitement over the recent elopement and marriage of a gushing young couple, Jonathan Ivy and Florence Seymark. The young lady's parents did not approve of young Ivy's advances, and forbade him their house. The lovers, however, managed to meet clandestinely, and had made up their minds to an elopement, which was to have occurred one night. Old man Seymark, by some means or other, got wind of the proposed escapade and went gunning that day for Jonathan. Coming with the up to young lover, he blazed away at him, shooting him in the left shoulder, and inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. Florence was overwhelmed with grief by her father's hasty conduct, but not passion for her wounded lover was intensified a thousand fold. She sent him a letter telling him she would fly with him that night if he would come for her. So that night young Ivy made an appearance with a close carriage about one o'clock. Miss Florence was in a terrible dilemma; for her cruel parents, to insure against any escapade, had outwardly locked the girl into her room, but had also taken away every stitch of her clothing. But she was not to be baffled. She made a rope out of the sheets of her bed and let herself down to the ground, with no other garment but a night dress. She told the coachman to "look the other way," and after her lover had helped her into the carriage and covered her with the carriage robes, she made him sit on the box with the coachman. They drove to the house of a friend, where Florence was attired in proper garments, and then proceeded to the house of a sympathizing preacher, where the lovers were specifically united in wedlock.

—"Yes, I'm a poor man," remarked a merchant the other day. "I have had many changes to make a fortune, but I don't want to be insane after I'm dead."

The Physical Paradox.

It has been said that "the blood is the source of life." It is as truly the source of disease and death. No life, that is to say, no healthy tissue can be generated from impure blood, no organ of the body can normally perform its functions when supplied with impure blood. The fluid that should carry life and health to every part, carries only weakness and disease. Blood is the source of life, only when it is pure. If it has become diseased, it must be cleansed by proper medication, else every pulsation of the human heart sends a wave of disease through the system. To cleanse the blood of all impurities, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, the most effectual alterative, tonic, and cathartic remedies yet discovered. They are especially efficient in scrofulous diseases.

—It is reported that the clove crop this season is very short; this news will cast a gloom over the entire theatre-going community.

—A LIFE IN DANGER. This is the fact concerning every man, woman and child who has in the body the seeds of Kidney, Bladder, Liver and Urinary diseases, from which may spring Bright's disease of the kidneys. Such a prospect is simply terrible; and it is the duty of every one to be rid of the danger at once. To do this, infallibly, use Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—A Boston artist is credited with having painted an orange peel on the sidewalk so naturally that six fat men slipped down on it.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. 16

—A western dealer received a fresh invoice of mouse traps the other day, and advertised "Grand arrival of spring goods."

Malt Bitters build up the nervous and muscular system as so overcome disease.

—There is more fashion in the city, but more style in the country.

A Dime Novel Hero.

In the juvenile court at Boston, on Saturday, Frederick Gay was arraigned for the larceny of $710.91 from his employers, Messrs. Stone & Downer, brokers on State street. This lad who is only fourteen years of age, stole the money stated, purchased a boat and rowed to Winthrop, purchased two revolvers, went to Lynn and thence to Portland, Me., where he engaged a room at one of the principal hotels, hired a double team, and was about to take a ride when he was arrested on suspicion, and the Boston authorities communicated with. The result was that he was returned to Boston. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to the state reform school during his minority. Immediately on receiving his sentence he shook his fist in the face of State Agent Hart, and uttered threatening language, whereupon his honor changed the sentence to two years in the house of correction. Gay said that he was glad that he used the language, as he thereby got five years off of his sentence.

Strange, If True.

An extraordinary story of suspended animation, burial and resurrection at Chatham, N. C., is published at Charlotte in that state, over the signature of J. W. Weaver of Franklinton. He says that a married lady in that county was taken ill, and gradually grew weaker, until the attending physician pronounced life extinct. At her burial her previously-expressed desire to have her watch and finger-rings buried with her was complied with, and the second night after the interment a white man and a negro went to the grave and exhumed her for the purpose of obtaining the buried jewelry. As they took the lid off the coffin and the negro began pulling off a ring from her finger, she raised up. At this both men took fright and ran away. Finally the negro went back and she asked him what he wanted. He told her he wanted her rings, and the white man her watch. She requested to see the white man, whom the other soon found and brought to her. She requested him to go home with her. He did so, and when she reached the door she knocked. Her husband opened the door, but fainted when he saw her, thinking it was his dead wife's ghost. Mr. Weaver reports his informant as saying that the lady is now living, and bids fair to attain a good old age.

Reported Indian Massacres.

A despatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, dated Denver, Col., May 9th, says: "It is reported here that a party of twenty-five miners, prospecting in the Lower Gunnison valley near Indian creek, were attacked by the Indians on the 7th instant, and twelve of the mining party killed. The report, although confirmed by the mail carrier and an Indian runner from Los Pinos agency, will not be given full credence here until further particulars are received."

A despatch from Tucson, Arizona, states that the Indian chief Victoria in a fight on Friday killed George H. Stevens and about twenty families of Indians, who were living on Stevens' ranche. Victoria is trying to reach San Carlos reservation to get the wives of his warriors, and, if possible, assistance.

News and Notes.

The Kronberg Mineral Association has been organized at Portland for the purpose of purchasing and selling mineral properties in Maine and elsewhere. The capital stock is $40,000, fully paid up, divided into eighty shares at $500 each. There is no stock for sale. The president is Sewal C. Strout, of Portland, and the directors Sewal C. Bishop Williams, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Newburyport, Sunday, confirmed 256 children.

Charles Hamilton's house at Brookfield, Mass., was set fire to the other day by the sun's rays reflected from a new tin pan which was lying close to the wall. A space several inches across was burned.

During a thunder shower at Mechanics Falls, Me., Sunday, lightning struck the dwelling of James Faunce, shattering the end from the gable to the first floor. A little boy was badly stunned.

The British steamship American, bound from England for the Cape of Good Hope, broke her main shaft when near the equator, April 28th, and foundered. Fifty-four persons of her company were picked up by the British steamer Congo, leaving five boats still to be heard from; when last seen they were heading for Cape Palmas.

Charles Drury, twelve years old, accidentally hung himself at Wells River, Vt., a few days ago. He placed a strap around his neck and fastened the buckle to a nail, and fell off the chair on which he was standing, as is supposed. His neck was dislocated, and he died instantly.

The genuineness of Barnum's group of native Zulus was satisfactorily shown at Springfield, Mass. The Grout family, now living in Springfield, who were long engaged in missionary work in Africa, addressed the Zulus in their native tongue, to which they not only responded readily, but were not a little pleased to find some one to talk with them for the second time since coming to this country.

Dan Lyle, colored, his wife, and another colored woman, have been arrested at Clarksville, Ky., for murder of two children of Lyle's, aged three and five years. They are religious monomaniacs.

Isham Kopp, colored, was hanged at Fort Worth, Texas, on Friday last, for rape; Henry Home, colored, for burglary, was hanged at Charlotte, N. C., on the same day.

A man in Steubenville, Ohio, has created quite a sensation there by severely horsewhipping his daughter, aged sixteen years, for receiving attentions from young men, and also whipping his wife and married daughter, who attempted to save the girl from her father's violence.

James Tobin, a boss stevedore of Chicago, while drunk last Friday night, murdered his daughter Mollie, a girl seventeen years old, by beating her to death. The brutal ruffian was arrested.

New Hampshire Items.

Secretary Thompson on Friday embarked on the United States steamer Tallapoosa, accompanied by a number of members of Congress, and proceeded to Norfolk to visit the Enterprise, Commander J. O. Selfridge, which has just arrived from the Mediterranean.

Norfolk, Va., advices of May 7th say: "An examination of the bottom of the Portsmouth by Constructor Webb yesterday showed the keel and shoe, and adjacent portions, to be in a very bad condition."

Political.

A San Francisco report says Mayor Kalloch will be indicted by the grand jury, and charges of malfeasance in office brought against him.

We prefer Grant, because we believe him to be the strongest nominee of the two, all things taken into account. But Blaine is a grand leader, a sterling republican, whose nomination would arouse the enthusiasm of the party to the highest point, even if it did not attract to its support some external elements to which Grant's candidacy can alone appeal with success. We feel assured that Grant is the stronger; but Blaine is strong enough. The National Convention is not going to make a very bad mistake this time in any case. It will be for the anti-Grant-and-Blaine men to say, when they get to Chicago, toward which of the two do they feel the antiest.—Boston Traveller.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. AROUND HOME.

"May trading" to-day.

Half the frames of the coal pocket on Concord railroad wharf are up.

The schooner Charles H. Trickey, Kelly master, from New York for Dover with coal, passed through Portsmouth bridge Monday evening.

A small cannon was fired six or eight times on Monday over the spot where the little Goodwin boy was drowned on the previous day, in hopes of raising the body, but without effect.

Mr. Christopher E. Rymes, of Laighton Bros. & Co., went to the Shoals on Monday to look after matters at the Oceanic hotel, and attend to the preliminaries for opening for the season.

The steamer Mystic, Capt. Trefethen, went up river on Monday to tow the schooner Horatio Nichols from the place where she came to grief, below Exeter, to Kittery, where she will be hauled out on the railway for repairs.

Schooner Abigail Haynes, in getting under weigh from the Concord railroad wharf, Monday, ran her bowsprit over a car on the wharf, and crushed it considerably. She afterward bumped the shore at the narrows, but got off apparently unharmed and proceeded.

The Band of Hope have an entertainment under the charge of Mrs. Hooper, at Grange hall Tuesday evening, May 11th. Supper will be served at seven o'clock. Recitations and singing by the children, followed by addresses, etc. Admission ten cents, the receipts to be used for the benefit of this branch of the temperance work.

On Monday, while at work loading ice on board the schooner Dreadnaught at Eastern railroad wharf, a man by the name of Johnson, who was tending the hook, slipped and fell between the schooner and the wharf, striking his head on a stringer and being quite badly hurt; he would probably have been drowned but for the prompt aid rendered by the other workmen and the vessel's crew.

A party of gipseys were camped on Middle road, Monday afternoon. They had a big kettle hanging on a tripod, in approved gipsey style; half a dozen horses, some of them very good ones, were grazing beside the road, with their fore legs hobbled; and a large and select assortment of children, of all ages, sizes and sexes, played in and around two huge vehicles which were drawn up near the wall, looking like Pullman sleeping cars adrift.

The wires of the American Union Telegraph Co. have reached Greenland on the Eastern railroad, and the line is in operation as far east as Beverly, Mass. The men stretch about six miles of wire each day. The line after being completed to Portland will be extended to North Conway, and will connect with lines east to Halifax, N. S., and west to New York. The poles have insulators for four sets of wires; they are very substantial-looking, and compared with the deserted and disused poles of the International line seem intended for long service. The line will have offices at all principal points on its route.

The practice-evenings of the Portsmouth cricket club are Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The grounds of this club are as fine as any cricket ground in New England, so far as natural advantages and attractions are concerned, but some money needs to be expended in fitting up and putting in order. The first match this season, on these grounds, will be between the Harvard college club or the St. Pauls of Concord, N. H., and the home club, probably some time in June; both the crack organizations named will play the Portsmouth club early in the season.

Duncan M. Taylor of Dover, a native of Nova Scotia, was out on the lower Cocheco in a boat with two companions Sunday evening, when the boat capsized and Taylor was drowned.

A portion of the bones of the head and neck of Peter Devoll, the victim of the Durham point murder, were found last week about a quarter of a mile from where the rest of the body was discovered, on land belonging to James Conner. The flesh had been entirely stripped off, evidently by some animal.

Capt. Charles C. Carpenter, U. S. N., having been assigned to duty at the Charlestown, Mass., navy yard, will remove his family this week to occupy quarters in the yard while he is on duty at that station. His residence on Middle street, it will be seen, is advertised for rent, furnished or unfurnished. It is one of the most pleasantly situated houses in Portsmouth.

The brass band of Haverly's Genuine Colored Minstrels paraded around town on Monday, making excellent music, and doing some good marching and odd evolutions under the direction of a perfectly gorgeous and overpowering drum-major. In the evening a fair audience attended the performance at Music hall, and were entertained with a first-class variety show.

MEMORIAL DAY.

A fully attended meeting of the several committees on Memorial observances was held in the common council room on Monday evening. Estimated reports of the amounts needed were made by the chairmen of the several sub-committees, and were accepted.

C. M. Gignoux, T. E. O. Marvin, Elbridge G. Pierce, Jr., and M. E. Long, were appointed a committee on carriages.

Col. Wm. H. Sise, chairman of the committee appointed to select a chief marshal, reported that they had made choice of Dr. James R. May, which was greeted with applause.

Voted that the admission fee to the evening entertainment be the same as last year, (ten cents,) the proceeds to be devoted to the charity fund of Storer Encampment.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

The docket was called on Monday, with a view to fix upon the places where referee trials were to be had.

In case of Smith vs. town of Kensington, judgment on the verdict for $300 was ordered.

In case Portsmouth & Dover railroad vs. Eastern railroad in New Hampshire, judgment upon the verdict of the referees was ordered, the referees' fees to be paid by the county.

Shortly before twelve o'clock Gen. Marston began his argument in the Gould will case. The court house was well filled to listen to the general, among his auditors being several ladies of Exeter. Judge Wiggin closed for the executor.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, May 10; Batchelder, J.

Timothy Falvey, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs being taxed at $6.90. Settled.

John McMann and Michael Scully, charged with being idle vagabonds, were sent to the county house of correction for sixty days, and ordered to pay costs of $6.90 each.

In the afternoon Willie Eaton, a boy, was before the court on a charge of malicious mischief, in defacing a fence belonging to Alfred W. Haven, Esq. The charge was proved, but the offender was allowed to go on probation after a lecture by the magistrate. This boy was no doubt somewhat surprised to learn that the petty malicious mischief which he probably considered "fun," was an offence which might send him before the grand jury and the supreme court—a fact which boys who break windows, carry off gates and disfigure fences and buildings are not generally aware of.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The Unitarian society of this city, which in times past has paid good salaries for singing, but which has of late years not been noted for any especial musical talent which shew itself in choir singing, essayed congregational singing on Sunday last. The worshippers were very pleasantly surprised to find that so many of their number could and would sing, and for the present at least, the songs of praise of this congregation will not be sung by proxy.

There is something pleasing in listening to the singing of hymns by a large congregation wherein all seem to join in this mode of worship, and where the singing seems to be rendered with the heart as well as the voice. However much the ear may be ravished by the artistic renderings of a liberally remunerated quartette, there is to many worshippers far more satisfactory enjoyment in the singing generally participated in by all in the church,—crudeor cultivated, no matter, if the heart be there.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The monthly session of the Rockingham County Temperance Association was held in the Methodist church at Raymond on Thursday of last week, forenoon and afternoon, the audience in the afternoon nearly filling the house, and the meeting being in all respects very pleasant and successful. Rev. Mr. Reed, of the committee of arrangements from all the churches, welcomed the visitors and the association, and introduced the president, Mr. F. W. Miller, as chairman for the day. The secretary, Mr. C. T. Wiggin, being absent, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike of Portsmouth was choosen secretary pro tem. A large and good choir, with organ, furnished appropriate music throughout the day; and each session was asusual opened and closed with prayer, from some of the numerous clergymen present.

Remarks for the cause of temperance generally, and this association in particular, were made by Rev. Messrs. Reed, Rich and Adams, of Candia, Noyes and Perkins of Raymond, White and Patch of Deerfield, Stearns of Epping, and other ministers; Messrs. Thorndike, French, Eaton, and Mrs. Thorndike, of Portsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Dolloff, Mr. Harvey, and Mr. Gough of Newmarket; Benjamin Chase of Auburn; Messrs. White and Hall, Mrs. Brown and others, of Raymond; Mr. David Webster of Concord and others—which with singing by choir and congregation, well filled up the entire day between trains, except the noon hour, when a liberal collation for all was served in the vestry under the church; and with thanks to the church, committee, the choir, and the Concord railroad for reduced fare—and after voting to hold the next meeting at Portsmouth on Thursday, June 3d, and choosing a committee to inquire and report here whether a meeting can be held July 4th at Epping Camp meeting grounds, —the Candia session was unanimously declared a success, and adjourned.

MASONIC.

Naval Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Kittery, which has been working under dispensation since June last, has been granted a charter by the M. W. Grand Lodge of the state of Maine, under date of May 6th, 1880. The lodge as instituted will consist of about twenty-six charter members. Work on the third degree was exemplified last Saturday evening, and was highly creditable to the lodge. The following is a list of the officers:

W. M., Wm. W. Locke;
S. W., Moses A. Safford;
J. W., Edwin C. Nealley;
Sec., Levi L. Goodrich;
Treas., Theo. Wilcox;
S. D., Edwin A. Duncan;
J. D., Samuel Taylor;
S. S., Salisbury H. Williams;
J. S., Cyrus S. Drinkwater;
Marshal, Calvin L. Hayes;
Tyler, John Gotermeyer.

Stated communications, Wednesday on or before the full moon.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, was probably the most interesting and enjoyable service of the kind that has been held in the mission hall. Every one present appeared to be in the best of humor, and in for a good meeting. The service was extended until half-past nine o'clock, and then it was difficult to bring the meeting to a close. A young gentleman read an original poem which was "right to the point;" two young ladies sang several pieces; a colored brother—once in bondage not only to strong drink but to a cruel slave-master—thanked God for freedom from both; and several others spoke earnest words. A brief account of the county temperance convention was given by Mr. French, and the meeting then adjourned.

The bethel service, Sunday afternoon, was conducted by Mr. Stacy Hall; the subject was "Work," and the leader strongly urged the necessity of more earnest and faithful work on the part of all. Several ladies and gentlemen took part in the exercises, and the meeting was not only interesting but calculated to stimulate to a more active and persistent effort for the benefit of those in need of help and sympathy.

Mission services were also conducted at the city jail at 12:30 P. M., Sunday, and at Newcastle at 2:30 and six o'clock P. M., all of which were interesting, and we trust a benefit to all concerned.

On Sunday evening Rev. Daniel Leavitt gave an eloquent temperance lecture before the reform club in the Christian church, to a crowded house. He spoke of the dangers attendant on the drinking customs of society, and made an earnest plea to the young men of our city to flee the curse. The cause of temperance has a true friend in Mr. Leavitt, and a few such would be a boon to any community. The reform club never was doing better or holding more interesting meetings than at the present time. At the close of the lecture several person signed the pledge.

Next Sabbath evening Rev. Mr. McGinley will deliver a temperance lecture in the North church before the reform club. L.

WRECKS.

The schooner Duroc, eighty tons register, Capt. Ephraim Wentworth, of and from Bangor for Boston with lumber, struck on Sunken rock off Rye beach on Sunday evening shortly after seven o'clock. The vessel remained on the rock nearly two hours, rolling considerably, but when the tide made she came off with the aid of her sails. Capt. Wentworth informs us that some time before he went ashore, the fog being very dense at the time, he spoke a fisherman who informed him that he was about five miles to the eastward of Thacher's island; he then shaped his course to clear the land, and at a time when there was no thought of danger the vessel took the bottom. The schooner was towed up to this city on Monday, waterlogged, and was moored at Adams & Co.'s lumber wharf, where she will unload; there is no doubt that a hole is stove in her bottom, and she will go on the marine railway for repairs. Capt. Wentworth bought the schooner about a week ago, putting into her every dollar he possessed.

Schooner Evergreen, one hundred and six tons register, of St. Andrews, N. B., from St. John, N. B., for Boston with lumber, went ashore in Broad cove, on the eastern side of Appledore island, Monday morning at one o'clock, during a thick fog; she was kedged off at high water the same day, and anchored in the roads at the Shoals, waterlogged. She will probably be towed to this port for repairs.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The Kittery Maccabees are said to be commencing to swarm, the old tent having been invaded by a bomb-shell that killed poor Mac, and scattered the bees.

A four-tenement house in Biddeford, owned by Samuel F. Tebbetts, caught fire on the roof near the chimney, last Saturday morning, and was damaged to the amount of $1000 by fire and water. Partially insured.

Kittery is fairly well provided with secret societies, for a small town. It has lodges of Freemasons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Honor, Knights of the Maccabees, and Good Templars; and possibly we may have forgotten a few others.

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

By increasing Nervous and Muscular vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. L. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.
Sold by all Druggists.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's
WORLD'S Hair Restorer
IS PERFECTION.
A Noble Record: near Half a Century. Established 1832. Improved 1879.

The nature of the great improvement is in its wonderful life-properties to faded or fading hair, and MORE QUICKLY CHANGING GRAY OR WHITE HAIR to its natural youthful COLOR and BEAUTY.

IT IS NOT A DYE.

It requires only a few applications to restore gray hair to its youthful color and lustrous beauty, and induce luxuriant growth, and its occasional use is all that is needed to preserve it in its highest perfection and beauty. DANDRUFF is quickly and permanently removed.

Sold by all Druggists, $1.25 Per Bottle,

No. 3 Bow Street,
C. E. MYERS & CO.
C. E. MYERS. C. E. SIMPSON.

A Russian Style.

A young couple recently presented themselves at the principal church in a suburb of Odessa and requested the priest to marry them. When they reached the altar rails and were there awaiting the fulfillment of their dearest hopes, the priest, detecting a certain unsteadiness of gait in the bridegroom, which appeared incompatible with the solemnity of the occasion, declined to perform his sacerdotal office upon a person whom he described as a "boozing swine." Indignant at the untimely inebriety, the father of the drunken lout seized him by the collar, dragged him out of the church and belabored him soundly with a stout cudgel in the vain hope of restoring him to such self-possession as might qualify him to undergo the marriage ceremony with ordinary steadfastness. The bride's father took a more practical view of the situation. Addressing the congregation from the altar-steps, he declared his daughter freed from her matrimonial engagement, and further stated that any eligible candidate for her hand, presenting himself then and there, might wed her on the spot, without incurring any expense, and count upon a fond parent's tender blessing to boot. Two aspirants came forward. After inspection by the bride and brief interrogation as to their respective worldly means and position, one was politely dismissed and the other took the "boozing swine's" place at the altar, where, a few minutes later, he was made a happy husband.

—The puzzle of 13—15—14 never was copyrighted, and much compassion has been spent on the inventor for his lack of foresight, which lost him the profits of his popular toy. But now there is a doubt as to whether he could have taken out a copyright. Some shrewd observer has discovered in a picture of "Melancholia," by Albert Durer, in the fifteenth century, the "gem puzzle," with the numbers from one to sixteen arranged so as to count thirty-four in twenty different ways.

Our Best Reward.

WINSTON, FORSYTHE CO., N. C., March 15, 1880.

To the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.: GENTS—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtue of your Bitters.

Very respectfully,
REV. H. FEREBEE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 11, 1880.

Hop Bitters Co.: Please accept our grateful acknowledgment for the Hop Bitters you were so kind to donate and which were such a benefit to us.

Yours very gratefully,
Old Ladies of Home of the Friendless.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM, OF LYNN, MASS.

DISCOVERER OF

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

The Positive Cure

For all Female Complaints.

THIS PREPARATION RESTORES THE BLOOD TO ITS NATURAL CONDITION, INVIGORATES THE VITAL POWER ARIGHT, STRENGTHENS THE MUSCLES OF THE UTERUS AND LIFTS IT INTO PLACE, AND GIVES IT TONE AND STRENGTH, SO THAT THE CURE is radical and entire. It strengthens THE BACK AND PELVIC REGION; IT GIVES TONE TO THE WHOLE NERVOUS SYSTEM; IT REMOVES DISTENDING PAINS AND BEARING DOWN, CAUSING PAIN, WEIGHT AND BACKACHE, is ALWAYS PERMANENTLY CURED BY ITS USE.

It will, at all times and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex, this Compound is unsurpassed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is prepared at the proprietors laboratory.

No. 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass.

Price, $1. Six Bottles to one address, $5.

Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above.

GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston. Sold by Druggists.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to take; Effective without griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating pills and nostrums used to relieve Costiveness, Piles, and Derangement of the Liver. For adults, one, two or three have the effect of a cathartic medicine of mineral or other waters not without nausea or griping. No best effects follow repeated use. For children and invalids, a prune taken at bedtime, is a mild laxative. The medicine is entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

MALT BITTERS without fermentation from Canada Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their rich, pure, and delicate Malt Tonic than any other form of Malt Liquors, or other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up and strengthen the nervous, muscular, osseous and sanguineous systems, for feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and pulmonary complaints, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, fever, mental and physical debility, alcoholic intemperance of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irksome in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, restores the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weakness and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, consumption and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Co-pound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 10, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the best as well as the best of all remedies called sarsaparilla, some of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant a genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, Trustees.

Daily Chronicle.

—James Smith hugged and kissed a girl against her will in a Galveston street, and she had him arrested. He was fined $15, which he paid, and went home congratulating himself that he had got out of the scrape easily. But he was mistaken. His wife met him at the door with a rolling pin, knocked him down, and pounded him until he was insensible.

—Johnny wanted to go to the circus, and his father said: "Johnny, I'd rather you'd go to school and study, and may be you'll be president some day." Said Johnny: "Father, there's about one million boys in the United States, isn't there." "Yes." And every one of them stands a chance of being president?" "Yes." "Well, dad, I'll sell out my chance for a circus ticket."

—Of Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth, of Connecticut, it is related that he was a devoted snuff-taker, and at one time, believing that he took too much, he tried to give up the habit. He carried his box to his garret and put it on top of the stairs, thus forcing himself to ascend and descend two flights of stairs every time he wanted a pinch. But he soon found that this took up too much time, and so he returned the box to his pocket.

—"Do you believe in long engagements?" a West Hill girl asked a teller's assistant, whom she was taking home from the leap-year hop. "Oh," he said absently, "the doubt know; sixty or ninety days, he reckoned, was long enough, with a chance for a renewal if the man's paper was good." And after a moment's silence she remarked that she thought this was the stupidest party that she had attended this year, and he wondered aloud the way home just what she meant by it. —Burlington Hawkeye.

—Mrs. Scott-Siddons is quoted as saying that she went on the stage at sixteen without a lesson, and has never had any dramatic training other than that of experience. She played Portia the first time she was ever on the stage, and that with only only a week's notice and but one rehearsal. She hadn't the least instruction about gestures, nobody said a word to her about the stage business, and she was a success at first," says the actress, "and from that time to this have not lacked engagements."

When lurid suns pour down smain,
And sweat envelo s one like rain
We some pleasant draught would fain
Our state to ease,
And Sanford's Ginger, timely ta'en,
Can't fail to please.

—A little girl in one of our public schools the other day had occasion to parse the word "angel." Coming to the gender she stopped, dismayed, and asked her teacher "if there are any men angels."

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 232 Western Avenue, Lynn, for pamphlets.

—A St. Louis rich man drew up a will which was so pathetically worded that it moved all his relatives to tears. It left all his property to an orphan asylum.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; revenue stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

—The dealer in toy balloons fears not a falling market. His stock is always inclined to rise.

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free. Including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tjes

—A good constitution is like a money-box—its full value is never known until it has been broken.

How to Get Well.

Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased Kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole man. Hundreds testify to this.

—Two tons of bells for use upon sheep were recently sent by mail to New Mexico in four-pound packages, and one firm in Boston makes a business of shipping whiffle-trees through the mails.

Nervous debility, weakness and decline prevented by a timely use of Malt Bitters.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam is compounded of the best natural healing extracts of bark, roots and gums in the world. It is a safe and reliable medicine, pleasant to the taste, and cures coughs, colds, asthma, and croup. Price, 25 and 75 cts.

News and Notes.

One 9000 barrel and two 25,000 barrel oil tanks at Bradford, Pa., were burning furiously on the 10th inst., and the heat was so intense that it repelled the workmen in digging trenches or building dams. Hundreds of men were fighting the flames, but several other enormous tanks were considered doomed.

A boiler explosion in an iron mill at Rome, N. Y., on Monday, killed four men, fatally wounded one, and seriously injured many others.

Barnum's "greatest show on earth" opened in Boston on Monday, and was visited by an immense crowd. This show will not exhibit in any other place in New England this season, being bound west as soon as it leaves Boston.

The first purchase made by the new Kronberg Mineral Association of Portland, Me., was the undivided lands of Shelburn, Coos county, containing 19,832 acres. One vein on this property is known to be from twelve to twenty-five feet in width, and extends a distance of over two miles. On a section of this property are located the famous Shelburn mines, which have been reported on so favorably by Profs. Jackson, Richardson, Hodge, True, Avery and Dr. Partz.

John Mack, a tramp, has been sentenced at Fitchburg, Mass., to one year in the house of correction under the new tramp law. He begged food, insulted people, and threatened to strike a lady with a stick.

The child of Mrs. Charles Bassett of Lakeville, Mass., was attacked by a cow on the 3d inst. and severely tossed, being seriously injured internally. The mother, who went to the rescue, was also attacked and badly hurt.

A man named Stewart, a brakeman at North Adams, Mass., had one leg cut off by a train on Friday night, because his foot got caught in a frog.

In a political discussion at Arrowrack, Mo., Sunday, Thos. Horne, a school teacher, shot John Taylor dead.

George Marsh, while hunting on Sunday morning at Northfield, Vt., received a severe and it is thought fatal wound. His gun exploded, driving the breech pin into his forehead, penetrating the substance of the brain two inches, and badly fracturing the skull.

Senator Booth of California has submitted to congress from the committee on patents a report against the extension of the reissued patent for sewing machines for boots and shoes, known as the McKay patent. The report says that the machine is rather the result of a marvelous ingenuity in combination than of original inventive genius. However great the merits of the machine it has been amply paid for, and belongs to the public. Estimating by the $600,000 dividends paid during the past year, the value of the extension sought would be $4,200,000. The business will continue to increase, and a reasonable calculation of profits would amount to $6,000,000.

Wm. A. Blancher, aged sixty-three years, is in jail at St. Johnsbury, Vt., because he could not pay his taxes.

New Hampshire Items.

Albert Hurley, aged ten years, fell from a building at Laconia, Sunday, receiving severe and perhaps fatal internal injuries.

John H. Laffan of Ellsworth, Me., an employee of the Berlin mills company at Gorham, was drowned in Magalloway river on Sunday.

The papers report that four black snakes, measuring over twenty feet in length, were recently killed at Newmarket junction, by George A. Leach.

Levi Davis, wife and daughter, of Wentworth, were thrown from a wagon Sunday. The ladies were slightly bruised, and Davis had several ribs broken and his spine injured. He may not recover.

Naval Gazette.

The Trenton arrived at Alexandria, Egypt, April 17th, and was to have left for Turkey about the 27th.

Schooner Lewis Ehrman, at Delaware breakwater on Sunday, reported that she spoke the U. S. S. Saratoga, steering east, in latitude 37 36, longitude 52 56, May 1st; all well.

The U. S. S. Enterprise sailed from Fortress Monroe on Saturday for Washington, and arrived Monday.

Political.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, (dem.,) places over its head-lines to its despatches giving the result of the Ohio democratic convention a large black "$" sign, and then proceeds with the following display heads: "He was there—So was the famous bar'l—With its patent bung-hole attachment—And its corps of able-bodied engineers—How it rolled straight through the convention—The wreath of laurel prepared for Senator Thurman—High-flown compliment and honeyed word—With sweet pie-crust promises of support at Cincinnati—The delegates instructed and requested to vote for him—And, by all the gods on high Olympus, they'll do it—Still the Usufruct will undoubtedly revert to Uncle Sammy."

—Talk is cheap—unless a lawyer does the talking.

—The civil engineer would like to be monarch of all he surveys.

—Oblige people to pay as they go, and the majority of them would go slow.

—A small boy has named his cat Young Republican, because he is a scratcher.

—He is not only idle who does nothing, but he is idle who might be better employed.

—Mississippi prisoners can take their choice, either to be hired out or to stay in jail on half rations.

—Three English sisters recently went to a fancy ball dressed as magpies. Three magpies portend a marriage, and the young ladies were welcomed, although their gowns of white satin trimmed with down, and worn with black shoes, stockings and gloves, were not especially pretty.

—Ask a man who don't advertise what he thinks of the business boom, and he will tell you it is all nonsense. Ask the same question of the man who does advertise and he will politely request you to call around after business hours, as he has no time to be interviewed. This is the experience of a Philadelphia reporter who has tried it.

500 Reward--Catarrh Cured.

Some people would rather be humbugged than to get "value received" for their money. Hence it is that such persons run after this and that pretended cure for catarrh, forgetting that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is so positive in its effects, that its former proprietor advertised it for years throughout the United States under a positive guarantee, offering $500 reward for an incurable case, and was never called upon to pay this reward except in two cases. This remedy has acquired such a fame that a branch office has been established in London, England, to supply the foreign demand for it. Sold by druggists at 30 cents.

UNABLE TO BREATHE THROUGH NOSE.

PORTLANDVILLE, IOWA, March 11th, 1879.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—Some time ago I bought a Douche, some of your Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Golden Medical Discovery and commenced to use them. The aches and pains as well as sore throat and catarrh from which I have been for so long a time a sufferer, have entirely left me with their use. I feel like a new man as well as look like one. For four years I was unable to breathe through my nose. From the use of the Catarrh Remedy I can now do so freely. Your medicines I know to be all that they are represented. Long live Dr. Pierce and the gentlemen connected with him. Gratefully yours,

WATSON SMITH.

—Iowa papers are telling a little story at the expense of a young business man who went to Des Moines the other day with the intention of returning the following evening, but his partner received a card from him stating that he had missed the train. The peculiar part of the story is that the postal arrived on the train that the young man "missed."

PAINS IN THE BACK. What they mean.—How cured. A poignant pressing pain in the "small of the back" is a dangerous symptom. It means approaching kidney trouble—possibly Bright's disease. It should not be neglected—not a day, not an hour. Fortunately, these symptoms are easily cured. Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is an absolute and unfailing specific for them, and for any diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver and urinary organs. A single bottle of Hunt's Remedy has many times saved a life. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—The angler's theory that a fish does not suffer much physical pain from a hook in his gills, or mental agony either, for that matter, is supported by the recent experience of a Strafford, Conn., fisherman. A large trout tore two hooks in quick succession from the line, and was finally pulled up on the third, with the first two in his stomach.

Pure Grape Wine.

A Committee from the Farmer's Club of the American Institute have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars and they report that the Port Grape Wine of Alfred Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey, is generally pronounced the most reliable wine to be obtained, and is now being used by physicians who are the most choice in the selection of wines for convalescent patients. The principal hospitals in New York have adopted this wine.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

—A committee of the magistrates of Kent, England, appointed to consider the best means of checking drunkenness, are of opinion that an inquiry is absolutely needed into the scientific adulteration of beer. They have reason to believe that if beer be brewed solely from malt and hops the amount of intoxication would be very sensibly diminished.

If You Are Sick, Read

the Kidney-Wort advertisement in another column, and it will explain to you the rational method of getting well. Kidney-Wort will save you more doctor's bills than any other medicine known. Acting with specific energy on the Kidneys and Liver, and cures the worst diseases caused by their derangement. Use it at once.

—The great Corliss engine, the center of attraction among the machinery exhibited at the centennial, has been bought by the Pullman palace car company for their works now going up at Chicago. The engine has been idle during these intervening years, and it is said that it did not prove the very profitable advertisement which Mr. Corliss hoped.

As a food and as a medicine nothing in medicine can compare with Malt Bitters.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB this writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 6

The Fate that Befell a Havana Merchant!

The New York papers are eagerly informing their readers that the following accident is likely to occur again at any time to any American as well as a Cuban or other foreigner. It seems that Senor Ricardo F. Kolly, a wealthy Havana merchant, with that spirit of enterprise which characterizes the nation that gave Christopher Columbus a great stake, sent to M. A. Dauphin, No. 419 Broadway, New York City, for a ticket in the April drawing of the world-wide famous Louisiana State Lottery, and received by return of mail No. 41,565, and learned by telegraph of his success in earning by his investment of $2 a sum of $30,000 in gold, worth in the debased Havana currency about $75,000 or $80,000. And now why are you not an imitator of this lofty Spaniard—Dear Reader.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. D&WlJan81

AROUND HOME.

Ten shares of Eastern railroad stock sold at $25 each, at the broker's board in Boston on Tuesday. The boom seems to be booming the wrong way.

Col. Dillon, of the 1st Reg't N. H. National Guards, was in this city on Tuesday, and inspected the several military organizations attached to the regiment.

The schooner Evergreen, which recently struck on the rocks at the Shoals, and bilged, is to be towed to this port, and will probably discharge her cargo of lumber at Adams & Co.'s wharf.

The bloom on the trees promises a fair crop of cherries this season, but the prospect for pears is not so good. After two such pear crops as those of last year and the year before, it is not to be wondered at if the trees should take a rest.

Mr. John Stetson, manager of the Globe theatre, Boston, is coming to this city Friday night with an excellent company to produce a new play entitled "Mother and Daughter." The fact that John Stetson has taken this piece in charge would seem to guarantee a first-class entertainment. Tickets for sale at Preston's drug store.

The regular monthly rehearsal of the Portsmouth Musical Asso'n will be held this (Wednesday) evening at the vestry of the Baptist church, on State street. All singers residing in the city and adjacent towns, who have not already done so, are invited to join the association. The director and managers are anxious for the success of a permanent organization here, and to make it a success each member must resolve to attend each rehearsal. Gentlemen who sing tenor are especially requested to be present, as the number of those singing that part is proportionately small to the other parts.

The mill at Greenland belonging to Mr. Joseph A. Holmes is quite an institution, and does a good deal of work. It is on the site of the mill formerly belonging to Mr. Thomas Pickering, which was a water mill until the muskrats opened the dam and let out all the water; Mr. Holmes put in an engine, and since then the mill has been built anew, and last February a new engine was put in. The mill is fitted with an elevator and other conveniences for doing a large amount of work. Mr. Holmes grinds for Robinson & Son and J. Brooks & Co., of this city.

Eastern railroad stock appears to be settling back to a market price nearer its value. There is not so much said about large sums being made on "Eastern" as was the case a few months since. Two of the directors have been to London recently, and perhaps there may something new to relate as to the connections of the road with the Grand Trunk, in the future. In the meantime the bonds are strong, this strength being based upon the largely increased earnings of the road, and the fact that the executive is in ability far ahead of any who have preceded in that office.

On Tuesday afternoon were consigned to their last resting place the mortal remains of Mrs. Mary L. Marston—a true woman, who, content to act well her part as wife, mother, friend and neighbor, ever brightened the little world with which she came in contact as she passed through it, and has left therein a sad void now that she has moved onward. As was appropriate to such a beautiful and unobtrusive character, the funeral service, conducted by Rev. James DeNormandie, was touchingly simple, consisting of the reading of selections of scripture, prayer, and the reading of "He giveth His beloved sleep"—a poem expressing the very soul of Christian resignation, trust and hope—closing with the benediction. Very beautiful too, and in exquisite taste, were the many floral tokens of filial affection, and of friendly sorrow and sympathy with the bereaved relatives.

Saturday, May 29th, will be observed as Memorial day in Dover, under the lead of the Grand Army post.

A trip through Greenland and Stratham discloses but few shabby houses or barns, and those few are generally receiving repairs. The live stock in these towns is generally fine, being mostly "grade" stock, and well fed and cared for by the thrifty farmers of this fertile region.

"Shadow," the Stratham correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter, is by no means an unsubstantial pretence, as he tips the scales at 260 lbs. It is said that he started out this spring to do a fine lot of grafting, but has not as yet got further than to collect a set of tools suitable to his size and vigor. Having secured a cross-cut saw, pitch kettle, beetle and wedges, and the other necessary paraphernalia of a boss grafter, he sallied forth and looked at all the trees on his place, but could find only one limb which he thought would bear him, and as that was on a pine tree and sixty feet from the ground he concluded not to do any grafting this year, and started the ox-cart back for the barn with the grafting tools. But just wait till next spring.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Lieut. Andrew P. Preston has been appointed chief of staff by Dr. Jas. R. May, the chief marshal for Memorial day ceremonies, and has accepted.

The Heavy Artillery and the Cavalry have voted to accept the invitation to parade on Memorial day as escort to the Grand Army. The City Guards have also passed a similar vote.

A SILLY PERFORMANCE.

The Dover Democrat says that Duncan Taylor of that city, who was drowned in the Cocheco river on Sunday afternoon last, by the capsizing of a boat, was badly intoxicated at the time, and his two companions were not much better. The deceased was forty years old, a member of the Masonic fraternity, and leaves a widow and one child. He was at one time worth $60,000, which he made by mining in Nova Scotia, but subsequently lost in speculation; after arriving in Dover he worked on the river improvements. The unfortunate man lost his life through his own idiotic folly in "rocking" the boat he was in to scare his companions—an exhibition of silly greenness not unfrequently indulged in by young fellows who wish to show off their bravery and skill in the presence of timid and admiring girls, but which is never practiced by old boatmen, and which Taylor was old enough to have known better than to engage in; the cockle-shell finally rolled over, Taylor went to the bottom, and one of his companions was so exhausted when rescued that he could have held on but a few moments longer. Taylor's body was recovered in about twenty minutes after the accident, sixty feet from where the boat capsized.

MAY TRAINING.

Tuesday was the day of the annual May training and inspection, and three of the local military companies turned out, viz., the Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin, the City Guards, Capt. James E. Ford, and the Heavy Artillery, Capt. Shirley B. Cunningham; and all made a good appearance. The Light Artillery did not parade.

The Cavalry turned out with thirty-five saddles filled, and proceeded to the Plains, where they went through the regular drill, after which they made a short parade through some of the principal streets; and although a large proportion of the horses were new to the business, the evolutions of the troop on Market square, after returning from the Plains, were performed with very creditable precision.

The City Guards paraded with ranks very well filled, when it is considered that many of the members are working men who cannot leave their employment during the day. After drill in marching and the manual of arms, both of which were well done—remarkably well, in view of the fact that the company has had no street drill for some time,—the company was inspected on Market square by Capt. Ford, and the arms and equipments found in good order.

The Heavy Artillery, besides the regular drill, which was well executed, as is usual with this organization, had a target shoot at the gravel pit on South street. The target was placed at two hundred yards distance, and nearly all the firing shew good line shooting. The best shot was made by Serg't Michael Crowley, and the second best by Joseph H. Randall. The leather medal, awarded to the poorest shot, was secured by John Griffin, who no doubt highly appreciates it, as he does the many other gifts he has received as marks of merit or public favor.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

On Tuesday the following named gentlemen were, on motion of District Attorney Ray, admitted to practice in the circuit court of the United States: Charles A. Dole, Esq., of Lebanon, George E. Cochrane of Farmington, Herbert F. Norris of Epping.

Lyman Bridge Co. and Asa T. Barron, surviving partner of A. T. & O. F. Barron, pliffs. in interes', vs. the town of Lebanon. This is a removed case, an appeal from the award of commissioners for damages in laying out a highway over the bridge of the pliff. The Bridge Co. is a corporation chartered by the laws of this state, but its owner is Mr. Barron. The Bridge Co. was incorporated in 1836, and has been a close corporation. The Barrons bought the property in 1866, and retained possession until 1876, when they were summoned into court under a quo warranto. The question argued was as to the right of the plaintiff to transfer this case to the courts, the defendants moving to remand to the state court. The court intimated that the motion should be granted, but did not announce a decision. I. L. Spring for plaintiff; H. S. Clark for deft.

Perkins vs. Nashua Card & Glazed Paper Co. Bill in equity upon a patent machine for rolling card board. The question at issue related to whether the machine patented had been in what is termed "public use." The machine was first made in 1857, and in 1863 Mr. Perkins substituted for it another varying in form and proportions, but not in principle. The patent was applied for in 1876, and the machine in the meantime stood in a room, with other machines used in making pasteboard, where it could be observed by workmen operating the other machines or passing through the room, in a factory at Roxbury, and as well by occasional visitors at the place. The question was as to the invention being in public use before Perkins applied for his patent, and upon this question the court held that the public had sufficient means of knowledge of the invention to render it unpatentable. The bill is dismissed, with costs. Geo. D. Noyes of Boston for pliff.; H. S. Clark for deft.

Healey & Son vs. Cocheco National bank, writ dated Sept. 1, 1879. Trover for 400 sides of sole leather sold to one C. W. Thurston through a man named Currier. Thurston was business agent or manager of a boot and shoe company, and shipped to the Wolfeboro' Boot & Shoe Co., care of C. W. Thurston. Thurston was a director of the bank, and a partner of the firm of W. H. Thurston & Co., a shoe manufacturing company of Dover. Jan. 10th, 1879, the bank commenced a suit against the company, and attached the property at Wolfeboro'. The question is as to the ownership of this leather. The plaintiffs claim the leather under their rights of stoppage in transitu, and on the ground of a fraudulent purchase. The case occupied the day, the evidence of the plaintiffs not having been finished at the adjournment. Thos. J. Smith, of Dover, for plaintiffs; S. M. Wheeler of Dover for defendant.

The trial will be resumed this morning at nine o'clock.

William Fuller of Pembroke was arraigned upon an indictment charging him with being illegally a retail dealer in spirituous liquors at Pembroke, and pleaded not guilty. His counsel, Mr. Norris, moved for a continuance to the October term, and read an affidavit in support of the motion. The continuance was granted.

Everett I. Ober and Peter D. Perean, both of Pembroke, were arraigned upon indictments charging them with being retail dealers in liquors without payment of a special tax as required by law. They each pleaded not guilty.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The steam-launch built on Badgers's island by Mr. Charles L. Duncan of Kittery was put in the water on Tuesday. She "sits like a duck" on the water, and so far as model is concerned should travel well when she gets her engine in.

The schooner Horatio Nichols, Sturgis master, which was wrecked on both sides of the river below Exeter some weeks ago—her bow on one side and her stern on the other—was towed down on Monday by the Mystic, and on Tuesday was lying at Neal's wharf, Kittery, with a powerful steam pump constantly going to keep her afloat. She is badly strained, evidently, but the full amount of her injuries cannot be ascertained until she is hauled out on the railway.

The Cutts place on the seashore at Kittery, recently purchased by Mr. Thaxter, is being greatly improved, and the buildings thoroughly renovated or replaced by new ones. The old house has been taken down, and a fine modern dwelling is going up on its site; a new and much larger house is to be put up on an eminence called Sea hill, which command an unrivalled view of shore and ocean, five beacon lights being visible from it on clear nights; the old barn is being repaired and enlarged; the walls at the entrance to the place are to be rebuilt in graceful curves, trees and shrubs are to be planted wherever good taste may dictate, and no effort will be spared to make the place a first class and most attractive summer residence. A large number of carpenters, masons and laborers are engaged in making these improvements. Mrs. Thaxter made a brief visit to the island at the commencement of this month, and Mr. Thaxter is now residing there. Along the sea face of Cutts' and Gerrish's islands can be found some of the finest sites for summer residences this side of Mt. Desert, and it is surprising that they had not attracted attention until recently.

— It is good in a fever and much better in anger, to have the tongue kept clean and smooth.

Is Mars Inhabited?

There is no other planet of the solar system which offers so close an analogy to the earth as Mars. The telescope reveals to us the figures of broad tracts of land and expanses of sea upon its surface. The durations of his day and night almost coincide with our own. His exterior experiences the alternating changes of the seasons. His nights are illumined by two satellites, which present all the phenomena of our own moon, and more frequently, owing to their greater velocity. An atmosphere probably surrounds this planet; in fact, the existence of air is indispensible to his other features. Hence, the inference that Mars is a habitable globe appears a very obvious and fair conclusion, and it would be inconsistent to imagine that this planet, provided, apparently, with all the requisite natural facilities to render life a necessary and desirable feature of his surface, is a sphere of desolation, a mass of inert matter, which, though conforming to the laws of gravitation, is otherwise serving no useful end as the abode and sustenance of animated creatures. It is far more in accordance with analogy and rational speculation to conclude that Mars is the center of life and activity, and that his surface is teeming with living beings. —Science For All.

Nothing Wasted.

There is a beef packing company at Rockport, Arkansas county, Texas, owned and run by Boston men, who market the products in the New England states, Europe and the English navy. The factory kills an average of 31,500 grass-fed beeves a year, and finds a ready market for their products. Every part of the beef is utilized, even to the tufts of the tails, which are all preserved and sold, it is thought for the purpose of making ladies' frizzes. The blood flows into tanks and is dressed and sold at two cents a pound for the manufacture of artificial fertilizers. The lean beef is boiled and canned in two-pound cans. The hides are salted and sold green. The fatty matter is all extracted and goes to make tallow. The bones are all boiled to a pulp to extract the fatty matter, which goes to tallow, and the dry bone, mainly phosphate of lime, is sold for fertilizing, at one cent a pound. The water in which the meat is boiled is boiled down and evaporated to a thick paste, which is canned and sold as "extract of beef," in fifty pound cans. The feet are cut off at the knee, and from the hoof "neat's foot" oil is extracted. The horny part of the foot, the shin bone and the knuckle bones of the feet, are extracted and sold in the east for the manufacture of Yankee ivory. The horns are piled up until the pith becomes loose, and then this is added to the fertilizers, and the bones sold for manufacture. Every atom of the animal is used.—New England Homestead.

The Snow-Breaker.

The loose snow drifts deeply between Truckee and Sierraville. The mail is carried tri-weekly; hence the road has to be travelled one way each day. During the heavy winter weather the sleigh which carries the mail is drawn by three horses driven tandem. By this means a single broad path is beat in the middle of the road. When the storms are raging it is necessary to carry the mail on horseback. Its average weight is from 100 to 150 pounds each trip. The mail-bags are strapped on two horses, which are led by the driver. Sol Rosseau, who rides a third horse, A fourth horse, with only a halter on, is turned loose to break the road. This horse is kept for this sole purpose, and is called the "snow-breaker." For six winters this animal has travelled the Sierra Valley road. Turned loose at either Truckee or Sierraville, he will at once set out upon his dreary journey. The winds obliterate all traces of the narrow path, but with marvellous instinct the horse follows its every turn and winding. Sometimes the huge drifts bewilder him for a moment, and, missing the hard beaten path, he sinks out of sight in the loose snow. Out of sight is used quite literally, for it frequently occurs that his body is completely covered and his head alone is above the surface. If he knows on which side the trail lies he will plunge and struggle to regain his foothold. If, as sometimes occurs, he is confused as to the proper direction, he possesses the wonderful instinct of keeping perfectly quiet until the driver dismounts from his horse and comes forward to point out the road. By means of a long stick the driver finds the trail, and beating a path for a few feet in front of the disconfisted snow-breaker, speaks an encouraging word to the poor animal. Every nerve and muscle is immediately strained to regain the lost path, and the horse again resumes his task as guide. This snow-breaker seems to possess almost human intelligence. Neither darkness nor storms ever daunt him or cause him to be misled more than a few feet. When in doubt he will take little short steps scarcely six inches in length, and each foot feels for the hard-beaten ledge which forms the path.—Truckee Republican.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, as aided by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the Resolvent as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians failed.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then discharged as incurable, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had. When a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight weeks being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their cognizance and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros' Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who doubt this assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled "THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, OR SELF-PRESERVATION."

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundred edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrate ed sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

Pleasant as the taste; Effective without griping.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent pill and other Liver Cathartics, one REGULATED PRUNE acts as a mild laxative, or two larger ones act as a mild laxative or cathartic, as may be required. No bad effects follow. Unlike other cathartics, they are not followed by costiveness, but are agreeable and healthy. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation, from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Spring Water, warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their rich nose in Bone and Tissue Producing Material, than all other forms of malt liquors, ale, porter, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "Bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and depressed coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, uterative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, overwhelmed, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irregular in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, gives health, appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and debilitation of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of all secretive weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, one of which years any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

A Deadly Shell.

A terrible explosion occurred late Tuesday afternoon, the 11th inst., just outside the north wall of Fort McHenry, at Baltimore, which resulted in the instant killing of six persons, and the wounding of two others. David R. Shannon & Co., junk dealers, purchased a quantity of condemned shells at the fort, and took part of them outside to break up. Francis G. Shannon, Witherman Bush, John Farble and Henry Hamlin were the men engaged in the work, and Robert Steinman, a boy named John Burke and an unknown boy, a German, were present looking on. An anvil was used for breaking, and one of the men held the shells on it with his hands while another struck them with a heavy sledge hammer. Before the shells were subjected to blows from the sledge, water was poured upon them. One or two shells had been broken, when a policeman appeared and warned them of the danger. Shortly after this a shell was struck and exploded, when the boy Burke, Bush, Farble, Steinman and the German who was present, and also the other boy, were instantly killed, and Shannon and Hamlin were severely wounded. The bodies of all the killed were badly mutilated, and that of the unknown German who stood near was literally blown to atoms. Portions of his body were found in every direction, and the largest part found was an arm. An official investigation will be made. The report of the explosion was heard five miles.

500 Reward—Catarrh Cured.

Some people would rather be humbugged than to get "value received" for their money. Hence it is that such persons run after this and that pretended cure for catarrh, forgetting that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is so positive in its effects, that its former proprietor advertised it for years throughout the United States under a positive guarantee, offering $500 reward for an incurable case, and was never called upon to pay this reward except in two cases. This remedy has acquired such a fame that a branch office has been established in London, England, to supply the foreign demand for it. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

UNABLE TO BREATHE THROUGH NOSE.

PORTLANDVILLE, IOWA, March 11th, 1879.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—Some time ago I bought a Douche, some of your Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Golden Medical Discovery and commenced to use them. The aches and pains as well as sore throat and catarrh from which I have been for so long a time as suffered, have entirely left me with their use. I feel like a new man as well as look like one. For four years I was unable to breathe through my nose. From the use of the Catarrh Remedy I can now do so freely. Your medicines I know to be all that they are represented. Long live Dr. Pierce and the gentlemen connected with him. Gratefully yours,

WATSON SMITH.

On the Anxious Seat.

There is quite a commotion at Concord, regarding the possibility of the Old Colony railroad obtaining a controlling influence in the direction of the Concord railroad corporation at its approaching annual meeting on the 25th inst. The purpose is to control the New York business as against the Worcester and Nashua line. Francis B. Hayes, Esq., of the Old Colony road, is said to be upon the slate for director, and other changes in the board are suggested. Taking all things into consideration, the position of some of the directors and employees just at this time, is far from a happy one.

A Crowd of Roughs Baffled.

A gang of ruffians from New York, filling four steamboats and a fleet of small boats, attempted to land in the province of Ontario on the 11th inst., to see a prize fight between two brutes named Donovan and Rooke; but the sheriff of the province, with twelve special constables and a company of militia, prevented their landing, and they were compelled to return to the American shore.

A Loving Wife.

Edwin Hoyt, condemned to be hung at Bridgeport, Conn., May 13th, for the murder of his father, was visited on the 10th by his wife, for the first time since his arrest. After taking leave of him she asked to see the inclosure built for his execution, and remarked that she "was glad he was to be hanged, and would like to see him hanging there then."

News and Notes.

Among the jurors selected on the 10th inst. for the May term of city and state courts in Baltimore, Md., were two colored men, being the first time men of color were put on juries in the city courts.

A dispute between a railroad company in California, and men who have settled on lands in Tulare and Presno counties claimed by the railroad, resulted a few days ago in a fight between the settlers and a posse sent to eject them, and four men were killed and two wounded.

In Coventry, R. I., on the 8th inst., George Watson, a farmer, moved part of his goods to a house a short distance from his residence, and for security decided to remain with them over night. Not returning next morning his family sought him and found only the chimney of the house standing, and his half-burnt body in the cellar. The mysterious affair causes some excitement. An inquest will be held. Watson had a small amount of money on his person, when he left home.

Crowds of men and women filled the hall at Waterbury, Vt., on the 11th inst., to attend the examination of Almon and Lucy Meaker, for the murder of Alice Meaker, until the staircase settled four inches, and the sheriff proclaimed that the hall was in danger of breaking down. The proceedings were often interrupted by cries of "Hang her," etc. Many witnesses testified, corroborating the account of the affair already published. At the conclusion of the hearing both prisoners were bound over for trial at the county court.

It has been revealed at the Methodist Episcopal general conference that the sixteen thousand churches of the denomination in this country owe $7,000,000, or an average of $1,400 each. The bishops severely censure the practice of mortgaging the church property to pay current expenses.

An explosion of five boxes (nearly 100 pounds) of giant powder occurred at the blacksmith shop of the High Lode mine, Central City, Dakota, on the morning of the 11th inst., instantly killing Samuel Kimble, foreman of the mine, and Joseph Trudell and Jonas Gilmore, employes. Their bodies were fearfully torn to pieces, and the country for a mile square was strewn with small fragments of flesh and ruins of the shop. Kimble and Gilmore hailed from Janesville, Wis.

The Indians in New Mexico are causing great alarm. A number of citizens and settlers have been killed and horribly mutilated. The citizens have taken up arms, and a fight with a band of two hundred red men is expected.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was reported to the national house with the approval of every member of the committee—something which is said to have never occurred before. The bill appropriates about $16,000,000.

The Chicago Times says that a few weeks ago an engine started on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad for the locality of a wreck, with Superintendent Parsons in the cab, the distance to be run being six miles; that the engineer opened the throttle wide, and the superintendent took out his stop-watch and timed the run, and that the speed was at the rate of eighty-one miles per hour. The engine—one of the best on the road—rocked and rolled about so fearfully that the men were "almost seasick," and the engineer, one of the oldest and bravest in the service, showed a ghastly face at the end of the run.

The United States consul at Buenos Ayres, in a despatch dated March 6th, represents the excitement over the approaching presidential election in Buenos Ayres so great as to almost paralyze business, and presage civil war.

Great Britain spent in beer and spirits last year £14,045,036 less than in 1878. This will seem encouraging to the advocates of temperance, but it is no doubt owing chiefly to hard times, and when money becomes more plentiful, there will be a corresponding relapse from the comparative sobriety which has prevailed. The same phenomenon was seen in this country, rather to the discomfiture of those who believe in prohibition and who have not lately quoted any statistics. We believe the cause of temperance, if not of total abstinence, to be gaining steadily, but very slowly, and the difference noticed from year to year in sales and arrests are due to simple natural causes.

Four thousand horses, 6,000 Martini rifles and 130,000 cartridges have lately arrived at Scutari for the Albanians, who now occupy the whole territory from Scutari and Prisrend to Kavaja. The Turkish officers and men are everywhere fraternizing with them.

By the explosion of a dynamite magazine belonging to the St. Gothard railway contractors, at Fardo, Switzerland, on the 8th inst., three persons were killed and twenty injured. Several of the injured are not expected to recover.

Political.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says: "The opposition to the movement to unseat Kellogg comes very largely from the democratic side, and it looks now as though most of the speeches in answer to Senators Vest, Vance and Hill would be by democrats. Among those who will speak against the report of the elections committee will be Senators Wade Hampton, Bayard and Thurman."

The Massachusetts greenbackers held their state convention on the 11th inst. Hon. E. Moody Boynton was president, and delegates to the national convention of the party were appointed.

A legal document was presented to the superior court in San Francisco on Monday, the 10th inst., asking the removal of Mayor Kalloch for malfeasance in office. The charges are that he has unlawfully received money as rewards for appointing five men in the sheriff's office, six in the registrar's office, and other persons in city employ. Charges are also made of inciting the sand-lotters to an outbreak.

Before the senate committee investigating New York election frauds one witness swore that he answered for seventy-five applicants for naturalization papers.

New Hampshire Items.

The adjourned hearing before the board of referees on the appeal of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad from the assessment of a tax by the state equalization board, was held at Concord on the 11th inst. The board decided to proceed over the line of the road with the officers, counsel and stenographer, after which the remaining portion of the evidence will be taken as soon as possible, and the board will make their report to the full bench of the supreme court in June.

On Saturday, the 8th inst., in sober earnest, Joseph Bouchee of Nashua pounded his wife in a most shocking manner, and all because she refused to tell a lie to save him four dollars rent. He also threatened to kill her, and would doubtless have endeavored to make good his threat had the officers failed to get on his track. In the police court on the following Monday morning he pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20, the costs of court, and furnish security in the sum of $200 for his good behavior for a period of one year. He was committed to jail.

A set of farm buildings on the Widow Blodgett place in Londonderry were burned on the night of the 10th inst. The fire originated in the barn, and consumed a quantity of hay, tools, four horses, three cows and other live stock. Loss estimated at $8,000; insured $2,000.

Extensive forest fires raged in the vicinity of the Twin Mountain house, Littleton, on Monday night, May 10th. Henry Joy and Mr. Baldwin lost about 3,000 cords of wood. Partially insured.

Two Favors of Fortune.

A very curious, but undoubtedly true story is reported from Linden, Wyoming county, N. Y., on the Buffalo division of the Erie railway. Three or four years ago an old farmer named Michael Hyde, living near that place, died, leaving a farm, incumbered with a mortgage of $600, to his widow and son. His widow then was over seventy-five years of age, and his son was fifty and totally blind. He has been blind since he was ten years of age, having had the sight of the right eye destroyed by running a stick in it, and the other being blinded by a cataract. Old Mr. Hyde had been a soldier in the Mexican war, and a son had been killed in the war of the rebellion. A year ago, old Mrs. Hyde and her blind son being in very destitute circumstances, so that they were unable to work the farm profitably, friends interested themselves in trying to obtain her a pension from the government.

The mortgage on the farm was to fall due this spring, and no return from the pension matter having been received, Mrs. Hyde and her son had given up all hope of saving their home, and recently began to prepare for spending the remainder of their days in the poorhouse. Michael Hyde could get about sufficiently to chop wood and do little chores about the house. A few days ago he was cutting wood on the wood-pile, when a chip flew up and struck him on the ball of the left eye. He covered his eye quickly with his hand to ease the pain. When he removed his hand, he was astonished to find that he could distinguish objects in front of him, and before he reached the house he could see quite plainly. At present his sight seems to be entirely restored to the left eye. Only the day after this singular change in the condition of Michael, a lawyer who had conducted the pension business for Mrs. Hyde, called at the farm and paid her $1,200 pension money.

—A five-year-old daughter of one of our citizens remarked to him, in the presence of company, at breakfast, "You mustn't go off without kissing me, papa." "I never forget to do it, do I?" he asked, surprised. "You may not forget it, but sometimes you go off mad, you know," she artlessly replied. The company consulted their coffee.—Danbury News.

—The Princess Pauline of Wurtemburg was married at Carlsruhe a few days ago to Dr. Wilm, a medical practitioner of Breslau. The lady abandons her princely title. When the young doctor first ventured to ask the Grand Duke of Wurtemberg for his daughter's hand, he replied that such an alliance would be impossible. Later on, moved by the importunities of the lover and of his daughter, he said that he would give his consent provided the Emperor William would agree to such a mes-alliance being contracted. This was obtained, and the loving couple were united. One of the stories in circulation is that he and the princess have been in love with each other from childhood.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain. "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. tthSt

AROUND HOME.

The Concord railroad has recently built and put in service a new freight engine named "Suncook."

The operatives in Sawyer's mills, Dover, are now working over time to enable the mills to meet their large orders ahead for goods.

Work has been commenced upon the foundation of the projected building for the Portsmouth Shoe Factory Co., on Islington street.

The number of goslings hatched out in the towns in this vicinity, on both sides of the river, is said to be much greater this year than ever before.

Before Col. Cushing returns to this city he will secure some of the best talent available in the circus business, for Messrs. Leopold and Guppy, who open the season in this city in a very short time.—Dover Democrat.

E. H. Winchester's new house, now in course of construction at his farm on Lafayette road, is in frame, and will be one of the best-built houses erected in Portsmouth for many a day.

The baggage-masters and brakemen in the employ of the Eastern railroad were agreeably surprised, when paid off for the month of April, to receive a ten per cent addition to their wages.

The Dover Point house has been leased by its owner, Mr. Parker Spinney, to Daniel C. Wiggin, who will open it for "the season" on the 1st of June. The house will be thoroughly refitted and refurnished before that date.

The waterlogged schooner Evergreen, of St. Andrews, N. B., Chase master, was on Tuesday of this week towed in from the Shoals, where she had been ashore, by the tug Clara Bateman, and anchored in the lower harbor; she came up to this city on Wednesday, and moored at Adams & Co.'s wharf.

The schooner Horatio Nichols was hauled out on the railway at Kittery on Wednesday morning of this week. Her stem and keel are pretty much gone—but being a converted canal boat she probably never had a great deal of keel—and the water poured out of her through every seam as she was drawn out on the ways.

The schooner Bonita, of Gloucester, Mass., a vessel of about twenty tons register, arrived at Kittery on Wednesday afternoon of this week for repairs, having evidently had a sharp collision with something, as her starboard bow was stove in from the stem to abaft the fore rigging, the hole reaching down to the water's edge. The crew report that she was run down at about two o'clock that morning, while lying at anchor off the Nubble. The vessel which hit her was the Fannie Barney, Higgins master, from Rockland for this port with lime, which arrived on the same day with her bowsprit gear somewhat demoralized.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

The trail of Healey and others vs. the Cocheco National bank was resumed on Wednesday morning. The plaintiff's evidence closed at twelve o'clock, and Mr. Wheeler opened the case for the defendants. Mr. Wheeler stated his views of the law applicable to this case, and denied that the bank had in any manner had anything to do with using this leather, and received no part of its proceeds. Mr. Chas. W. Thurston, of Dover, testified as to the history of the purchase in controversy, and the losses in business which preceded the failure of Thurston & Co. The evidence was closed at the adjournment on Wednesday evening, and the case is to be argued this morning.

E. I. Ober and Peter D. Pereau asked to have the indictments against them continued to the October term, on the ground that they expected to shew that the United States witnesses in this case were not entitled to credit. Cases continued, on stipulation that the United States should not be called upon to summon the respondents' witnesses, at the next term, as applied for at this term by the respondents. Sulloway and Topliff for the respondents.

PORTSMOUTH AND DOVER RAILROAD.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, duly called, and holden at the Common Council room in the city of Portsmouth, N. H., on Wednesday, May 12th, 1880, at three o'clock P. M., the following votes and resolutions were unanimously passed:

1. Whereas, The arbitrators to whom were referred all questions between this corporation and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire and the Eastern Railroad Company, relative to the cost of construction of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, have awarded and determined such cost up to January first, 1880, to be the sum of seven hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars,

Voted, That the capital stock of this corporation authorized by the charter and several amendments thereto, to the amount of eight hundred thousand dollars, be reduced to seven hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars, and the number of shares therein be reduced to seven thousand six hundred and ninety, so that the capital stock shall be fixed and limited at seven hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars, divided into seven thousand six hundred and ninety shares of one hundred dollars each.

2. Whereas, By the award of the arbitrators to whom were referred all questions between this corporation and the Eastern Railroad Company and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire relative to the cost of construction of this road and the mutual claims of the parties against each other, it has been determined that the Eastern Railroad Company is entitled to receive from this corporation for their claim the sum of $11,200.00, which sum is to be added to the cost of construction already paid and to the stock issued; and

Whereas, The Eastern Railroad Company having been offered their choice either to take cash or stock in this corporation to that amount or to settle the matter by cancelling the claim without the issue of more stock, elect to take cash.

Voted, That the Directors be authorized to issue one hundred and twelve shares of stock in addition to the shares already issued, giving to the present stockholders the right to take the same, for fifteen days from date, at par, in the proportion of one new share for every sixty-eight shares now holden by them respectively, giving to the holders of a less number of shares than sixty-eight a fractional right to a share, in the proportion that his number of shares bears to sixty-eight shares, and the treasurer is directed to issue to any person presenting sixty-eight rights one new share of said stock at par.

Voted, That after the lapse of fifteen days the treasurer be authorized to sell at par any shares of said stock not taken by the present stockholders.

Voted, That the treasurer through the counsel of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad collect the amount awarded against said Eastern Railroad Company, and pay from the same the sum awarded in favor of said Eastern Railroad Company against this road.

3. Voted, That out of the balance collected of said Eastern Railroad Company all expenses of the suit against said Eastern Railroad Company and Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire be first paid, and that the directors be instructed to declare a dividend of one dollar per share to be paid from said balance as soon as may be, and that when said new issue of stock shall have been sold the directors be instructed to declare out of the proceeds of said sale and any balance in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, such further dividends as said sum will warrant.

Resolved, That the thanks of this corporation be tendered to the counsel who conducted our case and represented us in our suit and hearing before the referees against the Eastern Railroad Company and the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, for the able and successful manner in which they managed our cause; and we congratulate them and ourselves upon the happy termination of our difficulties, recognizing, in their labor, services and skill which money cannot compensate.

Voted, That the above votes and resolution be published in the PORTSMOUTH DAILY CHRONICLE and in Foster's Democrat of Dover, and that copies thereof be sent to the city clerks of Portsmouth and Dover. Attest, CALVIN PAGE, Clerk.

BAND OF HOPE FESTIVAL.

A happier company than the members of the Band of Hope can seldom be found, especially when there is a prospect of "coffee and doughnuts" and a programme filled with "little speeches" and songs; and the festival on Tuesday evening of this week was an occasion of rare enjoyment. About one hundred and ninety were present to do full justice to the good things provided by the friends of the cause.

After supper the hall was cleared, and the children were entertained with singing, recitations, dialogues and readings. J. Byron Shannon, a little boy not yet three years old, told the story of David and Goliath so that all present could hear and understand, and Hannah Annable, a young lady who has not yet ended her third year, gave a very pleasant recitation; two young misses presented a dialogue written by themselves, and a dialogue written by Mrs. Hooper, in which several took part, was also produced; Miss Deverson and Miss White gave select readings; and Mr. C. W. Gardner talked to the children of "King Conscience," and the necessity of cultivating a genial and pleasant disposition. Several pieces were sung during the evening, and each and all were well pleased with the entertainment. Miss Lizzie Ham, daughter of Mr. Geo. Ham, was to have given a recitation, but owing to an inadvertence the company were deprived of the pleasure of hearing her.

At present the Band of Hope is cared for by the Woman's Temperance League, with Mrs. Hooper as superintendent, and names are being added to the roll every week. The children should be encouraged in our city as they are in Concord and many other places, where the wealthy and those in a condition to help are always willing to contribute of their means to support the work: surely it is for the interest of the city and of the community at large to have the young grow up with good and health-inviting habits. We trust some will be moved to aid the children's cause, so that the work can be carried on as it ought to be. The band holds weekly meetings in Bow mission hall, on Saturday afternoons at three o'clock, and parents are requested to let their children attend the services. The following is the children's pledge:

I solemnly promise to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors as a drink, from the use of tobacco in every form, and from all profanity. I further pledge myself to do all in my power to protect dumb animals from cruelty in any and every form. COM.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The steam brick-yard at York has started up, after lying idle for several years.

On Sunday, the 9th inst., nineteen persons were baptized in the Salmon Falls river at South Berwick.

Otis Rossy, formerly proprietor of the Spring hotel in Kennebunkport, dropped dead in that town on Saturday, the 8th inst.

George H. Tibbets of South Berwick was killed in Windsor, N. S., a few days ago, by falling down the hatchway of the brig Abbie Clifford.

The street commissioner of Biddeford is no doubt the strongest man in the state of Maine. The Biddeford Times says he "has thrown a cross-walk over Vetromile street."

Mr. Joshua Frye, of Eliot, has this spring sewed half an acre of ground with onion seed. If he makes this venture a success, he will next season plant five acres with the same fragrant fruit.

A meeting of the trustees of the York county agricultural society was held at Biddeford on the 10th inst., and it was voted that the usual premiums on crops, vegetables, fruits, and the various kinds of stock to be exhibited at the cattle show and fair to be held in Biddeford, should be offered, a list of the same and date of the exhibition to be announced at a future time; and competitors were requested to govern themselves accordingly. The treasurer of the society is now prepared to pay all unpaid premiums awarded at the exhibition of 1879.

The contest between the city government of Biddeford and Rev. H. A. Wales' fusion politico-religious society, regarding the lease of the city hall, has been amicably adjusted. The society is to occupy the hall the remainder of this month, or until the injunction is dissolved by limitation, which will be at the close of the coming session of the court in York county. The society is then to surrender the lease. Mr. Wales will then take a vacation until the first of July, when his society will open again in the new hall in Marble block. This proposition came from the society, and was accepted by the city.

Naval Gazette.

The Alert arrived at Yokohama, Japan, on the 15th ult.

The Nipsic arrived at Gibraltar on the 3d inst.

The senate has confirmed the following nominations: Capt. R. B. Lowry to be commodore; Commander Wm. A. Kirkland to be captain; Lieut. C. H. Craven to be commander; Lieut. Charles M. Thomas to be lieutenant commander; Master M. Fisher Wright to be lieutenant; Ensign A. L. Case to be master.

Mr. Blaine has introduced in the United States senate a bill providing for referring the claims of the captors of the rebel ram Albemarle to the court of claims.

The committee on naval affairs of the national house of representatives, to whom was referred a bill for the relief of Commodore Donald McNeill Fairfax, recommend the passage of the bill. The committee say: "The authority given by the bill enables the President to render to this officer an act of justice. Some years since, when ordered before an examining board for promotion to the rank of commodore, he, with some other officers, when called upon to undergo an examination such as is made in cases of junior officers, protested, and declined to submit to it, in as much as it was contrary to previous practice, and, as they believed, the law. Pending this protest other officers were examined and promoted. Subsequently Fairfax submitted, was examined and promoted, but in the mean time, had lost some three or four numbers. He now seeks to be restored to his original position. This, in view of the facts and present regulations, the committee think should be done."

The house naval committee have reported favorably on the bill to restore Captain Somerville Nicholson to the active list of the navy, to take rank next after Capt. Clark H. Wells.

Hon. Eugene Schuyler writes from Rome that he has received proposals from Messrs. Joseph Seligman & Company, the well-known publishers at Stockholm, Sweden, for permission to translate and publish his life of Peter the Great, now running in Scribner's Monthly, in the Swedish language, and from the house of Schmitzdorff & Co., St. Petersburg, for permission to publish in the Russian language. It is probable that, on its completion in Scribner, the work will be published simultaneously in at least five countries, and perhaps more.

A NOTABLE EVENT!

Mrs. S. A. Allen's

WORLD'S

Hair Restorer

IS PERFECTION.

A Noble Record: near Half a Century. Established 1832. Improved 1869.

The nature of the great improvement is in its wonderful life-properties to faded or fading hair, and MORE QUICKLY CHANGING GRAY OR WHITE HAIR to its natural youthful COLOR and BEAUTY.

IT IS NOT A DYE.

It requires only a few applications to restore gray hair to a natural color and lustre, leaving it soft and full of luxuriant growth, and the expression of youthfulness is needed to preserve it in its vigorous perfection and beauty. DANDRUFF is quickly and permanently removed.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10th.

The heated term, which has now fairly set in, promises to have a decided influence in driving congress home. For the last few days it has been very warm, more like July than early May. Whatever doubts had existed in the minds of some members as to the policy of getting away very soon, this weather has dispelled, and they have determined to go to work with energy to make up for lost time. You may look for some hasty and careless legislation for the next three weeks, or have no legislation at all of consequence except the appropriation bills.

The attempt to unseat Kellogg seems to have been practically abandoned, Senator Hill has lost hope of its success, and it is said will be contented with making his speech against Kellogg, and going home without the accomplishment of his darling object.

It is again reported that the President is disposed to appoint Postmaster James of New York to the position of postmaster general. But it can be repeated with confidence that Mr. James does not want the place.

Fernando Wood seems to have abandoned his refunding measure for the present session, and shrewd observers think it is a final abandonment, as in the present prosperous condition of business it will be impossible to place government bonds at a lower rate than four per cent.

The events of the last week in the republican canvass have caused a good deal of excitement. The tide has unmistakably been against Grant and the third term. So many of the Pennsylvania and New York delegates have bolted their Grant instructions, and come out for Blaine, that it is useless longer for Conkling and Cameron to deny the revolt. Added to this fact, the division among the southern delegates to Chicago, who were confidently counted by the Grant folks, and the loss of the Chicago districts to the Grant column the past week, are stunning blows at the third term boom.

In democratic politics there has been a lull for the past few days, perhaps because of the greater interest in the republican canvass. Speaker Randall is quoted as saying that Tilden will be nominated on the first ballot; but other democrats, just as sharp as Randall, "poob, pooh!" that idea, and the drift is towards some other outlook. Knox.

A Rich Miner's Suit.

A Colorado miner, aged thirty, who wore rough clothes but had an honest face, arrived in Chicago recently, deposited $50,000 in a bank and took a room in a fashionable hotel where there was a society belle, beautiful, accomplished and refined. He fell in love with her at sight. He went to the proprietor of the hotel and asked the favor of an introduction to the lady. "Tell her," said he, "that I may be rough-looking and badly-dressed, but I've travelled a good deal and I know what's what. I've got the cash, and my intentions are honorable. Tell her to get ready in a week if possible, and to draw on me for any amount if she wants to. But she must get ready in a week. Tell her that I mean business. There are not many ladies out where I live, but I rather guess I can make her happy."

The message was carried to the young lady, who returned an unfavorable reply to the eccentric suitor. He was somewhat disheartened, but far from being crushed. He felt quite sure that his personal appearance must have found favor in her eyes. Perhaps she did not believe he had the "dust." Well, she should see. He offered to send up to her his bank book, showing that he actually had on deposit at the First National bank, the sum of $50,000. She would have nothing to do with him or his bank book. There was what he looked upon as a last plan, only to be resorted to in a desperate contingency, and that was to see her father and obtain his aid in winning the daughter. He did so, but instead of asking for her hand, he simply requested the privilege of corresponding with her for a few months "with a view to matrimony." The father referred the matter to his daughter, but she laughingly refused to grant even this boon. The victim of unrequited affection took his departure for Colorado, with the promise of returning within a year, and once more trying his fortune.

The sum of $4000 has been raised for a public monument to Senator Morton of Indiana, which is to be erected at Indianapolis.

Matt Bitters regulate, purify, strengthen and nourish the maternal functions.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Wheat Germ, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Invigorating and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Materials, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, such as "bloat," "drink," "intoxication," "headache," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, muscular and sanguineous systems. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia, stomach and liver, bronchitis and throat troubles, coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, nervative weakness of females, exhausting nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS' SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, purifies the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system, cures the weakness and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Shakers' Sarsaparilla, of Canterbury, I prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the preparation, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. Snidge, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twelve years, and have always found it the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the Best as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla; none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, JOSEPH WOODS, Trustees.

SMITH'S MEDICATED PRUNES

LAXATIVE AND CATHARTIC.

Pleasant to the taste; Effective without tasting.

CURE CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS AND LIVER TROUBLES.

They take the place of the nauseating and violent cathartics used to relieve constipation. PRUNE CATED PRUNES act as a mild laxative; two or three have the effect of cathartic medicine or mineral waters taken without nausea or griping. No bad effects follow repeated use. For children, a PRUNE taken at bedtime acts like a charm. As a medication in entirely vegetable and healthful. Physicians recommend them. Druggists keep them.

Daily Chronicle.

All Through the Baby.

"What can be the matter with that baby?"

Mrs. Jameson laughed.

"I think you had better go see," she said, "for you have made that exclamation about twenty times. Perhaps," she added more gravely, "it would be only neighborly to step over, Josie. My rheumatism is so bad I cannot go, but I will watch your biscuits."

Now Josie had been longing for this permission. The opposite house to her mother's had been taken for the summer, and the tenants were moving in. Furniture had been arriving nearly all day, and twice Josie had caught a glimpse of a pretty little lady in mourning directing the movements of the men driving the vans. But at about four o'clock in the afternoon the screams of the baby became painful to the tender-hearted girl, and after fidgeting over them for a long time, she gladly availed herself of her mother's permission to "step over" to the new neighbor's.

As every door stood open, she walked into the kitchen without the ceremony of knocking, and crossing the hall, followed the baby's wailing cries till she reached the parlor. Dire confusion reigned there. Piles of carpet, open packing-boxes, furniture, crockery in baskets, barrels and hampers, open trunks, kitchen utensils, were thrown down in every available space; and in the middle of the room, seated on a velvet sofa, was a man holding the screaming atom of humanity which seemed all lungs.

This amateur nurse was young—twenty-five, to be accurate—well-looking, with his face flushed and troubled, his shirt dusty and rumpled, his whole appearance showing that he had been working hard, in his shirt-sleeves, until he took that baby.

Josie raced the situation at once. Under any other circumstances addressing an unknown young man might have embarrassed her, but a young man holding a shrieking baby nearly upside down was completely at her mercy.

"Is the baby ill?" she asked. "I live opposite, and came over to see if I could help Mrs. ——"

"Mrs. Latimer," he said, promptly, "has met with an accident, and is upstairs; but I cannot quiet the baby, and ——"

"Give him to me," said Josie, extending her arms. "There, pretty, pretty, don't cry so. May I take him over to mother? Perhaps he is hungry. We will take good care of him. Baby, baby, hushey, hush!"

"I shall be very much obliged," said the gentleman, as loud as he could, for baby was proof against Josie's blandishments, and the conversation had to be carried on in tones to out-scream his cries.

It did not take Josie long to cross the two small gardens, and carry her new charge to her mother.

"He is hungry, I am sure," she said, deftly mixing milk, water, and sugar, while Mrs. Jameson tried to pacify the infant.

"Put in a few drops of mint-water, Josie," she said, while Josie found a spoon and napkin, and rapidly explained that the child's mother was hurt.

"There, go over again," her mother said, as baby signified his approval of the improved state of affairs by eagerly taking the food. "I'll keep the baby."

Up-stairs this time, and at the door of the bed-room Josie paused, terrified. Upon the floor, with some pillows under her head, lay a delicate-looking lady, moaning, and evidently badly hurt. The gentleman Josie had seen down-stairs was kneeling beside her, bathing her face with water, his own face pale and anxious, and his voice full of pain, as he called her by endearing names.

"Rosa, dear, can't you tell me where you are hurt?" he asked, not seeing Josie. "Rosa, dear!"

Josie did not hesitate a moment.

"I think," she said, coming forward, "you had better go for the doctor. I am sorry it is so far, but it is easily found. Turn down to your right, the third street from here, and anyone will tell you where Doctor Willard lives. One moment," she said, as he was hurrying away. "I see you have a bedstead up. Where can I find the bedding?"

"In great bundles on the dining-room floor. You cannot lift them. I will bring one up."

It did not take many minutes to bring up the bundle, put a mattress on the bedstead, and watch Josie as she rapidly covered the pillows, spread sheets, and made a comfortable bed.

"Now, she said, "we can lift her, and I will take care of her till you come back."

There was no time for thanks, and he sped away, while Josie, with some difficulty, undressed the sufferer, who seemed easier as the clothing she wore was unloosened. Without scruple Josie looked over a trunk till she found a night-dress, and was comforted by the evident relief of her patient. Still, the white face, the wild eyes, the moaning lips, were terrifying, and having done all she dared, Josie tried to make the room habitable. The furniture had been thrust in anyhow, but she pushed it into order against the walls, swept up the dust on the floor, found a pitcher and basin down stairs for the washstand, and really made the room neat before voices in the garden told of the welcome arrival of the doctor.

He nodded to Josie approvingly as she said the lady seemed easier without her dress, and went at once to the bedside. It was a very grave face he lifted at last, saying, as he did so—

"The injury is to the spine and brain. How did it happen?"

"I was down stairs," said the gentleman, "when I heard a fall. I think she was trying to hang a picture, but I cannot tell."

"Josie," said the doctor, "come help me here. Will you bring up the black box you will find in my gig?" he said, and the gentleman hastened away.

For many minutes Josie was kept busy, running home for needful articles, holding the sufferer's head or hands, aiding quickly and intelligently, till the doctor said,

"Now she must not be moved. Give ten drops of this opiate every half hour until she is asleep, and I will see her in the morning."

It was all a whirl until, coming back from seeing the doctor out, the gentleman entered the bedroom, keenly conscious of its improved appearance.

"Have you had any tea?" Josie whispered.

"No, nor dinner, either."

"Anything to eat in the house?"

"No."

"Suppose you go and buy what you want for supper. I will watch here. Can you make the fire?"

"I can."

"Well, make that, and I will come down."

Oddly obedient, the master of the house went to the kitchen, made a fire, gave one hopeless glance at the confusion, and started to find provisions. The patient was still moaning faintly when he returned, and Josie whispered,

"She has just taken an opiate. You watch here, and I will go down stairs."

"But," he said, beginning to realize his obligation, "I cannot let you—"

"You take care of your wife," she said, quickly, and was gone, not hearing him repeat, "My wife!"

"Poor little Rosa!" he whispered, presently; "I hope she is not very badly hurt."

And then he pressed his lips gently on the little white hand outside the counterpane.

"Well," he thought, looking around him, "that is a lovely girl! Such great brown eyes, and hair like gold, and her voice the sweetest I ever heard; didn't sound harsh even when out-screaming Harry. I wonder where the little rogue is? Quiet, at any rate. And"—returning to Josie—"she must be as smart as she is pretty! This room is a picture! And she is so earnest, too; if we were her nearest relatives she could not be more cool and unembarrassed!"

He had leisure to think up the subject pretty thoroughly while Josie was down stairs. She had called in a shock-headed lad who was weeding her mother's garden, and set him to work unpacking some of the crockery, and carrying into the parlor all superfluous articles in the dining-room. In an hour she had reduced the chaos of the kitchen and dining-room to some semblance of order, spread a table, and put upon it hot coffe, delicious and fragrant, a smoking beef-steak, and a light omelette.

"Go over, Dick, and ask mother for a pitcher of cream, a plate of bread, some sugar, and some biscuits," she said, "and make haste."

Dick, delighted with the novelty of the situation, was prompt, and the table was soon ready.

"Asleep?" Josie said, coming into the bedroom. "How glad I am! Now, Mr. Latimer, you go down to supper, and I will go for the baby. I made up the crib, you see, and I found his night clothes, so I will bring him over after he falls asleep." Then she added, with a sudden hot blush, "Perhaps I ought not to open your boxes and trunks, but—I—"

"You are only too kind," he answered. "I hope to thank you properly some day. Now—"

"Now, your supper is cooling."

It was a vain task to follow the admiring thoughts that greeted the appearance of the dining-room, the table, and the supper; and there was no falling off of gratitude or admiration when the sleeping babe was brought in and tenderly placed in his crib.

"Mother is too lame to come over," Josie said, in a low tone suited to the slumbers of mother and child; "but I will leave a light burning, and if your wife is worse in the night, or the baby wakens, you can knock at the door, and I will come over."

It was still early morning when Josie heard the baby crying, and hastily dressing, ran over to Mrs. Latimer's.

The invalid was still asleep, and the baby crying lustily. No one else was in the room, but in passing the door of the next apartment Josie saw the young master of the house, lying dressed upon a sofa, sound asleep.

"Tired out," she thought, pityingly, and stole away with the baby.

Matters improved a little the next day. A nurse was found in the village, a servant procured, but the doctor forbade the baby's presence in the sick-room.

"Let me keep him," Josie pleaded. "I love children; and he knows me—don't you, baby? Kiss his auntie! Bless his sweet face!" and so on, baby talk coming as natural as breathing to woman's lips.

So baby became an inmate of the Jameson cottage, and what was more natural than that Mr. Latimer should come over many times a day to ascertain his welfare, while Josie flitted about the Latimer house like a good fairy. It was her taste that arranged the household belongings, and certainly her nursing that made baby's life a paradise.

The Latimers had been ten days in their new house, when one evening Josie sat alone beside the invalid. She had been delirious and in a heavy stupor, but was now sleeping quietly. The doctor had said if she wakened conscious she would recover, and Josie was watching. She wondered herself at the deep anxiety she felt in the welfare of this entire stranger, but her heart gave a throb of delight as the soft blue eyes were opened, and the invalid whispered—

"Have I been ill? Where is my baby?"

"You have been very ill, and must not talk," Josie said, gently; "baby is well, and you shall see him presently."

"Where is Alfred?" was the next question.

"I will call him;" and she hastened to the room where Mr. Latimer was waiting.

"She is conscious," she said, "and asking for you. Come."

He followed her to the door, but when he held it open for her, she shook her head and went down stairs.

"As if his wife wanted me now!" she told herself, scudding across the garden to seek the baby in case that young gentleman should be called for. She made him daintily fine with a fresh dress and crisp ribbons, and took him to the summer house. She was thinking, half enviously, of that meeting in the opposite house.

"If I ever marry," she thought, "I hope my husband will be as nice as Mr. Latimer. He is the best company I ever met, so well informed and entertaining. And now grateful he is for the little I have done! Oh, baby!"—this aloud as the baby tugged at her curls—"don't pull auntie's head off, darling!"

Then followed baby talk, cooing, kissing, till a step crunched the gravel, and Mr. Latimer stood in the doorway of the summer house.

"You want the baby?" Josie said. "Is Mrs. Latimer well enough to see him?"

"Mrs. Latimer is asleep again," was the reply, "and I have come to make a confession and implore pardon. You—you think I am Rosa's husband, don't you?"

Josie fairly gasped—

"And are you not?"

"No; I am her brother."

"But your name is Latimer!"

"Yes, because my sister married our first cousin. She is a widow, for poor John only lived a little more than a year after he married."

"It was shameful to deceive me so," said Josie, hotly. "You know I would never—"

"I did know it, but it was so delightful to have you coming in and taking care of poor, forlorn me. Josie, do you not guess what I want to say? I am aware that we scarcely would know each other under ordinary circumstances, but I love you. Josie, will you give me one word of hope?"

She had buried her face in the baby's dress somewhere. He took both into his arms, however, when a smothered voice said—

"I never can deprive this precious darling of his auntie."

And to this day Josie Latimer maintains that she never would have been so easily won if she had not centered her affections upon the child, and that, in short, it was "All through the baby."

FRIDAY, MAY 14th, 1880.

News and Notes.

The Methodist general conference at Cincinnati on the 12th inst. elected three bishops, viz.: Cyrus D. Foss, D. D., LL. D., president of the Wesleyan university, Middleton, Conn.; John F. Hurst, president of the Drew theological seminary, Madison, N. J., and Henry W. Warren, of Philadelphia. They were all elected on the first ballot.

On the 12th inst., at Washington, Ex-Senator Isaac P. Christiancy, now United States minister to Peru, commenced a suit for divorce from his wife, Lizzie M. Christiancy, nee Luguenbell. Mrs. Christiancy was represented by counsel, and an answer and cross bill are to be filed, pending which the contents of petitioner's bill will not be made public.

In New York, May 12th, a dastardly attempt was made by parties unknown to kill the Spanish consul general, Hypolite d'Uriarte, by means of an infernal machine sent him through the post office. It was a box, which exploded on being opened, but fortunately the consul was only slightly hurt.

Woodhull Schenck, a son of Admiral Schenck of the navy, died May 10th at San Francisco, where he had just landed on his way home from China. He held a prominent position in the latter country, in the English customs service.

East Salisbury, Mass., is laboring under considerable excitement, the result of a rotten egg affair. It seem that an Amesbury man has been rather too attentive to a married woman living in East Salisbury. Tuesday evening, the 11th inst., as the parties were returning from a drive, they were suddenly assailed by a shower of decayed eggs. The man ingloriously fled, leaving the woman to escape as best she might, and she very quickly retreated to her house.

Henry F. Paddock, the husband of Maggie Mitchell, was arrested in Holyoke, Mass., on the 11th inst., on judgment of the superior court for about $2,000 in favor of Alex. Calhoun of Hartford, Conn. He is locked up at Holyoke and has given notice that he desires to take the poor debtor's oath.

At a meeting of the board of selectmen of Marblehead, Mass., May 11th, it was unanimously voted not to license the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The fishing schooner Jennie & Julia, Rowe master, was run into while at anchor off Thacher's island, on the night of the 12th inst., by the schooner Mary E. Amsden, Baker master, from the Kennebec river for New York with a cargo of ice. The coaster struck the fisherman forward of the fore rigging, carrying away both her masts, her bulwarks, stanchions, rail and all her head gear, and doing other slight damage. Capt. Rowe of the Jennie & Julia was knocked overboard at the time of the collision, and drowned before help could reach him. It is stated that there was no watch on the Mary E. Amsden. The latter vessel took the fisherman in tow, as far in as Boston light. She was subsequently towed up to Boston by the tug C. M. Winch. The Mary E. Amsden continued on her voyage.

Quite a smart shock of earthquake was felt at Newburyport, Mass., about 7:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, 12th inst. Dishes rattled in closets, door bells rang, etc. The shock was felt slightly at Merrimack and Amesbury, on the easterly side of the Merrimack river. At Georgetown and Rowley it was also very sensibly felt, and at Acton, Mass., it was very distinct, the shaking being lateral and resembling the sensation caused by a heavily laden team passing over a stony street.

Monday afternoon, May 10th, three young men named Michael Hoolahan, William Mackin and Cornelius Lynch attempted to cross the river at Fall River, Mass., in a very narrow boat, and with the wind blowing almost a gale. When nearly across, the boat capsized. Lynch swam ashore, but the other two, aged respectively sixteen and seventeen years, were drowned.

In the superior court at Portland, Me., May 12th, John Anderson of Falmouth was sentenced to fifteen years in the state prison, for rape.

We have just received Peterson's Magazine for June. It is the first to reach us of any of the magazines. No magazine in America has finer steel engravings or better cuts. The ladies at home tell us that "Peterson's" fashions are always in good taste, and very reliable. "Peterson's" illustrated articles are a new feature this year, which makes the magazine more attractive than ever. A friend of ours, who was in Philadelphia last week, called at Peterson's office, and tells us that they pack 5000 magazines every afternoon to their subscribers. He speaks of the great popularity of the book. Send to Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and get his great club terms for 1880.

Notice to the ladies—See advertisement of auction this day and evening at Miss L. D. Tripp's store, Market street.

Rev. Mr. McGinley will deliver a temperance address in the North church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited.

Rev. J. T. McDonnell is soon to retire from the pastorate of St. Mary's Catholic church at Newmarket, and go to Biddeford, Me.

Hon. J. C. A. Wingate of Stratham left for Washington on the 12th inst., on his way to China, where he has accepted a consulship.

It is said that large numbers of bass are caught in the alewive weirs in Great Bay, near Newmarket, some of them weighing fifty pounds each.

Ex-Mayor Jonathan Dearborn started on a trip to Poland Springs, Me., on Thursday forenoon last, for his health. He has the best wishes of the community that he may be benefitted by his visit.

Ship William H. Marcy, of this port, Marcy master, which arrived at Hioga, Japan, on the 9th ult., from Philadelphia, after discharging was to proceed to Hong Kong, China, where she was chartered to load for San Francisco.

A movement is on foot to revive the old camp-ground at Newmarket junction, formerly occupied by the Methodists, by holding an advent camp-meeting there in August. It is one of the most desirable locations in the state for that purpose, on account of its railroad facilities.

The time having arrived for the use of lawn-mowers, attention is invited to the advertisement of A. P. Wendell & Co., No. 3 Market square, who have in stock the Charter Oak and Philadelphia lawn-mowers, and will furnish any other patterns requried at the lowest market price.

A writer in the Exeter Gazette, referring to the schooner Horatio Nichols, says that after being repaired she will "resume her place again on the Squamscott." We don't believe her owners will be willing to have her resume again the place on the Squamscott which she has occupied for a month past.

James Blake, of Hampton, while out in a boat on the 10th inst., gunning, met with a painful accident. While loading his gun it was prematurely discharged, the contents passing through the palm of his right hand, making a severe wound. A surgeon was called, who found it necessary to amputate three of the fingers and part of the palm, but is in hopes of saving the rest of the hand.

The foreman of the grand as well as the petit jury in the circuit court live in Swansey. When asked why the selectmen of that town didn't send Uncle Josh Whitcomb to serve on the jury, the old gentleman was reported to be in a sick condition, tracable perhaps to too high living on his late visit to the hub to see Mr. Thompson delineate the famous character from his native town.

A couple of young fellows came to this city from Dover in a team on Sunday, the 9th inst., and during their cruise about the city became so bewildered that when they started for home in the evening they drove across the Noble's island bridge, and when on the island turned from the public street to go upon the railroad bridge between the island and Freeman's point. Fortunately they were discovered by a benevolent pedestrian, who stopped them, and directed them in the way they should go. Driving back to the main land they took "the first turn to the right," which led them into Call's lumber yard, the railroad bridge as they went under it knocking off the top of their buggy; they were heard to make some disparaging remarks about the city government of Portsmouth for allowing lumber to be piled and railroad tracks to be laid in the public highways, but they at length got clear, and the last seen of them they were crossing the north mill bridge with the buggy top dragging along behind, calmly oblivious of the ridiculous figure they were cutting.

The card of Wm. P. Sargent & Co., Boston, in our paper to-day, is well worth the attention of all desiring to purchase carriages. As manufacturers and dealers, their facilities enable them to sell carriages for family driving in all the fashionable designs, for road and business driving, and for pleasure driving, in the latest and most elegant patterns, unexcelled for style and durability, on the most economical basis. They are special agents for Brewster & Co., New York, and their warerooms, 14 to 22 Sudbury st., Boston, are very convenient to visitors from this vicinity.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER.

Our local readers well know that any entertainment under the direction of Mr. John Stetson, the widely-famous manager of the Globe theatre of Boston, must be a success in point of attractiveness. The cast in the play of "Mother and Daughter," to be rendered at Music hall this evening, includes several artists of well established reputation in their profession. Among the ladies are Miss Marie Wainwright and Miss Marie Prescott. Mr. Stetson never does things by halves, and as he anticipates a great run of this play at the Globe at its production a few weeks hence, Portsmouth should be proud of the honor of leading off at its representation. Play commences at eight o'clock.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

The case Healey vs. Cocheco National bank was argued in the forenoon on Thursday, and given to the jury just before one o'clock; and shortly before six o'clock a verdict was returned for the defendant. The pliff. moved for a new trial. Smith for pliff.; Wheeler for deft.

In the action Charles B. Ballard vs. the Connecticut & Passumpsic and the Massaurppi Valley railroad companies, referred by agreement to Wm. M. Parker, an award has been returned for $7426.74. The defendants moved to set aside the report for the reason that the damages are excessive and far above any shown by evidence heard by referee, and that the result is arrived at upon information attained without the knowledge or consent of the railway companies, and for other similar reasons. The defendants ask to have the case sent to a new referee, or the rule of reference rescinded. Hearing on this motion on Friday. Chase and Streeter for pliff.; John L. Spring and Ray for defts.

The court adjourned to Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when trial of case Asa J. Barron vs. George H. Worthen will be in order.

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

The following-named pupils in the several public schools of the city were neither absent nor tardy during the year ending Dec. 31st, 1879:

MEMORIAL DAY.

Mr. Charles A. Sinclair has accepted the position of marshal of one of the divisions of the procession on Memorial day.

Mr. C. M. Gignoux has also been tendered the position of marshal of one of the divisions, and will render his answer this forenoon, and it is earnestly hoped that his decision will be favorable.

Commodore Beaumont and the other officers attached to the navy yard have accepted the invitation of the general committee to participate in the ceremonies on Memorial day. The officers of the marine corps, who have always responded heartily to similar requests, and who with the corps have always been a prominent feature in the procession, have also accepted the invitation to participate; the corps will parade under command of Major George Butler.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Hall's henery on the bank of Chauncey's creek, Kittery point, has been abandoned, and the hens disposed of to different parties. Mr. Hall has gone into the grocery business in Lynn, Mass.

David Johnson, one of the oldest leather merchants in Boston, died in that city on the 13th inst., at the age of seventy-five years. He was a native of Berwick, but had resided in Boston for more than forty years.

A Frenchman whose name we have not learned, while working in Abbott's brickyard at Eliot recently, undermining a bank, was buried by the sudden caving-in of the bank, and had a leg and several ribs broken, besides receiving other injuries.

Mr. Samuel Nason, the submarine diver of Eliot, and a boy, while recently sailing on Sturgeon creek, near Morrill's ferry, were capsized. The boy stuck to the wreck, and was all right; but Mr. Nason was going down for the third time when his brother, Capt. Wm. Nason of the packet "Scud," of Eliot, captured him by the hair. A few evenings afterward Samuel gave a party at "the wigwam," when and where the boys celebrated the rescue in approved style.

Naval Gazette.

The secretary of the navy has approved the sentence of dismissal of Lieut. Frank A. Mullany of the marine corps, tried by court martial at the Boston navy yard last autumn.

President Hayes on the 12th inst. sent to the senate the following nominations for promotions in the marine corps: Lieut. Col. Thomas Y. Field to be colonel; Maj. Clement D. Hebb to be lieutenant colonel; Capt. George W. Collier to be major; First. Lieut. George B. Haycock to be captain; Second Lieuts. Henry Clay Fisher, William F. Zeilin, William F. Spicer, and Paul St. Clair Murphy, to be first lieutenants.

The Wachusett sailed from Montevideo on the 10th inst., for the Pacific station.

New Hampshire Items.

General Manager J. A. Dodge of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad has received a despatch stating that his youngest brother, Andrew Dodge, a locomotive enginer on the Fort Wayne & Wabash railroad, was instantly killed recently while in the discharge of his duties. He was forty-two years old, unmarried; the remains will be brought to New Boston, his native town, for interment.

The Belknap Association of Congregational ministers met at Plymouth on Tuesday afternoon, May 11th, closing Wednesday noon. Sessions private, except on Tuesday evening, when there was a sermon by Rev. Mr. Darling of Wentworth, and a discussion of "Summer visitors" by Revs. Blakely, Baird and Greeley.

Five thousand trouts were taken to streams near Charlestown, on the 12th inst., from the hatching house at Plymouth.

The Hanover street Congregational society of Manchester dedicated their new church edifice, corner of Hanover and Union streets, Wednesday evening, May 12th.

Stephen Hayes, formerly of Farmington, but of late years a resident of Natick, Mass., widely known for the past thirty years over the country by sporting men of the turf as "Uncle Steve" Hayes, died May 12th at the Massachusetts general hospital in Boston, of Bright's disease of the kidneys, from which he has suffered since the amputation of his arm, about two years ago. Deceased was sixty-five years and ten months old, and leaves a wife and one son, with a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

—A lawyer once rushed up to Jerrold in the street, and said, with a flushed face, "Mr. Jerrold, I've just met a scoundrelly barrister." Jerrold looked at him with a bland smile, and simply answered, "What a coincidence!"

Adamson's Botanic Balsam is compounded of the best natural healing extracts of bark, roots and gums in the world. It is a safe and reliable medicine, pleasant to the taste, and cures coughs, colds, asthma, and croup. Price, 85 and 75 cts.

—The small boy's digestive apparatus is undoubtedly the nearest approach to perpetual motion that the world has yet seen.

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 232 Western Avenue, Lynn, for pamphlets.

—A Philadelphia servant girl who was washing windows spattered some water on a pedestrian. She apologized, he smiled, and in four weeks they were married. He turned out to be worth $200,000.

Cleansing, purifying, strengthening and nourishing beyond all others are Malt Bitters.

—The common law—"Keep off the grass."

—A Hartford man, while drinking a glass of beer the other day, dropped the glass and broke it. He promptly settled the bill, but instead of curbing his wrath he gave vent to it by giving the broken glass a spiteful kick. It unexpectedly went through a plate glass window, and before he left, his glass of beer had cost about $4.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. t,th&f —It is calculated that 30,000 passengers will sail for Europe this season. Allowing an expenditure of only $300 to each person, which is very low, we have a total of $15,000,000 that will be spent out of the country.

—A Wisconsin clergyman has preached a sermon on whispering during divine service. His congregation, among whom are some of the whisperers he attacked, were so pleased with the sermon that they had it printed for free distribution.

—Harvey Talford's family have revenged his murder by George W. Hays in Marion county, Ill., in 1879, by erecting a granite shaft above his grave, surmounted by a large purchase knife, with an inscription bearing Hays' name as the murderer.

—Christian Shnader of Lancaster, Pa., vowed to wreak a frightful vengeance upon his wife and one Moore, who had eloped together. If he could only find them, so he said, he would instantly kill them both. His friend Ginder offered to search out the runaway pair if Shnader would solemnly promise to punish them with death. Shnader readily promised; but when the wife was found, and she put her arms around him, kissed him, and begged for forgiveness, he was overjoyed, and took her home unharmed. He even thanked Moore for giving her up without trouble. The disappointed and disgusted Ginder cursed the party, and left them.

How to Get Well.

Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased Kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole man. Hundreds testify to this.

—The Providence Press tells of a lady in that city who, after attentively examining a bust in a window, eagerly inquired:—"And who was this Terra Cotta, anyway?"

PAINS IN THE BACK. What they mean.—How cured. A poignant pressing pain in the "small of the back" is a dangerous symptom. It means approaching kidney trouble—possibly Bright's disease. It should not be neglected—not a day, not an hour. Fortunately, these symptoms are easily cured. Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is an absolute and unfailing specific for them, and for any diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver and urinary organs. A single bottle of Hunt's Remedy has many times saved a life. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—A school-teacher, who had just been telling the story of David, ended with, "and all this happened over three thousand years ago." A little urchin, its blue eyes opening with wonder, said, after a moment's thought, "Oh, dear, marm, what a memory you have got!"

the Kidney-Wort advertisement in another column, and it will explain to you the rational method of getting well. Kidney-Wort will save you more doctor's bills than any other medicine known. Acting with specific energy on the Kidneys and Liver, and cures the worst diseases caused by their derangement. Use it at once.

—Two young ladies in a New Bedford boarding-house, who have recently been rising early and taking walks before breakfast for the benefit of their looks and appetites, feel rather discouraged at the landlord informing them that if they continue the practice he shall be obliged to advance the price of their board.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; reverse stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., by patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

Pure Grape Wine.

A Committee from the Farmer's Club of the American Institute have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars and they report that the Port Grape Wine of Alfred Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey, is generally pronounced the most reliable wine to be obtained, and is now being used by physicians who are the most choice in the selection of wines for convalescent patients. The principal hospitals in New York have adopted this wine.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh HOP, and warranted pure Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Flesh Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcohol, "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and deep-seated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, nervous weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS, Esq.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

CHARLES CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

POOR vs. HUDSON INSURANCE COMPANY.

Circuit Court of the United States—Opinion by Clark, J.

This was an action on a policy of insurance issued by the defendants upon the Oceanic hotel, at Star island, one of the Isles of Shoals, against fire. The policy was dated July 25th, 1875, for $2500, and the hotel was burned November 11th, following, at three o'clock in the morning. The insurance was procured by Reed Bros. of Boston, as agents for Mr. Poor, through Mr. Craig of Portsmouth, as agent of the company. At the trial of the cause before a jury, two principal questions arose.

1st. Whether the policy, which was for one year, had been cancelled by agreement of parties, before the loss occurred; and

2d. Whether the hotel was occupied, at the time of the fire, as stipulated in the policy.

Some time before the loss happened, the deft. Co. became dissatisfied with the risk, and instructed Mr. Craig, their agent, to procure a diminution of it in part, or in its entirety. Thereupon Mr. Craig wrote to Reed Bros. at Boston, stating the wishes of the Hudson Co.; and proposing to reduce the risk one half or in the whole; and stating further, that he could place the risk in the Lancashire Co., or he would return the premium. Reed Bros. returned answer that they did not wish the risk divided, half in the Hudson Co., and half in the Lancashire Co.; but that the policy might be cancelled, and the whole risk put in the Lancashire, and the unexpired, or return premium, used for re-insurance, and they enclosed the policy to Craig for that purposes.

Upon receiving the policy, Nov. 9th, 1875, Craig immediately wrote "cancelled" upon it. But he did not place the risk in the Lancashire Co., or any other. He made up the return premium, and placed it with the policy, thus marked "cancelled," in the safe, intending to go to Boston the next morning, the 10th. But he did not go; and the next morning, the 11th, the fire occurred, with the policy and premium still in Craig's safe. He gave no notice to Reed Bros., or Mr. Poor, that he had not reinsured the property. The next day, the 11th, after the fire, Craig sent the return premium to Reed Bros. at Boston, by express; but they declined to receive it. Of this proceeding, or negotiation for cancellation of the policy, Poor had no knowledge, nor had he given any authority for it, other than that the Reed Bros. were agents to procure the insurance for him.

Upon this evidence the court ruled that there was no contract for cancellation of the policy completed, which could bind the parties; that waiving the question of authority in Reed Bros. to make a contract for cancellation, they had consented to it only with the understanding that Craig should procure a re-insurance in the Lancashire Co.; and failing to do this, the Hudson Co. could not insist that the policy was cancelled, and leave Poor to bear the loss—especially as they had not given him notice that they had not re-insured, or returned him the premium. To this ruling the defendant excepted. But it was, we still think, correct.

The first proposition of the Hudson Co. was to cancel the policy in whole or in part; to place the risk in the Lancashire Co., or return the premium, as the pliff. might elect. He assented that the policy might be cancelled for the whole, and the property re-insured by them in the Lancashire Co. The two were coupled together, and there is no evidence that the pliff. agreed that the policy should be cancelled without a re-insurance, and as the Hudson Co. did not re-insure, they cannot insist upon the cancellation.

There was no agreement of parties.

1st. Parsons on Contracts—6.

There was a stipulation in the policy, that the deft. Co. might terminate the insurance "at any time, on giving notice to that effect, and refunding a rateable proportion of the premiums;" and the deft's counsel insist, that Craig in writing to Reed Bros., had this provision in his mind, and acted in reference to it. This may be so. But before he could have the benefit of that stipulation, even if acting upon it, he should have conformed to it, and given notice, and returned the required part of the premium. This he did not do.

The counsel for the deft. requested the court to instruct the jury, that the letter of Craig contained a proposition to cancel or reduce the Hudson policy, and that this was made by him as the agent of that Co.; but that the proposition to re-insure in the Lancashire Co. was made by him (in the letter) as the agent of the Lancashire Co., and that the letter of Reed Bros. was an acceptance of the proposition of the Hudson Ins. Co. to cancel the policy, without including the other, to re-insure. The court declined so to instruct—and properly.

It was a question of fact and not of law, whether Craig acted as the agent of one company or the other, or both; and if Craig was the agent of the Lancashire Co. in offering to procure a re-insurance, it can make no difference, because Reed Bros. in accepting the proposition to cancel the Hudson Co.'s policy coupled it with a re-insurance of the property in the Lancashire Co., which was not done by Craig, whether as agent of one company or the other.

In support of the 2d ground of defence, that the hotel had not been occupied as agreed in the policy it should be, to wit, that a family should live in it throughout the year, there was evidence tending to show that the house was occupied as a hotel in the summer, but not at other seasons; that the deft.'s agent, at the time of the insurance, knew the manner of its occupation; that the pliff., with his wife and sons, were at the hotel in the summer, managing the hotel, and had in their family a large number of employes and servants; that part of the family ate at the Oceanic, and part at the Atlantic, a house used as a part of the hotel arrangement; that the pliff., with his wife and sons, left the hotel at the close of the hotel season, but left there a large number of their employes, at work about the premises and in charge of the property, under the direction and management of the pliff.; that all of these employes ate at the Atlantic house, and most of them slept there; but that two of them roomed and slept in the Oceanic, having their clothing there, and working outside and about the house, going in and out several times a day; that they had been in the employ of the pliff. for months, and one of them was a porter in the hotel—the Oceanic—and that both were in the building at the time of the fire, and escaped through the window; that the pliff. was often at the island, and "stopped" at the Oceanic; that he was there the day before the fire; that Craig, the agent of the defts., knew how the hotel was occupied, and was satisfied; and that another agent of the defendant knew of it, and was satisfied that the employes should eat at the Atlantic house.

Upon this evidence the deft.'s counsel requested the court to instruct the jury:

1st. That the occupation of the premises insured by two hired men, in the pliff. employ, who slept in the house and took their meals elsewhere, being employed during the day elsewhere, was not such an occupation of the premises as complied with the warranty that a family should live in the house.

2d. That if the jury should find Poor and wife and children had left the Oceanic and were living at his residence at Somerville, and that the only occupation of the hotel was by two laborers sleeping in it, taking their meals elsewhere, and spending their days elsewhere in labor on matters outside of the house, such occupation would not be a compliance with this warranty.

3d. That under such circumstances two laborers would not be a part of Poor's family.

4th. That under such circumstances the two laborers would be a part of the family living at the Atlantic house, the foreman in charge of the island living at the Atlantic house, and furnishing at that house the meals to all persons in the employ of the plaintiff, including the two laborers who slept in the Oceanic house.

5th. That upon all the evidence the jury would not be warranted in finding that the warranty had been complied with.

The court declined to instruct the jury specifically as requested, but did change them that the warranty in the policy, "that a family should live in the house throughout the year," was a contract, which must be substantially complied with in its terms to enable the pliff. to recover; that it was not sufficient that there were watchmen in the house, or that it was equally safe by some other means, but that the deft. had the right to insist that it should be occupied as agreed; that the words "family" and "live" were used in the policy in their ordinary signification, as a collection of persons dwelling together in a house under one head; that no definite particular number of persons was necessary to constitute a family—but it should be a family as ordinarily constituted, and living in the ordinary way; that a knowledge on the part of the defts. that the house was occupied in any other manner could not affect the contract, unless assented to by the defts., or they acted in such a way as to leave the pliff. to believe that they did assent to it.

To these instructions the defts. take no exception; but they do except that the specific rulings desired by them were not made.

But upon mature reflection we are satisfied that they have no legal cause for complaint; the jury were sufficiently instructed in the law applicable to the case.

Whether a house is or is not occupied by a family is a question of fact, and should be decided by the jury, and not by the court; and whether a given number of persons constitute a family is oftentimes, perhaps always, to be decided by the manner in which they live, which is, as before stated, a question of fact.

The most comprehensive definition of a family is, a number of persons, who live in one house and under one management, or head. There is no specific number required to constitute the family; but they must live together in one house, and under one head. Nor is it necessary they should eat in the house where they live. There are many families, it is well known, who live in one place and eat outside of it. Nor was it necessary that they should be employed in the house or about it. Nor was it material that they were hired. The precise question is, were they living there together, under one head or manager? This is one of fact and not of law.

The evidence tended to show that these two men lived at the Oceanic, that they were in the employ of the plff., and under his direction, control and management. He owned the house in which they abode—not as tenants, but as servants or employees. It could not be decisive of the question, as matter of law, that the wife and sons of the plff. lived at Somerville, and that he passed most of his time there. He was often at the Shoals, and stayed at the Oceanic when there. Many persons have residences in town and at the seaside or mountains, or in the country, at the same time, and may be said to live in both places; they have their servants and employes at both places.

The court could not instruct the jury as requested, that the two laborers would not be a part of the plff.'s family, under these circumstances: the evidence rather tended to show the contrary—that they were a part of his family; he so testified.

Nor could the court instruct the jury upon all the evidence that they would not be warranted in finding that the warranty had been complied with, as there was evidence tending to show that the deft.'s agent, who contracted the insurance, knew how the house was occupied, and was satisfied with it, and this evidence might be weighed by the jury in determining whether the defts. knew how the house was occupied and assented to it as a compliance with the contract, or waived a more strict compliance.

The defts. are mistaken in supposing there was no evidence to go to the jury in regard to a waiver. There was evidence, that Craig said that he knew how the house was occupied, was satisfied with that occupancy, and considered it safer than a family.

The defendant says, in the brief of his counsel, "what was really left to the jury was the meaning of the terms used," and "the legal effect of the instruction of the court was to advise the jury as to the legal effect of the acts in the contract, leaving them to construe the laws."

In this there is a mistake. The court did not leave to the jury "the meaning of the terms used". It instructed the jury as to the meaning of the words, and the counsel say, in their brief, the explanation given of the word family was correct and satisfactory. Nor did the court leave the laws to the jury. It instructed, that the provision in the policy that a family should live in the house was a contract, binding on the plff., and must be performed by him, or waived by the defts., before he could recover. The court instructed the jury what a family was—with that instruction the deft. was satisfied. The court left it to the jury to find the fact, whether such a family was living in the house at the time of the fire. That duty belonged to them.

At the trial the court admitted evidence that at the time the insurance was effected, the plff.'s agent told the deft.'s agent how the house had been occupied the previous winter. To this evidence, the deft.'s counsel objected, on the ground that whatever was said at the time of the contract was merged in the contract, and could not be received to control, enlarge, or restrict the contract.

Such is undoubtedly the law; but the court did not admit the evidence for such purpose, but as tending to show the previous occupation and condition of the property, as aiding to arrive at the intention of the parties, and the true interpertation of the contract. For this purpose we think the evidence was competent.

The defendant also objected, that the plff.'s witnesses were permitted to testify, that Craig, since the fire, had said that he knew how the house was occupied, and was satisfied with that occupancy, and considered it safer than a family.

But as he does not notice the objection in his brief, it may be that he does not, after reflection, rely much upon it. However that may be, the evidence was competent upon either of two grounds: First, as tending to show a substantial compliance with the contract by the plaintiff; and second, a waiver by deft. of a more strict compliance.

Judgment on the verdict.

John S. H. Frink and A. R. Hatch for plaintiff; S. C. Eastman and G. Marston for deft.

George B. Wheeler has retired from the management of the Merrimac Journal, and sold the paper to R. P. Eaton of West Newton, Mass., formerly of the New England Farmer.

Dangerous Popularity.

These golden opinions of the Washington ring are dangerous to win. The District people measure their opinion by the prodigality with which the public gold is poured out to them through congressional influence. We think that ere this senators have been stranded by winnings of this sort, and our energetic senator should keep his wits about him as a member of the committee upon the District—a position which requires all the stamina an honest man can carry, in the discharge of its duties and in denying the advocacy of some of its questionable requests. The senator should not be oblivious of the results which have befallen some of his predecessors on the committee.

News and Notes.

The Cape Ann Advertiser of the 13th inst. says: "Fresh mackerel sold in New York last week at one and a half cents each. The first weir catch of mackerel at Cape Cod was on Friday, 2,000 in number, about one-half large. Some 800 or 900 lbs. new salt mackerel were received at New York last week, and closed out on Philadelphia account at $6.75 and $6 per bbl. The first fare of salt mackerel received at Boston this season was 200 lbs., by schooner Cora Smith, Capt. Smith, on Sunday. The first mackerel taken at Swampscott this year was on Monday, in a herring net off Egg rock; it weighed one pound."

George Temple of Lisbon, Me., was found hanging in his barn on the 12th inst. He was a farmer in good circumstances, but had threatened suicide.

Miss Fannie M. Clifford, formerly of Boston, now of New Haven, Conn., has inherited $100,000 from an uncle who recently died at London, Eng.

At Lowell, Mass., May 12th, a seven-years-old daughter of Casper Spooney fell over a balustrade at the primary school house on High street, and was almost instantly killed, her head being crushed by the fall of twelve feet.

On the 7th inst. Patrick McCabe of Blackstone, Mass., a lad about ten years old, was injured while imitating circus performers, in tumbling, turning somersaults, etc. He struck upon his head, and also sprained his left ankle. The injuries to his head caused inflammation of the brain, from which he died on the 11th.

It has been discovered that George E. Goodrich, ex-postmaster of Fitchburg, Mass., is short in his accounts about $3,500. Goodrich has lived fast. He denies wrong intent, and his friends have settled the matter, avoiding a criminal prosecution.

The investigation into the affairs of the First national bank of Augusta, Me., reveals the fact that the late cashier, Israel Boothby, who committed suicide February 3d, was a defaulter for over $30,000, and that his embezzlements extended over a series of eight years.

Two silly young men from New York state, named Gesrge P. Thomas and Fred Norman, are having a little hoat seventeen feet long built at Gloucester, Mass., in which they intend crossing the Atlantic and visiting many of the leading European ports. They will start about June 1st. It is the smallest boat that has ever made the attempt. They feel certain of accomplishing the perilous voyage, and intend rowing in moderate weather. The frail craft will be named "Little Western."

Samuel Stanton, residing in St. Genevieve county, Missouri, filed a suit in the circuit court at St. Louis, Thursday, against Carl Schurz, secretary of the interior, claiming $20,000 damages for false imprisonment by the secretary's order, for a period of three months, in the guard house of Fort Russell, Wyoming Territory, in 1878.

A letter from Franklin, Texas, says: "The Rio Grande river is dry again, and the greatest distress prevails among the poor wretches by whom we are surrounded. They are absolutely starving; many are living on what we call grass nuts. These they grind between two stones, and think themselves fortunate if they can get a handful of bran to mix with them. Many have died for want, and it is believed that within three months, unless relief comes from abroad, many more will die."

Edwin Hoyt was hanged at Bridgeport, Conn., on the 13th inst., for the murder of his father in June, 1878: he met his fate with stolid unconcern, and died without a struggle.

Israel Brandt, Josiah Hummell and Henry F. Wise were hanged at Lebanon, Pa., May 13th, for participation in the murder of Joseph Raber, an old man whose life was heavily insured, and who was then brutally murdered by the gang so that they might get the insurance money.

Naval Gazette.

The tug Mayflower, with the sloop-of-war Dale in tow, arrived at Portsmouth, Va., on the 12th inst.

Ordered—Passed Assistant Surgeon George P. Lumsden to the naval academy; Assistant Surgeon Richard Ashbridge to the Colorado at New York; Chaplain John B. Van Meter to the Portsmouth at Hampton roads.

When the Enterprise is put out of commission First Lieut. Israel H. Washburne, U. S. M. C., and the marine guard from that vessel, will be transferred to the marine barracks at Washington.

500 Reward--Catarrh Cured.

UNABLE TO BREATHE THROUGH NOSE.

PORTLANDVILLE, IOWA, March 11th, 1879.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—Some time ago I bought a Douche, some of your Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Golden Medical Discovery and commenced to use them. The aches and pains as well as sore throat and catarrh from which I have been for so long a time a sufferer, have entirely left me with their use. I feel like a new man as well as look like one. For four years I was unable to breathe through my nose. From the use of the Catarrh Remedy I can now do so freely. Your medicines I know to be all that they are represented. Long live Dr. Pierce and the gentlemen connected with him. Gratefully yours,

WATSON SMITH.

The "national greenback labor party" of Vermont, numbering about fifty, met in Montpelier on the 13th inst., and elected delegates to the convention to be held at Chicago on June 9th.

Our Best Reward.

WINSTON, FORSYTHE Co., N. C., March 15, 1880.

To the Hop Bitters Manufacturing Co.: GENTS—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation testify to the great virtue of your Bitters.

Very respectfully,

REV. H. FERBEE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 11, 1880.

The freight house at the Eastern railroad station is to be moved three hundred feet further up the track. The pond is being filled up for the foundation.

The schooner Cumberland, Webber master, arrived at the navy yard on Thursday afternoon last, with five hundred and sixty-six tons of coal for the department of equipment.

Josiah B. Burleigh, a native of Strafham, and for several years in business in this city as a picture framer and dealer, died in Lewiston, Me., on the 12th inst. His remains were brought home for interment.

Town meeting at Seabrook was held on Friday last, and it was voted, eighty-two to fifty-eight, to adopt the law prohibiting the sale of cider in quantities less than ten gallons, and lager in any quantity. The meeting was quiet and orderly.

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., gave a sociable at the new hall last Thursday evening, and it proved to be the best one given this season. A basket picnic, vocal and instrumental music, and other amusements, made the evening one of real enjoyment.

Arrangements have been made for the sale in this city of the Boston Sunday Globe during the summer season. The papers will arrive here at 5:15 o'clock A. M., and will be furnished to subscribers and the public generally by Mr. M. J. Leary every Sunday, commencing tomorrow.

The local infantry will soon be armed with weapons of approved modern construction. The secretary of war has, at the request of Senator Blair, authorized the immediate issue of a sufficient number of breech-loading rifles to the state of New Hampshire to complete the armament of her infantry force.

The Pullman train due here from Boston at 9:10 o'clock P. M., Thursday, was delayed three-quarters of an hour by the breaking of one of the springs of the engine at the gravel pit near the Plains. The train men were obliged to drag the engine to a side track, and another engine was sent to bring the train in to the depot.

Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, U. O. G. C., gave the first of a series of entertainments at their citadel or lodge room on Thursday evening last. A hot supper was served, followed by vocal music, readings by Mr. E. C. Stimpson, and addresses by Messrs. Stephen W. Clarke, John Dame, George W. Randall, and also by several lady members. These entertainments are to be given on the first meeting of each month, and will vary in the programme each evening.

Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, U. O. G. C., on Thursday evening elected the following delegates to represent that organization at the coming session of the Rockingham County Temperance Association, to be held in this city: James Janvrin, George W. Randall, Josiah F. Brown, Mrs. E. M. Grant, and Mrs. Martha A. Walker. The various committees were appointed to meet in convention on Tuesday evening, the 18th inst., at Grange hall, for the purpose of making systematic arrangements.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

The suit of John R. Poor against the Hudson Insurance Co., to recover the amount insured upon one of the policies upon the "Oceanic" at Gosport, Isles of Shoals, burned some years since, has been finally determined. The case, in addition to its local interest, has no little degree of importance to real estate owners along shore, whose houses may be vacated at certain seasons of the year; and as a matter of general interest we publish, in another place in this paper, the opinion of the learned judge of the district court, rendered at the present term of the circuit court, and which we think decides the question differently from what was held by the supreme court of Massachusetts to be the intention of the contract.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

Band of Hope meeting this afternoon at three o'clock, at Bow mission hall, in charge of Mrs. Hooper.

Gospel temperance meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All are welcome.

Bethel service Sunday afternoon at 4:15; seafaring men especially invited.

Rev. Mr. McGinley will lecture before the reform club in the North church, Sunday evening.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, May 13th:

The mayor read requests of the South Parish, asking for a relay of sidewalk on Court street; of Frank Jones, asking for a cross-walk on Congress street in front of National block; of Edwin M. Brown, asking for a relay of sidewalk on Penhallow street; of Henry H. Ham, asking to be granted the refusal of the rooms in the city building at the expiration of the present lease; of Charles W. Norton, asking leave to encumber Pleasant and Market streets for building purposes; of Arvilla Deering, asking the privilege of keeping a stand at the corner of Congress and High streets for the sale of cigars, fruit, etc. These were all referred to the committee on streets.

Dr. H. F. Clark entered a complaint against the Portsmouth Shoe Company, that the steam from their exhaust pipe was a nuisance, and requested that the city government take some action to abate it. Referred to the mayor, with power.

It was voted that the Rockingham Shoe Company be exempted from taxation for a term of ten years.

An ordinance for transferring money collected by the city, was referred to committee on bills on second reading.

It was voted that a collector of taxes be elected at the next meeting.

The common council voted to concur in the amendment to the appropriation bill, and as amended the bill was passed.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

On motion of the district attorney, Frank S. Streeter, Esq., of Concord, was admitted to practice as an attorney of this court.

In case Ballard vs Passumpsic railroad and others, a continuance was ordered; defendants to take their testimony on their motion to set aside report, in ninety days; plaintiff's testimony in same, and sixty days after. Chase and Streeter for pliff.; Ray, Ladd and Spring for defts.

United States vs. Noah Jackson. Indictment for fraudulently concealing from his assignee in bankruptcy certain property which was subject to bankrupt proceedings, with intent to defraud his creditors, etc. A demurrer was filed by the defendant's counsel, who contended that the indictment was insufficient in its allegations as to the time when the bankrupt owned the property. The question was concerning the clause in the statute which provides that indictments shall not be deemed insufficient for any defect as to matter of form, the issue here presented being whether the omission was a matter of form or of substance. The court held the defect to be formal only, and overruled the demurrer. Ray for United States; Clark for deft.

On Friday, case of Asa T. Barron of Hartford, Vermont, vs. George H. Worthen of Lebanon, in this state, was tried. This is an action of trespass to recover damages for an assault upon Mr. Barron, and depriving him of his liberty at West Lebanon village, Sept. 31, 1879. Action was originally brought in the Grafton county supreme court, and removed to this court. There seems to have been a former quarrel between these parties, originating from the fact that Worthen "ran his toll" over a bridge owned by Barron, who is the well-known proprietor and manager of the Twin Mountain, Fabyan and Crawford houses in the White Mountain regions, and the Junction house at White river junction, Vt. Mr. Barron, as the landlord, has for many years entertained the celebrated preacher of Brooklyn, Mr. Henry Ward Beecher; but it was contended that, unmindful of the teachings of that great and good man, in the parlors of the "Twin" during the hot Sundays of the summer solstice, he indulged in certain expletives not allowed by the rules of the Y. M. C. A., and the defendant undertook to have him punished by arresting him to have him carried before a magistrate for trial,—but Barron contends that Worthen and others detained him four hours in an uncomfortable condition and subject to the jeers of the crowd, before he was legally arrested by a deputy sheriff. It was on a hot day. Barron is a fleshy man of advanced years, and contended that he had been bruised in the attempt to remove him from the wagon, so that he had to be treated by his physician, and suffered great pain, not only mentally but bodily, raised blood, and was otherwise disabled. Mr. Barron related the incident, and his attending physicians at Lebanon and at Carrol described his condition when they were summoned. Numerous other witnesses were called. The evidence for the pliff., consisting of fourteen witnesses, concluded in the afternoon, and Mr. Dole opened for the defendant, citing the statute against profane swearing, and contending that Worthen determined to arrest Barron for a breach of this statute, and in order to arrest him went about it at once. He was not an officer at the time, but counsel maintained that his client in this respect acted within the spirit of the law; that he could arrest the pliff. even without showing his warrant to Barron, in view of the offence; that Worthen did not hear Barron enquire as to the cause of the arrest; and that his conduct was justified in the intention of his action. That there was no unnecessary detention, but all speed was used to obtain a warrant for the arrest.

The court adjourned at six o'clock to seven in the evening, the Portsmouth Gas Co. kindly furnishing the gas, although the collector of the port (who is custodian of the building) had been previously notified that the appropriation for lighting the building had been exhausted. The water for thirty jurors and witnesses was also supplied by the Portsmouth Aqueduct Co., who kindly "gave a cup of cold water," etc.

In the evening the testimony of the defendant was closed, and the court took a recess until Saturday morning at half-past eight o'clock. Spring and Ray for pliff.; Frink and Dole for deft.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Early on Friday evening Hon. William Simes met with an accident which it is greatly feared will end his useful life. He had been at work in his garden and was going from there to the cellar of his residence, when by some means he was precipitated down the cellar stairs, striking the back of his head on a flat rock at the bottom of the cellar and fracturing his skull. Drs. Hall and Parsons were immediately summoned, and did all that could be done, but with hardly a hope.

A BULLET-PROOF DAMSEL.

Some time since the following item appeared in these columns.

"There is at present residing within the city limits a young lady who will allow six members of the Strafford Guards to load their own rifles, mark their own bullets, take aim and fire at her heart, and when the smoke is cleared away she will produce the six bullets on a plate, and will bear no marks of bullet wounds."

Since then numerous have been the inquiries as to who this lady was, and many doubts have been expressed as to the truth of the statement. Members of the guards were daily interrogated by their friends on the subject. Numerous people thought it was a slight purposely got up for the guards; in fact it has created quite a stir among the many great shots around here. Our reporter was daily interrogated as to where the lady lived, and other particulars. To ease the minds of these people, the lady was interviewed on Monday evening last. She confirms the item, and will back it up with any sum of money. Arrangements are being made so that our citizens can see the feat performed. It will occur in this city about the end of the month. Full particulars in a few days.—Dover Democrat.

New Hampshire Items.

James B. Morrill's house and barn, together with his soap manufactory, two miles from Franklin Falls, were totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 12th inst., with all their contents, including a horse and cow. The family barely escaped with their lives. The buildings were small and poor, and were not insured. The fire originated in the barn.

At Manchester, on Thursday last, the dead body of Richard Cheatham, a wool sorter at the Manchester mills, aged about fifty-six years, was found floating in the Merrimack river near the mouth of the Piscataquog. He had been missing since the previous Saturday night, and is supposed to have fallen from a bridge while going to his home in Piscataquog. He was an Englishman, unmarried, and had accumulated a considerable property.

Mr. J. M. Johnson, an old Comstock foreman, has made a visit to the property of the Shelburne Mining company at Shelburne, and says it is one of the largest and most extensive fissure veins that ever came under his observation. It runs in one unbroken body for two miles in length, and on an average of eight feet wide. The vein runs nearly east and west, with a depression of thirty-five degrees. There is a splendid water privilege, plenty of timber, and a good road leading to the mine, making it one of the finest pieces of mining property in the country. The vein carries a very heavy body of galena and silver. Mr. Johnson says the general appearance and formation of the country all point to a genuine mining belt, and when the Shelburne mine commences operations, the public will see some of the finest ore ever taken out in New England.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething stage, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

WONDERFUL POPULARITY OF THE REDOWNED MEDICINE.

The Greatest Curative Success of the Age—A Voice from the People.

No medicine introduced to the public has ever met with the success accorded to Hop Bitters. It stands to-day the best known curative article in the world. Its marvellous renown is not due to the advertising it has received. It is famous by reason of its inherent virtues. It is the most powerful, speedy and effective agent known for the building up of debilitated systems. The following witnesses are offered to prove this:

What It Did for an Old Lady.

Goshocton Station, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1878.

Gents—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked affect. In fact, one case, a lady over seventy years, had been sick for years, and for the past ten years I have known her she has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, forty-five miles, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It had such a very beneficial effect on her that one bottle improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbor's, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children also have derived great benefit from their use.

W. B. HATHWAY.

An Enthusiastic Endorsement.

Gorham, N. H., July 14, 1879.

Gents—Whoever you are, I don't know; but I thank the Lord and feel grateful to you to know that in this world of adulterated medicines there is one compound that proves and does all it advertises to do, and more. Four years ago I had a slight shock of palsy, which unnerved me to such an extent that the least excitement would make me shake like the ague. Last May I was induced to try Hop Bitters. I used one bottle, but did not see any change; another did so change my nerves that they are now as they ever were. I used to take both hands to write, but now my good right hand writes this. Now if you continue to manufacture as honest and good an article as you do, you will accumulate an honest fortune, and confer the greatest blessing on your fellow-men that was ever conferred on mankind.

TIM BURCH.

Duty to Others.

Chambersburg, July 25, 1875.

This to let the people know that I, Anna Maria Krider, wife of Tobias Krider, am now past seventy-four years of age. My health has been very bad for some years past. I was troubled with weakness, bad cough, dyspepsia, great debility and constipation of the bowels. I was so miserable I could hardly eat anything. I heard of Hop Bitters and was resolved to try them. I have only used three bottles, and I feel wonderful good, well and strong again. My bowels are regular, my appetite good, and cough all gone. I feel so well that I think it my duty to let the people know, as so many know how bad I was, what the medicine has done for me, so they can cure themselves with it. ANNA M. KRIDER,

Wife of Tobias Krider.

A Husband's Testimony.

My wife was troubled for years with blotches, moth patches and pimples on her face, which nearly annoyed the life out of her. She spent many dollars on the thousand infallible (?) cures, with nothing but injurious effects. A lady friend, of Syracuse, N. Y., who had had similar experience and had been cured with Hop Bitters, induced her to try it. One bottle has made her face as smooth, fair and soft as a child's, and given her such health that it seems almost a miracle.

A MEMBER OF CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

A Rich Lady's Experience.

I traveled all over Europe and other foreign countries at a cost of thousands of dollars in search of health, and found it not. I returned discouraged and disheartened, and was restored to real youthful health and spirits with less than two bottles of Hop Bitters. I hope others may profit by my experience and stay at home. A LADY, AUGUSTA, ME.

A Lovely Chaplet.

A late fashion report says: Nothing can be prettier than a chaplet of hop vines in blossom. A recent medical review says: Nothing can be better as a general renovator of the health than plenty of Hop Bitters. They aid in all the operations of nature; toning up the weak stomach, assisting the food to become properly assimilated, and promoting healthy action in all the organs. The dictates of fashion, as well as the laws of health, alike favor a right application of hops.

My mother says Hop Bitters are the only thing that will keep her from her old and severe attacks of paralysis and headache.—Ed. Oswego Sun.

Don't Use Stimulants.

Use nature's real nerve and brain food and nourishing tonic, Hop Bitters, that quiets the nerves, invigorates the body, cures disease and restores the vital energies without intoxicating.

Delavan, Wis., Sept. 24, 1878.

Gents:—I have taken not quite one bottle of the Hop Bitters. I was a feeble old man of 78 when I got it. To-day I am as active and feel as well as I did at 50. I see a great many that need such a medicine. D. BOYCE.

Marion, Mich., Sept. 25, 1875.

Sirs:—I have been taking Hop Bitters for inflammation of kidneys and bladder; it has done for me what forty doctors failed to do. The effect of the bitters seemed like magic to me.

W. L. CARTER.

If you have a sick friend whose life is a burden, one bottle of Hop Bitters may restore that friend to perfect health and happiness. Will you see that that friend has a bottle at once.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of scrofulous, cancerous, or syphilitic origin, the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, assisted by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the skin and scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as is suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Consultation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing at length impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, but no definite plan was decided upon, had all to no purpose.

After following advice for four months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being nearly cured.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,

Agent for Harper & Bros'. Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.

DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

KIDNEY-WORT

The Only Remedy THAT ACTS AT THE SAME TIME ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.

This combined action gives it wonderful power to cure all diseases.

Why Are We Sick?

Because we allow these great organs to become clogged or torpid, and poisonous humors are therefore forced into the blood that should be expelled naturally.

KIDNEY-WORT WILL CURE

by restoring the action of these organs and restoring their power to throw off disease.

Why Suffer Bilious pains and aches? Why Tormented with Piles, Constipation? Why Frightened over disordered kidneys? Why suffer nervous or sick headaches? Why have sleepless nights?

Use KIDNEY-WORT and rejoice in health. It is a dry, vegetable compound. One package will make six quarts of Medicine. Of your Druggist, he will order for you. Price, $1.00.

THE New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in relation to cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions.—I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh Hop, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vivifying and Purifying by reason of their rich, nerve and Blood and Bone Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, feeble digestive, and muscular system. For pallor, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and despondent cough, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weakness of the stomach, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.

Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the Delicious.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

A Wonderful Medicine for Impurities of the Blood.

Shakers' Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the flesh. It prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidney and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weakness and debilitating humors, and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir,—In answer to your inquiries concerning the Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the prescription, and have always recommended it from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXI CROSBY, M. D.

LAWRENCE, Jan. 19, 1880.

N. A. BIGGS, ESQ.: Dear Sir,—I have sold "Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the most reliable preparation of sarsaparilla syrup in the market. My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it. Yours very truly,

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was the first as well as it is the best of all remedies called Sarsaparilla, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality, and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

In behalf of the Society,

Fashionable Fancies.

Polonaises are in great favor.

The new straw bonnets are huge.

Cabinets for bric-a-brac are a furore.

Bustles will soon be in fashion again.

Japanese parasols make pretty fire-place ornaments.

Everything antique is considered stylish in home adornment.

Languedoc is the most popular of all the laces for trimming white muslins.

Hoods are to be revived and used to excess on all kinds of wraps and mantles.

Lambrequins for window sills, made to match that on the mantle, are a new idea in draperies.

Coat sleeves of dresses are made very high on the shoulders, and stand up like men's coat sleeves.

Gay cotton dresses are quite as effective as those of foulard, and form part of outfits for Newport and Saratoga.

The "water proof" has had its day, and is replaced by a long mantle of graceful cut and somewhat masculine or military in appearance.

Spanish lace will be the fashionable net for polonaises in the summer, and will be worn with dresses of pale gray, heliotrophe or ecru silk.

Dressing tables with old fashioned dressing glasses are as much liked as bureaus. They are draped with cretonne or muslin to match the curtains.

Flowers are made with a laudable disregard for Mother Nature's best painting. Yellow poppies, pink ox-eyes, and peacock-blue roses are somewhat startling specimens to a botanist.

Hand painting on silk and satin is as popular as embroidery and is applied to as many ways. Small articles in bogwood, horshoes, fans, ting sashes, plaque, etc., come for such decoration, and are much liked.

Rayon is a fashionable color for evening wear; it is a very pale and very luminous yellow.—The raven de lune dresses are trimmed with a darker shade of yellow, with gold, copper, saffron and orange.

How to Get Well.

Thousands of persons are constantly troubled with a combination of diseases. Diseased Kidneys and costive bowels are their tormentors. They should know that Kidney-Wort acts on these organs at the same time, causing them to throw off the poisons that have clogged them, and so renewing the whole man. Hundreds testify to this.

—A tramp was put to work cutting the grass in a grave-yard at Decatur, Ala. He soon abandoned the job, and declared that a young woman in one of the graves had warned him not to disturb the grass over her. What convinced the neighbors of the man's truthfulness was the fact that he gave the name of the grave's occupant, though there was no tombstone to convey the information, and he was a stranger in those parts.

PAINS IN THE BACK. What they mean.—How cured. A poignant pressing pain in the "small of the back" is a dangerous symptom. It means approaching kidney trouble—possibly Bright's disease. It should not be neglected—not a day, not an hour. Fortunately these symptoms are easily cured. Hunt's Remedy, the great kidney and liver medicine, is an absolute and unfailing specific for them, and for any diseases of the kidneys, bladder, liver and urinary organs. A single bottle of Hunt's Remedy has many times saved a life. Sold by all druggists. Trial size, 75 cts.

—"Prisoner at the bar," said the judge, "is there anything you wish to say before sentence is passed upon you?" The prisoner looked wistfully toward the door, and remarked that he would like to say "Good evening," if it would be agreeable to the company.

Timely Caution.

Genuine Hop Bitters are put up in square paneled, amber-colored bottles, with white label on one side printed in black letters and green hop cluster, and on the other side yellow paper with red letters; revenue stamp over the cork. This is the only form in which genuine Hop Bitters are up, and the sole right to make, sell and use them is granted to the Hop Bitters M'f'g Co., of Rochester, N. Y., and Toronto, Ont., and patents, copyright and trade mark. All others put up in any other way or by any one else, claiming to be like it or pretending to contain hops, by whatever names they may be called, are bogus and unfit for use, and only put up to sell and cheat the people on the credit and popularity of Hop Bitters.

—Ladies' boots have higher heels, thinner soles and narrower toes than have delighted the heart of the chiropodist for some time.

Malt Bitters build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system.

—High time—That kept by tower clocks.

Pure Grape Wine.

A Committee from the Farmer's Club of the American Institute have visited Speer's Vineyards and Wine Cellars and they report that the Port Grape Wine of Alfred Speer, of Passaic, New Jersey, is generally pronounced the most reliable wine to be obtained, and is now being used by physicians who are the most choice in the selection of wines for convalescent patients. The principal hospitals in New York have adopted this wine. This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, MAY 17th, 1880.

News and Notes.

A white man has actually been hung in the south, in regular course of law, for murdering a colored man. This wonderful phenomenon occurred at Spartansburg, S. C., last Friday, when Thomas White, twenty-eight years old, was hung for the murder of Pete Hawkins, eighteen years old. The execution took place within the jail yard; no one was present but relatives of the condemned, a guard of ten men, a clergyman and the sheriff.

Hon. Sanford E. Church, chief justice of the state of New York, died very suddenly at Albion, N. Y., on the 14th inst., of apoplexy.

Henry Hober and a man named Champaigne went on board the steamer City of Lawrence at New London, on the 12th inst., to go to New York, both being very drunk at the time. When the boat reached New York next morning they were missing, and are supposed to have fallen overboard.

Carl Manke was hanged at Buffalo, N. Y., May 14th, for murder.

The Baptist state convention of California, in session at Sacramento on the 14th inst., after a short debate, by a vote of forty-six to thirty-six, tabled resolutions expressing condemnation of the course of Rev. I. S. Kalloch and Rev. I. M. Kalloch, and giving notice that preliminary steps would be taken for a hearing between the aggrieved church and the metropolitan church of which the Kallochs are pastors.

Andrew J. Wolfinger of Westfield, Mass., was killed at the depot Friday morning by either falling or throwing himself under the wheels of a train just moving out.

George Muller, late of Worcester, Mass., was found hung in a lumber yard on Third street, New York, last Friday morning. It is believed by the police that he had been killed, and hung on the fence post by robbers.

Henry T. Paddock, who was arrested a few days ago on a judgment in favor of Alex. Calhoun of Hartford on claims against him and his wife, (Maggie Mitchell,) was allowed on Friday, at Holyoke, Mass., to take the poor debtors' oath, and was then released.

W. H. Delehanty, a well known negro minstrel, died in New York on Friday last.

The village of Milton, Pa., on the Susquehanna river, was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Friday. Over four hundred buildings were destroyed, and several lives lost. The property losses are estimated at nearly $2,000,000. The governor of the state has appealed for aid for the six hundred families who are left destitute and homeless.

Rev. Dr. George Peck, a prominent Sunday school worker, one of the editors of the Sunday School Times, conductor of the Sunday school assembly at Monterey, Cal., last summer, and for two and a half years pastor of the Baptist church at Jamestown, N. Y., has been forced to resign his pastorate because suspicions of immoral practices have been circulating against him, and on being confronted with them he confessed his guilt. He did not state particularly in what his guilt consisted, but said he had sinned and was penitent. He has left the town.

Charles W. Bromley, a six-years-old son of William F. Bromley of Russell, Mass., was found dead in a stream back of his father's house last Thursday, and an autopsy shows that he was brutally murdered. The skull was badly fractured, the body and arms bruised, and there were marks of fingers on the throat, showing that the murderer held the child by the throat while beating him to death. From various marks it is believed the boy was murdered in the barn, and the dead body dragged to the brook and thrown in. Bromley's wife, the boy's step-mother, is believed to have committed the foul deed.

In the case of the relatives of Dennis Coppers, of New York city, who some months ago obtained a mandamus compelling the board of trustees of St. Patrick's cathedral to open a grave and allow the burial of Dennis Coppers, a Catholic but also a Freemason, a decision has been rendered by the general term of supreme court overruling the mandamus. In the opinion written by Judge Barrett, he says the plaintiff's main reliance was on the receipt for the lot given by the superintendent, and on which it claimed the right of burial, irrespective of whether the deceased was a Freemason or a Protestant. The judge holds that the Catholic church has a right to use a denominational cemetery, and has power to make such rules or by-laws as will reserve such cemetery for the use of those in its fold and obedient to its dictates.

Henry Hober and Louis Champaigne, the two men supposed to have been lost overboard from the steamer City of Lawrence on the passage from New London to New York last week, arrived at New York all right Friday morning. They simply got too drunk to go on board the steamer, and were left behind at New London.

Eugene J. Gingras has been held in $2,500 to answer to a charge of blackmailing a man named Hardy, whom he charged with criminal assault on his (Gingras') daughter, at Lawrence, Mass.

A Rochester man, who undertook to manufacture his own fertilizer, has lost two horses with poison caused by the fumes of vitriol. Two children who drank the milk of a cow belonging to the same gentleman, have been attacked by a similar disease.

New Hampshire Items.

President Hayes on Friday nominated Hon. N. G. Ordway to be governor of Dakota territory.

Mt. Horeb and Trinity Commanderies of Knights Templar of Concord are going to Chicago, in August, via the Hoosac Tunnel route. They will be provided with Wagner cars, and it is expected that the delegation will number 125 persons.

A slight collision occurred on the White Mountain railroad, Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., near Wing Road station, between a special train running south and an extra train running north. Fortunately no serious damage was done. Cause, misunderstanding of the running orders.

At Corpus Christi, Texas, on the 13th inst., Horace Burr shot at his wife, grazing her breast; Mrs. Barnard, his mother-in-law, springing between them, was shot through the thigh and breast. Burr then struck his sister-in-law, Mrs. Brewster, over the head with a pistol, felling her to the floor. Reloading the pistol he shot himself through the temple, killing himself instantly. Mrs. Barnard's wounds are fatal. The cause of the tragedy was a disagreement between Burr and his wife, resulting in the latter returning to her father's house.

The Northern railroad has increased the pay of its employees ten per cent.

There was a sharp frost in the interior of the state, Friday night. At Franklin potato tops were killed, and at Contoocook ice was formed and the growing crops badly damaged.

Naval Gazette.

Master B. F. Rinehart has been ordered to the Independence, at Mare island, and Assistant Engineer Henry Heswig to special duty connected with the Galena.

Leave of absence for one month has been granted Chaplain Elijah W. Hugar; and to Passed Assistant Engineer Robert Crawford, of the Tuscarora, for six weeks.

Political.

The democratic Chicago Times always was an enterprising paper, if not always trustworthy. Its latest piece of enterprise is the furnishing of news in advance from the Cincinnati convention. The Times has it thus: "Eleven A. M.,—Mr. Barnum called the convention to order, and talked about the great fraud of '76. He nominated a Tilden man for temporary chairman, who spoke briefly about the great fraud of '76. All the anti-Tilden contestants for seats were denied admittance. A Tilden man was elected permanent chairman, and in a long and spirited speech, dwelt upon the great fraud of '76. One P. M.—Convention adjourned for refreshments. Two P. M.—Convention reassembled. Committee on resolutions, having been absent two minutes, returned with a column platform denouncing the great fraud of '76. It was adopted, and, nominations being in order, the choice of the convention was declared by acclamation 'to be the great fraud of 76.'"

Power of a Cyclone.

In discussing the two cyclones which visited the bay of Bengal in October, 1876, Mr. Elliott, meteorological reporter to the government of Bengal, incidentally gives us some idea of the cyclopean forces which are developed by such storms. The average "daily evaporation," registered by the Bengal instruments in October, is "two inches." The amount of heat absorbed by the conversion of this amount of water daily, over so large an area as the bay of Bengal, is enormous. "Roughly estimated" says Mr. Elliott, "it is equal to the continuous working of 800,000 steam engines of 1000 horse power." A simple calculation will show that it suffices to raise aloft over 45,000 cubic feet of water in twenty-four hours from every square mile of the bosom of the bay, and transport it to the clouds which overhang it. When we extend the calculation from a single square mile to the area of this whole Indian gulf, the mind is lost in the effort to conceive the force which, in a day's time, can lift 50,000,000 tons! Yet it would be easy to show that such figures, fabulous as they seem, do not adequately represent the cyclonic forces of a single storm.—Popular Science Monthly.

Chinaman's Rice.

Wash him well, much wash in cold water, the rice flour make him sick. Water boil already very fast, throw him in; rice can't burn. Water shake him too much. Boil him quarter of an hour; perhaps a little more; rub one rice in thumb and finger; if all rub away, him quite done. Put rice in cullender; hot water run away; pour cup of cold water on him; put rice back in saucepan, keep him near the fire, then rice all ready—eat him up.

—One of the London society papers takes off Victoria Woodhull in this fashion: "Before long it is understood—nay, is even coyly confessed—she is to unite her happiness with that of an Englishman for whom the world has naught but praise; and we cannot but feel that where she loves, Mrs. Woodhull, with the native impetuosity of a child, blends the deep sensibilities of a woman, and when her marriage has been announced to the world she will doubtless step at once into a prominent place in the society of London."

—Dr. Murphy was boasting recently that the climate of Minnesota beats the climate of California or any other state, and with a triumphant air of exultation, exclaimed, "Look at me! behold my beautiful, rounded form! When I came here I weighed only ninety-seven pounds, and now I weigh two hundred and seventy-five pounds. What do you think of that?" One of the sons of the late Bishop Willoughby, standing by, said, "Why, doctor, that's nothing; look at me; I weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds, and when I came to Minnesota I weighed only six pounds." The doctor left.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

AROUND HOME.

The supreme court will be in session to-day at Exeter.

Miss Cora Gilman of this city, a graduate of the high school, is teaching the Happy Valley school in Salmon Falls this term.

The Newmarket Manufacturing Co. are contemplating building a new mill, to be 428 feet long and ninety feet wide, two stories high, and with a basement.

Mayor Sise has called a special meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen for this forenoon to take suitable action in regard to the death of Ex-Mayor Simes.

Messrs. Shaw & Co., blacksmiths, of Greenland, have taken the shop at the Creek recently occupied by Albert Jenness, who has gone to work in the shop of Mr. Seymour at Christian shore.

First. Lieut. Christopher W. Harrold, U. S. A., recently stationed at Fortress Monroe, is paying a visit to his native city. Lieut. Harrold is to be stationed at Fort Schuyler, New York harbor.

Col. Kent and Collector Howard, with their wives, arrived home by the Bangor express train Saturday afternoon. The former is much improved in health, and the collector resumes his official labors with renewed energies this morning.

Capt. Frank W. Hilton has purchased a steamer yacht for use at the hotel Wentworth during the summer season. She was bought at Camden, N. J., by Capt. Albert Rand, as agent for Capt. Hilton, and will be brought to this port by Mr. Wm. Gertin, for several seasons past the popular engineer of the steamer Appledore.

At the golden wedding of Mr. William Norris and wife, of Hampton, celebrated on Tuesday of last week, there was only one person present who attended their wedding fifty years ago—a gentleman of Newmarket. A very happy occasion was had, the old couple's sons being present from Texas, with their families, as well as relatives from nearer points.

The schooner Gleam, of Cape Porpoise, came in on Saturday with a good fare of freshly-caught herring. In making a berth at Adams & Co.'s wharf she struck her anchor against a pile, breaking it—the anchor—short off just below the stock, the shank and flukes going to the bottom of the river very speedily. Never mind, boys; better break two anchors alongside a wharf than one on a lee shore.

The schooner C. H. Trickey, Kelly master, while proceeding to Dover in tow of tug Ann, Thursday morning of last week, took the ground in the Cocheco river and stuck fast until about four o'clock in the afternoon, when she floated; the tug parted a hawser in trying to tow the schooner off when she first grounded. She had on board over three hundred tons of coal for the Cocheco Manu'g Co., and made quick despatch in getting her cargo out, as she sailed for Kennebec river on Saturday.

As the passengers of the navy yard steamer Emerald, on her three o'clock trip from the yard Saturday afternoon, were coming up Daniel street, several of their number organized themselves into an amateur fire department, and after ten or fifteen minutes of hard work succeeded in extinguishing a fire which had been kindled by a little boy in a shed at the rear of Mr. Jos. R. Curtis' residence. The flames made their way through the roof of the building before being extinguished, and it was a fortunate circumstance that the fire was discovered so soon and that efficient help was so near at hand.

Last week's Journal says "an artesian well was unexpectedly made at Messrs. Barnard & Tripp's new blind manufactory on Hill street last week. They began a well in the usual way, and dug seventeen feet into a bed of clay without finding water. They then drove an inch bar down into the clay at the bottom of the well about thirteen feet further, when it struck into sand, and, upon withdrawing the bar, to their great surprise and delight a full stream of water burst up, and in a very short time filled the well to the surface of the ground. The water is remarkably pure, and well adapted to the use of their steam boiler."

Capt. Albert Rand commences work on the steamer Appledore to-day, to put her in thoroughly good trim for the summer travel to the Isles of Shoals.

Boston Commandry of Knights Templar will arrive in this city on the morning of June 24th, (St. John's day,) and proceed at once by steamer to Star island. They will be entertained by Mr. Rymes, manager of the Oceanic, and will return to Boston the next day. The occasion will doubtless prove one of the most pleasant of the many excursions of this celebrated commandry.

The inventory of Newmarket has been completed, and from it the following statistics are taken: Number of polls, 503; value of real estate, $498,951; mills and machinery, $293,500; personal estate, $186,730; whole number of horses 247, value, $16,719; oxen 112, value, $5,510; cows, 310, value, $8,805; other neat stock thirty-nine, value, $776; sheep, 177, value, $568; hogs, fifteen, value, $104; carriages, thirty-three, value, $2,271; bank stock, $25,400; money, $67,106; stock in trade, $90,520; buildings without land, $1,100.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT--LOWELL, J.

On Saturday, the arguments in case Barron vs. Worthen were made on the coming in of the court, and the case was given to the jury shortly before twelve o'clock; at half-past one o'clock the jury returned a verdict for the pltf. in the sum of $139.58.

The court took a recess until Monday, June 14th, when Judge Lowell will be present to dispose of any cases then open.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, May 15; Batchelder, J.

George Stover, James Sullivan, Elmer Clark and Deel Clark, four youthful, individuals, were brought up charged with brawl and tumult; the complaint against Stover was nol. pros'd, and the others after examination were discharged. Complaints against Stover and Elmer Clark for malicious mischief were nol. pros'd.

WILLIAM SIMES.

At a quarter before twelve o'clock, Saturday forenoon, Mr. Simes passed away, at the age of seventy-four years.

He was a native of this city, and in early manhood engaged in the grocery business in Peirce's block, No. 1 Market square. He was for a time in partnership with Thomas E. Call, and subsequently with Henry F. Gerrish, both of whom received their business education in his store. Retiring from business he devoted much of his time to agricultural pursuits, of which he was exceedingly fond. He was afterwards chosen mayor, in which office he shew his ability and practical knowledge in the administration of our public affairs.

He was elected a trustee of the Portsmouth savings bank in 1855, and succeeded Wm. M. Shackford as president of that institution in 1869, retaining both positions up to the time of his death. He was also a director in the Rockingham national bank, a trustee of the Home for Indigent Women, and held many private trusts, all which he administered as faithfully as though they had been his own. For many years he has been prominent in the affairs of the Universalist society, and will be greatly missed there as well as in all other places which have been accustomed to his kindly presence. In the various positions he has filled, whether of a business, trust or political character, he has always been noted for his unswerving integrity and undeviating honesty. Firm in his convictions of right and wrong, he never entertained a thought of compromising his well-defined principles in any relation whatever. He was one of the most courteous and pleasant of men, and was in every respect an estimable gentleman and good citizen.

He was noted for his industrious and active habits. When in business on Market square, the farmers from the neighboring towns, however early in their arrival on summer mornings, would find Mr. Simes ready to take their produce in exchange for his goods, and before the majority of his townsmen had taken their breakfasts he had often done a very considerable amount of business—a custom more in vogue thirty or forty years ago than at the present day.

On the second day of October, 1831, Mr. Simes married Olive B. Laighton. She was a daughter of Capt. James Laighton, who was lost at sea over sixty years ago, and was a lady of many personal charms. She died several years since, after a long and weary illness, and Mr. Simes never remarried. He leaves two sons, Joseph and William, who are engaged in the tea trade in Boston; another son, James P. Simes, who when living was of the firm of Salter, Chase & Simes, of New York, died some years ago.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. I. D. Phillips has just retired from the superintendency of the Free Baptist Sunday school at Kittery, which he has held for nearly forty years. Mr. M. P. Tobey has been chosen his successor.

The Sea Glimpse house at Old Orchard beach took fire from the chimney, early Saturday morning, and was burned, as was also the stable belonging to the house. Loss about $2000; partially insured.

The Dirigo brass band, of Kittery, Frank Cate leader, are practising twice a week right along, and are said to be improving very fast—of which our citizens will be able to form an opinion on Memorial day, the band having been engaged for that occasion.

Elmer Hutchins, youngest son of Amos Hutchins of Ogunquit, was severely injured on Wednesday of last week by the accidental discharge of his gun, the whole charge passing through the palm of his left hand. It was found necessary to amputate the two middle fingers.

A whale reported to be seventy-six feet long and twenty-five feet through, with blubber "three feet in thickness"—wonderful whale that—drifted ashore at Smith's point, Kennebunkport, last Thursday night. Two men named Emmons and Ridlon, who were the first to find the big fish, are trying out the blubber.

Five brothers at Kittery, named respectively William, Samuel, John, Moses and Thomas Rider, weigh together 1150 pounds, their united height being thirty-one feet and six inches—an average weight of 230 lbs. each, and an average height of a little over six feet and three inches. John Rider has five sons whose combined weight is just about 1000 pounds.

At North Berwick, on the 8th inst., the eastern abutment of the bridge near the Berwick Manu'g Co.'s premises gave away, just after Walter Davis and his daughter had got across, the hind wheels of the wagon they were in being just clear of the bridge when it fell. A large gang of men went to work on the bridge at once, and travel was only temporarily suspended.

Mrs. Daniel W. Spencer of Berwick met with a very serious accident on Monday night of last week During the day she had severely injured her finger, and rose during the night to obtain something to allay the pain caused thereby. The family were awakened by a scream, and discovered that, having lighted her candle, Mrs. Spencer had evidently fainted, and the flames had communicated to her undergarments. She was terribly burned, and if she recovered from the mishap will probably be crippled for life.

A visit to the schooner Horatio Nichols, now on the marine railway at Kittery, shows that the entire hull is badly strained throughout. The needed repairs are being made by Mr. Warren Keen, and consist of the putting in of sister keelsons, retreenailing under the bottom, new main tramsom and counter timbers, and new shoe fore and aft; she will also have a new house and poop deck, and the entire outside is to be recalked. The vessel must have sat down on the bottom very hard, as she brought a stone about sixteen inches square from the Swampscott to Kittery, deeply imbedded in the solid timber, and it stuck there until the vessel was hauled out on the ways.

In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB, this writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

Piscatory Frauds.

Among the spring fictions is the general belief that from now through the season the market will display genuine brook trout. These spotted beauties are popularly supposed to be drawn by experts from their lurking places in small swift streams up in New England or far away in the Adirondacks. But the mass of them are taken by the much milder, not to say meaner, methods. And the most of them, considered as brook trout, and sold as such at one dollar a pound, are simply fish frauds. There is nothing wild, or gamey, or brooky, or trouty about them. They are an artificial pond production, hand raised, liver fed, fat, flabby, and almost tasteless, and their tameness, as Selkirk puts it, is so shocking that the boy who perambulates the pond edge with his pannel of cold chopped liver can lift out the fish with his hands and throw them into the bucket or basket to be carried to market.

These tame and wholly artificial trout, thus bred and fed and fattened, are neither fish, nor flesh, nor good red herring, and the bigger and fatter they are the worse they are, the biggest and best ranking in insipidity with the common pond sucker. From the pond to market, from market to gridiron, to table, and from table to stomach, all the way through, and all the way down, they are unmitigated frauds. While we highly approve of fish culture in general as a means of producing cheaply a greater abundance of solid food, of its sort, it is folly to suppose that trout so raised will retain the wild, gamey flavor and delicacy that distinguish the real and natural brook trout.

The literally artificial specimens differ from the genuine fish as seedling monstrosities do from wild strawberries. The preponderance of pulp and water can never compensate for the lost sweetness and flavor. When nature feeds, it furnishes the natural flavor. Quail and partridge eggs hatched under a hen, with the birds brought up in barnyard fashion, with barnyard feed, come to the table with only a barnyard flavor. On the other hand, when a hen has hid away her nest in the woods, and her chickens have raised themselves on wild buds and berries, when subsequently shot and cooked they have been found to possess a positive game flavor. Even preserved game, as in England, yearly degenerates as it becomes tamer. The venison becomes more and more muttony, and the grouse greasier and less gamey. These preserves rank with real wild-wood shooting pretty much as the housewife's preserves rank with the fresh fruit.

People who imagine that they are epicures are welcome to pay a dollar a pound for artificially bred and fed pond fish, but if they fancy they are eating the delicate, gamey, genuine brook fish, their error is as wild as the trout are tame. —New York Sun.

—The beehive is the poorest thing in the world to fall back on.

—A new method of saluting ladies on the street has lately been adopted by the noblest swell gentlemen of tender years. It is done in one time and four motions. The hat, by a right-hand grasp, is lifted from the head, brought forward on a line with the nose and then suddenly lowered to the pit of the stomach, then as suddenly the hat is returned to its place, following the same angular route. The head, at the same time, must be bobbed forward about three inches, and immediately sprung back to its natural position. The beauty and perfection of this salutation depends upon the rapidity of the execution of its movements. It is known as "the Darwin jerk," because hand-organ monkeys put on and take off their little caps with the same celerity of motion.—New York World.

If You Are Sick, Read the Kidney-Wort advertisement in another column, and it will explain to you the rational method of getting well. Kidney-Wort will save you more doctor's bills than any other medicine known. Acting with specific energy on the Kidneys and Liver, and cures the worst diseases caused by their derangement. Use it at once.

—There is a good story told of Douglas Jerrold, who was consulted by Mr. Bentley, the publisher, as to the title of a periodical which he contemplated and which was afterwards well known. "I think of calling it 'The Wits' Miscellany,'" said the publisher. Jerrold demurred on the score of modesty, to which Mr. Bentley responded, "Well, suppose we call it 'Bentley's Miscellany?" "There," retorted Jerrold, "you needn't go to the other extreme."

A Household Need.

A book on the liver, its diseases and their treatment sent free, including treatises upon liver complaints, torpid liver, jaundice, biliousness, headache, constipation, dyspepsia, malaria, etc. Address Dr. Sanford, 162 Broadway, New York City, N. Y. tje4

—A drunkard fled into the woods, near Nashville, Tenn., while wild with delirium tremens, dug a grave, and was found lying in it dead. His wife was made frantic by the sight, and she loudly called upon heaven to let her die, too. It happened that, on her way home, lightning struck and killed her.

Health, hope and happiness are restored by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a positive cure for all those diseases from which women suffer so much. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 232 Western Avenue, Lynn, for pamphlets.

—An up-town jeweller hung a watch in his window and labeled it "Look at this watch for $10," and the unsophisticated gentleman who stared at the article and then went in and wanted the $10, had to get down on the floor with the jeweller and roll over and under him a number of times before he could be made to understand matters.

Prevent weakness and degeneration of the kidneys and urinary organs,—Malt Bitters.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at the port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and in just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley Malt and Fresh Hops, and therefore more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their rich store in Bone and Fat-Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, especially "porter," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For dyspepsia, dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia, stomach and liver, indigestion and debilitated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, alterative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvelous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irregular in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Gerard, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cobeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its peculiar properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, invigorates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and concretion of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of obstructive weakness and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humor in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of forty years.

HAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 29, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparil in Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Daily Chronicle.

A Bogus Lord.

An adventurer, fishing for gudgeons, baited his hook in Chicago last week by signing the register of a hotel under the style of "Lord C. Pelham Clinton." Within an hour he had a bite, and hooked two members of the Chicago club, who took him over to the house in the evening and set before him a splendid dinner, wine included. Whether he asked for a loan until his remittance arrived is unknown; perhaps not, as the acquaintance was too short for such presumption. But he would doubtless have done so had not his stay been shortened by his recognition as a confidence operator. As soon as "Lord Clinton" discovered that the hotel people knew him, he paid his bill and departed. In January last he turned up in Richmond, Va., as "Lord Arundel." There he made the acquaintance of an excellent family, who introduced him into society. He obtained loans from several gentlemen, courted half a dozen young ladies, became engaged to one, and was about to marry her, when his character was found out. Rather than be locked up, he left the city without his baggage, walking out of town.—Chicago paper.

Paying a Dividend.

Fancy an American city declaring an annual dividend payable to every tax-payer in the metropolis on the administration of the property of the city, or, what comes to the same thing, abolishing local taxation because the revenue of the city property was found equal to defraying the whole cost of the city government! Of course, this sounds like an Arabian Night's imagination; and yet were New York to put itself into the hands of a competent receiver for a term of years there really is no reason to doubt that the thing might be done. The thing in fact has been done in a little town in Prussia, in the fat valley of the Weser, and the good people of Haltern, which lies near Münster, the Westphalian capital, have just been celebrating their financial prosperity. Owing to the value acquired by the town property, the London Times informs us, the citizens are able not only to defray the whole communal expenditure out of the annual revenue of the property in question, but to distribute a large surplus each year among the citizens. On the 31st of March this year's surplus, amounting to 14,000 marks, was thus divided among the inhabitants of this enviable town.

—The Tombstone Epitaph is the somewhat depressing name of a new weekly paper that has begun publication at Tombstone, Arizona.

—Mrs. Scott-Siddons is five feet two inches high. She has travelled through the United States for eleven years, and she thinks that American women are better informed than English women, and have more grace and ease of manner. She finds that the southern people are Italian in their enthusiasm, and show an extraordinary appreciation of Shakespeare's finest points. Mrs. Siddons was married at sixteen to a naval officer. She will soon return to England.

500 Reward--Catarrh Cured.

Some people would rather be humbugged than to get "value received" for their money. Hence it is that such persons run after this and that pretended cure for catarrh, forgetting that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is so positive in its effects, that its former proprietor advertised it for years throughout the United States under a positive guarantee, offering $500 reward for an incurable case, and was never called upon to pay this reward except in two cases. This remedy has acquired such a fame that a branch office has been established in London, England, to supply the foreign demand for it. Sold by druggists at 50 cents.

UNABLE TO BREATHE THROUGH NOSE.

PORTLANDVILLE, IOWA, March 11th, 1879.

DR. R. V. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—Some time ago I bought a Douche, some of your Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Golden Medical Discovery and commenced to use them. The aches and pains as well as sore throat and catarrh from which I have been for so long a time a sufferer, have entirely left me with their use. I feel like a new man as well as look like one. For four years I was unable to breathe through my nose. From the use of the Catarrh Remedy I can now do so freely. Your medicines I know to be all that they are represented. Long live Dr. Pierce and the gentlemen connected with him. Gratefully yours,

WATSON SMITH.

—The gentleman who had been off for a fishing excursion and sent a paragraph to the local paper saying, "Mr. Jones has sent home a fine mess of 'speckled beauties,'" could not account for the warm reception from his wife, until he read that "Mr. Jones has been fined and sent home for a mess with some freckled beauties," and then he went for the newspaper man with a rod.

News and Sales.

Representatives of the Narragansett Indians on Saturday executed a quit claim deed to the state of Rhode Island of all their tribal lands in the town of Charlestown, in pursuance of the law abolishing tribal relations and authority. The members of the tribe are no longer wards of the state, but citizens.

Two whites and five negroes were publicly whipped at Newcastle, Del., last Saturday, one of them, a colored burglar, receiving forty very heavy lashes, which brought the blood freely. Another one was a boy of ten years, who received five light lashes for larceny.

Charles Gardella, an Italian organ grinder, was arrested near Wilkesbarre, Pa., on Saturday, charged by his ten-years-old daughter with having shot and killed another daughter, five years old, two years ago. At the hearing Gardella threatened to kill the girl if she testified. He was sent to jail.

W. R. Smith, Charles Peirce and John Parks, in jail at Osceola, Mo., charged with murder, were taken out by a mob last Thursday morning, and hanged.

Anna Hammond, of Elk City, Pa., twenty years old, shot herself dead last week because her betrayer, a man named Lee, refused to marry her.

In the West Point investigation Saturday, important evidence was heard tending to show that the much-talked-of anonymous note of warning was written by Whittakor.

The house of a Mrs. Smith, at Angola, Ind., was burned Saturday morning. Her three children, aged respectively fourteen, eight and five years, and a young lady named Fry, were burned to death.

Robert M. Whitford, a married man, and Russell Gunn, nineteen years old and unmarried, both colored men residing in Stockbridge, Mass., are under arrest for outraging Miss Crosby of the same town under circumstances of the most shocking brutality, at an early hour last Friday morning. The wretches had previously broken into the house of Mrs. Ann E. Barton, but she escaped them. Gunn has confessed the whole affair, and the villians are held in $3000 each to answer to the charge of rape, and $1000 each on the charge of house-breaking.

Two Boston officers arrived in that city on Saturday morning from Philadelphia, bringing with them Charles H. Crafts, a man of many aliases, but better known as "Bolts and Screws," whom they arrested in the latter city on the charge of robbing the firm of Hogg, Brown and Taylor of Boston, of $4,000 worth of laces on the 3d of April, 1876. "Bolts and Screws," some six months ago, was arrested in Philadelphia for stealing a box of cigars and a quantity of silks, and on the former charge was given four months in the penitentiary, and on his coming out of that institution, a few days ago, was arrested for the robbery at Hogg, Brown & Taylor's, as above stated. He is quite advanced in years, has served several terms of imprisonment, and is well known to the police of Boston, who long ago had him photographed for the rogues' gallery. He was taken to police headquarters, and in the presence of Supt. Adams, Messrs. Higgins and Hogg (members of the firm of Hogg, Brown & Co.,) and the arresting officers, acknowledged that he committed the robbery, and gave the names of his confederates, with other details. He was committed to jail.

Mr. Frances E. Abbott is to retire from the editorial management of the Index, on July 1st, and the affairs of the Index association are to be closed up. The paper is to become the property of the Free Religious association, which has undertaken to assume all obligations to subscribers and advertisers. Mr. William J. Potter, secretary of the Free Religious association, is to become the editor of the paper. The transfer of the Index and the closing up of the affairs of the Index association has become necessary on account of the non-payment of about $50,000 of regularly levied annual assessments on the association's capital stock.

A terrific boiler explosion occurred Friday at Birchill's iron works at Walsall, a manufacturing town in Straffordshire, England, about eight miles from Birmingham, by which twenty-five persons were killed outright, and sixty seriously injured.

The arrival at Cuba of Gen. Garcia with one hundred men, and a cargo of arms and ammunition for the insurgents, is reported. Steamer Tropic, which was reported to have carried on her last trip from Philadelphia to Cuba, munitions of war and a sub-marine boat for the Cuban insurgents, arrived at Philadelphia on the 16th inst., and her captain, being interrogated, declined to say whether the rumor was true or false.

It is reported that the allied forces of Peru and Bolivia, under the command of Gen. Montero, have inflicted a severe defeat upon the Chilians, between Moquequa and Lacus. It is stated that the Chilians were so hard pressed that they retreated to the mountain passes, where they were surrounded by their victorious allies, and completely entrapped. Moquequa is a Peruvian town, the capital of the province of the same name, in a valley on the left bank of the river Ilo, and on the great route leading across the country west of the Cordilleras.

Naval Gazette.

Norfolk, Va., advices of May 14th say "the Constellation is now on her way home from Ireland, and will come direct to the Norfolk yard for some fitting-out for the cruise in June of the midshipmen. The Miles Standish and Despatch will take the cadet engineers from the naval academy on their annual cruise this summer. All of the cadet midshipmen will cruise this year instead of the third and first classes as heretofore. They will be aboard the Constellation and the Dale, the parade ship at the academy. The Alliance will be supplied with 175 tons of coal, and then drop down to the farewell buoy to wait orders for sea. After a brief surveying cruise on the banks of Newfoundland, she goes to Europe. The machinery of the Alliance will be tested on Monday."

The house committee on naval affairs has reported favorably the bill providing that no civilian or other person not belonging to the navy shall be appointed to take charge of or superintend the sail-maker's department of any of the navy yards, but said appointments shall be made from sailmakers who are in the navy.

New Hampshire Items.

The will of James L. Mitchell, formerly proprietor of the hotel Brunswick, New York, bequeaths to his wife Rebecca his country-seat at Walpole, in this state, during life or so long as she remains unmarried. His life was insured for $20,000, $3,000 of which he gives to his widow, besides one-third of the income from the residue of the estate. The remainder is divided equally among the children. The hotel business he directs his executors to carry on until such time as they may deem it advisable to sell it.

A dwelling at Canaan owned by H. N. Tower & Co., and occupied by William Colburn, was burned on Saturday, with most of its contents. Loss $500; uninsured.

The Universalist society of Nottingham are to build a new church. It is currently reported that a manufacturing company there are to build a new cotton mill, with a capacity of 1,000 looms. A meeting will be held to see if the town will exempt from taxation any buildings so erected, for a term of ten years.

Political.

Senator Ben Hill closed a speech in congress last week with the pious wish that "the people would rise up and sweep the last vestige of power from that party which had perpetuated its life by fraud and bribery," and that exasperating person by the name of Edmunds said "Amen." It was a lovely peroration until Mr. Edmunds changed "the application on't."

—Never point an unloaded gun at a man for fun it is twice as much fun to hit him over the head with it, and gives him some chance.

—A driver of a street-car in Kingston, N. Y., had a terrible toothache. A dentist, who had paid his fare, perceived from the look of agony on the man's face what was the matter. He went to the front platform, took from his pocket one of the implements of his trade, and offered to take out the offending member then and there. The driver stopped the horses, and opened his mouth. In the twinkling of an eye the tooth was out. The driver lost ten seconds, but he made up the time before he reach the first switch.

The mystery has been solved at last;
Our teeth no longer need decay,
All troubles of the mouth are past.
By SOZODONT they're swept away;
And young and old may smile secure
With lips and teeth so bright and pure.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although efficacious in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. Thus valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in destroying worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty five cents a box. 1,th&f —An anecdote is told of a little fellow who in turning over the leaves of a scrap-book came across the well-known picture of a lot of chickens that have just left their shells. He examined the picture carefully, and then with a grave, sagacious look slowly remarked, "They came out 'cos they was afraid of being boiled."

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, May 12.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 3593; sheep and lambs 3293; swine 12,147; number western cattle 3072; eastern cattle 71; milch cows and northern cattle 168.

Prices of beef cattle per 100 lbs. live weight—Extra quality $5 75 and $5 62½; first quality $5 00 and $5 25; second quality $4 50 and $4 87½; third quality $4 12 and $4 37½; poorest grades of coarse oxen, &c., $3 25 and $4 00.

Brighton Hides 8½c per lb; Brighton Tallow $3 00 per 100 lbs; country hides 7½ and 8c per lb; country tallow 4 and 4½c per lb. Calf skins 12½c and 15c per lb. Sheep and lamb skins $2 and $2 each. Sheared sheep skins 25 and 35c each. Lamb skins 50c each.

The market has been well supplied this week with Western cattle, and the trade opened active at an advance in prices equal to 10 cents per 100 lbs. over those obtained one week ago. The call for shipping cattle has been fairly active and during the present week there is to be shipped a large supply of cattle and sheep per steamers for the foreign markets. The quality of beef cattle offered for sale for the week has been fully equal to that of the previous week. Prices obtained by butchers' dealers ruled in most instances from $4 90 and $5 25 per 100 lbs. live weight. From Maine the supply consisted wholly of milch and springers.

Working Oxen—Workers have been in limited demand a few pairs being all that is required to supply the market each week. We quote sales of 1 pr girth 7 ft live weight, 3100 lbs, $125; 1 pr girth 6 ft 10 in live weight, 2920 lbs, at $110; 1 pr girth 8 ft 6 in, live weight, 2700 lbs, $160.

Milch Cows—The cow trade, except for good ones, has been very quiet. We quote sales of a few very extra ones by Wm. Scollans; one Jersey cow at $100; 1 Ayrshire and Durham at $72.50; 4 springers at $50 each, and 10 ordinary cows at $40 to $55 each; J. C. Libby & Sons sold 3 nice springers at $50 each; 2 milch cows at $45; 4 springers at $40 each; Rockliff & Howe sold 3 springers for $120 the lot; 3 nice milch cows for $150 the lot; 2 do. at $50 each; 2 do. at $47 50 each; G. T. Fifield sold 2 cows at $52 and $49 50 each.

Store Cattle—Not any call for them. Most of the small calves and cows that are in a fair condition are bought for slaughtering purposes.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were mostly bought at the west for butchers and sent direct to the butchers, costing from 5½ to 6½c per lb, live weight. There will be several hundred western sheep sent to foreign markets per steamers during the present week.

Swine—Store pigs, wholesale 6 and 7c per lb, live weight. Fat hogs—Prices remain unchanged at 5½ and 5½c per lb, live weight.

The attention of ladies is called to the advertisement of Morris C. Foye, who will, for a short time, make a specialty of ladies' hose.

The new bridge between Eliot and Dover is nearly completed, and foot passengers can now pass over it, though it is not ready for teams.

Col. Sise, speaking as chief magistrate of the city, requests all citizens to close their places of business this forenoon during the obsequies of the late Ex-Mayor Simes.

Rev. Mr. Blodgett, pastor of the Catholic church in Dover, was last week presented by his parishioners with a horse, carriage and harness, the team being valued at $600.

Robert Temple, a brakeman in the employ of the Eastern railroad, was struck by a bridge at Beverly, Sunday afternoon, and instantly killed. He was unmarried and resided in Beverly.

Mr. Nathan F. Gilson, late clerk for Messrs. Butler & Laighton, and who has had twenty years experience at the business altogether, has opened a grocery store at No. 27 Market street.

All friends of temperance are invited to meet in Grange hall this (Tuesday) evening at seven o'clock, to confer with the committee relative to making arrangements for the County Temperance meeting in this city, June 3d.

The fish wharves presented quite a lively appearance on Monday. Before nine o'clock in the forenoon thirty-five thousand pounds of fish had been landed, and during the afternoon enough more came in to make a total amount of sixty-three thousand pounds. The fish were mostly haddock, cod being very scarce.

Rev. Eugene M. Grant, pastor of the Universalist church, who has been absent from his parish for several months on account of ill health, occupied the pulpit again on Sunday, making brief remarks having special reference to the death of Mr. Simes, long prominent in the affairs of that church. At the Sunday school, appropriate resolutions were adopted.

The new restaurant at the Eastern railroad depot opened on Monday morning at seven o'clock. The table was handsomely arranged, and loaded with a variety of cake, pastry and fruit, and of more substantial eatables in the way of cold tongue, sardines, lobster salad, etc. The trains stop ten minutes for refreshments, and the inviting look and neatness of the whole arrangement made its first day's opening a success. The room will be open from seven A. M. to nine P. M.

Schooner G. W. Brown, Janvrin master, of Newburyport, arrived at New York on the 13th inst. with 18,000 fresh mackerel. Schooner Lizzie Thompson, Capt. Roaf, also of Newburyport, arrived at New York on the same day with about 30,000 fresh mackerel.

The mackerel have reached this part of the coast, and several of the shore-fishing boats brought in small fares the latter part of last week, taken with hand-lines off the harbor. The fish are fair number twos in size, but they are not fat.

The Boston Post of Monday says: "Miss Rachel Noah will have a benefit at the Boston theatre on Wednesday afternoon, and the entertainment will be a gala one. John T. Raymond and his entire comedy company have volunteered to give a representation of 'Col. Sellers;' Mr. E. J. Buckley and Miss Norah Bartlett will appear in the balcony scene of 'Romeo and Juliet;' Miss Edith Stanmore, Mr. Buckley and others will give the third act of 'The Lady of Lyons;' Miss Georgia Cayvan will give a reading, and Miss Mary Beebe, Miss May Alice Vars, the Florence Students and others will give musical numbers."

The decision of the judges at the recent dog show in New York in the class of red Irish setters, giving the 1st prize to "Byron," belonging to Mr. John Davidson of Michigan, has been re-consided in consequence of a protest signed by many of the prominent sporting men present, and the 1st prize is now in possession of Mr. Adolph Nelson of this city, awarded to his dog "Elcho III." Among the signers of the protest against Byron's receiving the first prize were the editors of all the leading sporting papers in the country.

POLICE COURT.

John Benson was before the court on Monday, charged with drunkenness. The charge was proved, and Benson goes to the county farm in default of $9.90, fine and costs.

SUPREME COURT--CLARK, J.

A session of the supreme court was held on Monday, when several matters of minor importance were disposed of, and the court took a recess to August 30th. This will enable the reports of various referees to be got in at this term, so as not to encumber the docket.

BOW MISSION SERVICES.

The gospel temperance meeting, Saturday evening, was not so well attended as many of them have been, yet there was a goodly number present to enjoy the services. A friend suggested that this being the inevitable house-cleaning period, it was probable that many of the ladies were detained on that duty; anyway, it could not be the want of "spring bonnet," as none would stay away from these services on that account, as the invitation is "to all." Mrs. Watts conducted the meeting, choosing for a scripture lesson the parable of the sower. Miss Estella Cobb gave a beautiful recitation, and Messrs. Clarke, Janvrin, Wallace, French and others made remarks.

The bethel service, Sunday afternoon, was in charge of Mr. Samuel Hooper; theme, "Will a man rob God?" The service was quite interesting. L.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE AT THE NORTH CHURCH.

A large audience assembled in the North church, Sunday evening, to hear the temperance lecture by Rev. W. A. McGinley before the reform club; as this was the pastor's first public lecture on the subject, there was naturally much interest manifested as to what he would have to say, especially as it is well known that he is much interested in the cause of reform.

After singing by the congregation, led by the male choir, reading of the 14th chapter of Romans, prayer, and singing of "Mourn for the thousands slain," the pastor announced Leviticus 19-18, 1st Cor. 8-13, and Romans 14-21, as the bases of his remarks. "Total abstinence" was given as the theme.

Mr. McGinley said that temperance was obligatory on all; that temperance, —nor total abstinence,—was positively taught in the scriptures. The absurdity of many temperance advocates in wresting the meaning of many passages of scripture and applying them to total abstinence, was cited. "Touch not, taste not, handle not the unclean thing" was given as an illustration, as used by many, and yet it has no reference whatever to temperance, but to idols. That wine drinking was practiced and approved in the Bible, none could deny. That the wine that the Saviour made at the wedding was wine, and good wine, too. The speaker cautioned the audience to be careful and not to try to make the scriptures teach doctrines they never were intended to teach; that the goodness of the end never justifies the use of improper means; and that nothing is fit to stand that will not stand the truth and the wear of time. That Christ's great mission to this world was not to form total abstinence societies, and build churches and school houses, but to form a principle that would finally rule the world. Mr. McGinley urged that in this part of the world total abstinence was the only safeguard; that the northern race must be total abstainers. He said that three-fourths of all crime is caused by the use of intoxicating drinks; that intemperance is our besetting sin, and that moderation is totally inadequate to save the race; and the very same arguments that might be advanced in favored of the temperate use of intoxicants, can also be used for the benefit of total abstinence. The necessity of doing something to stop the tide of evil was urged upon all present, especially the wealthy and influential part of the congregation.

The lecture was full of bold assertions, and many of the points advanced were very suggestive, and furnished food for thought and argument. A.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

At eleven o'clock Monday forenoon, in response to a summons from Mayor Sise, the board of Mayor and Aldermen met in special session. The mayor gave the reason for the call, and spoke feelingly of the death of Ex-Mayor Simes. Alderman Laighton offered the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, Under the mysterious rulings of Divine Providence, we are again called upon to mourn the loss of a former chief magistrate of this city, suddenly taken away from us while in the career of active usefulness by the messenger of death,

Resolved, That while we bow in submission to the divine decree, we feel that in the death of Honorable William Simes, this community, county and state have suffered a loss from which it cannot easily recover; that his departure has left a vacancy in our midst which cannot easily be filled.

Resolved, That his career of untiring business activity, unswerving fidelity, unimpeachable integrity, and liberal charity affords to us who come after him a model for emulation.

Resolved, That we extend our sincere sympathy to his family, and those who in his decease lose a loving relative, a noble friend, and a trusted and trustworthy associate.

Resolved, That as a last tribute of respect to our departed friend, this city government will attend his funeral in a body.

The resolutions were unanimously passed by the board, and it was voted that they be spread upon the records.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The general committee held a short session Monday evening.

Chief Marshal James R. May reported that he, in company with Col. Wm. H. Sise, visited the navy yard, and extended an invitation to the officers and marine corps to participate in the ceremonies on Memorial day, and they had accepted.

The committee on invitations were instructed to extend an invitation to the Odd Fellows Encampment.

Wallace Hackett was added to the committee on carriages.

Col. Sise then made a few appropriate remarks, in relation to the death of Hon. William Simes, as the first war mayor, and the patriotic service which he assisted in rendering at that time; and on motion of Col. Sise the meeting adjourned as a mark of respect to his memory.

Elder A. A. Waite gave a farewell lecture and "chalk-talk" in Newburyport on Sunday evening, and had an audience of at least three thousand people. He started for Haverhill, Mass., Monday night, with his tent. Of his work in Newburyport the Herald of that city on Monday spoke as follows: "Whatever may be said of his erratic and decidedly novel style of preaching the gospel, one thing is certain, he succeeds in attracting and holding the attention of a class that might not otherwise be approached, and he certainly cannot fail of doing some good. Very few men, also, can gain and keep the affections of children as he does, and by them he will be sadly missed. His family remain in this city, which he has selected as his home, so that his friends will not lose him altogether, and may occasionally have a chance to hear him. He has chosen Haverhill as his field for work at present, and to the Haverhill people we recommend him as an affable, courteous and thorough gentleman, and a man who honestly tries to practice what he preaches."

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Lobster fishing at Cape Porpoise is very dull at present, and what few are caught do not find a ready market. Lobsters were selling in the Boston market for $3.50 per barrel, last week.

Horace Chadbourne of Hollis died May 18th. Mr. Chadbourne was one of the pioneer greenbackers of York county, and opened his parlor to convene the first greenback county convention held in that county.

The Saco & Biddeford telegraph and telephone company have commenced distributing the poles for their line between Biddeford and the pool, and as soon as that line is finished will run one to Old Orchard beach, along the route of the Boston & Maine railroad.

In the apportionment of Maine into enumeration districts, as approved by Mr. Walker, superintendent of the census, Biddeford is divided into seven districts, Saco into three, and Kittery into two; Hollis and Dayton are classed as one district. Each other town in York county forms an enumeration district by itself.

On Sunday night three attempts were made to burglariously enter dwellings in Kittery. In one place, part of a pane of glass was cut from a window, but the would-be burglar made a slight noise which aroused a member of the family who was sleeping in a room overhead, and who got up. At the second place, the follow's attempt to raise a loosely-fastened window gave the alarm to the inmates of the house; at the third place he was seen by one of the family, a young man, who was awakened by the barking of a dog, and going down stairs found himself confronting a man who was examining the fastenings of a window by the light of a dark-lantern. The man was of medium height and broad shouldered, and had on an ulster and a hat similar to a policeman's; some of the people of the vicinity have strong suspicions as to the burglar's identity, and several families have made arrangements to give him a suitable reception should he again turn up.

American War Vessels Ordered off.

A Panama letter of May 7th, says: The United States steamer Tennessee arrived at Aspinwall on the 4th, bringing as a passenger Hon. Ernest Diechman, United States minister resident in Colombia. On the 5th, Diechman, with the United States consuls at Aspinwall and Panama, paid a formal visit to the president of the state, Hon. Damas Cervera. There were present at the interview secretaries of the government, and of the treasury, and a national interpreter. Diechman did not employ the services of the latter, but immediately began a general dissertation on canal matters and the coaling-station business in the Spanish language, which his companions, the consuls, did not understand. Diechman employed the principal portion of his time in condemning a project undertaken by Europeans, and assured the president that the institutions, language and sovereignty of Colombia would be destroyed by the multitude of French men and Englishmen who would flock to the country with the commencement of work on the canal. His explanation of the coaling-station matter was unsatisfactory, and the result of the whole interview in effect on the president and secretaries was exceedingly unfavorable. The president, as agent of the national government, received from Bogota, April 29th, by telegraph, orders to intimate to "Commanders of the United States war vessels Adams and Kearsarge that if they remain in the territorial waters of Colombia to suspend surveys and other operations in which they are engaged in the Laguna de Chiriqui and Golfo Dulce; and from the latter bay the Adams should immediately retire, as there are in it no ports which have been open to commerce according to the customs regulations of the republic." A report is current in Carthagena that 2,000 men have left Bogota for the Isthmus and are daily expected at Barranquilla. The purpose of the visit is not stated, but it is supposed to have some relation to the coaling station business, which the Colombian government is evidently disposed to resent in the form in which it has been attempted. The occupation of Laguna de Chiriqui and the Golfo Dulce by American vessels was the theme of general conversation in Carthagena. The Tennessee will proceed to Savanilla to land Diechman, en route to Bogota. She will later touch at Carthagena, return to Aspinwall, continue her cruise to Laguna de Chiriqui, calling on the Kearsarge there, and afterward return, via Vera Cruz and other points, to New York.

A Candid Answer.

There is nothing in the world that is quite so unattractive as what is called candor. The most disagreeable people one meets are those who religiously speak their minds, and tell the truth on every occasion. Indeed, it is a very serious question to decide when to tell the truth, and how much of it to tell. What we call flattery is simply a silken tissue of harmless falsehood, the object of which is to make people feel comfortable. A candid man is a kind of burr in the world's hair, and while the man of tact smoothes the rough edges of life and makes his neighbors happy, the man of candor is a constant irritation. Still, a blunt truth bluntly told has its occasional use. "What did you think of," said one boon companion to another, "when you woke up in the ditch the other day, after your carouse?" "Think of?" was the caustic reply, "well, the first thing I did was to consider why in the world you were not lying beside me."

KNOW THYSELF.

The untold miseries that result from indiscretions in early life may be alleviated and cured. Those who read the assertion should purchase the new medical work published by the PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, Boston, entitled THE SCIENCE OF LIFE, or SELF-PRESERVATION.

Exhausted vitality, nervous and physical debility, or vitality impaired by the errors of youth or too close application to business, may be restored and manhood regained.

Two hundredth edition, revised and enlarged, just published. It is a standard medical work, the best in the English language, written by a physician of great experience, to whom was awarded a gold and jewelled medal by the National Medical Association. It contains beautiful and very expensive engravings. Three hundred pages, more than 50 valuable prescriptions for all forms of prevailing disease, the result of many years of extensive and successful practice, either one of which is worth ten times the price of the book. Bound in French cloth; price only $1, sent by mail post-paid.

The London Lancet says: "No person should be without this valuable book. The author is a noble benefactor."

An illustrated sample sent to all on receipt of 6 cents for postage.

The author refers, by permission, to JOS. S. FISHER, president; W. I. P. INGRAHAM, vice-president; W. PAINE, M. D.; C. R. DUNUY, M. D.; H. J. DOUCET, M. D.; E. H. KLINE, M. D.; J. S. HOLCOMB, M. D.; N. E. LYNCH, M. D., and H. O'DONNELL, M. D., faculty of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery also Hon. F. A. RINGWALT, M. D., president of the National Medical Association.

Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass. The Author is a member of a regular graduated medical college, and has devoted his entire attention to the treatment of all diseases requiring skill and experience.

SPEER'S
PORT GRAPE WINE!

Used in the principal Churches for Communion purposes and by the Aged and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,
FOUR YEARS OLD.

This Celebrated Native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this Country. Its Invaluable are unsurpassed by any other Native Wine. Being the pure juice of the Grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex. It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Tonic and Strengthening Properties

Speer's P. J. Sherry,

A delicate, fine flavored Sherry, from the Spanish grape, equal to the finest brands imported from Lisbon.

SPEER'S P. J. OR PEDRO J. BRANDY.

This noted Brandy is a pure distillation from the grape and is equal to the finest Hennessy or Otard Brandies; for medicinal purposes it can be relied upon as strictly pure.

Speer's Sambuci Wine!

celebrated for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm; improving the appetite and benefitting ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC,

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys and Urinary organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette

Established 1756,

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

MALT BITTERS

Malt Bitters Company

A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,

The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumptive and Wasting Diseases.

PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley MALT and Fresh HOP, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Tissue Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."

MALT BITTERS build up new the nervous, muscular (bone), and vascular systems, cure feeble digestion, sick headache, constipation, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and deep-seated coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciations, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility that are truly marvellous.

MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, overwhelmed, overworked, distressed, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irregular in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.

Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

SHAKERS'

SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.

It was the first as well as it is the best and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.

LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 20, 1880.

N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and is important to keep in stock as a paregoric or hive syrup. Yours very truly,

H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.

An Elephant Story.

This story is from a letter written by a gentleman in India. The writer says:—"One day two ladies were watching some elephants being fed near their camp in the jungles of the central provinces, when the elder of the two took it into her head to offer one of the elephants a very hot chapatti, which is a cake made of flour and baked on the fire over a thin plate, and consequently, when fresh made, is burning hot. Elephants are usually fed with these twice a day, but they are always allowed to cool before being given. This one was still so hot that it hurt the beast's trunk, for he dropped it with the quickness of lightning and with a shout, at the same time striking a blow on the hand of the lady. Had she been but a little nearer, and the beast not at the full length of his chain, the same blow on the head would certainly have killed her on the spot. As it was, her hand was in a most painful state for weeks afterward. Next morning, when it was time to start for the next encampment, this same lady, who usually got up the ladder first and sat nearest to the elephant's head, proceeded to do as usual, but he began to trumpet and throw water over her. This he did several times, till at last she had to give up trying to ascend, and another lady took her place. The elephant, however, permitted her to sit near his tail, but he remained cross all day."

The supreme court at Harrisburg, Pa., has denied a new trial to Mrs. Coonley, a woman who, in November last, enticed a young girl into a marriage with the notorious Dr. Delson, when she knew the latter had a wife living in Harrisburg. The court below is ordered to carry out the sentence of two years' imprisonment.

A full set of masonic jewels and the seal of Hiram Lodge of Newburg, N. Y., lost during the anti-masonic excitement in 1830, have just been found in the store of Odell P. Hathaway & Sons, who have done business at No. 62 Water street, Newburg, for the last fifty years, where they were hidden by the elder Mr. Hathaway.

An Old Doctor's Advice.

It was this: "Trust in God and keep your bowels open." For this purpose many an old doctor has advised the habitually costive to take Kidney-Wort—for no other remedy so effectually overcomes this condition, and that without the distress and griping which other medicines cause. It is a radical cure for piles. Don't fail to use it.

A select party of American bicyclers will leave New York next Saturday for a tour through England. The company was principally made up in Boston, and is limited to twenty, with a few vacancies left.

"SOME BOYS are brighter than others," said Mrs. Partington, "and then again some are not; but as for Isaac I never saw one of nicer dissemination. I could send him in the darkest night to get the Sanford's Jamaica Ginger bottle, and he never would mistake rhubarb or castor oil for it." She was holding the ginger bottle in her hand as she spoke, but there was none left in it. Ike had left before the time for explanation.

The German Roman Catholic association of the United States, embracing 335 separate societies and having a membership of over 26,000, met at St. Louis on Monday in its twenty-fifth annual session.

Kidney-Wort is nature's remedy for kidney and liver diseases, piles and constipation.

Speer's Sambuci Wine for Ladies.

Mr. Speer, an enthusiastic grape-grower from New Jersey, has a very excellent wine from the Sambucus. The best judges pronounce it superb. It has been adopted by the New York hospital, and by physicians generally as a very superior wine; and held in high estimation for its medicinal properties. We touch it to our lips somewhat unwillingly but are agreeably disappointed in finding one of the most delicious wines we have ever tasted. Our leading physicians have tested the virtues of this wine, and recommend it as a superior wine for invalids, debilitated persons and especially for females.

This wine is for sale by A. P. Preston, D. Kimball & Co., and F. B. Coleman, druggists, and H. F. Gerrish, grocer.

The Revived Republic.

The Cuban Republic, recently revived after a slumber of several years, has constituted a government as follows: President, Cabixto Garcia of Holquin; minister of war, Pio Rosado; minister of finance, Fousica; agent in the United States, residing at Key West, Senor Bacastro; agent in New York, Jose Francisco Lamadriz of Matanzas, late Cuban agent at Key West. The landing of the recent expedition from the United States was entirely successful, the ammunition and arms being put ashore in good order. President Garcia has issued a proclamation declaring the purpose of the Cuban patriots to continue the struggle until the Spanish rule is overthrown.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

MATERIALS.

Inexpensive and pretty costumes are made of pale ecru bunting trimmed with ribbon bows. Of course there are other shades, but delicate ecru tints are preferred, not only because they are especially adapted to summer time, but because they harmonize with anything and everything. A notable advantage accrues furthermore from the fact that the character of a bunting costume is so readily changed by means of a change of the accessories just mentioned, and one can be grave or coquettish upon occasion, simply in consequence of displacements easily effected. The figured goods of the day are likewise a popular finish for bunting costumes, but such combination, it is manifest, must be permanent. Bunting nevertheless is now closely rivalled by the new figured challies of the day, and as these are in every imaginable variety of pattern their use is correspondingly extended. The time is now close at hand, too, when even in northern latitudes we shall seek relief by the adoption of cool wash costumes. For morning wear, gingham is much sought after, and nothing more refined can be imagined than a neat gingham suit with parasol to match. Fine percales and lawns are also in favor, and here likewise the parasol can be made to correspond. In white, soft qualities of mull are trimmed with Hamburg edging or Breton lace, and novel suits are of mull in delicate tints of blue, pink or yellow. As to the

STYLES OF MAKING

there is a liberty that we can appreciate only by a recollection of the past. We all remember a time when, willing or unwilling, we were compelled to wear close-fitting princess costumes, which, exceedingly becoming to rightly proportioned figures, were an equal terror to ladies either too stout or too thin. Then we rushed into the opposite extreme; panniers came into vogue, and it seemed as if, whether or no, we should all be obliged to wear bunched-up dresses. But fortunately, at the eleventh hour, a change was brought about—by Lord & Taylor, if memory serves me aright—and the improvement has been a lasting one. Now we have no cast-iron rules. Bunched-up styles; cuirass or close-fitting corsages; straight hanging drappery; basques and trimmed skirts; over-skirts, polonaises, and dresses all in one, are equally stylish, while for wash costumes there is a choice among unlined and close-fitting basques, half-fitting jackets which may or may not be belted in, and polonaises or overskirts; the two last mentioned, however, being only sometimes chosen. Of late, too, there has arisen a style of skirt that brings back remembrances of the Long Ago, when they hung plainly and had rows of French gathers at the back below the waist line. The Gitana is a model embodying these ideas, and can be suitably worn with the Marimon coat, or a perfectly plain basque would answer likewise. But such costume is unsuited to wash goods, and here the Thilda skirt would be more desirable. In basques, the Eudoxia is new, and together with the Ilone skirt would serve as a model for a tasteful costume of silk or wool. An evening toilette might be copied after one worn by Emma Thursby at the recent Ole Bull concert. It was of pale blue satin and brocaded grenadine, made Cleanthe polonaise, and demi-trained skirt. The young prima donna is quite pretty, of medium size, and owes much of her success to her engaging manners when before an audience. She sang to an accompaniment played upon a Haines upright piano—and it is worthy of remark that this style of instrument has been much in vogue this winter, since it has been chosen at concerts where Campanini, Galassi, Marimon and other world-renowned stars have appeared. There is a rage for natural flowers as to the toilette. Sometimes it is only a little blossom, but they are worn in all gradations up to clusters of a dozen roses or huge bunches of violets or heart's ease. They are substitutes for the tie, or are placed anywhere on the front of the corsage, being often stuck in the belt. Artificial flowers are worn, but natural are the first choice; perhaps because, in a city, they are most expensive. Hand painting is in extraordinary favor. Ribbon bows are often ornamented in this way, and elegant evening toilettes are finished by hand-painting and embroidery. Spanish lace, black, white, or more or less heavily laden with gilt, is in extraordinary favor, and forms not only a stylish addition to bonnets, but in the shape of Andalusian scarfs, will afford a slight protection and give adornment to the shoulders of society better while flirting on the piazzas of summer resorts. Graceful and very becoming head-coverings can also be improvised from these scarfs, which have been introduced in honor of Queen Christine.

LUCY CARTER.

News and Notes.

Quite a sensation has been caused by the report that charges are made against the management of the old Texas Pacific railroad, and senators and representatives who were members of congress when the original bill was passed in 1876. The charges are that the charter was obtained by bribery, and the sums named as paid to these congressmen amount to over $1,000,000. An investigation is promised.

Five New York river pirates on Monday morning boarded the schooner Victor, at anchor off Flushing, L. I., and when the mate went out on deck to see what they were after they sent a volley of bullets at him. He returned the fire, hitting one of the thieves, and made a dash for the others, who jumped into their boat in such a hurry that they capsized her, and the wounded man was drowned. The others were captured by the crew of the schooner, bound hand and foot and turned over to the police.

The jury in the case of Col. John R. Popham, editor of the Southern Intelligencer, on trial in the Hustings court at Richmond, Va., for shooting his business manager, R. G. Agee, on Friday rendered a verdict of guilty of unlawful shooting, fixing his punishment at thirty days in jail and a fine of $200. A motion to set the verdict aside and grant a new trial was overruled by the judge.

John Fanton, a lad ten years old, fell off the town wharf, in Gloucester, Mass., last Sunday, and was going down the third time, when John Welsh, aged eleven years, jumped over and saved him. It was a narrow escape from drowning. This is the second life which young Welsh has saved within two weeks.

A Deadwood, Dakota, despatch says a party of twenty-five men who were in pursuit of the slayers of John Deffenbach on the 20th of last month, after following a trail which circled all over the Powder river valley, on Thursday of last week came upon a camp of eighteen Indians on a tributary of Little Powder river. They charged the village, and a running fight occurred, lasting two hours, when the Indians scattered, leaving four dead. The village, with all the equipage and seventy-seven of Deffenbach's ponies, fell into the hands of the pursuers. Joseph Rhodes, a rancher at Crow creek, was killed, and buried on the field.

The police have arrested Miss Nellie Annis, the house-girl employed by Mrs. Jennie D. Kennon of Lawrence, Mass., on a charge of cruelty to Henrietta Wood. Mrs. Kennon was taken to Newburyport on Saturday for trial.

We speak knowingly when we assert that Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is the best article of the kind sold on the American continent. Personal trial has demonstrated this, and the article is an elegant and cleanly one, without which we think no toilet complete. Messrs. Johnston, Holloway & Co., 602 Arch street, Philadelphia, are the agents for the article and when our Philadelphia friends return from Cape May they should certainly procure some of it. We know of no such article extant for the hair, and thus speak in such decided and emphatic terms.—Ocean Foam, Cape May, N. J.

Two brothers named Hall, were shot at East Cairo, Ky., Saturday, by a man named Rogers, owner of a fishing boat, the possession of which was the cause of a quarrel between the brothers and Mrs. Rogers. One of the brothers will probably die and the other recover. Rogers escaped in the boat after the shooting.

If the mother is feeble, it is impossible that her children should be strong. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 235 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

Pandora's Box

brought a multitude of ills upon humanity, so saith the ancients; but a bottle of SOZODONT is a well-spring of joy in this family, it refreshes the invalid by cleansing his mouth, and sits the belle for the parlor.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

REV. SYLVANUS COBB writes in the Boston Christian Freeman—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and what is harmless; for the sleep which it gives the infant is perfectly natural and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it during the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething stage, on any considerations whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle. 5

—A citizen of Plymouth, Ind., fired six shots at a supposed burglar, and then his wife called out: "See here, Sam, if you don't stop shooting at me you'll have the house full of neighbors."

—It was a very pretty compliment the little girl paid to the gentleman, who said he was sorry to give so much trouble in opening the door to let him go out, when she replied—"I wish, sir, it was to let you in."

—A country newspaper out west thus heads its report of a fire: "Feast of the Fir-Fiend.—The Forked-Tonged Demond Licks with its Lurid Breath a Lumber-Pile!—Are the Scenes of Boston to be repeated?—Loss 150 dolls."

—You may say what you please about it, but there is luck in horse shoes. A woman nailed one up against the woodshed a month ago, and last week her husband eloped with the hired girl. The man had not earned a cent for more than two years.

—It has become the custom to speak of a capable newspaper man as "a practical journalist" to distinguish him from the rest of the world. All other people are "theoretical" journalists, and believe they could run a paper, if given a chance, just as easy as slipping on a banana peel.

THE Admiration OF THE WORLD.

A NOTABLE EVENT!

Mrs. S. A. Allen's WORLD'S Hair Restorer

IS PERFECTION.

A Noble Record: near Half a Century. Established 1832. Improved 1879.

The nature of the great improvement is in its wonderful life-properties to fadeed or fading hair, and MORE QUICKLY CHANGING GRAY OR WHITE HAIR to its natural youthful COLOR and BEAUTY.

IT IS NOT A DYE.

It requires only a few applications to restore gray hair to its youthful color and lustrous beauty, and induce luxuriant growth, and its occasional use is all that is needed to preserve it in its highest perfection and beauty. DANDRUFF is quickly and permanently removed.

Sold by all Druggists, $1.25 Per Bottle,

AROUND HOME.

The Portsmouth cricket club and the Harvard club will play a game on the grounds of the former, near Frenchman's lane, on Wednesday, the 26th inst.

The Eldredge Brewing Co. introduce their bock beer to-day. Connoisseurs say it is of superior quality. It will be for sale at all the saloons.

Mr. Jerry Towle, of Vaughan Bros., sold on Monday afternoon, after three o'clock, 1000 warm rolls and penny biscuits. Jerry must have done some rolling.

The furniture and fixtures of the Kearsarge house will be sold at auction on Tuesday of next week, on the premises, the sale commencing at ten o'clock in the forenoon. Sale positive and without reserve.

A telegram arrived in this city on Tuesday from Sidney, New South Wales, giving the intelligence of the arrival at that port of the ship Chocorua, and of the death at sea, on the passage, of her late master, Capt. Charles D. Matthews of this city.

An unknown man about twenty years old, representing himself to be a clerk in Faneuil hall market, Boston, on Friday last hired a horse and buggy of William R. Brown, a livery man of Dover, to go to Durham, and has not since been heard from. The owner of the stolen team will pay for its recovery.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Garland master, arrived at Portsmouth bridge Tuesday morning from up river, with a load of brick for Boston. A man has been trying to make us believe that the gallant captain's heart is not nearly so hard as his cargo, and that for fear it might get injured he left it in custody of a fair one at Dover point, for this trip. We don't believe a word of it.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, May 18; Batchelder, J.

James Gilchrist, alias Scotty, was before the court just once more; this time, however, the programme was varied, he being complained of for assault on an officer. He started out all right to get brought up on the usual charge, by getting drunk and making a brawling nuisance of himself; and when the officer went to arrest him and put him out of decent people's sight, he pitched into the officer. Bound over in $100 for his appearance at the next term of the supreme court; jail in default.

Margaret Hill, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90. County farm.

William Masterson, John Hoffman and Richard Dow, boys from eight to eleven years of age, were brought up for till-tapping, they having on several occasions stolen small sums of money from Matthew W. Earring's store. They were allowed to go on probation.

FUNERAL OF MR. SIMES.

Hon. William Simes was buried on Tuesday in the burial place of the family at the South cemetery. The funeral services, which were held at the Universalist church, were conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Grant, in a solemn and impressive manner. The family were seated directly in front of the altar, and were accompanied by numerous relatives and friends.

The Portsmouth savings bank, of which Mr. Simes was president at the time of his decease, and for many years previous, was represented by Mr. Joseph Hiller Foster, treasurer, H. C. Hoyt, clerk, and Messrs. W. H. Rollins and C. H. Mendum, of the executive board. Mr. John J. Pickering, president, with the directors and other officers of the Rockingham national bank, of which the deceased was a director; and the presidents and officers of the other banks of the city, were also present. The mayor, aldermen and other municipal officers occupied pews on the broad aisle reserved for them. All of the available seats in the large church were filled by a sympathizing concourse of people, who thus testified to the universal esteem in which our deceased ex-chief magistrate was held. Among the prominent men in public life, present, were Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Ex-Congressmen John R. Reding, Daniel Marcy and Frank Jones, Judges Odell, Bufford and Batchelder, and five ex-mayors. The general business interests of the city were represented by men of every profession and pursuit. Flags were displayed, at half mast, on the city hall and in every section of the town.

The floral offerings were beautiful and appropriate. A cross, wreath of ivy, and a sheaf of wheat rested upon the casket, at the head and foot of which were small tables supporting the floral tributes of the church and Sunday school. A harp and crescent, elegantly wrought of rare and fragrant flowers, one the gift of a Boston friend, the other sent by a distinguished gentleman of this city, were disposed in front of the altar.

The service was rendered in the following order:

Organ voluntary.
Selections from the scriptures.
Invocation.
Chant by the choir.
Selections from the scriptures.
Prayer.
Chant by the choir.
Committal service.
Hymn: "I would not live alway."
Benediction.

The large audience was profoundly attentive to the entire service, and seemed pervaded with the spirit of the occasion and the place. The simple pathos of the prayers offered, and the strikingly appropriate passages of scripture read by the minister, touched all hearts.

Before the body was borne from the church the lid of the casket was raised, and the congregation moved in orderly procession to look for the last time upon the face of the honored dead. A long line of carriages then wended its way to the cemetery.

A memorial service commemorative of the late William Simes will be held at the Universalist church on Sunday morning next, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Grant.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

The wire stretchers of the American Union telegraph company arrived as far east as Eliot on Monday afternoon.

The Boston & Maine railroad corporation is building an engine house and putting in a turn-table at North Berwick.

Mrs. Clark, mother of R. C. Clark of Berwick, an old lady of over seventy years, while leaving her house a few days ago slipped and fell, breaking her arm.

The town of Eliot has purchased a building lot of Major Oliver Dixon, to build the new town hall on. Work is to commence at once on the building, adjoining Dixon's smithery.

New Hampshire Items.

The president has nominated Lysander H. Carroll to be postmaster at Concord, and Henry A. Marsh to be postmaster at Nashua. James H. Larkin of Concord is to be appointed local mail agent, in place of Lysander H. Carroll, promoted to be postmaster as a tribute to the ability and efficiency with which he has discharged his duties as local mail agent.

Michael Connor, aged nineteen years, who arrived in Manchester from Ireland on the 8th inst., made a desperate attempt at suicide Monday with a razor, completely severing his wind-pipe. A glass tube has been inserted, so that respiration is perfect, but physicians say death by starvation is only a question of time. The deed was committed at the house of his brother, James Connor, and was caused, probably, by despondency.

Timothy O'Brien, while under the influence of liquor, shot his wife through the thigh, near his saloon at Manchester, Monday. No special cause for the act is known to exist, except that she had been talking to him about drinking. The police after arresting him found $160 on his person.

The annual report of the Strafford county Masonic Mutual Relief association shows that during the past year $10,678 has been paid in death benefits on nine deaths. The present membership is 574; amount of permanent fund invested, $4,046. The expenses of the association last year were $188.

Naval Gazette.

The United States ship Portsmouth, which arrived at Hampton roads on Saturday, has been ordered to Bermuda, the Azores and Halifax.

The sloop-of-war St. Marys, schoolship of the New York board of education, sailed from New York on Monday for New London, Conn., thence to Plymouth, Eng., Cherbourg, Lisbon, Madeira islands and home again. She has upwards of one hundred and fifty boys on board.

The U. S. S. Nipsic arrived at Madeira April 27th, from Norfolk.

The secretary of the navy has received an official communication from Rear Admiral Wyman, at Panama, relative to the condition of affairs on the isthmus. It states that there has been no excitement in Panama over the presence of the United States vessels Kearsarge and Adams, on either side of the isthmus, excepting some political agitation over the publications of the Panama Herald. The secretary is inclined to the opinion that the Adams left the territorial waters of Colombia previous to the issuance of the alleged order directing the vessels to suspend operations. He also reiterates his statement, heretofore published, that so far as he is aware of there has been no surveying done by the commanders of the vessels.

A Puzzled Preacher.

The Woonsocket Patriot says that not long since Rev. T. G. Wilder and Rev. G. F. Walker of Blackstone exchanged pulpits, Rev. Mr. Walker officiating at the Baptist church. It was communion day, and at the proper stage in the service it became necessary to administer and partake of the wine as a religious rite. When everything was ready, the minister reached for the tankard, and raising the lid, commenced the operation of pouring it out, but none came. The trial was repeated, but only to prove a failure. The minister looked puzzled, and there was a slight twinkle in his eye, which was entirely excusable, but the audience was a little confused and a good deal amused. While in this state of suspense, and eagerly awaiting the result, the preacher drew up and made a closer inspection of the inside of the tankard, and on discovering some object, introduced his hand and drew forth a large bottle, in presence of the audience, who were nearly convulsed with laughter. It bordered so closely upon the comic that the effect was almost irresistible. Had it been in any other place than a church, there would probably have been some rousing cheers. The sight of a bottle in these days, under almost any circumstances, is very inspiring. The deacon, or the one in charge, came forward with an explanation, stating that he placed an unsealed bottle of wine in the tankard, intending to have it ready for use, but it entirely escaped his memory. Matters were soon adjusted and arranged, and the services happily conducted to the close, after this quite harmless and interesting little episode.

A Mother's Courage.

For several days past it had been reported that a wildcat was roaming the woods in the neighborhood of Shandaken, back of Kingston, N. Y. Two or three persons had seen the animal, but being unarmed, did not dare venture to attack it. On Saturday afternoon last, as the four-year old child of Charles Schoonmaker, who lives on the mountain bordering on Greene county, was playing near the house, its mother heard it scream for help. Running from the house, she found that the child was being attacked by some wild animal. Seizing a heavy stick she went to the child's assistance. The wildcat (for such it was,) with eyes sparkling like fire, jumped for the mother and fastened its claws in one of her arms. Being a strong and courageous woman, she managed to hurl the animal from her, and, by a few well-directed blows, to end its life. It measured over five feet from its head to the tip of tail, and weighed twenty-seven pounds. The child was badly scratched, and but for the prompt arrival of its mother, would have been killed.—Ex.

OLD AND RELIABLE,

Dr. Sanford's Liver Invigorator is a Standard Family Remedy for diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.—It is Purely Vegetable.—It never Debilitates.—It is Certain and Sure.

TRY IT.

SANFORD

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order; its unhealthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, Bowel Complaints, Sagacious, and other Disorders.

LIVER

The Liver is the seat of malarial diseases. The Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic Influences. It purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.

INVIGORATOR

The Liver Invigorator has been used in my practice and by the public, for more than 35 years, with unprecedented results.

Mr. Speaker—
The gentleman is a deep-dyed liar—
What is the reason—
Sir, I am personally responsible—
Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of privilege—
The committee on the revision of the laws—
Sir, Mr. Speaker, am I to be denounced in this house as—
The gentleman misunderstood me. In calling him a liar I meant nothing personal. I say he is a scoundrel!
Mr. Speaker, I accept the gentleman's apology. I had hitherto considered him more a fool than knave. I am pleased to learn that he is equally both. I am personally responsible for—
Allow me, Mr. Speaker, to call attention to a piece of shameless iniquity in this bill, which is already known to the thieves and vampires who have charge of it. There is in the first section—
I would like to pair off—
At this critical juncture, the sergeant-at-arms announced that two women and three babies were waiting to see two of the members; and, after agreeing that the evening session should be for debate on finance only, the house adjourned.

After Five Years.

The confession of W. E. Udderzook, for the murder of his brother-in-law, W. S. Goss., at Jennersville, Chestercounty, Pa., on Monday, June 30th, 1874, published more than five years after he was hanged at West Chester prison on the 11th of November, 1874, makes a singular story. The confession was placed in the hands of one of his counsel, Mr. J. F. Purdue, before his execution, with the request that he should hold it until the murderer had been five years in his grave, and then give it to the world as a veritable history of a very remarkable case. The affair is so well known and remembered that we will only say if the first motive was money the final motive was fear. The life of Goss was insured for $25,000, and a stolen dead body was burned in a house by Goss and his brother-in-law to cheat the insurance company with the story that the corpse was that of Goss. He was carefully hidden away, and when his death was accepted the amount was then to be divided between the two. But the insurance company resisted payment, and Goss became importunate, needy, and difficult to hide. Then Udderzook, influenced more by fear of discovery and punishment than by the hope of the money, killed his brother-in-law, in the latter part of June, 1874, and buried his body. The trial took place at West Chester, before the county judge, Butler, at present justice of the United States court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania, and resulted in the conviction and execution of Udderzook.

Put Nobody On Guard.

In the spring of 1865, when Sheridan's cavalry moved up the Shenandoah valley to have a last wrestle with Early's troopers, a halt was made by a portion of the Union force near Waynesboro'. Guards were thrown out to protect property, and among others the house of a lone, aged widow received such protection. Two dismounted cavalrymen were stationed at the front door, and it was half an hour or so before any stir in or around the house gave token that it was inhabited. Then the widow limped to the door on a crutch, called one of the guards to her, and asked:

"What are you doing here?"

"We are guards to protect you and your property," was the reply.

"Well, you needn't fool away any time here. Early he came and took away our hay. Then Sheridan come and he took our corn. Then Mosby he stole our ham and 'taters. Then Sheridan took our flour and cider. Then Early run off all our horses. All I had left this morning was an old sick mule, and meal enough for one hoe-cake. The mule he died two hours ago, and I've just eaten the last of the cake, and if you can find anything worth guarding around here you can have it and tote it off."

"But some of the soldiers may disturb you."

"I guess not," she said, as she pointed to the spot where a cannon ball had torn through the house. "The day that hole was shot through there I was rocking and singing the 'Pilgrim's Hope,' and I didn't miss a rock nor drop a note. I don't hardly think one brigade of horse-sojers can disturb me very much. You'll obleege me by joggin' along."

Frank Patten, with his brother and a friend, was at the Tivoli gardens in Kansas City, Sunday, and when returning home at night they got into a quarrel with three men in a hack, one of whom drew a revolver and shot Patten, who died in a few minutes. The murderer escaped.

Abel Hunt of Sudbury, Mass., died recently at Nice, France. He had made a will, which was deposited in the Union Safety Deposit vaults at Boston, and examination of the document shows that the name of the maker has been cut from it. Who mutilated the will is a mystery which will have to be solved in a court of law, as it will cause a great change in the disposition of the property.

Ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors of females cured by Malt Bitters.

—The world owes us all a living, but she is just as hard to collect from as any other debtor.

A STANDING INVITATION.—If this meets the eye of any man, woman or child suffering from any disease of the kidneys, bladder, liver, or urinary organs, they will consider this a standing invitation to try HUNT'S REMEDY, the great kidney and liver medicine. This splendid medicine (endorsed by leading physicians) is a sure cure for the worst forms of Kidney Disease. All druggists sell Hunt's Remedy, and no chemist or physician ever prescribed a better. Trial size 75 cents.

New Lungs cannot be made by medicines, or the skill of physicians, but the old ones can be strengthened and preserved by the use of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, a sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price, 25 and 75 cts.

Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS.

CUTICURA REMEDIES for the Treatment of Blood and Skin and Scalp Humors. When of Scrofulous, Cancerous, or Syphilitic origin the CUTICURA RESOLVENT is the principal remedy, and if there are at the same time Ulcers, Sores or other External Affections, then the CUTICURA, established by the CUTICURA SOAP, must be used externally. If the disease is of the Skin and Scalp, the principal remedy will then be the CUTICURA, with the CUTICURA SOAP, and such use of the RESOLVENT as suggested by the following conditions: In all Skin and Scalp Diseases, when the skin is hot and dry, the blood feverish, the liver torpid, the bowels constipated, or when the virus of Scrofula or poison of Mercury is known to lurk in the system, or when the Constitution has been shattered by Malarial and Anti-Periodic Fevers and Debilitating Diseases, always take the RESOLVENT while using the CUTICURA. A cure thus made will be permanent and satisfactory.

ECZEMA RODENT.

The Cuticura Remedies succeed where a Constellation of Physicians Fails.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I have suffered over thirteen years with skin disease in my hands and limbs, causing constant irritation, depriving me of rest and attention to business.

I sought many remedies here and elsewhere, also use of sulphur baths, without permanent cure.

Last May a physician called my disease Eczema Rodent,—spots appeared on my hands, head, and face, eyes became much inflamed and granulated, causing a death impaired sight.

Internal and external remedies were prescribed by a leading physician for six months, was then introduced to another, and a consultation of several leading physicians was had, when a definite plan was decided upon, but all to no purpose.

After following advice for nine months without any permanent cure, I bought two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and some SOAP, and can testify with great pleasure to the effect that they have had in my case, in eight days being a entry cure.

The physicians pronounced my case the most aggravated one that has ever come under their experience and practice.

I recommend and highly indorse the CUTICURA REMEDIES. Yours truly,

F. H. DRAKE,
Agent for Harper & Bros'. Publications.

SALT RHEUM

On Face, Head, and Parts of Body. Head covered with Scabs and Sores.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—I commenced to use your CUTICURA last July. Have only used one large and one small box, and one bottle of the RESOLVENT. My face and head and some parts of my body were almost raw. My head was covered with scabs and sores, and my suffering was fearful.

I had tried everything I had heard of in the East and West. My case was considered a very bad one. One very skilful physician said he would rather not treat it, and some of them think now I am only cured temporarily. I think not, for I have not a particle of Salt Rheum about me, and my case is considered wonderful. My case has been the means of selling a great many of your CUTICURA REMEDIES in this part of the country. Respectfully yours,

MRS. S. E. WHITTLE.
DECATUR, MICH., Nov. 17, 1878.

CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one half times the quantity of small, $1; RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

MALT BITTERS
Malt Bitters Company
A FOOD AND A MEDICINE,
The Purest, Safest and most Powerful Restorative in Medicine for Feeble and Exhausted Constitutions, Nervous and General Debility, Consumption and Wasting Diseases.
PREPARED without fermentation from Canadian Barley, Malt and Hops, and warranted more Nourishing, Strengthening, Vitalizing and Purifying by reason of their richness in Bone and Fat Producing Material, than all other forms of malt or medicine, and free from the objections urged against malt liquors, alcoholic "tonics," "bitters" and "stimulants."
MALT BITTERS build up anew the nervous, osseous (bone) and muscular system. For feeble digestion, dull, heavy, dyspeptic, inactive stomach and liver, bronchitis and chronic coughs, consumption, weakness of the kidneys and urinary organs, emaciation, dropsy, mental and physical debility, ulcerative weaknesses of females, exhaustion of nursing mothers and the aged, and every form of debility they are truly marvellous.
MALT BITTERS combine a Food and a Medicine in the most perfect form yet devised, and commend themselves to the weak, convalescent, overworked, debilitated, nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, bilious, fickle in appetite, irresolute in mind and subject to melancholy as the purest, safest and most powerful restorative in medicine.
Put up in German quarts and warranted genuine when signed by the Malt Bitters Company as above. Sold by druggists. Malt Bitters Company, Boston.

Collins' Voltaic Plasters relieve in 5 minutes.
Sanford's Jamaica Ginger, the Delicious.

SHAKERS'
SARSAPARILLA
Prepared by the Canterbury Shakers from the roots of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Black Cohosh, Garget, Indian Hemp and the Berries of Juniper and Cubeb, united with Iodide of Potassium made by the Society.
It was the first as well as it is the most and purest of strengthening and purifying medicines called Sarsaparilla, being totally unlike all others in the variety, quality and quantity of its precious properties. It cleanses the blood of impurities and drives out scrofulous humors. It excites the appetite, regulates the stomach and bowels, increases the flesh, prevents weakness and degeneration of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of ulcerative weaknesses and debilitating humors. It expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in nervous and general debility, emaciation and dropsy. It expels the cause of rheumatism and gout, and invariably relieves asthma. It has been publicly recommended by Drs. Valentine Mott, Dixi Crosby, and others. Its reputation as the best and purest Sarsaparilla extends over a period of fifty years.
LAWRENCE, MASS., Jan. 26, 1880.
N. A. BRIGGS: Dear Sir,—In reply to your letter of the 19th, asking my opinion of Corbett's Sarsaparilla Syrup and the number of years I have sold it, I would say it is one of the first popular and reliable proprietary remedies I can call to mind, as I entered upon my apprenticeship in the drug business thirty-five years ago. It has always been considered one of the standard remedies and as important to keep in stock as paregoric or blue syrup. Yours very truly,
H. M. WHITNEY, Druggist.
It is warranted genuine when bearing the signature of Thos. Corbett, its inventor.
Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' Sarsaparilla.

Daily Chronicle.

New Publications.

The magazines for June are at hand.

Lippincott's has "Old St. David's at Radnor," by Longfellow, which is in his happiest vein. Paul Hayne has a fine sonnet entitled "Spiritual Illumination," and Mrs. Caroline A. Mason one almost equally good, called "An Open Secret." "Adam and Eve" grows in interest, and there are several good short stories, while the "Gossip" contains some anecdotes about Carlyle, and other readable matter. This issue closes the twenty-fifth volume.

Appleton's has its usual excellent contents. Among the papers is the second article on "Health at home" by Dr. Richardson, full of sensible suggestions upon every-day matters. There is the first half of a novelette by Victor Cherbuliez, entitled "Herr Drommel's Inconsistencies," in which the brilliant characteristics of that writer appear at their best. The story is full of wit, point, fresh characterization, and the main situation is certainly a novel one. Herr Drommel is a German savant, who is made the butt of the author's brilliant satire. There is another selection from "Senior's Conversations," giving utterances from Lamartine, Renan, and others; it is eminently readable. There is a very entertaining paper on Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy;" a paper on Siberia, which gives quite a new idea of that much-talked-of country, by which it appears that a banishment to Siberia is not the terrible thing it has been supposed to be. There is an article on Gottfried Keller, the Swiss novelist; one on "Dreams," which is full of strange matter; a paper on "Infernal Mechanics," and the "Spanish Theatre."

The Atlantic has a continuation of Mr. Aldrich's story. There is an attempt at being funny by Mark Twain in describing one-sided conversation by telephone; any country editor would send such a cheap production to the waste-basket, but the Atlantic people probably take all of this writer's effusions, good and bad, and pay by the year. The magazine has other articles of interest, which make the number for June quite an acceptable one.

—A woman at Allenville, Ark., conspired with a drug clerk to give her husband poison as though by mistake, instead of a substance which he habitually bought. The plan was to let the man die, and then the widow was to sue the clerk's employer for damages. It did not work.

One Way to Economize.

Many a poor man, if required to account for the manner in which he has expended his income, would find bills of his family physician for "medical services" among the leading items. In seven cases out of ten, acute diseases are the result of some neglected chronic disease. Thus, fevers invariably result from diseased conditions of the blood and liver, and a timely use of alterative, or blood-purifying, and cathartic remedies would have averted the prostrating illness, that often leaves the system irreparably injured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets are the best alterative and cathartic medicines yet compounded. Full directions are given for administering them, together with an accurate description of the symptoms demanding their use. They will not cure all human ills (as some medicines are advertised to do), but they will cure the diseases for which they are compounded and recommended.

—Hereafter when the local reporter of the Newark Advertiser romances, he will keep his weather eye on the exact science of mathematics. He related how a townsman, with the help of a companion, recently brought $1,500,000 in gold from the west, and thus saved $1,500 exchange. A New Yorker explains how gold coin is usually put up in bags of $5,000 each, weighing twenty pounds. A million and a half would therefore fill 300 bags, and weigh three tons.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.—Providence Advertiser.

— Thomas Ashwood was a prisoner in a Pittsburgh police court. A policeman had caught him in the yard back of Mr. Balmfield's residence, at midnight, opening a shutter. He did not look like a burglar, but the circumstances were against him, and he would not attempt any explanation of his conduct. The justice was about to commit him for trial, when Miss Couiter, a niece of the Bairnfields, stepped forward and asked to be a witness. She said that the supposed robber was a lover of hers, that he had been forbidden to see her, and that she had invited him to a stolen interview at the window. The complaint was dismissed.

The Big Boat-Race.

The preliminary arrangements for the Hanlan-Courtney boat-race on the Potomac river at Washington were completed on Tuesday, the 18th inst., and a grand race was anticipated for the next day, barring accidents—such as the sawing in two of boats, etc. Charles P. Morris was selected as judge at the turning stake, and Lieut. Maxwell Wood, of the navy, at the finish; Courtney selected as his judge on the referee's boat, E. B. Rankin of the Boston Herald; Hanlan chose David Ward of Toronto as his representative. The betting, Tuesday evening, was very heavy, ranging from 100 to fifty on Hanlan down to 100 to thirty-six, the sporting men almost invariably backing Hanlan, and being apparently prepared to wager almost any amount on him at two to one. The race was set for half-past four o'clock.

On Wednesday the excitement in Washington was intense. Courtney was reported "indisposed," early in the day, and another fiasco was feared. Shortly after noon the race was postponed by the referee, at the request of both parties, to 5:30 o'clock, on account of the intense heat. The race was finally pulled at 6:30, Hanlan beating Courtney by twenty lengths; the winner went over the course in thirty-six minutes.

Disagreement of the Doctors.

Templeton the Boston correspondent of the Hartford Courant, in a recent letter speaks of a former townsman of ours whose portraiture will be recognized.

The St. Botolph club controversy about clergymen's encouraging drinking habits took on a new phase last week in an attack by the Rev. Dr. Miner upon the Rev. Dr. Peabody, of Harvard university. Dr. Miner, in his wonted headlong manner, charged Dr. Peabody with "distinctly advising" the young men under his influence "that to drink moderately is better than not to drink at all." In response to this Dr. Peabody declares that Dr. Miner has stated "an absolute and unqualified falsehood." To appreciate the full significance of this, your readers should know Dr. Peabody. A milder mannered, more amiable tempered man probably never lived. He comes nearer to sainthood than any Boston minister of any denomination in our day. I don't suppose he ever had a personal controversy with anybody in his life; and his reply to Dr. Miner is a horrified disclaimer of sentiments repulsive to his own nature as well as an indignant protest against misrepresentation. Dr. Peabody preaches to the students at Harvard. He is their friend and sympathizer beyond any of the faculty. No one of them ever gets into trouble, but he finds a soft place in the heart of Dr. Peabody to excuse, and if possible, help him out. He is a gentleman venerable in years as well. The attack upon him by Dr. Miner is almost brutal in its nature, but it has answered a good end in eliciting a response which has really more of severity in it than the most violent language that it is in the power of Dr. Miner to frame. Dr. Miner is himself president of Tufts college. It is not a large institution, but it represents the Universalist denomination, and is ably managed by Dr. Miner. He is, indeed, as I have before told you, a very able man. He is almost insane on the subject of temperance. Naturally arbitrary, domineering and intolerant, he seems to have been urged into something approaching madness, by the fact that his efforts make so little impression upon the public mind. He lost all influence years ago by his ultraism. People have done expecting fairness towards opponents at his hands; and though there is indignation at his assault upon Dr. Peabody, there is not much surprise with regard to it. One would suppose that, if Dr. Miner were bent upon advancing the temperance cause rather than having his own way and abusing those who fail to help him in it, he would temper his zeal with discretion. The temperance agitators here have dwindled down into a smaller body than were the Garrison abolitionists of old, and with less hope of rising out of their feebleness in numbers and importance.

News and Notes.

Patrick Whalen, of Attleboro', Mass., was knocked down, kicked, and probably fatally injured on the 18th inst. by James M. Solomon, Jr., son of an "Indian doctor" of Providence, R. I.

At Grand Haven, Mich., on the 18th inst., J. F. Woodbury, a travelling agent for John B. Ellison & Sons, of Boston, Mass., was drowned. He had been fishing with George R. Hancock, sergeant of the signal service there, and they were returning when a passing tug threw them a line to tow the boat home, but the boat capsized, and Woodbury was drowned before help could reach him; Hancock was rescued.

The four river thieves who were captured by the mate and crew of the schooner Victor, at Flushing, L. I., a few mornings ago, at the time a fifth ruffian was wounded and drowned, were sentenced to ten years each in the New York penitentiary, on the 18th inst., having pleaded guilty to charges of felonious assault and burglary in the third degree.

Dr. M. E. Smith, of Hyde Park, Vt., is under arrest on a charge of causing the death of Miss Flora V. Heath by illegal practice.

At Machias, N. Y., Sunday evening, the 16th inst., while Fletcher Lafferty and wife and John Enchner and wife were rowing on Lime lake, the boat capsized, and Mrs. Enchner and Mr. Lafferty were drowned.

Red Cloud, Spotted Tail and ten other Sioux chiefs are waiting at Rosebud landing for the boat to take them to Yankton. From there they will proceed to Washington for the purpose of discussing the proposition to permit railroads to run through the Sioux reservation.

A boy named Purdy was found with his hands and feet tied on a roof in Milton, N. Y., on the night of the 17th inst., with a small amount of money around him. A drug store had been robbed, but he claims to have been chloroformed and carried to the roof by two robbers, who escaped. Two men were seen running away, which gives color to his story, but he is held for robbery.

In the scuttling case at St. John, N. B., the jury on the 18th inst. returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy, against Capt. Tower, of the bark Brother's Pride. Sentence was deferred, as there are exceptions to be argued. Tower, who has been out on bail, was committed to jail, but it is expected he will be again bailed. The verdict has created a sensation in St. John, the general opinion having been that there would be a disagreement of the jury.

Andrew Smith, late town treasurer of North Andover, Mass., came into court at Newburyport on Tuesday, May 18th, and, waiving the reading of the long indictment, pleaded guilty. This case is that in which Smith, while treasurer of the town, embezzled some $30,000 of the funds. After hearing the case, Judge Putnam, in a few remarks on the character of the felony, imposed a penalty of imprisonment for the term of six years in the penitentiary, one day solitary.

The conductors on the Boston & Maine railroad now get the same pay as in 1876, but the baggage-masters and brakemen get five dollars a month less than they did then.

Miss Cornelia E. Boardman of Milford, Conn., who recently gave the Episcopal church of that town a fine building site and subscribed $5000 toward a stone edifice, died on the 14th inst., leaving an estate of $1,000,000.

Old Alfred Morris of Brookfield, Conn., drew $323 from a savings bank and went to the circus at Danbury, the other day, where he was taken in by a blackleg and swindled out of the entire amount.

At Westerly, R. I., on the 17th inst., Miss Melissa Gorton, aged twenty-one years, an adopted daughter of Mr. J. W. Gorton, was walking down Main street with two of Mr. Gorton's daughters, when they detected the smell of smoke directly behind them, and in a few seconds Miss Melissa felt that she was being burned in the back, and began to run down the street, screaming. She ran for some distance, the motion of course stimulating the fire, and her dress was quickly in flames. The startling sight and the young lady's cries attracted attention, and some people seized her, threw her upon the ground in the yard of a house, and smothered the flames with a buffalo robe. The small of the back and the hip and limbs were found to be badly burned. Although seriously injured, it is thought the young lady may recover. The origin of the fire is a mystery, though it may have arisen from a lighted match or cigar stump, unwittingly cast upon the panier of the dress from some upper story, as the young ladies passed along the business section of the street.

Colonel Charles H. Lewis, formerly United States minister to Portugal, died at Harrisonburg, Va., a few days ago, aged sixty-three years.

Joe Johnson, who outraged and murdered Mrs. George Salmon at Fairview, Ky., on the 14th inst., was killed by a mob, his head placed on a pole near the scene of his execution, and his body burned to ashes.

President Hayes this week sent a message to congress in relation to the alleged outrage on American citizens at Fortune bay, Newfoundland, together with a report from the secretary of state on the subject.

The trial of Henry J. Gunn for the murder of his father, Justin L. Gunn, at Bridgewater, Mass., last September, was begun at Plymouth on the 18th inst.

Charles Miller, a young man living with E. A. Brigham at Russell, Mass., was shot in the breast on the 18th inst., by a man supposed to be a burglar, who mistook him for Brigham. The wound is not dangerous. Search was made for the assailant and a companion, and the former was found in a saloon at Westfield. Brigham was known to have considerable money, and two suspicious characters had been seen about the premises. When shot, Miller was trying to find where they lay concealed.

The engine of the train which went down with the Tay bridge has been raised, and an inspection shows that the engineer had not time to reverse his engine before he went over. The recent evidence shows that the train and bridge fell together, and before the former left the track.

The persons who wrecked a train on the Andalusian railway, in Spain, recently, have been court-martialed. Thirteen of them were sentenced to death, and thirteen to twenty years' imprisonment.

A woman has just died at Jackson, Mich., who, it is claimed, took no food of any sort for thirty-five days, but who during her fast did not complain of hunger. She was not in the least emaciated at death. The stomach was only one-eighth its normal size, and the walls were as thin as paper. She had been sick two years of spinal disease.

Brown's Household Panacea

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly relieve pain, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted doubt the strength of any similar preparation.

It cures pain in the side, back or bowels, sore throat, rheumatism, toothache and all aches.

The great reliever of pain, "Brown's Household Panacea," should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will break up a cold. 25 cents a bottle.

Much Sickness,

Undoubtedly with children attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box. tthSf

AROUND HOME.

The last timbers of the coal-pocket were raised on the 19th inst., and the planking-up of the outside was commenced.

Mr. George W. Guppy arrived home on the 19th inst., from Providence, R. I., where he purchased a very handsome band-chariot.

The prospect for the strawberry crop this season is reported excellent in this region; the vines are looking finely, and the bloom is very full.

Mr. John Young of Stratham has purchased 1400 flour barrels to hold his apple crop next fall. Last season his crop was upward of 800 barrels.

Augustine Daly's Fifth Avenue Theatre Co. will present the "Royal Middy" at Music hall on Thursday evening, May 27th, with a grand chorus of forty voices.

Mr. C. H. Marston, having vacated the store No. 21 Market street, which is to be extensively repaired and remodelled, has taken the store recently occupied by Miss L. D. Tripp, No. 13 Market street, where his old patrons and the public generally will find a full and varied stock of dry and fancy goods.

Mr. J. S. Staples, the post-master of Stratham, who also carries on shoe-making, besides keeping a store, reports business as rather dull, as the farmers go to Exeter, South Newmarket and Portsmouth to trade—when they have money. He could take in plenty of produce, but could not turn it into money quickly enough to make it pay much of anything.

The schooner City of Green Bay arrived at this port on Wednesday of this week, bound from New Orleans for Dover with 1200 bales of cotton. She is a flat-bottomed vessel of nearly three hundred and fifty tons register, and draws less than eight feet of water with her present cargo on board. She is owned in the Chicago district, and has been run on the lakes, to which it is said she will return by way of the St. Lawrence river and Welland canal.

A man arrived in this city on Wednesday afternoon of this week, driving a pair of Norwegian ponies attached to a carriage, leading another, and having in the carriage a baby pony just a week old. The procession was from Wenham, Mass., that day, and bound to Eliot, Me., where the ponies are to be pastured for the summer. They have just been imported from Norway, and are the property of Ole Bull, the violinist. Their odd appearance attracted a good deal of attention as they passed through the streets.

Rev. George M. Adams of Holliston, Mass., formerly of this city, had his house burglarized shortly after one o'clock on the morning of the 18th inst., and the burglars carried away $270 in money, a valuable gold chronometer watch, and a fine coat. The clergyman's wife heard the men in the house, and awoke her husband, who immediately made a thorough search, but the thieves had escaped. The clothes, with the watch and nearly all the money, were found next day in a neighboring yard, where the frightened thieves had thrown them; only a small amount of gold and silver was missing.

By the advertisement in another column it will be seen that Messrs. N. K. Walker & Son have sold their long-established business as dealers in hats, furs, trunks and furnishings, to Mr. Fred G. Moses, who will continue it at the old stand, No. 13 Congress street. Under the management of the retiring firm, an intending purchaser could always be sure of finding at this place a large stock of superior articles to select from, with reasonable prices, and prompt and courteous attention; and the new proprietor proposes to fully maintain the high reputation of the establishment, if strict attention to business and the wants and wishes of his patrons will effect it.

POLICE COURT.

FISHERY NOTES.

The first receipt of new mackerel at Gloucester this season was on the 18th inst., when the schooner S. R. Lane took in 244 barrels. This is four days later than the first receipt last year.

Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell has received 5,500 quintals of cod and haddock since he commenced business at the Shoals this season, and over 16,000 lbs. of fish was landed there for him in the forenoon on the 19th inst.

On Wednesday morning of this week two hundred barrels of mackerel—one-pounders—were taken in the Lowry weir, at Fort McClary. On the previous day about one hundred barrels of bait-fish were taken in the weirs which stretch across the channel between Gerrish's and White islands.

The fishing schooner Sultana arrived in Gloucester on the night of Saturday, the 15th inst., with thirty thousand pounds of cod-fish. She landed her fare on Monday, the next working day after her arrival, and sailed for this port at two o'clock in the afternoon, arriving at seven in the evening; was baited at the weirs with fifty barrels of porgies, and sailed for the banks early Tuesday morning.

YORK COUNTY ITEMS.

Mr. Rand, son of J. Sullivan Rand, Esq., of this city, is to be clerk at the Marshall house, York harbor, the coming season.

Mr. Simeon Brackett of Greenland has commenced to saw the timber on the lot recently purchased by him of Mr. Jonathan Young of York, near Mt. Agamenticus.

Grant & Co., proprietors of the Cape Neddick mail line, are to add to their running stock a new twelve-passenger coach, to run exclusively to York harbor. It is to go on the route about July 1st.

At a recent sale of pictures in Boston, a painting of "The willows" at Cape Neddick, York, brought the highest price. The willows are owned by Uncle John Lord, and are the resort of many picnics during the warm season.

The Concord Railroad.

The thirty-ninth annual report of the directors of the Concord railroad states, notwithstanding the low rates on through business and the large reduction made in the local freight tariff, which took effect last January, there has been a favorable increase in the volume of business and the gross receipts of the road. Total receipts from passenger's freight, express and mails for the past year have been $870,088.65, and expenditures $523,356.14, which leaves a sum of $346,732.51. From this has been paid taxes on capital stock, $35,939.62; Manchester & Lawrence railroad, $67,581.49; rent to Concord & Portsmouth railroad, $25,000; rent to Suncook Valley railroad, $8,094; rent to Nashua, Acton & Boston railroad, $11,000; reserved and appropriated for new engine house, coal and woodsheds and yards improvements at Concord, $15,000; new passenger depot at Nashua, $20,000; new freight cars, $10,000; unsettled claim, $3,000; leaving a balance of $151,117.40; from which has been paid two dividends of five per cent each, $159,000; balance carried to the contingent fund, $1,117.40. No person has been injured and no property severely damaged by accident during the year.

Naval Gazette.

The U. S. S. Enterprise, at Washington, was ordered out of commission on the 17th inst.

The Saratoga arrived at Lisbon, Portugal, May 18th.

Lieut. James M. Miller is ordered to the Constitution. The Constitution arrived in Hampton Roads on the 18th inst.

Paymaster Geo. H. Griffing is detached from the Enterprise, and ordered to settle his accounts. The other officers of the vessel are detached, and placed on waiting orders.

On the 18th inst. the United States senate passed the bill authorizing the restoration of Somerville Nicholson, now captain on the retired list of the navy, to the active list, to rank next after Clark H. Wells.

New Hampshire Items.

John A. Gilbert, a school-boy of Keene, fell from a cart on the 18th inst., and a wheel passed over his head, inflicting fatal injuries.

James E. Rickers' house at Littleton was burned on the 16th inst., by an incendiary fire; loss $800, with no insurance.

At Concord, on the 15th inst., a three-years-old son of John Pendergast was severely burned over the whole right side of his body and right arm by his clothes taking fire, it is supposed by his sitting down upon a lighted cigar thrown upon the sidewalk in front of his father's house.

The farm house of Augustus Thomas, at Pittsfield, was burned on the 18th inst., with its contents. Loss $2500; insurance $1000.

The dental authorities estimate that the 12,000 dentists in this country are every year packing into the teeth of the people not less than half a ton of pure gold, costing half a million dollars, besides about four times as much cheaper material, as silver and platina, worth $100,000 more. Then there are made every year about 3,000,000 artificial teeth mounted on gold, platina or rubber. This indicates that as a people we take pretty good care of the teeth, yet the dentists say that not half the people who need it avail themselves of their services, and that indeed only one person in eight has perfect teeth.

The Boston Post says "the two handsome horse chestnut trees in front of the Hunneman estate on Washington street, near Williams street, are known to be 103 years old. They were the first trees of the kind brought to this country, and were set out in 1777 by Tom Rumrill of Roxbury, an old Revolutionary soldier. All the trees of this variety in Massachusetts are from these parent trees, and hence they possess an historical interest. It is probable that the trees cannot be allowed to remain where they now are, and it has been proposed to replant them in the common or public garden."
